A young lady boarded the train at R——, whom I recognized as the daughter of John Godfrey, one of the stockholders of the road. She had a ticket for C——, and I noticed when I stopped at her seat she was pale and agitated. After the accident she was one of the first to get clear of the wreck, and did not appear to be injured.

Luckily the engine was not disabled, the accident having been caused by the rails spreading just as the baggage car passed over them, and I determined to send to C——, for assistance. I was consulting with the engineer when Miss Godfrey touched me on the arm and begged earnestly to be allowed to ride on the engine to C——. It was a case of life and death, she said.

She appeared so distressed at the thought of delay that I told the engineer to take her with him. She was up in the cab in an instant and they "pulled out" at once, so that one of my passengers at least arrived at C—— nearly on time.

V.

THE ENGINEER'S STORY.

That's a plucky gal of John Godfrey's. She rode with me on the engine to C—— after the wreck last night, and I tell you she's true grit.

I didn't want to take her with me at first, 'cause I was afraid she'd make trouble and delay me, but she didn't. She never opened her head after she got into the cab, but just clung to the seat. Well, she had to hang on, for the way old Forty-seven rocked was a caution. I tell you, we never made them ten miles in the same time before.

After we got started I looked across at the gal. She was starin' straight ahead and it seemed as if we weren't go in half fast enough for her. She was terrible pale and her teeth was set like a brake, but it weren't because she was frightened. She had somethin' else on her mind.

She jumped from the cab the moment we pulled into the yard at C——, and hurried off across the tracks. I heard her tell the conductor at the wreck some one was dyin' and she wanted to get to C—— as soon as ever she could.

VI.

THE DETECTIVE'S STORY.

A dispatch was received from R——, requesting the department to send a man down to the station and arrest a young woman who was on the 10:30 express from the east. I was detailed for the work.

I waited around the station until nearly train time, and then heard a rumor that there had been a wreck down the road. I investigated and found that such was the case: in fact, the accident had occured to the very train I was waiting for. I obtained permission to go on the relief train, and when we arrived at the scene of the wreck I commenced to look around for the young woman.

As I could find no one who answered to the description sent, I made inquiries of the conductor and learned that the person I was after had gone up to C—— on the engine that brought the news of the accident to the city. It was after 3 a. m. before I got back and made my report, and they decided not to do anything more about the matter until they heard again from it.

The accident was a lucky one for the railroad company, but not for the young woman. Had it not occurred she would have spent the night in the station house.

(VII. the last and best Chapter, to-morrow.)

MADE THE AGENT TIRED.

Antics of a Nervous Man in a Chicago Railway Station.

Many people increase their gait as they near a railway station, says the Chicago Herald. The nearer they get the faster they go, feeling uneasy until they are ticketed and seated in the right car, about which they ask every man with a badge they see to make sure.

At the Union Depot last evening a man gasped at the ticket window, "Gi—me tick—t St.—Louis—quick 'fore—" mis—th'—tra—in." He hurriedly paid for the ticket from a roll of bills which, in his haste, he handled nervously. One dropped on the floor. He stooped and picked it up. His lips were moving.

Then he stooped again to pick up his eyeglasses, some pencils, card-case, memorandum book and a cigar that rolled from his vest pocket on the first stoop. His face was red. His lips were going faster. He was saying something about dammit—all which was inaudible.

Then he looked at a silver watch and asked the ticket man how much time he had.

"Three hours."

"Great Scott! Don't believe it. I'm a delegate to Convention, and wouldn't miss th' train for hundred dollars. Is that clock right?"

"Yes, sir."

"Heard it isn't. M' watch says 3." And the man took a walk around the room, fanned himself with his hat and headed up at the ticket window again with:

"Gimme time-table, please. Thanks."

Another circuit of the room, heading up at ticket window with:

"Let me take your watch-key?"

"Haven't got one."

"Change me a two-dollar bill?"

"Certainly, sir." And then the ticket man resumed counting his cash for the seventeenth time.

"I guess I'll take a sleeper" after another walk around by the [walking] delegate.

"Next window."

Another walk and the delegate poked his nose through the brass grating in the window.

"How much would 'navident tick" —

"Next window," quietly replied the most patient man I ever saw.

Another lap.

"Please give me a match." He got it, lighted a cigar, sat down and puffed a cloud of smoke all around a sign on the wall that read:

"NO SMOKING."

A man with an official cap came to the door and cried "All Aboard-rr-rr. Passengers for Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Michigan City, Kalamazoo, Allegan, Benton Harbor, Chicago and points west."

"The delegate snatched his baggage and flew down the marble stairway to a train. He got in a day coach and was last seen trying to pick a seat back.

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase—$1,703,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $316,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how much a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,626	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,056,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,317	10.39
North American	8,470,620	10 66
Temperance and General	2,864,972	17 84
Citizens	2 667,956	22.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,285	20 61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That as large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Obituary.

Mr. Joseph Langford died last evening after a long illness. He was a familiar figure on our streets, up till a few months ago, when disease laid him low. He was a brother of Councillor Wm. Langford. The funeral takes place Wednesday afternoon, from the residence, Sherbrook street.

The Chief Baker.

Mr. L. Potvin, baker, George street, has engaged a first-class new baker and is now prepared to furnish fresh bread and buns every day. All kinds of pastry of the best quality, fresh and delicious. Wedding cakes a specialty. Call and sample his goods. 6ed36

How it Tells.

By buying a few pounds of Morrow's celebrated coffee, and his pure sugars, and using them properly, you will come to the conclusion they are extra value. You have a grand cup of coffee owing to the purity of both. Do likewise when buying tea, as his tea cannot be surpassed. 340 George street. dw

Labor Day.

The steamer Golden-Eye will run a cheap excursion, Monday, September 1st, Labor Day, to Jubilee Point and Idyl Wild. Valuable prizes given away. For particulars see posters. CLARK CALCUTT, d45tf Master.

Mrs. Vought Annoyed.

The police were called upon last night about 11 o'clock by Mrs. Vought, McDonel street, to quell a disturbance at her place. She said three bad young men from Ashburnham had assaulted her house, and threw stones through the window. She was advised to lay an information. A police court case may result.

Hack Horses Have a Holiday.

W. J. Gibbs' hack horses took a brief excursion last night. They got away from the driver and started from the Commercial House shortly after ten o'clock, running up Brock street to the kirk, thence down Rubidge street to the corner of Charlotte street, where they became tangled up in a tree and brought to a standstill. Very little if any damage was done.

St. Joseph's Hospital.

The medical staff of St. Joseph's Hospital has, for the present, been arranged as follows: For the first month, Dr. McGrath and Dr. Yelland will be in attendance, and for subsequent months, Dr. Brennan and Dr. King, Dr. Moher and Dr. Halliday. Dr. Yelland and Dr. McGrath, yesterday visited, in consultation, the first patient, a severe case of ophthalmia. Dr. McGrath has been appointed medical superintendent of the hospital.

A September Picnic.

Remember Rev. Father Sweeny's picnic at Harwood, on Tuesday, September 2nd. Excursions by Golden Eye down the river, boat leaving wharf at 8 o'clock. This will be one of the most enjoyable excursions of the season. Don't neglect to make your arrangements to attend it. At Harwood, in addition to the attractions of the picnic, excursionists will have an opportunity of visiting the fine new mills of the Dickson Company. 24 w

Fall and Winter Suits.

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. are now ready with a superb stock of fall goods, consisting of the best imported materials and the finest Canadian makes. Now is the time to make selections before the best of the patterns are chosen. Remember their stock is the best selected in town, and that the work of this firm always gives the best of satisfaction in all respects. When you wish a nobby or substantial suit of excellent goods—perfect in fit, finish and style, call at H. LeBrun & Co. 1w35-2d50

More Thistle Cases.

There were six cases on the police court docket this morning, but no money in the whole batch. Messrs. A. T. Dunlop, Jno. Carlisle, M. O'Brien, and H. Grundy, Mrs. Kearns and Miss Chamberlin were charged with allowing thistles and weeds to grow on their property. Five of the defendants pleaded that the properties complained of did not belong to them, and they were discharged, the sixth pleading that the thistles had been cut since the information was laid and being let off on paying costs.

Junior Baseball.

Following is the score of a game of baseball on Saturday between two junior clubs—the second nine of the Park Nine and the Lansdownes'. The game was played on the Central Park grounds. The Parks won on a close score. F. Brown was umpire. The score was:—

Trotter vs. Blodgett.

The assault case of Trotter vs. Blodgett was resumed on Monday morning before Police Magistrate Edmison. Trotter withdrew the case and paid the costs. It appears that this case arose from one of Mr. Zimm Blodgett's boys going through Mr. Harvey's premises to gather berries, and a dispute arose between the lad and Mr. Trotter, who was working for Harvey, which resulted in the former throwing stones, as the lad says, to frighten Trotter. The paragraph published was incorrect in that it stated that Mr. Blodgett was discharged from Mr. Harvey's employ. The fact is he left of his own accord, and moreover he never was discharged, he says, from any place at which he worked.

Separate School Openings.

The Murray street Separate school opened on Monday with a good attendance. The staff consists of Mr. Brick, principal; Miss Lynch, 3rd form, Miss O'Brien, 2nd form; Miss O'Connell, junior department. The Lake street school (formerly taught by the sisters) will be in charge of Miss Tracey, assisted by Miss Casey. There was also a large attendance at this school. To-morrow the prizes will be distributed to the boys at the Murray street Separate school. The members of the board will be present. Master Charles Butler, son of Mr. C. Butler, grocer, made the second highest merks in the Province on Entrance examination papers, a very creditable record.

Rival Lindsay Editors.

At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, Friday morning, Mr. Justice Rose handed out his judgment in the case of Cooper v. Hughes, which was tried by him at the Lindsay assizes in April. The action was brought by Joseph Cooper, of the Lindsay Watchman, to recover from Sam Hughes, of the Victoria Warder, a rival Lindsay sheet, damages for libel. The editors had been engaged in a war of words which would have done credit to the Arizona Kicker, and the judge awarded Cooper $1 damages. A cross action was dismissed, the parties having agreed to pay their own costs. The judgment Friday was on Sam Hughes' motion for an order that costs should be divided in the first case also, on the ground that the libellous matter had been written under great provocation. The learned judge refused to entertain the motion, and declared that costs should go with the verdict against Mr. Hughes.

The Same as Last Year.

Ashburnham's Rate Fourteen Mills on the Dollar—The Question of Annexation Again Discussed.

At the meeting of Ashburnham village council Monday night Reeve John Burnham occupied the chair, Messrs. Calcutt, Throop and Adams being also present.

A petition was presented from G. Mitchell, D. C. O'Brien, W. Swanson and Wm. Collins, praying for a sidewalk on the west side of Driscoll Terrace from Elizabeth street 180 feet northward.—Referred to Road and Bridge Committee.

A communication was read from the Secretary of the Separate School Board of Peterborough, notifying the council that the Board required the sum of $225 from the corporation for the year 1890.

On motion of Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Adams, the following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

Dickson Co	$ 14.49
"	38.93
Metropolitan Grocery Co	21.00
J T Craig	4.70
McKee & Davidson	13.55
G Lipsett, sec board	3.50
Pay sheet No 24	30.99
" " " 25	110.75
	$269.46

Mr. E. Pearse, County Clerk, notified the council that the county's demand for the year 1890 was $861.73.

A communication was read from John E. Belcher, C.E., with reference to the nuisance complained of on Elizabeth street, which he stated was due to the water tables and culverts on the streets not being sufficient to take off the surplus drainage, which before the new place was erected, to the hospital, passed away through the soil and was absorbed thereby. This soakage is now collected by the fence post holes, and the substratum being hard pan and impervious gives the water into the water table, hence the complaint. Mr. Belcher added that there is no sewage matter from the hospital to contaminate this water and make the nuisance.

It was moved by Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Adams, that this council memorialize the Dominion Government to build a wharf on the Little Lake at the foot of Mark street.—Carried.

SAME AS LAST YEAR.

Reeve BURNHAM presented the estimates for the year 1890, which called for a rate of fourteen mills to be levied—the same rate as last year. The estimates are as follows:—

A. H. PECK,
Treasurer.

Ashburnham, Aug. 25th, 1890.

The estimates were adopted and a by-law passed concerning them.

A by-law authorizing the borrowing of $1,000 for the use of the corporation was passed.

A PLEA FOR CHARITY.

An application was made for the support of Mr. Richard Tice, an old man 70 years of age, who lived in the village up till ten years ago, since which time he has resided at different places. Mr. Burnham thought the town of Peterborough ought more properly to support Mr. Tice, as he had lived there last. No action was taken, the councillors being of opinion that the town ought to undertake his support.

ANNEXATION.

REEVE BURNHAM also brought to the council's notice the steps recently taken by the town council of Peterborough, towards the annexation of Peterborough and Ashburnham. Mr. Burnham said that a committee had been appointed to wait on them, and it would be well to hear what they had to say.

Mr. CALCUTT said he would like to have some expression of feeling from the ratepayers.

Mr. BURNHAM said that some people had spoken to him in favor of the union and others were opposed to it.

Mr. THROOP said the ratepayers seemed to be about equally divided on the question.

The village council decided to meet again on Monday, September 8th, to receive the committee of the Peterborough council.

Peterborough's Prime Cheese.

Regular Meeting of the Cheese Board—The Best Figure Obtained is 9½c.

The fortnightly cheese offering at the regular meeting to-day was registered on an elegant new blackboard, which has been nicely ruled off and the names of the factories painted on it. The new board drew the remark from President Drummond that they had to thank Messrs. Clarkson and Sanderson, the committee, for having procured such a fine board. He hoped that, with such a good meeting place and such a good board, there would be none but good cheese put up and good prices offered for it. The cheese make is growing smaller and from now till the end of the season will continue to shrink. Liverpool quotations to-day were 42s. The following cheese was boarded:—

PETERBOROUGH.

Keene	167	Norwood	170
Warminster	211	Melrose Abbey	70
Shearer	233	S Dummer	150
N Smith	330	Pine Grove	155
C Smith	145	Otonabee Union	55
Cherry Grove	118	Maple Leaf	110
Missing Link	120	Peterborough	78
Westwood	150	Myrtle	64

VICTORIA.

Mariposa	70	Scotch Line	130
Lornesville	40	Reaboro	75
Downeyville	105

Mr. Clarkson started the bidding with an offer of 8½c. for the Peterborough board, Mr. Warrington advancing to ¾ for selections, Mr. Fitzgerald to ½ for selections and Mr. Wrighton to 8½ for the board. Mr. Warrington raised to ¾ for selections, Mr. Clarkson going 9c. for selections and Mr. Wrighton again following up with the same offer for the board. Mr. Clarkson then bid 9¼ for selections, at which price he took Keene, Warminster, Shearer, Central Smith, Missing Link, North Smith and Cherry Grove. Mr. Flavelle offered 9½ for Victoria section and Mr. Wrighton the same for the balance of the whole board, Mr. Clarkson advanced a sixteenth for selections and Mr. Wrighton raised him another sixteenth, taking Westwood, Norwood, Melrose Abbey and Peterborough. He further offered 9c. for the balance, Mr. Clarkson raising a sixteenth for further selections. He named Warsaw, Pine Grove, Maple Leaf and Otonabee Union, and all accepted that figure. Mr. Flavelle's offer of 9 1/16 for Victoria section was accepted after some demur on the part of the Lindsay men.

The board then adjourned. South Dummer Myrtle factories being unsold.

Stony Lake.

An Epistle From the "Scribe of Lochisla Camp.

The campers from "Lochisla Camp," Grubbe's Island, returned to their homes last week after a month of most enjoyable outing.

Their report of the fishing is equal to any on the lake, the "catch" being about forty of the finest maskinonge, one of which weighed 19 lbs. 8 ounces, another over 22 lbs. The bass fishing was also good, but not much indulged in.

Bonfires were an attractive feature of entertainment in the evenings, making the lake resplendent by an illumination such as is seldom seen if there be a fire engine within call. At each of these nocturnal summaries, the crowd assembled were attracted, not only by the brilliant light, but by the excellent music, songs speeches and recitations around the camp fire that would throw into the shade many of our concert room performances. The "feast of reason and flow of soul" was such as could be enjoyed alike by youth and old age, and often the hoary head was to be seen in these gatherings.

The company in above camp was made up of Mrs. and Miss A. Anderson, of Apsley; Mrs. and Miss E. Mark, Keene; Miss Anderson, Lindsay; Mrs. A. A. McIntyre and Miss Lousley, Peterborough; Dr. Mark, Messrs. H. B., D. and S. A. Anderson, Apsley; Messrs. Clifford and Builinger, Montreal, and Mr. Couper, Toronto. Also they had many visitors who came "to tarry but the night," or to enjoy a few days recreation, all tending to make the time pass more pleasantly.

The Orange Order.

Its Standing in the Dominion—The Growth in Past Years.

The Orange grand lodge of British North America held its first annual session at St. John, N. B., Grand Secretary Thomas Keyes submitted a detailed statement of his stewardship. The number of warrants issued show an increase of sixteen over last year. For the three months and ten days of this year fifteen new warrants have been granted, being an average of nearly sixty for the year. New warrants in 1889-90—Ontario West, 18; Ontario East, 1; Nova Scotia, 3; Newfoundland, 3; Manitoba and North-West Territories, 6; British Columbia, 3; total, 36. New warrants, May 1st to Aug. 1st, 1890: Quebec, 1; Manitoba, 3; Ontario West, 2; Nova Scotia, 3; British Columbia, 2; Ontario East, 1; total, 14. The grand secretary urged the forming of insurance or benefit societies for the whole of British North America. He then referred to his connection with the order as grand secretary for 26½ years, and gave a history of the growth of the order. In 1849 only about 200 lodges were paying grand lodge dues, now there are nearly 1,600 lodges organized. Grand Treasurer Anderson said none of the provinces except Ontario East report a falling off in the number of lodges, and some of them show a decided increase. Ontario West reports 551 lodges; Ontario East, 360; New Brunswick, 72; Nova Scotia, 41; Manitoba, 63; Quebec, 60; Newfoundland, 52; Prince Edward Island, 27; British Columbia, 17.

The Cholera Plague.

The cholera microbe is journeying westward from his native haunts in the valley of the Euphrates. He has been carried to Europe in the clothing of Mohammedan pilgrims returning from Mecca. The Morocco pilgrims landed him at some of the Spanish ports on the Mediterranean, and already over two thousand cases of cholera have occurred in two provinces of Spain, though the plague is now said to be under control. Fifty-two per cent of the cases have ended fatally, the percentage of deaths being somewhat smaller than on former occasions when cholera has appeared in Europe; and experience has shown that the mortality is always greatest at the first outbreak. Cholera is said to be raging at Mecca, the Holy City which every Moslem is obliged to visit once in a lifetime, and for the next few months Egypt, Algiers, Turkey Morocco and the islands of the Levant will swarm with pilgrims returning from Mahomet's tomb. But medical and sanitary science has made progress since the terrible outbreak of cholera in Europe and in Canada half a century ago. These visitations were preceded by outbreaks in Arabia, India, Turkey and Egypt, but in western Europe the plague is not dreaded so much as it once was. The scavenger has been abroad, especially in England, and strict quarantine regulations are enforced against vessels arriving from places where cholera is known to prevail. India, once the epidemic land of cholera, is also a country in which the sanitary method of stamping out the disease has won some of the greatest successes. Cholera used to be the terror and scourge of Bombay; but, though it still lingers in the vicinity, a magnificent system of drainage and water supply has reduced its ravages to a minimum. An American newspaper correspondent interviewed Dr. Norman Kerr, who makes a specialty of cholera treatment, as to the best method of preventing the disease. Dr. Kerr says that panic and alcohol are the two things to be avoided by persons threatened with cholera. He says cholera is sometimes induced through fear, while alcohol provokes the disease. The best precautions, he says, are to go about without fear, to avoid alcohol, unripe or over ripe fruit, and such foods as are liable to interfere with regular digestion. There should be moderation in eating and drinking, with meals as regular as possible, and these eaten slowly. There should also be strict attention to cleanliness, with fresh air, exercise and observance of all hygienic rules. If a person is attacked with cholera the ordinary remedies for diarrhœa should be applied, and the patient should go to bed at once, cover up with plenty of clothing and get a free perspiration. The intemperate, Dr. Kerr says, are more liable to be attacked by the disease than the temperate, and he is convinced that cholera is becoming less fatal with each epidemic.

There must be great merit in SCOTT'S preparations. His OXYGENIZED EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL has taken the first place as a cure for consumption and kindred diseases. Every druggist sells it and no householder should do without it. The remedy is reliable and invaluable. w35-w6

Warsaw.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Council met in town hall at Warsaw on 23rd August. Present—A. R. Kidd, reeve; Richard Crowe, deputy-reeve; Thos. Webster, Wm. J. Doughty and H. A. Moore, councillors. Minutes of last meeting read and signed. Moved by H. A. Moore, seconded by Richard Crowe,—That the clerk be instructed to write to the clerk of Asphodel to furnish an account of the number of day's statute labour put on the boundary between Asphodel and Dummer, with a view to adjust the money and labour spent on said road.—Carried. H. A. Moore was appointed road commissioner to examine the boundary opposite lots 28 and 29, 12th concession, Dummer, and report at next meeting. On motion, Mrs. Middleton received an order for $4, to date, for keeping A. Newell; and the treasurer was instructed to pay her $12 quarterly, from 23rd Aug., 1890, as it became due. Clerk was instructed to procure copying press. Moved by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Doughty,—That D. E. Cameron be appointed township collector at a salary of $48. By-laws passed—One to levy and collect certain taxes in 1890, and one to appoint a township collector for 1890. Ordered paid:—

Mr. E. J. Toker, of the Empire, Toronto, is spending his holidays in town.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Brodie, of Hespeler, are the guests of County Police Magistrate Edmison.

Mrs. Wallenmire and family, of Tonawanda N.Y., are visiting at Mr. A Mcdonald's, Point Ste Charls.

Messrs. Harry Fitzgerald and Charlie Tucker are camped on Otter Island, Stony Lake, and Hal Dumble and Ley Dunaford on on Juniper Island.

Mr. J. E. Jaques, of St. Thomas, formerly organist in the George street church, is in town to-day. Mr. Jaques has just returned from a trip to England.

Messrs. Ed. and Harry Carter, Geo. B. Clark and Dr. Doyle, of Pittsburg, Pa., members of the jolly "Plaiser" camp, at Stony Lake, are in town to-day. They leave for their homes on Friday. Ed. and Harry Carter are old Lakefield boys and are spending a few days in the village with their companions before returning.

News Nuggets.

—There are now two or three patients in St. Joseph's hospital.

—The band will play in the park to-night, weather permitting.

—Attention is directed to the advertisement to-day of the C. P. R. fall excursions to the East.

—Mr. James Grady has opened a butcher shop on Albert street—a great accommodation to that part of town.

—At yesterday's shooting in the Ontario Rifle Matches, Capt. Dennistoun, 57th Batt., was well up in the list on the Macdonald match, and Staff-Sergt. Mason won seventh place in the Gilmour.

—Mrs. Henry Oglestone, of Kinmount, writes Chief Rozzel inquiring after her nine year old boy who left home August 3rd, and was last seen in Lindsay, August 5. The boy is 4 feet 3 inches high, slight complexion.

Kcivartscammot.

This a word not very often used in private conversation, but it has a deep meaning whose least use is not to remind the public of the fact that Hawley Bros keep the best teas in the market. Pure in quality exquisite flavour and reasonable in price. No housekeeper having once used their teas or this firm's fine coffees will use any other. dw

The Dominion Illustrated.

The Dominion Illustrated for August 23 is one of the best we have yet seen—the engravings being all seasonable scenes or of points in the route of the summer tourist. The St. Lambert Regatta, The Montreal Field Battery at the annual inspection, the Templars Encampment, Cote S. Luc Range, are all timely and disclose a fresh impulse of enterprise on the part of the management. The views of the Old Chambly Fort and the Gaspe Coast will be appreciated alike by lovers of the picturesque and by students of Canadian history. The letter press also reveals some new and attractive features—including a military column, specially prepared. The Dominion Illustrated is published by the Sabiston Company, (J. P. Edwards, manager) and the office is still at 73 St. James street, Montreal.

Has Been Appropriated.

The Salvation Army have appropriated the tune of "Little Annie Rooney," and the words "She's my sweetheart, I'm her beau; she's my sweetheart, I'm her Joe," have been translated for the purposes of the Army to read:

He's my Jesus, He's my Lord;
He's my Saviour, He's my God,

Some people may have an idea that this is a bit sacrilegious, but the Army believes in anything to save sinners, and so everything goes.

DOMINION NEWS NOTES.

AN UNFAITHFUL HUSBAND ATTEMPTS HIS WIFE'S LIFE.

A Domestic Tragedy at Montreal. A Rumor That the Earl of Aberdeen Will be the Next Governor-General—Quebec's Cholera Scare.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—A case of poisoning came to light to-day. A man named McPherson is alleged to have slowly poisoned his wife with strychnine. The pair met in Theis' restaurant in Sixth-avenue, New York, and after being married came to Montreal. The husband was discovered to be unfaithful and quarrels between himself and his wife ensued. She was suddenly taken ill and upon analysis strychnine was found in her food. The husband and the strange woman have disappeared and the police have little hope of apprehending them.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

A Rumor that the Earl of Aberdeen Will Succeed Lord Stanley.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—The Earl of Aberdeen arrived in Montreal to-night and will remain a few days. He will then proceed to Ottawa, Toronto and Hamilton. After a trip across the continent, he will return to England, having been absent four months. There is a rumor here that he will be the next Governor-General.

FOUND WATERY GRAVES.

A Barge Captain Drowned Near Mackinac An Old Pilot's Fate.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 26.—Capt. Robert Thompson of the barge Maggie was drowned the other day in the Straits of Mackinac. During a heavy blow the captain and others were engaged in shifting some of the ties when he was knocked overboard about ten miles from Mackinac City. The deceased, who was a sober, steady young man, was a stepson of John Gallagher of this city, and intended to be married to a young lady here at the close of navigation.

POINT EDWARD, Aug. 26.—James Cheney, the 8-year-old son of Mrs. George Reid, was seen playing at 6 o'clock this afternoon on the dock at the station. Not long after his body was found floating down the river past the elevator and was fished out by the crew of the car ferry Huron. Coroner Fraser was notified, but did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. The cause of the accident remains a mystery.

KINGSTON, Aug. 26.—The Cascade Rapids, near Beauharnois, so familiar to all those who have come down the St. Lawrence from the upper lakes, was the scene of a drowning accident last week. One of the best known pilots on the river, named Charles Chales, living at St. Zotique, was coming down on a raft from Colinsby and attempted to run the rapids. A Caughnawaga Indian was paid the old pilot at the time and while going through what is called the Bason Rapid both men were thrown into the river. The Indian made a most heroic attempt to save his companion, but the old voyageur went down to a watery grave. He was in his 68th year. Chales had been a pilot 45 years. His body has not yet been recovered.

KINGSTON, Aug. 26.—Pensioner John Hamilton was drowned while returning to his home at the Grand Trunk Railway bower depot. He followed the Grand Trunk track and opposite the cotton mill fell into a culvert containing two feet of water. He could not get out and was suffocated to death.

BEGGED HER TO KEEP MUM

How Cardinal Smith's Wife Threatened Hop His Hamilton Record.

HAMILTON, Aug. 26.—Corydon W., or "Cardinal" Smith, the man who is now lying in Simcoe jail on the charge of murdering Marin Colville, says this evening's Times, lived in Hamilton for a couple of years after committing the crime. Some years ago he came to the city, and hearing that Thomas Lawry had a house to rent on the mountain, near the residence of R. D. Bensley, he asked for the key, under the pretence of looking through the house. When he got inside, "Cardinal" stayed in, and it took Mr. Lawry a long time to rid himself of his disagreeable tenant. Smith followed his old vocation and started a disreputable house, and it was not until he had appeared before Police Magistrate Cahill and had been fined that he vanished from this vicinity.

Subsequently he took up a house in the southeastern part of the city, but was not long there until he had a misunderstanding with the woman who goes by the name of wife, and they sent for Auctioneer Johnston, who bought out their household effects. This was about a year ago. Two months and a half ago the couple took up residence in the old frame row owned by Mr. Cooper in South John-street, near the corner of Augusta street. Smith did a few jobs of painting while there, and frequently got very full of liquor. When intoxicated, the woman he lived with regularly threatened to tell the police on him, and when these threats were used Smith would weep like a boy and beg of her "for God's sake not to give it away." The neighbors frequently commented on the actions of the couple, and were very glad when Auctioneer Johnston drove up and took away their household effects, which he had purchased from Smith. Even after arriving at a settlement and agreeing upon a separation the woman was seen following Smith along the thoroughfare, declaring that she could not live without him. It is altogether likely what it was she who gave him away to the authorities.

Quebec Uneasy About Cholera.

QUEBEC, Aug. 26.—The spread of cholera in Europe and Japan is creating a certain uneasiness here. Several leading newspapers discuss daily the probabilities of the dread disease spreading in this city, where it would have but little check.

Menotin's Victim Improving.

QUEBEC, Aug. 26.—Paddy Lynch, who was shot by the Italian sailor Menotin, is improving. His doctors say that the bullet need not be extracted.

This is in Arkansas.

HARRISON, Ark., Aug. 26.—What is believed to be a paying silver mine has been discovered in Marion county under peculiar circumstances. Five years ago John McAdams of that county was sentenced to five years imprisonment for counterfeiting coin which was made of silver and worth more than the genuine dollar. McAdams, it is claimed, dug the silver from a vein in the mountains near his home. He was discharged a few weeks ago and returned home. He has given samples of ore to a number of persons and assays show a large per cent. of bullion. There is much excitement in the neighborhood.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

SOME GREAT DOINGS TO BE HAD IN SCOTLAND.

Preparations for the Braemer Gathering Movements of Royalty—"Benefactor" and "Malefactor" The Naval Manœuvres and Their Lesson.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Edmund Yates cables The Tribune from London: Great preparations are being made at Balmoral for the Braemer gathering, which is to be held there in a park on the bank of the Dee, within a short distance of the castle, on Thursday next. The Queen, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and Princess Beatrice are to be present, and the Mar lodge party will include the Princess of Wales and her daughters and Duke Clarence. The cousumen are to be entertained at Balmoral after the gathering, and a ball and torchlight dance will probably take place in the castle in the evening.

The Prince and Princess of Wales and Princesses Victoria and Maud are to proceed to Denmark about Sept. 19 in the royal yacht Osborne, embarking at Aberdeen. They will be the guests of the King and Queen at the castle of Fredensborg, where the Emperor and Empress of Russia and the Duchess of Cumberland are also expected.

The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland have been making a tour of Sutherlandshire, and a somewhat more warm welcome was given them than they experienced last year.

Sir James Mackenzie was known as the "benefactor" at the Marlborough club for many years, but after a candidate whom he proposed had been rejected he withdrew his capital from the concern, selling his interest to Lord Cowley, whereupon he was styled the "malefactor." Sir James Mackenzie rendered valuable aid to Marlborough during a serious financial crisis in the history of the club.

The naval manœuvres are over, and they might just as well never have been so far as any good resulted from the program devised by the admiralty. The only part of it of any real value was the ten days' evolution and target practice before war was declared. If we gained no other knowledge we learned how to disable half of the armament of two powerful ironclads at the first round of firing, an episode, however, which was not foreseen by the admiralty, but which proved to be fraught with a lesson of the very highest importance. It was a wonderful and unexpected success. Of the torpedo boat flotilla which operated from Alderney, I have no hesitation in saying that all the money, coal, time and temper the manœuvres have cost have been well expended for invaluable experience acquired on this subject. Until now there has been a tendency amongst naval men to depreciate the services which torpedo boats are capable of rendering. The aggressive power of the torpedo boats and their capacity for endurance at sea when properly handled came as a surprise to most of us, but nobody doubted that we were lamentably and perilously short of cruisers and vessels for scouting purposes.

The difficulty in finding crofter candidates for Highland counties is disappointing, and with the publication of the Land League program aspirants for political honors are cropping up everywhere. The program is comprehensive enough as a gospel of confiscation, and candidates are officially informed that, while they must be followers of Mr. Gladstone and the Radicals, these qualifications are unimportant. To bring the orthodox Land Leaguers apart from merely national questions the program enjoins staunch adherence to such articles of political belief as the establishment of local parliaments, one man one vote, triennial parliaments and abolition of the game laws and House of Lords.

Mr. Rudolph, M.P., has been very lucky during the last few weeks. A valuable estate in East Gloucestershire has been left to him by a lady who took a journey to appoint him executor and who is in no way related to him. Then Gosling, the well-known brewer, appointed Rudolph to be one of his executors and left him about $75,000. Nor was there any relationship in this case.

Lord Aberdeen's house in Grosvenor-square has been bought, it is said, by James Mason of Eyesham Hall, and he is said to have given Lord Aberdeen the price he asked, namely, £70,000, an enormous sum for any house not a freehold, especially for Lord Aberdeen's, for though it has the appearance of being a remarkably good house for social purposes in reality it is not.

Ascot are not quite so magnificent in canalizing conception as the countrymen of the great Deliesseps we are somewhat more practical and utilitarian, for the Manchester canal is already nearly completed, and its energetic executive will, I hear, have everything ready even before the period contracted for. The idea of a canal between the mouth of the Mersey and Dee has, I hear, been temporarily abandoned.

FELL OVER THE CLIFF.

A G.T.R. Employe's Narrow Escape from Death at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 26.—D. Davies, clerk for the locomotive foreman of the Grand Trunk Railway here, in some mysterious manner fell over the river bank at the foot of Queen-street and struck on the rocks 75 feet below at 10 last evening, and must have been stunned, and remained unconscious the most of the night. His cries for help were heard by parties on the American side about 8 o'clock this morning, when a rescuing party made a descent and rescued him. He was immediately placed under chloroform to alleviate his sufferings, after which a rope ladder was lowered down and Davies was put on a stretcher, raised to the top of the cliff and taken to his boarding place. The place where he fell over was a few feet from the Government fence. The shrubbery was stripped of its leaves where he went over. Evidently the unfortunate man grasped them as he went over, after missing his footing. The doctors in charge expect to bring him through all right. Davies came here from Montreal about three years ago, where it is said his father resides.

COLLAPSE OF THE STRIKE.

TRAINS RUNNING REGULARLY ON THE CENTRAL.

Freight Traffic Resumed—Employes Admit Failure and Ask to Be Reinstated—The Alton Switchmen Declare Their Brief War Ended—Labor Notes.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—This despatch was received to-day at the offices of the Lake Shore road from George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central: "Our operating department has authorized the freight department to resume the carrying of perishable freight, and all our traffic is being moved as usual. Passenger trains are on time and no further trouble is anticipated."

Asking to be Taken Back.

SCHENECTADY, Aug. 26.—The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad pay car was here to-day and paid all the strikers in full to Aug. 8, the day of the strike. The car left the city about 2¾ p.m., and several of the strikers at once made application for reinstatement, declaring that the strike was a failure.

A Little Kick on the D. & H.

SCHENECTADY, Aug. 26.—Nine Delaware & Hudson yardmen went out on strike here to-day because the D. & H. company were taking Central freight. Their places were filled by new men and business continues.

The Chicago & Alton Strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The strike of the switchmen on the Chicago & Alton road begun last night continues to-day. The passenger trains are moving all right, but the freight trains are tied up. There has been no violence. The company wished to place one of the old employes in charge of the yard at Brighton, whereas the men wanted a man of their selection. The company refused to grant this and the strike resulted. There is no dissatisfaction among the men regarding salaries or treatment. Forty-five are out altogether.

The freight traffic is pretty effectually tied up. There are 150 cars of dressed meat in the yard and each car contains 20,000 pounds. Swift & Cos. cars that have been standing near their houses since Friday were opened to-day and the contents were found to be spoiled. None of the big packers except Swift and Armour did any killing to-day and they did but little. In the stock yards but little purchasing is being done. The police have driven all the strikers out of the yards and have formed a cordon about the place.

The Wabash was the first road to make a move. It had three engines in the yards. As the engineers refused to take them out officers of the road mounted the cabs as engineers and firemen while others acted as switchmen, and the engines were taken away to the round house amid the jeers of the idle multitudes outside the police cordon.

The news that the switching association had been dissolved caused a ungting of the strikers to break up hurriedly. The engineers realized the change in the situation also and when ordered proceeded to take their engines to the round houses.

The strikers have given up the fight. They will send a committee to the railroads asking to be taken back at the old wages. There are seven engines from five different roads at work. Trainmaster Martin says the yards will soon be clear.

THE BRICK TIE-UP.

Effects of the New York Boycott—Disastrous for the Workingmen.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The brick tie-up to-day is as perfect as it can be. It is probable that about 1,000,000 bricks now under contract will be received to-day and these will be the last shipments until the boycott of the Knights of Labor against the Verplank faction is raised. The effect of the tie-up will be felt about Friday, and if the boycott is persisted in by the Knights nearly 10,000 men will be thrown out of employment. The boiler makers and ranging manufacturers are already feeling the effects of the tie-up, which will extend to all trades depending even incidentally upon bricks to continue their work.

Other Labor Troubles.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The striking miners in Belgium now number 18,000.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—There is much dissatisfaction among the dockers at Southampton, and a great strike is imminent.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 26.—The Seamen's Union has called out the crews of the Union Steamship Company, whose vessels ply between Sydney and New Zealand.

The gas stokers go on strike to-morrow on the ground that the gas company employs non-union men.

At an immense meeting of employers to-day it was unanimously resolved to support the ship owners.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Pollution of the Drinking Supply—A Constable's Assailant Sentenced.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.—An analysis of the city water made yesterday has resulted in the discovery of the presence of sewage in the supply. This important fact has brought forth an ultimatum from the Medical Health Officer to the effect that citizens before using water for drinking purposes should first boil it. The advice is good, but it comes somewhat late when the citizens have been drinking diluted sewage for the past week. Twenty-six cases of typhoid fever have been reported in the last 36 hours, most of them probably due to the pollution of the water supply.

The two Germans, Phil. Goetz and Francis Hauck, who assaulted P. C. Bowhurst Aug. 7 on Davenport road, were sentenced yesterday, Goetz to six months and Hauck to one year in the Central Prison. Hauck used a knife on the constable while Goetz encouraged him.

Joseph Bullock, charged with seducing his step-daughter, was remanded for a week.

Tobias Switzer of 77 Mitchell avenue, one of the largest property owners in the West End, is in St. Andrew's Market Station on a charge of being drunk, and the police are awaiting the report of Dr. Pritchard and a colleague whether the more serious crime of assault with intent to kill is not preferred against him. Switzer had been indulging in the saloons all day and last evening on going home he picked a quarrel with his wife. In the midst of the hot debate which ensued he seized a heavy piece of iron and struck her over the head with it and followed it up with a series of blows on the face and body. It is not known whether he kicked her or not, but last night Dr. Pritchard put seven stitches in a gaping wound in her skull, besides attending to other serious injuries. The police say that Switzer is a man of violent temper and unless he mends his ways is on a fair road to the gallows.

Says Murphy Was Drunk.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Tribune states that Isaac Murphy, who rode Firenzi at Monmouth Park yesterday, was drunk. A lot of money was lost on Firenzi.

Racing in the Mud.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—To-day the track was muddy. Results:

First race, ¼ mile—Khaftan 1, Atticus 2, Pilgrim 3. Time 1.34¼.

Second race, 1 1-16 miles, selling—Mildale 1, St. Albans 2, Jackstaff 3. Time 1.54.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

The Potato Blight in Ireland—"Race Is the Slave That Pays."

DUBLIN, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the National League here to-day Timothy M. Healy, referring to the potato blight, said nothing stood between the people and starvation during the coming winter. The Government was represented as being most anxious to provide employment through the building of new railways, but how could the railway act recently passed be held to prove the Government's intention to meet the coming famine? Besotted stupidity marked the whole conduct of the executive. It might not be legal for tenants to withhold their land rent during the period of distress, but the man who should pay his rent and leave his family to starve would be little better than an assassin. [See King Henry V., act ii, sc. 1.—ED.] "Was Ireland," he asked, "to be placed again in the position of a mendicant before Europe and America?" If it should be necessary to appeal to America and Australia, no part of the assistance thus obtained should go to any man who had paid rent during the last twelve months. Let the landlords support the rentpayers. The farmers ought now to give an earnest of their intention to grapple with the impending distress by paying contributions to the central fund.

A Smallpox Epidemic in Brazil.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the Hygienic Committee to-day Dr. Proust read a telegram from Pernambuco stating that there are 4000 cases of smallpox in that province and that there is an average of 20 deaths daily.

Pernambuco is one of the eastern provinces of Brazil. It has a population of about 1,500,000 scattered over 57,583 square miles of territory. The principal towns are Recife (Pernambuco) the capital, Monteiro, Goyanna, Tamandare, Rio Formozo and Seranhaem.

Crisis in Cotton Circles.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 26.—Kennedy & Co., cotton brokers, have suspended. Other failures are expected in the cotton trade in consequence of the collapse in prices.

A Tornado in Italy.

ROME, Aug. 26.—The city of Perugia and the surrounding country have been visited by a tornado. The wind blew with terrific force. Four churches in the city were blown down and many houses were wrecked. A large number of persons were injured. The commune of Citerna was devastated by the storm.

All Aboard for Mombaza.

ZANZIBAR, Aug. 26.—The Mombaza & Nanza Railway was inaugurated yesterday in the presence of the British and other foreign consuls, Admiral Fremantle of the British navy and a large number of other Europeans.

PLUMB'S RECIPROCITY SCHEME.

The Kansas Senator Desires Free Trade with Canada in Manufactured Articles.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The tariff bill was taken up in the Senate to-day and the lead schedule adopted.

Mr. Plumb (Rep., Kan.) gave notice of an amendment to the bill which he would offer at the appropriate time. The amendment was read. It is a modification of the bill for reciprocity with Canada introduced by Mr. Butterworth (Rep., O.) in the House. The changes are few but important. Senator Plumb proposes to restrict the operation of the reciprocal arrangement to manufactured articles and minerals.

The mineral schedule went through without change except that the article relating to nickel ore was struck out and nickel and nickel oxide was reduced from 15 to 8c a pound.

Schedule D, "wood and manufactures of wood," having been reached, Mr. McPherson (Dem., N. J.), wished to offer a substitute for the whole schedule, but reserved it until the committees amendments should be disposed of.

Paragraph 212, relating to sawed boards, etc., was on recommendation of the committee amended by reducing the duty from 35 per cent. to 10 per cent and by adding the words, "imposing a duty of 20 per cent on veneers not specially provided for."

Paragraph 217, pickets and palings, was amended on motion of Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R.I.) by reducing the duty from 35 to 30c per thousand. Mr. Aldrich moved to amend paragraph 221, which puts a duty of 10 per cent. on chair cane manufactured but not made into finished articles, by striking out the words "manufactured but not made into finished articles," and inserting in lieu of them the words, "or reeds whether wrought or manufactured from rattans or reeds and whether round, square or in any other shape."

Schedule E, relating to sugar, having been reached, Mr. Aldrich said the committee proposed to let that schedule be passed over informally for the present, so that Schedule F, relating to tobacco and its manufactures, would be the first thing to come up to-morrow.

A TRAIN WRECKER AT WORK.

The Scoundrel Discovered in the Act—Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Aug. 26.—An attempt to wreck a Hamilton and Dundas train was made Sunday night. About 9 o'clock R. W. Witherspoon saw a man acting suspiciously at a crossing and on investigation found a three-inch plank lying across the south rail in a diagonal position, so that if the train had struck it the engine and probably one or two of the cars would have been dumped into the ditch on the south side of the track. The plank had been torn up from its bed on the crossing, where it had been spiked to the ties. Only a man of unusual strength could do this. Mr. Witherspoon just had time to remove the obstacle before the train came to the spot. He signalled Engineer Sweet, who stopped the train. Sweet said it was not the first attempt of this kind that had been made recently. Only a day or two before a large stone had been placed on the Garth-street crossing, and his engine had run over it; but, though the shock threw him off his seat, the engine, fortunately, was not thrown off the track. A little while before this a plank had been laid across the rails at the same crossing, but it was discovered before any damage was done. What makes this deed of Sunday night peculiarly infamous is the fact that the three cars that composed the train were filled with women and children, most of whom had been spending the afternoon at Ainslie Park.

No steps will be taken towards the annexation of East Hamilton to the city until the beginning of next year. It is said that the majority of the people in that locality are in favor of annexation, provided they be granted 10 years' exemption from the payment of debenture rates and be called upon to pay for current expenses only.

Toronto Pedlars Fined.

WIARTON, Aug. 26.—Two pedlars, John Foley of Cookswille and Ed. McDonald of Toronto, selling goods for John Ryan & Co., 50 Colborne-street, Toronto, arrived here the other night and started to sell their $45 lots of clothing to the farmers. On their return for dinner Constable Pettigrew had them arraigned before Reeve Moore for hawking without a license. McDonald was fined $11.50 and Foley got off $10 cheaper.

A Brilliant Ball at Halifax.

HALIFAX, Aug. 26.—Gen. Sir John Ross gave a grand ball at Bellevue House in honor of Prince George to-night; 600 guests were present. The historical old house and grounds were gorgeously decorated and dazzlingly illuminated with electricity and colored lanterns. The ball was one of the most brilliant ever given in this festive city.

A Fatal Fall.

KINGSTON, Aug. 26.—Last night Hazel, youngest daughter of John C. Landery, was out playing in the garden with other children, and while there fell off a bench about three feet high. She sustained internal injuries which resulted fatally during the night.

BARGES FOR OUR CANAL.

During the sittings of the Trent Valley canal commission in Peterborough, the question of barges suitable for the lockage capacity of the canal, being able to stand a lake voyage, say from Trenton to Toronto or Kingston, turned largely upon the build of barge known as the turtle back or whale back boats. In these vessels the upper works are dispensed with altogether and an air chamber about high water mark extends the whole length of the ship. The hatches are fitted into rubber grooves. The hull differs little from the ordinary vessel, and the weight of the cargo prevents rolling. Only a couple of feet of the whale back appears above water and consequently winds and waves pass over it harmlessly, for there is practically nothing to resist their passage. Such a vessel costs only about half an ordinary one, and the running expenses are light. A Canadian named McDougall, living at Duluth, is the inventor of the idea, and the principal owner of the seven or eight ships to which it has been applied. They are now plying regularly from the upper lakes to Buffalo. The whale backs are said to be an entire success, and it is believed they will drive all other styles of crafts from the lakes. If the brilliant idea of the Duluth Canuck is not completely worked out, it is probable that there will be plenty of time to bring it to perfection before the canal is finished.

MR. MACKENZIE BOWELL, Minister of Customs, and Mr. Parmelee, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, will shortly make an official tour through Manitoba.

A KILLING frost is reported in Kittson, Marshall, Norman and Polk counties, Minn.; in all the border counties of Northern Dakota and Manitoba westward to Minnedosa.

AN association for the colonization of Palestine has been successfully established in the Jewish quarter of London, and shiploads of poor Jews are being sent to the Holy Land.

CROP reports published in Winnipeg indicate that the damage from the recent frosts was very slight. The quality of the wheat in some districts will be effected, but in no instance will their be any diminution in the quantity.

THE chief religions of the world may be classified according to the number of adherents as follows:—Christianity, 450,000,000; Confuscianism, 390,000,000; Hindooism, 190,000,000; Mohammedanism, 18,000,000; Fetichism, 150,000,000; Buddism, 100,000,000; Spirit Worship, 50,000,000; Shintoism, 22,000,000; Jews, 8,000,000; Parsees, 1,000,000. Total, 1,449,000,000.

ANOTHER African exploring party is about to set out, its purpose being to explore the upper waters of the Congo River. The Congo Commercial Company will pay the expense of the undertaking, sending out seven Europeans under the leadership of M. Alexandre Delcommune, who has spent seventeen years on the river. Nearly all the Europeans are "soldiers of fortune," and they will have with them 150 native soldiers. Their main object is to penetrate the country of Urua, on the west of Tanganyika, which has just been touched by other explorers, who have reported it to be extremely fertile, salubrious, and rich in minerals.

Crop Reports.

Roots, Rye and Pease.

The bulletin of the Ontario Bureau of Industries gives the following summary of the above crops in this Province:—

RYE.

The rye crop has given a fairly good yield throughout the Province wherever grown, and has already been well secured in most cases. In the east, however, it was somewhat light on the ground owing to winter killing.

PEASE.

Reports concerning pease indicate a very fair, but an uneven, crop. It, perhaps, suffered more than any other crop from the rains of May and June, and on low clay lands it is almost a failure. The straw was afterwards scalded by the hot dry weather which followed, and this throughout the Lake Erie counties appears to have materially checked the growth of the vine and the filling of the pods. In this district the crop is a very poor one, but throughout the rest of the Province the yield is good, and is not likely on the whole to be much behind the average per acre. In the south west a large portion of the pea crop had been harvested and secured in good condition at the time of reporting. Elsewhere operations were about to commence. The crop has perhaps suffered more from bugs this year in the older portions of the Province than usual, notably in Essex and Kent and parts of Middlesex, but the pest has not extended its operations into other sections to any marked degree. Worms have also done some injury in Huron, Bruce and Gray.

ROOTS.

The reports on the condition of the different root crops are very variable, according to the nature of the soil and the situation. Low lands, owing to the copious rains of spring, proved bad for potatoes, much of the seed rotting. On high and well drained soils a more cheering condition is reported. Premature ripening of the vines is reported from different points, more especially in the eastern half of the Province. Several correspondents complain that not only will the yield be small, but that many of the tubers will be undersized. Turnips suffered considerably from the fly, and the baked condition of the soil on account of the hot weather following floods from thunder storms told greatly against the progress of turnips, mangels and carrots. The two latter crops, however, promise to be comparatively successful, should the remainder of the season be at all favourable. The frequent rains in the early part of the growing season appear to have fostered weeds to an unusual extent, and this has rendered the cultivation of roots more difficult than usual.

Manitoba's Wheat Crop.

The speculator seems to have turned his closest attentions towards the Manitoba crop. Depressing news of all kinds is being sent out from Winnipeg with no other object, it is known, than to spike the market for the benefit of speculators—and, perhaps, to injure Manitoba. All the information obtainable is to the effect that frost has not in any way injured the wheat. Mr. Baird, a reputable officer of the Toronto Board of Trade, who is now, or was on the ground, has telegraphed to Toronto that the wheat crop is safe. Prof. Saunders of the Central Experimental Farm, on Saturday sent similar information to the Agricultural Department at Ottawa. And Mr. McMillan, the agent of the Manitoba Government in Toronto, has had the most positive information from Premier Greenway that the damage to the wheat crop was very slight, being confined principally to hail storms and not to frost.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Wormwood, for Wormwerth—Suicide of a Despondent Russian Pole.

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—Nathaniel Wormwerth, a merchant from Mountain Grove in Addington, was given a dose of Toronto justice yesterday that he won't forget in a hurry. This is the gentleman who had an innocent man, Patrick O'Leary, arrested on a charge of robbing him of $600, all the while the money being stowed away in the capacious lining of his hat. Wormwerth's object no doubt was to make the people at Mountain Grove believe that he had been robbed in Toronto and thus escape paying his debts. After O'Leary's innocence was fully established Wormwerth was locked up for having a revolver in his possession. The magistrate yesterday taxed him $40 and costs for this offence.

Coroner Pickering held an inquest last night in the Morgue on the body of the man found floating in the Lake on Saturday between Scarboro and Little York. The deceased was identified as Auguste Lopenski, a Russian Pole. After 10 minutes' deliberation the jury returned a verdict of death from suicide while in a state of unsound mind.

Two Swedes, giving their names as Charles Jansen and William Sjophl, or letters to that effect, hired a small yacht at Dean's boathouse at Sunnyside about 1 o'clock yesterday. Half an hour later a number of parties standing on the shore of Humber Bay observed the boat capsize. Engineer J. H. Venables of the West Toronto Junction waterworks went to the rescue and succeeded in dragging out Sjophl, who was clinging to the upturned boat, but his companion, Jansen, had sunk to the bottom of the bay, after swimming 40 or 50 yards.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—The produce markets are unchanged. Spring wheat is held at 98c on the Midland, white $1 on the Northern, with 98c bid, sales on C.P.R. at $1 to $1.02. Oats are quiet at 40c.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat firm; demand poor; holders offer sparingly. Corn firm; demand poor. Spring wheat, 7s 6½d to 7s 7d; red winter, 7s 5½d to 7s 6d. No. 1 Cal., 7s 6½d to 7s 7d. Corn, 4s 7¼d. Peas, 5s 5d to 5s 5¼d. Pork, 56s 6d. Lard, 32s. Bacon, heavy, 30s; light, 30s 6d. Tallow, 25s 6d. Cheese, 42s.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat firmly held; corn nil. Cargoes on passage—Wheat and corn stiff. Mark Lane—Wheat firm; corn turn dearer; flour very strong and still tending up; spot good mixed American corn 21s 6d, was 20s 9d, straight Minnesota flour 27s 6d, was 26s 6d. French country markets firm. Weather in England unsettled. Liverpool—Spot wheat strong; corn firmer; No. 1 Cal. 7s 9d; Walla, 7s 5½d; A. R. W. 8s 6d to 8s 6½d; Indian 7s 7d; all wheat penny dearer; flour 26s 6d, shilling dearer; corn 4s 7¼d, ¼d dearer; peas 5s 6½d, unchanged.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: Uncertainty as to the outcome of the labor troubles on the railroads has seriously affected the cheese markets. Shippers were afraid to purchase largely owing to the probability of a tie-up delaying shipments. On this market the only sales were 900 boxes of Sandusky at 8¾c and 1000 boxes of Cloverfield at 8¾c. The Marshfield, Springville and Fulton factories boarded no cheese here.

Utica reports: There was quite a boom in the cheese market here. Advices from New York were favorable but more than anything else probably the demand for cheese for the home trade occasioned the activity. The market was one of the most active of the season. Transactions: 4 lots, 400 boxes, at 7¾c; 58 lots, 5725 boxes, at 7¾c; 46 lots, 4861 boxes, at 7¾c; 10 lots, 1180 boxes, at 8c; 12 lots, 1153 boxes, at 8¼c; 6 lots, 800 boxes, at 8¼c; 3 lots, 365 boxes, commission. Total, 139 lots, 13,896 boxes. Ruling prices 7¾c. Transactions same date last year, Aggregate 14,767 boxes, ruling price 7¾c.

Little Falls reports: The cheese market has shown a better feeling and prices are advancing about ¼c. An effort was made by buyers to hold the prices down to 8¼c, but 8 lots were found at the close that received the half. Transactions: 50 lots at 7¾c; 24 lots at 8¼c; 8 lots at 8¼c; 41 lots commission. Total 10,214 boxes.

The sales of farm dairy are reported at 950 boxes at 7¾c to 8¾c with bulk at 8c.

Butter—Twenty-six packages of creamery butter sold at 22c to 23½c, mostly at 22.

Suddenly Prostrated.

GENTLEMEN,—I was suddenly prostrated while at work by a severe attack of cholera morbus. We sent at once for a doctor, but he seemed unable to help. An evacuation about every forty minutes was fast wearing me out, when we sent for a bottle of Wild Strawberry, which saved my life. MRS. J. N. VAN NATTER, Mount Brydges, Ont. 2w35 1

Miss Helen B. Sinclair.

A Daughter's Influence.

I had a very severe attack of bloody diarrhœa and was persuaded by my daughter to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which I did with great success, as less than two bottles cured me. It is worth its weight in gold. MRS. MARGARET WEIR, Pembroke, Ont. 2w35 1

There is more fun in a sheet of sticky fly paper than in the average negro minstrel. Watch the kitten playing with it on the new carpet; the latter is ruined for ever; the kitten goes into a fit and all the women and children rush out of the house in terror. If you want to rid your house of flies, buy Wilson's Fly Poison Pads, and use as directed. Nothing else will clear them out thoroughly. Sold at 10c. by all druggists. dw

Origin of Swearing.

The brother of the fairy Pari Banou was only thirty-two inches high. His beard was thirty-two feet long and extended horizontally in front of him as he walked. He invented swearing to express his feelings when poor biscuits were set on his table. His wife could always make biscuits to please him by using Imperial Cream Tartar Baking Powder. t h s w

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.

For the last three weeks I have been tending an old schoolmate of mine. His name is Wall Holbrook and he has been very low with brain fever. He was at one time quite well off, but lost everything by an unlucky speculation, and was forced to accept a clerkship with one of the firms with which he had formerly done business. A too steady application to his duties, coupled with great depression of mind, brought on his illness, which has threatened to terminate fatally more than once.

I noticed just before he gave up how badly he was looking, and one evening when he called at my office he confided everything to me. The loss of everything he possessed was naturally a heavy blow to him, but it was nothing in comparison to what it had brought with it, the breaking off of his engagement with the woman he loved.

Her name was Nona Godfrey, and they had been engaged for about a year. As soon as her father heard of the change in Will's affairs, he wrote to him giving him to understand that he could no longer regard him as a future son-in-law. On learning, however, that Miss Godfrey's heart was unchanged towards him, Will determined not to give her up, and to make every effort in his power to regain his lost fortune as quickly as possible.

When he was taken sick I had him brought to my house, and, during his delirium, he would keep asking for Nona; then he would imagine that she was with him, and would implore her not to leave him. Late yesterday afternoon he became much worse, and begged so piteously for her to come to him that I sent Miss Godfrey a telegram, and about 11 o'clock in the morning I was informed that she was waiting for me in the office. I went to her at once.

She attempted to rise as I entered the room, but sank back on her chair as though completely exhausted. I attributed this to perturbation, and hastened to quiet her fears about Will. She insisted upon seeing him without delay.

Will seemed to be conscious of her presence the moment she knelt by his bedside and took his hand. He became more composed and at last sank into a deep, still sleep, with her hand. This lasted until midnight, and then he opened his eyes and I saw that he would live. He spoke her name in a whisper, and tried to raise her hand to his lips. She made no sound, but gave him a look of love and tenderness that he understood at once, and he closed his eyes again as though her mere presence was all he asked. After he had lost himself, Miss Godfrey looked up at me, and the expression of my face told her the glad truth. The next instant she had fainted. I carried her into the adjoining room and called my wife. She came to my assistance at once, and, after we had worked over Miss Godfrey for a few moments, she opened her eyes and said, with a faint smile:

"I am sorry to give you so much trouble, but I think my arm is hurt, and that is what made me faint. The train on which I left Rome met with an accident, and I guess that I have not escaped uninjured."

On making an examination I found that her left wrist was sprained and the forearm considerably bruised. Although suffering intense pain, the plucky little woman had managed to keep me in ignorance of her injuries until she knew whether her lover would live or die. I did everything for her that my skill suggested, and then forced her to take some rest. A couch was arranged for her in the room adjoining Will's, and, although she obtained but little sleep—she was up every hour to look at him and ask how he was—her condition this morning was much better than I had expected.

Shortly after daylight some one rang the office bell, and when I opened the door I knew at once by the man standing before me was Jake Alfrey. He stepped into the office, told me his name, and asked if his daughter was in the house. I told him that she was, and he requested me to send her to him. Whatever his feelings to me were he did not show them.

I went to Miss Godfrey and informed her that her father was waiting to see her. She trembled for an instant, and then closed her lips over her firm little mouth and went to him without a word. I had placed her arm in a sling, and the pain and emotion she had lately undergone had left their marks on her face. I was sure that the sight of her would move her father to pity.

What took place during the interview I did not learn. It lasted for over an hour, and then I was called. I was not unprepared for the scene that met my gaze. Nona was holding her father's hand, and Mr. Godfrey's eyes showed that he had been shedding tears. Nona turned to me with a happy smile:

"Father has forgiven us," she said.—Edward Wentzel.

MAKING ICE-TEA.

To be Tasty it Should be Made Fresh Every Day.

In the first place, take Congo, tea, commonly called English breakfast. Take the best quality. Do not use Japanese tea, for it is not drinkable to a well-regulated palate. Oolong is good, and so is young Hyson, for those whose nerves can stand green tea; but Congo has an especially agreeable flavor, feel. Having got your tea, the next thing is an earthen teapot—a black Betty is the best. No metal pot brews tea as well as an earthen. Put the tea in the bottom of the pot, and pour boiling hot water upon it until the pot is nearly filled. Then let it steep a minute or two, but don't, don't let it boil. That is a fatal error. Boiling gives even to the best of tea a disagreeable, herby taste.

As soon as the steeping is done with, strain the liquor out of the earthen pot into any convenient receptacle which has a tight lid and put it into the refrigerator. In a few hours it will be iced cold, and can be used as wanted. It should be made fresh every day. A nice way of serving tea made and cooled in this manner is in cups, with a slice of lemon floating on top. The Russians do this with hot tea. It is equally delicious with cold tea. Unless you feel that you must from long habit, don't flavor iced tea with milk or sugar. It is the bitter flavor which you need, and which tends to quench the parched feeling of the palate and throat.—New York Star.

Confusion as to Divine Guidance.

In the early days of Maine Methodism it was customary for young ministers to consult their presiding elders before taking a wife. Once, during a campmeeting in eastern Maine, a young minister approached the presiding elder and said he wished to be married.

"Whom do you wish to marry?" asked the elder.

"Well," said the young man, "The Lord has made known to me very clearly that I should marry Sister Mary Turner."

"I know her well," said the elder, "she is a fine girl. I will see you again before the meeting closes."

During the week four other young ministers consulted the presiding elder on the subject of marriage. Each of them gave the same of the young woman to whom he proposed to offer himself. They had all prayed over the matter a great deal, and each was certain that it was the Lord's desire that he should marry the person named. Neither of the five young men knew any one else had consulted the elder on that subject. On the last day of the campmeeting, at noon, the elder called the five young ministers to his tent to receive his opinion. He said:

"Now, brethren, it may be the will of God for you to marry, but it is not His will that five Methodist ministers should marry little Mary Turner."—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Lily Grows in a Hog's Stomach.

A Wisconsin County (Ala.) peddlar tells a story which, if not true, evinces an imaginative power which no one would ever suppose him to possess.

A farmer named Greene, while in town was persuaded to buy a few Chinese lily bulbs, which will grow if placed in a bottle or jar. They resemble in appearance a diminutive steer's head, and sell on the streets for a mere trifle.

Farmer Greene took a fancy to them and bought a dozen of them. When he reached home he had no bottle or jar to put them in and threw them into the hog lot with a bucket of spoiled potatoes.

A few days afterward one of his largest hogs became sick, refusing food, and, laying down in a corner, grunted as if in constant pain. No signs of disease could be discovered, but a few days later the hog died. The cause of death was discussed in the usual family council around the supper table, and it was finally concluded best to cut up the hog and find out, if possible, whether or no the disease was contagious.

This was done, and the cause of death was instantly apparent. The animal had swallowed a Chinese lily bulb whole, and there was sufficient moisture in the stomach to cause it to grow. The bulb had not only swelled and sprouted, but leaves had actually formed. The animal was not adapted to the purposes of a flower garden, and died.

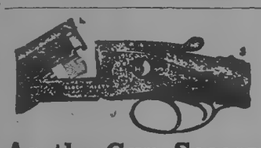
TO ALL THE LAND LEAGUERS OF PETERBOROUGH.

Do not be humbugged any more with ROVING ROOF PAINTERS but try the BEST PAINTS in the world—those made and used by DESAUTELL & McCLELLAN, practical and experienced roof painters. They are not ashamed of their work, which will look nicer and wear longer than any other; they allow any engineers to inspect their work. Also, TAR and FELT ROOFING. This firm are the only real roof painters in Canada that may be thoroughly relied upon. All their work guaranteed first class.

As we reside in the town and spend our money here we can confidently solicit a share of public patronage.

Orders sent to Peterborough Post Office will receive prompt attention.

d DESAUTELL & McCLELLEN.



As the Gun Season

will be soon on hand, I wish to inform the public that I have imported from England and Belgium, a fine lot of double-barreled breech loading guns, from $10 to $30. Also a lot of single barrel breech loaders equally cheap, all of the best makers, such as James W. Richards, R. Richards, Clarborough, Bonahill and Greener.

I am selling single and double muzzle loaders at cost. Rifles of different makers on hand at the lowest figures.

In the Revolver line, I have nearly 50 different makers, all of the best quality

I continue to do all kinds of new work and repairing in the best style of workmanship, also altering old gun locks into rebounders, and choke-boring barrels. All these works are done in the best possible manner and warranted.

Gun Stocking also done in style to suit customers.

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase (1,708,613 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,674,823	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,068,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,317	10.36
North American	8,470,620	10 63
Temperance and General	2,994,972	17 94
Citizens	2 067,956	29.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,285	30 61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Dwelling Burned.

About eleven o'clock last night a fire broke out in a frame tenement house on Chamberlen street, owned by Mrs. Peter Gifford. The house had been recently vacated. The house and sheds were entirely destroyed, and but for the strenuous efforts of the neighbours, other buildings would have been burned. The place is without fire protection, except such as the neighbours' wells and pails afford. The hose wagon came to the spot, but as there was neither hydrant nor tank within reach, neither that nor the fire engine, which came later, was able to do anything. Property owners in this vicinity say that they are taxed as highly in proportion as other portions of the town having the best of fire protection and first-class sidewalks and other advantages. The lack of all these advantages certainly depreciates the value of the property, and it seems to be unjust to tax people for conveniences and improvements they do not enjoy. The loss was covered by an insurance of $300 in the Royal Insurance Company of England.

River Navigation Notes.

The steamer Daisy brought up a scow load of cedar logs for McDonald's mill last night.

Water was very low in the Little Lake yesterday on account of repairs going on at the locks dam under the superintendence of Thos Crowley.

Steamer Golden Eye runs the Hastings band excursion to-morrow to Idyl Wild. Several parties from here will join in per steamer Daisy.

Fishing on the river and lake is better now than it has been this summer. Monday, 1st September, will be the opening day for duck shooting, and, judging from the large flocks of ducks at the mouth of the river and in Rice Lake, there will be a good time on Monday.

A muskinonge was sent up on the Golden Eye Monday night that weighed 23½ lbs. It was caught in the river. It was sold to a party on the boat for $1.50. A man from Harwood sold a 25 lb. fish to a Yankee last week for $3.00—this is no fish story, for he got the cash.

Those wanting to spend Monday's holiday profitably, better take a paddle down the river to the lake, or go by steamer.

Prizes for the Pupils.

Boys of the Separate School Receive the Reward of Their Last Term Labours.

On the opening of the Separate school this morning the regular terminal distribution of prizes took place, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor presenting the fortunate pupils with the tokens of their success during the last school term. Mr. C. J. Leonard, chairman, and Messrs. C. Halpin and J. Corkery, members of the Separate School Board, were also present. The pupil were all assembled in the principal's room and addressed by His Lordship and the chairman, after which the prizes were given out, as follows:—

MORE PRIZES IN PROSPECT.

After the prizes had been given out His Lordship again addressed the pupils, complimenting them upon the progress made, and also the teachers for their highly successful work. His Lordship announced that next term prizes would be given, of $10 each, by himself and Rev. Father Rudkins for pupils passing the Entrance examination. These prizes will, no doubt, stimulate the boys to renewed energy, and still better results may be expected from the Separate school, which, since the commencement of Mr. Brick's regime, has worked along most smoothly and successfully. The pupils are all at their desks this term, their cheerful and intelligent countenances reflecting their inward determination to work more diligently than ever and strive faithfully for the prizes which will be distributed in the winter.

News Nuggets.

The Pompadour Island campers have returned to town after a most enjoyable two weeks' outing.

Springville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Our village is quiet for this time of year, possibly owing to the professional class taking their holidays and farmers, surrounding the town, being busy engaged ending up the harvest. As the harvest is good, merchants are looking forward to an extra volume of trade in the near future.

A young man who has gained for himself a good deal of notoriety through the town for his good social qualities and his early temperance piety, claims that there was about a score of school marm's summering in our town during their vacation. The number looks large, but as our informant is of that goodly class, it must be true. Possibly he may have dreamed of that "one" a few times and classed those as personal visits.

A SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. John Elliott, of North Monaghan, was riding from his home westward in the 9th concession. His fine mare became fast in a rut in the middle of the road. Before Mr. Elliott could secure help, the mare, in her efforts to extricate herself, broke her leg and rendered herself so entirely useless that she had to be destroyed. This state of affairs in the highest valued township in the county, is unprecedented in the history of our municipality. Residents on this concession have repeatedly petitioned the council to have this road properly graded but without avail. In this case Mr. Elliott is entitled to the full value of his fine bred mare, which he will no doubt receive. Now if these councillors who, at times, think that the township is so wealthy that the ratepayers can afford to bonus agricultural societies and other side shows to a large amount, when approached by some musical-tongued representative of such societies that should support themselves, and then cherish the idea that they can not afford to keep our roads in decent order, should buy a tin whistle and amuse themselves for the balance of their days in public office.

The Presbyterian congregation of our village, purpose having an entertainment early in September to be held in the drill shed, as the place is all that could be desired. No doubt a suitable programme will be carried out as the material for arranging such matters is of the most excellent quality.

The honest farmers are almost through with the harvest, which has been excellent on good grain farms.

Threshing has begun. Grain is yielding extra well. Farmers are jubilant over the prospects of good prices. From all appearances this will be a season of marked prosperity with farmers in this community.

A Kiss for a Quarter.

How They Raised Money at a Church Fair on Long Island.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Some of the prettiest girls on Long Island were ready to be kissed at 25c. a head on Monday, but the officials of the Long Island railroad were not aware of the fact, otherwise special trains might have been run for the occasion. When it was too late the members of the beautiful church at Mattituck saw that, instead of adding a paltry $200 to their fund, they might have raised money enough to build a new church.

When the woman's sewing society of this church resolved last winter that any lady who attained the age of sixteen years should be eligible for membership, conservative people predicted that something was going to happen. Village gossip declared that a sewing society which did not brag limit to twenty or higher could not be trusted upon to conduct itself in a decorous manner. In spite of these doleful predictions, the sewing society remained about as dull as usual until it was decided that a fair ought to be held, and that the proceeds thereof should be devoted to the purchase of material to be worked up into winter clothing for the local indigent and the benighted heathen. The committee of arrangements proved themselves progressive. Early in their deliberations they concluded that the methods of extortion hitherto in vogue at religious fairs were played.

Raffles seemed hardly the right thing. Rebecca at the well were pronounced obsolete.

After hours of constant debate the youngest member of the committee, a pretty girl of nineteen, solved the problem. She argued that if all the nicest young ladies in the parish would stand ready to accept the osculatory salutes of the gentlemen for a consideration, the latter would simply tumble over each other in their efforts to get rid of their money, and the cause of charity would get a tremendous boom.

Prudish objections, put forward by elderly ladies, who were not likely to be called upon to do any of the kissing, were ultimately overruled, and it was decided to run the new feature in a separate tent as a sort of annex. The only thing left to be done was to give the young men a hint as to what sort of a fair the society proposed to give. The girls did not let the secret right out, but dropped hints which put all the young bachelors and most of the married men in a state of anxious anticipation.

When Monday evening came, the lawn where the fair was held, contained, among other things, a tent which bore the sign: "Admission, 5 cents; to kiss the baby, 25 cents."

Investigation proved that the baby was plural, and that its ages ranged from sixteen to nineteen years. Within half an hour the men had formed a line which reached half way around the grounds. Each man, as fast as he left the tent, hastened to secure a place at the other end of the line. As the news of what was going on spread rapidly, delegations began to arrive from neighbouring villages. Finally business at all the other booths was suspended in order to give the luscious kissing-bee full swing. When the receipts of the fair were counted the amount was found to be $200; of this $160 had been taken in the baby tent. The only painful feature of the entertainment, in addition to the failure to advertise extensively, was the fact that several nice young men, whose best girls occupied prominent positions in the tent, made a disturbance when they heard about it. As a consequence several promising Mittituck affairs are off. Moreover, the rival parish in the village, professes to be horrified at the methods employed to reap pecuniary gain, and its pulpit is expected to thunder upon the subject on Sunday at 10 30 o'clock.

Clara Louise Kellog Opera Company.

The readers of the EXAMINER are requested not to forget the grand presentation of a high class musical and operatic entertainment in the Opera House, on Oct. 8th. The company is of the highest order, as witness the following press notices. "The Montreal Star, Nov. 27th, 1888, says: Miss Kellogg, to whom the rôle of Leonora naturally fell, showed herself throughout a true artiste, appearing to great advantage in the impassioned scene with Manrico toward the close of the third act, and rising to true grandeur in the "Miserere" and closing scenes of the fourth act."

The Syracuse Standard, Jan. 5th, 1889, has to say:—Miss Kellogg was cordially welcomed and sang the rôle with her accustomed power and artistic method. In the last she was particularly fine and her singing elicited rounds of applause.

The rest of the leading members of the company comprise Miss Carrie Morse, who "possesses a fine dramatic contralto voice of remarkable quality and power"; Signor Carlo Spizzaroli, who possesses "a voice of wonderful strength and volume," and has filled rôles with the highest companies; Mr. W. H. Lee, baritone, of "rich, full voice." A capital chorus and skilful pianist, Mr. Charles E. Pratt, accompanies the company. No such operatic treat has ever been presented for the people of Peterborough, and it shows promise of being appreciated. The large guarantee list is filled and seats are being rapidly taken.

McVICAR'S THEATER BURNT.

A $200,000 Blaze at Chicago—Firemen Buried in The Ruins

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Fire was discovered in McVicker's Theatre, on the south side of Madison-street, between Dearborn and State, at 3½ this morning. As far as it can be learned it originated in the smoking room under and to the west of the stage. The smoke damaged the valuable scenery of the Shenandoah Company now performing at the house. The flames shot out of the rear of the building with such fury that they extended across the alley and threatened destruction of the Windsor European Hotel. Many of the guests of the hotel were awakened and a panic resulted. There was no occasion for the fright, however, as the flames had no chance of communicating with the building. Panic also seized the guests of the Saratoga Hotel and the Bennett House, but the flames did not reach either of these places.

Seven men belonging to Fire Insurance Patrol No. 1 were in the auditorium at work when the roof fell in shortly after 4 o'clock. They all escaped by a miracle. Not so fortunate were the men who were fighting the fire in the rear of the building. When the rear wall fell all the men of No. 7 were buried in the ruins. Three firemen were more or less hurt, and Fireman Jack Duffy had his skull fractured and will probably die. The total loss to the theatre building and its occupants is estimated at over $200,000. Proprietor McVicker says his own loss will reach over $100,000. Several stores in State-street caught fire, but the flames were soon extinguished. The theatre was heavily insured in a large number of companies.

Happens Every Day.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 26.—Mary Peters, a domestic in the employ of Postoffice Inspector R. W. Barker, undertook to re-fill a lighted coal oil stove at noon to-day, when it exploded, scattering the burning oil over her clothing. She ran out to the street, where some boys extinguished the flames, but not before she was probably fatally burnt. The summer kitchen where the stove exploded was totally destroyed.

Other Fires.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 26.—A cheese factory near Napanee, owned by J. K. McCargar of this city, was burned together with 180 cheese Sunday morning. Insured in Royal Canadian for $1000 on cheese and in Ætna for $400 on building. Loss much greater.

LEAMINGTON, Aug. 26.—Dunbar Bros.' general store and residence, Blytheswood, was totally destroyed by fire about 4 o'clock this morning. Loss estimated $2500. Stock insured for $1000 and building for $500; no insurance on furniture. Origin of fire unknown.

PESTH, Aug. 26.—A fire broke out yesterday at Tokay, the entry port for the noted Tokay wine, and all efforts to extinguish the flames were fruitless. When the fire burned itself out the whole town, with the exception of 13 houses, had been destroyed.

ALGIERS, Aug. 26.—Fire has swept the Soukaras forest. Two villages were burned.

KILRAIN AND SULLIVAN.

The Baltimorean Again Wants to Meet the Champion.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Jake Kilrain has arrived in this city. In response to a question he said: "I do not know that I shall ever enter the ring again. My wife is desirous that I should remain outside, and I may consult her wishes in the matter, but you understand that the chief desire of my life has been to meet Sullivan again, and I will arrange a match with him any time that it is convenient for both of us. My friends are willing to back me for $10,000 again at any time Sullivan wants to meet me." "Do you think you would accept a challenge from Jackson?" was asked. "I never saw Jackson, and, as the boys say, 'he is not present.' I heard so much talk about a match between Sullivan and Jackson that I never considered the matter of meeting him myself."

Farewell to a Minister.

Tuesday evening a farewell banquet was tendered by Mr. Joseph Byers, South Monaghan, to Mr Russell Baldwin, who is leaving the Baillieboro Baptist Church to take a farther course in Systematic Theology at Morgan Park Baptist College, Chicago. There were about sixty guests of different denomination present. After the supper addresses were given by Rev. P. C. Parker, Peterborough, Mr. Byers, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Jewison, Mr. C. B. Routley of Peterborough, and others, all speaking very highly of Mr. Baldwin as man and minister. This banquet was in addition to the public farewell and presentations which had been made to Mr. Baldwin previously, when the congregation remembered him handsomely. Mr. Baldwin leaves Thursday. The appointment of a successor is in the hands of the Church and Home Mission Board.

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very brief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps go as high as the highest, we are noted for having it on at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

KINGAN & CO.

CONVICT STABS CONVICT.

ATTEMPTED MURDER IN THE KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

A Toronto Crook Named Longford Attacks Ex-Mail Clerk Hollingsworth With a Pair of Scissors The Victim's Injuries Likely to Prove Fatal.

KINGSTON, Aug. 27.—Startling news reached Kingston this morning from the penitentiary. Coming on top of the recent sensation there it was a shock to the public. A convict early to-day attempted to murder in a brutal and deliberate manner a fellow prisoner. The victim's name is Hollingworth. He was one of three Hoyes, Cataliher and Hollingsworth, post-office clerks doing mail service on the Canadian Pacific Railway between Prescott and Ottawa who last year were sentenced at Ottawa to five years in the penitentiary for robbing mails and registered letters. His would-be murderer is a Toronto man named Longford, sentenced to three years last year for larceny in Toronto.

Longford was employed in the tail or shop at the penitentiary, and had borne a good character while in prison. Hollingsworth was with the pipe gang learning the trade of making steam pipes and was counted a well-conducted man. It seems that for some time past Hollingsworth has been abusing Longford and accusing him of a filthy and unnatural crime. This aroused a spirit of vengeance in Longford, and when leaving the tailor shop last night he concealed a huge pair of scissors and succeeded in getting them to his cell.

This morning, as the prisoners were proceeding to breakfast along the long range, Longford stood at the door of his cell until Hollingsworth passed, when, rushing upon him, he stabbed him first in the shoulder and then in the abdomen, Hollingsworth fell, exclaiming:

"My God! he's killed me!"

He was at once taken to the prison infirmary, where the prison surgeon, Dr. Strange attended him. The wound in the shoulder is a nasty one, but not so bad as the one in the stomach, which will probably prove fatal.

Longford surrendered quietly and was locked up pending Hollingsworth's recovery or death. An investigation will be held by the penitentiary authorities before handing him over to the civil power for trial for murder or attempted murder. There is no doubt entertained but that it was a deliberate attempt to kill.

Longford was sent down with two other, from Toronto for burglary. He hails from Dudley street and is remembered by the police as being a tough character.

A CRIMINAL IN INTENT ONLY.

Henry Sailor Fails to Become a Bigamist A Bossmore Romance.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 27. The peaceful community of Bossmore is again disturbed by an element of discord. This quiet little hamlet over the bay seems to furnish its full quota of food for the gossips, and the last scandal will not soon be forgotten at least by the unhappy widow who is betrothed was so suddenly snatched from her by wife No 1.

Last spring a quiet looking man, apparently about the age of 45, made his appearance at Bossmore and there became infatuated with a buxom, light-hearted widow by the name of Mrs. Mary Ann Taft. She has several children, but that did not make any difference, and Henry Sailor was soon a prospective groom so far as one could judge from appearances and the agreeable relations which seemed to exist. Everything went smoothly on for several months and the happy couple lived a blissful, happy existence, unmoved by the ostracism which beset mankind. Sailor was a steady going laborer and was held in high esteem by his employers on the bridge. The happy day was set and the pair had only to think of the cup of joy which was so soon to be theirs.

Last week, on the day previous to that set for the wedding, an unexpected personage appeared on the scene, who soon put a damper on their ardor and for ever dispelled the thought of a happier sphere. It will not be necessary to refer to the scene which followed the appearance of wife No. 1 at the door and the would-be bigamist was seized by surprise that he nearly lost his breath. He made a speedy escape followed by the execrations of his neglected spouse, who has planted herself down and says she will not move. Sailor comes from North Hastings and it is believed is traveling under an assumed name. The good looking widow takes the matter coolly and does not seem surprised at the unexpected turn of the tide.

FOILED BY A BRAVE GIRL.

A Burly Negro Burglar Weakens at the Sight of an Empty Gun.

ARMYTAGE, Conn., Aug. 28.—About 5 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of David Delore, a French Canadian mill worker, a noise was heard down stairs in the back of the house, and Mr. Delore, who was awake, thinking that the cat had overturned a lamp that was always kept burning, hastened down stairs only to behold a large and rough-looking negro rifling a trunk. Mr. Delore, being a cripple, was greatly frightened, his first thought being to return quietly to his bed and let the burglar have full sway in spite of the fact that about $600 was hid away in different parts of the house.

But a plucky 15-year-old daughter, who had also been awakened by the noise below, did not choose to have the negro carry away her family's hard earnings, and knowing that there was an old shotgun in a shed outside she crept through the window, secured the gun that had not been loaded for years, and returning to the open window through which the robber had evidently entered, pushed the gun through, shouting, "surrender, or I will shoot!"

The terrified burglar begged for mercy, unloaded his pockets of the booty already secured, and begged so hard that he was allowed to depart, being covered by the gun in the hands of the little French miss until he was at a safe distance. The nearest officer was notified, and although he pushed rapidly after the negro, all trace of him was lost.

An Ohio Flood.

CALDWELL, O., Aug. 27.—Noble County was visited from 2 to 6 p.m. yesterday by the hardest rains ever known there. At East Union on Duck Creek several houses were washed away. One bridge struck a dwelling house and Rev. S. W. Archer, D. Kirk, his wife and child, Mrs. Belle Dach and David Morse, a child were drowned.

A RIVER MYSTERY.

SHERBROOKE (QUE.) THE SCENE OF A TRAGEDY.

The Body of James Moir, a Montreal Merchant, Found Floating in the St. Francis Was It Accident, Suicide or Murder?

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—The body of James Moir, a Montreal merchant, was found last night floating in the St. Francis River at Sherbrooke. Mr. Moir was at one time prominent in business circles as a member of the firm of Forrester & Moir, but some years ago he lost heavily in gold mining speculation and retired, going to Chicago, where he became an insurance broker. A year ago his wife died and he returned to Montreal and resided with his brother, Arch. Moir, when it was noticed that symptoms of incipient insanity were developed. On Aug. 13 Arch. Moir with his family and the deceased went to Portland Harbor, Long Island, to spend the vacation. On Aug. 20 the deceased was missed. When night came and he did not return Mr. Moir became uneasy and a search was at once instituted but without results, although telegrams were sent about the country and railway depots and placards with the description of the deceased. It is not likely that it will ever be known what was the object of deceased in going to Sherbrooke, whether he was accidentally drowned or whether he took his own life in a fit of despondency. Mr. Moir was 65 years old.

200 BASKETS OF PEACHES.

Connecticut's Entire Crop Will Amount to Only that Amount.

STAMFORD, Conn., Aug. 28.—Forty years ago the Connecticut peach orchards were the finest in the world. The fruit was as fair as that of California, and a great deal more delicious. So immense was the yearly crop that the market was surfeited and farmers turned their hogs into the orchards. Then came "the yellows," an inexplicable disease that killed every tree in the state. After that few peaches grew in Connecticut, until a dozen years ago fruit growers began to sat out new orchards and learned to deal with the disease.

They couldn't cure it and at the end of three years it invariably kills an orchard; but they set out new trees each year, and in the second and third year, before the yellows attacked the orchards, the growers had two big crops. Then they let the trees perish. In this way the prestige of Connecticut peaches was revived. But this year more ill-fortune has befallen the peach men. The trees didn't bear at all, and the crop is a total failure.

A big fruit grower at New London said a day or two ago that the crop in Connecticut will be less than 300 baskets. As there is no Southern crop the outlook is dismal enough for preservers. In New York and New Jersey the yield will be smaller than in many years before, and the California supply will not hold out beyond Sept 1.

A Walk on Atlantic City's Boardwalks Ends in a Wedding

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A romantic story in which a Washington man plays a leading part comes from Atlantic City. While Mr. William B. Perkins, a successful commercial traveler for a large notion house in this city, was strolling along the boardwalk with a lawyer from Philadelphia the other evening, they met two young ladies who proved to be friends of the legal light from the Quaker City. Mr. Perkins was introduced and strolled off with one of them. It is said that it was a case of love at first sight on both sides. And it was no ordinary case either, for after their short acquaintance, acquired during the progress of their promenade, they went to a magistrate and were married. The young lady was a Miss Nettie Dahl, of Germantown, Philadelphia's pretty suburb. She is a remarkably pretty blonde, vivacious and entertaining, and declares that she will never regret her hasty and romantic act. She will accompany Mr. Perkins in his next trip to purchase goods for his Washington house.

Brooklyn's Association Team Turns Up Her Toes Who's Next?

SYRACUSE, Aug. 27.—At the conclusion of Thursday's game the Brooklyn Association Club closed its existence, and Manager Kennedy and his men left for New York to-night. Although four weeks in arrears in salaries they are consoled in the fact that the Association is responsible and will pay up. Centrefielder Paltz was signed by Manager Frazier, and he will take Hemp's place on the Syracuse team. Catcher Pitz has also been signed by Syracuse. Pitcher Murphy will go to Albany with the State League Club of that place, and Joe Gerhardt will join the St. Louis Browns in Baltimore on Wednesday.

The Players and The Association.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A special meeting of the Central Board of Directors of the Players' League was held to-night. The proposed amalgamation of the Brotherhood and the American Association was knocked in the head. The Boston club protested the games which Twitchell played for Buffalo.

The Furness Liner Ulunda Wrecked.

HALIFAX, Aug. 27.—The Furness line steamer Ulunda from St. John for London, via Halifax, went ashore at 11 o'clock last night at the entrance of Westport harbor, Bay of Fundy, and is a total wreck.

The steamer is valued at $125,000. She had a light cargo.

Burglary at New Hamburg.

NEW HAMBURG, Aug. 27.—Some time during last night burglars broke into the residence of Reeve J. A. Laird and stole about $150 worth of property. No trace of the burglars has been discovered yet.

AN EX-SALVATIONIST GETS FIVE YEARS FOR BIGAMY.

Wife No 1 Faints When She Hears the Sentence Pronounced—An Old Woman Held for Attempting to Poison a Child—The Brock Avenue Verdict.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Luther B. Willsie, printer and ex-Salvationist, was sentenced by Police Magistrate Denison yesterday to five years in Kingston Penitentiary. It was proven that the prisoner married Sadie Walker at Owen Sound Oct. 5, 1885, and that he deserted her a few months ago and came to Toronto. Five months since he met Miss Emma M. Mahon at the Agnes-street Methodist Church, and on Aug. 1 was married to her by Rev. J. P. Lewis. Willsie called a number of witnesses in an endeavor to prove that Miss Mahon knew he was a married man, but the witnesses swore that they did not believe she was aware of the fact. Miss Mahon also testified that Willsie represented himself as a single man. The two wives were in court when sentence was pronounced and No. 1 fainted.

At the Police Court yesterday eight of the ferry captains were charged with running their boats faster than six miles per hour. It was agreed that one captain from each of the two companies should plead guilty and the charges against the others were withdrawn. A fine of $10 without costs was thereupon inflicted.

Nancy Stedman, aged 60, the woman who it is alleged attempted to poison her grandson with a slice of bread on which Paris green had been sprinkled, was committed for trial by G. W. Ormerod, J.P., yesterday. The family resided at Woodbine-avenue.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, ex-Deputy Attorney-General, representing Superintendent Tait of the Ontario and Atlantic Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made application before Mr. Justice Street yesterday for leave to serve notice of motion to show cause why a writ of certiorari should not issue for the purpose of returning all papers in connection with the inquest on the late Patrick Dowling, one of the victims of the Brock-avenue accident, with a view to quash the verdict. His Lordship granted the application, which is returnable on Tuesday next.

A big leak has been discovered in the 4-foot wooden conduit across the bay, by which three-quarters of a million gallons of bay water is being daily pumped into the city's supply. Men are engaged repairing it.

Yesterday instructions were sent out to the police to keep a look-out for one Robert Mortimer, Grand Trunk construction foreman in Stratford, who was wanted on a charge of manslaughter. It appears that a few days ago a gang of men under Mortimer were repairing the track near Stratford and on knocking off work for the night a quantity of debris was left on the rails which should have been removed. The consequence was that the next engine which came along was derailed and one of the train hands killed. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter against Mortimer, who is now a fugitive from justice.

A SALVATIONIST'S FALL.

He Takes to Drink for Dyspepsia and Then Becomes a Forger.

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 28.—Peter M. Fischer, who stole a $500 draft and other property from George K. Cook of the Matchless Lighting Company, is in custody. He surrendered himself to the Paterson police and was taken to Newark yesterday, where he is wanted for forgery. Mr. Cook went to Newark and identified Fischer as his bookkeeper, and said that he would prefer a charge of forgery against him.

Fischer went to Newark about a week ago and presented the draft, which was drawn on Drexel, Morgan & Co., and payable to the order of G. K. Cook, at the office of Martin R. Dennis & Co., with the request that it be collected. He was informed that it would be necessary for him to secure a person known to the firm to vouch for him.

Fischer went away, but returned in a little while with Mr. Charles Morehouse, a Center Market produce dealer, who said he had known the man when he was a captain in the Salvation Army three years ago. Morehouse did not remember his name, but Fischer represented himself as the person to whose order the draft was drawn, and Dennis & Co. consented to make the collection.

When Mr. Cook missed the draft he notified Drexel, Morgan & Co. not to pay it. When the draft was presented the bankers communicated with Mr. Cook and he in turn arranged with the Newark police to secure the arrest of Fischer when he called at the office of Dennis & Co. for his money. Fischer did not call again, however, but asked Dennis & Co. to communicate with him in the general postoffice in Philadelphia.

When asked yesterday if he was ever connected with the Salvation Army, Fischer said: "Oh, yes; I was staff captain over in Brooklyn, and was sent all over this section to do work. While engaged in that I contracted dyspepsia. Then I took to drinking whisky and had to leave the army. Then I went to work for Mr. Cook. The draft came in a registered letter from Denmark. We notified Mr. Cook, who was away, and received word to forward all registered letters to him. I was under the influence of liquor at the time. I have been connected with both the English and American Salvation armies. But we didn't make anything out of it. It's only the big ones who make the big money, while we have to be contented with the pennies."

Fischer is 40 years old and speaks with a broad English accent. He is of medium height, smooth face and dark complexion.

To Build a Second St. Clair Tunnel.

PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 27.—The largest mortgage ever received in St. Clair County was filed with the register of deeds yesterday afternoon. The St. Clair Tunnel Company gave to E. W. Meddaugh and L. J. Sargeant a trust mortgage for $2,500,000 on all their property at this point and Sarnia. It is understood that bonds in the above amount will be issued and the money be used in building another tunnel at once.

ATTEMPTED INCENDIARISM.

The Richmond (Que.) Guardian Office Narrowly Escapes Destruction.

RICHMOND, Que., Aug. 27.—An audacious attempt to burn The Guardian newspaper building was made early this morning. Evidently it was fired about 2 o'clock, as the bands went to work at 3 and found the office filled with smoke. They soon extinguished the fire, but not until it had done about $100 damage to the floor and walls. Shavings saturated with coal oil were strewn about, but as the floor happened to be very damp it did not ignite quickly, and the opportune arrival of the workmen averted a conflagration.

Lost Barns and Crop.

BLENHEIM, Aug. 27.—While threshing to-day at the farm of Solomon Burk, jr., 3rd con. Harwich, a spark from the engine set the barns on fire. They were completely consumed with contents comprising over 400 bushels of wheat, the season's hay and oats. Loss about $3,000, insured for $800.

A Scarboro Farmer's Loss.

AGINCOURT, Aug. 27.—About noon to-day during a slight thunderstorm buildings on lot 25, second concession of Scarboro, owned by Alexander Secor, were struck by lightning and totally consumed. They contained the whole of this season's crop and also a valuable horse and a few implements, all of which were owned by Maitland Secor. The buildings were insured in the Western and the contents in the London Mutual.

The Difference.

"Who are you writing to, darling?"

"I am thanking Mr. Belman for those candies. How is it, my dear, you never buy any now?"

"Can't afford it."

"But you used to a while ago."

"Yes, but your father bought your bonnets then.—Life.

MOVING FREIGHT.

Central Officials Cheerful A Lack of Men in the Repair Shops.

ALBANY, Aug. 27.—The New York Central officials say the freight movement to-day out of the West Albany and Karner yards was a great improvement on that of yesterday. The Boston & Albany road to-day informed the Central people that they were delivering too many cars to it, and the road will be somewhat delayed in clearing up the yards at this unexpected development. The yard at Karner's from a personal inspection appears to be much more crowded that it was a week ago. There are several hundred loaded cars in the West Albany yards very much in need of repair and the freight in them will have to be transferred. This work would have been done much before now were it not for the fact that there are not enough men in the repair shops to do one-third of the necessary repairs. An engine ran off the track in the West Albany yard this afternoon as it was passing over the switch known as the "Chinese Puzzle" and badly damaged this intricate piece of work. It was three hours before the switch was again ready for use. About 300 men were at work in the shops to-day. About one-third of them are non-union men who went out with the K. of L. but have since returned. The rest are new men. The Pinkerton men at West Albany have been culled one-third. There are about 250 of these men there now.

Australian Labor Troubles.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 27.—The gas stokers struck to-day because the company employs non-union men. The New Zealand Steamship Company hands will strike to-morrow, stopping all seaboard traffic.

A despatch from Sydney says great excitement prevails among the strikers at Newcastle and troops have been despatched to that town in anticipation of trouble. A special force of constables has been enrolled at Sydney to take the place of the military sent to Newcastle.

TO TAKE LIFE PAINLESSLY.

A Wisconsin Man Proposes a New Method of Execution.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Henry Holland Webb of Portage, Wis., is trying to interest humanitarians of New York in a painless and novel mode of death which he believes would be more satisfactory than hanging or electrocution.

"I am opposed," he said, "to capital punishment, but so long as that law stands on our statute book there is no reason in the world why all ideas that will tend to make the punishment humane should not be considered.

"My idea is to some extent a modification of that already advanced by a few scientists. I see that Dr Talmage advocates death by an anæsthetic, but the carbonic oxide theory comes nearest to what I propose to offer as a new method of inflicting the death penalty.

"In the first place, I believe that the victim should be placed in a cell underground, and which can at a moment's notice be filled with water into which a small per centum of carbonic oxide has been placed. The moment this water rises to the surface of the cell the victim becomes unconscious. A moment later the cell is filled with water and the man dies in the easiest manner and absolutely without pain.

"My objection to administering the oxide in food is that it must cause some pain in the very act of eating.

"I would have the cell arranged with an iron floor and iron sidings. Underneath the iron floor would be a floor of iron slats. The upper floor could be removed the moment the water was ready, and when it had served its purpose it could be lowered again and allowed to run into a public sewer. There would be absolutely no danger at any stage and absolutely no pain."

CONVERTED TO JUDAISM.

To Win His Bride, Roland Gellatt Embraces the Ancient Faith.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27.—Roland Bernard Gellatt and Miss Ada Reefer were married last evening by Rabbi Berkowitz at the bride's home. Mr. Gellatt is a Gentile and Miss Reefer a Jewess. Miss Reefer's parents refused their consent to the union unless Mr. Gellatt should become a Jew. The prospective bridegroom sought the advice of Rabbi Berkowitz and declared his wish to embrace the Jewish faith. The Rabbi put him on eighteen months probation and decided to take him into the fold with what the performance of all the ceremonial rites. This was done after an indorsement of his decision had been made by many of the American Rabbis. The marriage then followed. The event is almost unprecedented in the history of the Jewish church. Rabbi Berkowitz says it may mark the beginning of a new era in the history of the church.

Congressmen Engage in Fisticuffs on the Floor of the House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—In the House to-day filibustering against the Land Bill was continued. There was a scene occasioned by a remark made by Mr. Cannon (Rep., Ill.) which was interpreted by the House as vulgar; and in a personal controversy during its discussion Mr. Beckwith (Rep., N.J.) struck Mr. Wilson (Rep., Wash.). There was great excitement, the Democrats taking some enjoyment out of the scene. After quiet had been restored Mr. Cannon disclaimed the vulgar construction put upon his remarks. The House adopted a resolution directing the sergeant-at-arms to arrest absentees and revoking leaves of absence except those granted for illness.

In the Senate the Tariff Bill was taken up and some progress was made.

A FUGITIVE'S FATE.

Jumped from a Train to His Death His Child Followed.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—Stephen Beck, an old man living in St. Clair county, Ill., jumped from a passenger train while it was going at full speed near Holmesburg Junction to-day and was killed. He was accompanied by his young daughter, and when the child saw her father jump from the train she ran after him and jumped off. She was so badly injured that she died soon afterwards. They were bound for Hamburg and had over $3000 in their possession. Inspection of the man's papers showed that Beck had been held in $300 bail for felonious assault upon a little girl and that he had given a check to his bondsmen to cover the amount and then prepared to flee the country. There was a strong smell of whisky on the body.

Shipbuilding in Cumberland Co. (N.S.)

HALIFAX, Aug. 27.—Shipbuilding is brisk in Cumberland County. At Two Rivers two schooners are on the stocks, at Advocate Harbor two vessels are being built, at Spencer's Island, Eatonville, Ward's Brook, Balchford's River, Diligent River and at Brookville five vessels are rapidly approaching completion.

WANT CANADIAN TIMBER.

Rhode Island Lumbermen Propose to Build Mills in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Aug. 27.—Henri Chatel and Vilbon Monast of Central Falls, R. I., wealthy lumbermen, have just returned here after inspecting the crown timber lands of the Lake St. John country, newly opened by railway. If Premier Mercier affords them certain facilities requested for obtaining timber limits, they will come here, bringing their own operatives, and erect the necessary machinery for preparing lumber for American markets.

An Equine Epidemic.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Aug. 27.—A contagious disorder has prostrated a great many horses in this city within the past few days. The disease resembles the epizootic of some years ago and promises to be equally serious. The horses are taken down with high fever, sore throat and discharges from the eyes and nose. Horses are sick in many of the city livery stables.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 27.—Despatches from San Salvador state that a protocol of peace was signed to-day. Similar advices have been received from Guatemala.

The Daily Examiner is delivered to any part of the Town for 10c. a week, 35c. a month, $2.00 for six months.

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1890.

THE imports into Great Britain for the seven months ending 31st July amounted to £239,964,387, a decrease from last year of £3,844,119. Exports were £151,877,301, an increase of £10,343,090 over last year.

THE whale and seal fisheries in the Orkney and Shetland Islands are almost a total failure. Only one vessel had returned up to 13th inst., and she had scarcely any catch; and reported that other vessels were hardly taking anything.

ACCORDING to a Government return just distributed there are 937 non-Catholic elementary schools in Quebec. In 770 of these the French language is not taught, Nor is it taught in 68 of the elementary schools classed as Roman Catholic. Le Courrier du Canada says that the average attendance at these schools is about 20, so that nearly 17,000 of the future citizens of the French Province are not learning the French language.

THE slow rate at which the population of France has been increasing during the last century is shown by comparison with the population of other European countries. One hundred years ago France had a population of 26,000,000, Russia had only 25,000,000, Austria 17,000,000, Prussia 15,000,000, and England 12,000,000. To-day Russia possesses 90,000,000 inhabitants, Germany 46,000,000, Austria 34,000,000, and France 36,000,000. The birth rate is 6.7 per 1,000 in Italy, 10 in Germany, 12.9 in Russia, 13.7 in England, and it does not exceed 1.19 in France.

ONE hears a great deal about the decrease of the debt of the United States, but it is seldom that any reference is made to the steady reduction of indebtedness which has been going on in Great Britain. A return brought down a few days before the prorogation of Parliament give the aggregate gross liabilities of the State at the close of each fiscal year from 1835-36 to 1888-89. In the former year the amount was £845,199,577, which gradually decreased until 1854, when it reached £789,511,392. The Crimean war and Indian mutiny ran it up again, and in 1857 it stood at £836,696,661. Since then it has steadily decreased, until in 1889 it was only £684,954,150. Thus it will be seen that in 32 years, from 1857 to 1889, the debt has decreased £151,742,511, or an average of very nearly £4,600,000 per annum.

THE Empire, the Globe suggests, should insist upon the Old Man's doing penance, in a white shirt and with a candle, for his past heresies on the trade question. The fundamental theory of the Tory philosophy of trade, so far as it is discoverable at all amid the shrieking and screeching which the Empire keeps up, is that we ought not to sell our cheap, raw products to the foreigner that it is disloyal, for instance, for a man to send his beans or barley across the line. But here is what Sir John said in his speech on the Washington Treaty: "The reciprocity treaty with the United States existed from 1854 to 1866, in which latter year it expired. Great exertions were made by the Government of Canada, and a great desire was expressed by the Parliament and people of Canada for a renewal of that treaty. It was felt to have worked very beneficially for Canada. It was felt to have worked also to the advantage of the United States, and there was a desire and a feeling that those growing interests which had been constantly developing and increasing themselves during the existence of the treaty would be greatly aided if it were renewed and continued. I was a member of the Government at that time with some of my friends who are still my colleagues; and we took every step in our power, we spared no office, we left no stone unturned, in order to gain that object. The Tory farmers can never be induced to accept the Empire's doctrine while such preachments as this from the Old Man remain on the record, unaccounted for."

Wheat Raising in India.

The official report of the India wheat crop of this year is that the acreage is 21,983,100, and the yield 6,303,900 tons, or (giving 40 Canadian bushels to the English ton), 252,156,000 bushels. The meaning of these figures will be better understood by using as a standard for comparison the recently published report of the Ontario crops. The area planted with fall and spring wheat in Ontario this year was 1,521,854 acres, and the yield 24,560,420 bushels. India, therefore, has about nineteen times as much land under wheat as Ontario, but the yield is only about ten times as great, the average yield in India being little over ten bushels to the acre. Another aid to a conception of the magnitude of the Indian wheat raising industry is the fact that in the year ending March 31, 1889, the exports of wheat were valued at $37,600,000. The great wheat-raising districts are the Punjaub, the north-western provinces and Oudh, and the central provinces. The exports of last year were smaller than in the previous year; but when a longer period is taken it is found that the progress of the industry has been very great. In 1877-8 the export was valued at $14,300,000, while in 1888-9, as we have seen, it was valued at $37,800,000, an increase of more than 200 per cent. This growth is due partly to the great attention paid to irrigation and partly to railway building. Since 1878 the mileage of Indian railways has increased from 8,215 to 17,579, of which 16,109 miles were open for traffic on the 31st of March last. More elaborate statistics are given for the previous year, when the mileage was 16,848; the number of passengers carried, 111,493,074; the quantity of goods carried, 22,306,188 tons; the gross receipts, 20,493,363 rupees (about half as many dollars); the working expenses, 10,576,054 rupees, and the net receipts 10,416,989 rupees—a percentage of nearly five per cent. on the capital cost. Railroad building has done much and is doing much to remove one of the disadvantages under which India labored in competing with this continent. The yield per acre is still much less than that of Ontario, Manitoba and the North States, but wherever irrigation has been introduced there is an increase both in acreage and yield. Another disadvantage, the want of elevators, is likely soon to disappear, as the Government of India is now corresponding with the local Governments regarding the expediency of introducing them into the country with a view to cleaning, grading and handling wheat. On the other hand India has some important advantages over the competitors in the West. Great Britain naturally prefers to take her wheat supply from a country from whose markets she is not excluded by high tariff. Then the price of labor and cost of living in India are ridiculously low as compared with the same items here. Altogether there seems to be good ground for the statement in a memorandum issued by the India office that "the capabilities of India as a wheat growing country are only just beginning to be known."

TOLD BY THE ENVELOPE.

Character Disclosed in the Way You Write Your Friend's Address.

Some persons claim that character discloses itself to the observing from the outside of an envelope, and although the assertion seems decidedly far fetched, there is more than a grain of truth in it after all. It all depends, however, on that little clause "to the observing." If one stops an instant to think, a blurred or blotted address suggests that the writer must have a good deal of "don't care" in his make: if the contrary were the case and an accidental blotting of his envelope had occured, it would have been destroyed and a clean one taken its place. If letters come habitually blurred and slovenly in their address, it argues a certain slovenliness in character.

If the penmanship is a quick, careless, dashy hand, it suggests that the writer is of a quick, nervous temperament, while if the writing itself is "hurried to slovenliness it disclosed lack of system an individual always in a hurry." A running hand, small and concise, bespeaks the collegiate, accustomed to taking notes at lectures: a round, full hand, a public school education with specimen teaching in writing: a very angular up-and-down hand hints at the writers great imitative powers, for that is never natural: a very bold, dashing style argues individuality, and a peculiar hand originality with strength of character, especially if the peculiarity in the chirography is not pleasing.

If it is a labored hand it means one of two things, either lack of practice—perhaps in early education—or a very careful, painstaking individual. If it is, however, a particularly careful, round, even, beautiful hand, it argues vanity, for the writer has evidently been praised for his penmanship and likes praise. If it is neat, pleasing address, believe in the person's good opinion of you, for he does his best in writing you. If it only pleases you because it is conventional, neat and good form, believe in his general good breeding and education, for his writing is like the smile on the face of a society woman. Again, if the chirography be almost illegible never ask the writer to do you a favor; he would not bother himself to be nice to anyone.

As for the envelope itself, if a plain, ordinary affair, it means, not as might be supposed, poverty of purse, but either poverty of cultivation or the filling of a long felt want, and the letter itself will reveal that it is borrowed article and its advantage of it or none at all. If the envelope be pictured or tinted you may depend the owner's good taste, while if it have a monogram or crest you can be sure it indicates pride or self-esteem. It may be something unique and novel in design, a very long and slender, or very broad and square, look out for the gushing maid—at this season of the year the summer girl.

Of course the summer girl is extremely particular about her stationery and leaves with her the very latest fads or nothing at all; she is prone to fancy something a trifle newer than the conventional cream white heavy or linen paper. Perhaps, the very latest thing she can get is the paper in deep heliotrope and nine tones stamped with a clover leaf in one corner, with a finish that gives to the clover the glisten of satin. Accompanying this she must have a sweet grass box to hold the paper, and a dear little pen-wiper in the shape of a clover leaf and made of flannel; the whole thing somehow made to suggest new-mown hay sort of innocence.

If one is simply waiting for tinted paper the shades of pale gray and yellow with the address stamped in silver are the most desirable things to be used, but a good sensible sticking to a good sensible conventionality of paper is highly satisfactory. The address is the only thing that is now stamped upon one's paper by those who study good form in everything, the envelope accompanying it being plain.

A woman who looks after her letter paper and watches that her supply does not exhaust itself and her needs require her to take up with anything pro tem, adds one admirable quality to the list of diminishings which would make up her individuality. Precise shanty ways are acquired charms which should not be sneered at.—Chicago Herald.

There is more fun in a sheet of sticky fly paper than in the average negro minstrel. Watch the kitten playing with it on the new carpet; the latter is ruined for ever; the kitten goes into a fit and all the women and children rush out of the house in terror. If you want to rid your house of flies, buy Wilson's Fly Poison Pads, and use as directed. Nothing else will clear them out thoroughly. Sold at 10c. by all druggists. dw

Origin of Swearing.

Too brother of the fairy Pari Banou was only thirty-two inches high. His beard was thirty-two feet long and extended horizontally in front of him as he walked. He invented swearing to express his feelings when poor biscuits were set on his table. His wife could always make biscuits to please him by using Imperial Cream Tartar Baking Powder. th s-w

His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons is spare, and super-graved, and stern-headed, and gray-eyed. He speaks with a caressing Irish accent, and his hands are as full of subdued expression as his face. He is a great walker, and pleasant afternoons generally find him in the streets, where he wears a prosperous air, but, on meeting a friend, his face immediately assumes a singularly winning expression. He is a relic of manner, yet to Old World reminiscence, capable of telling a good story, and altogether a charming companion. He is fifty-six years of age, and has been a Prince of the Church for nearly four of them.

Frederick Krupp, the celebrated cannon founder, said to be the richest man in Prussia, is the person to abolish the amount of taxes paid by individuals in that country, and from these accounts it appears that Herr Krupp assessed for the past year on an income of $1,500,000, while in the previous year his income was valued at $1,000,000. That is an increase of $500,000 in one year. Herr Krupp manufactures a large number of articles used for peaceful purposes, but his name is most particularly associated with the gigantic cannons which the German army is armed with, such terrible effect against the French. He is evidently a sensible man, for in 1861 the King of Prussia offered him a title, which he declined to accept.

JUNIPER ISLAND STORE

A full assortment of Groceries, Canned Goods and Campers' Supplies generally—a first class stock, fresh and reliable and at Peterborough prices. The popularity of this store last year and the favor with which it was received has induced us to enlarge the building and lay in a larger stock which we trust may be saved the trouble and annoyance of bringing their supplies from town and other places, as they can be equally as well served by us. Being centrally situated, it is easy of access—the Steamer passing close to the Island both entering and leaving Stony Lake.

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,709,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,684,376	2.07
Confederation	17,574,828	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,058,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10 36
North American	8,470,630	10 66
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17 84
Citizens	2 097,956	29.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	20 12
London Life	1,644,285	20.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

The Best Kind of Bait

A Stony Lake correspondent writes:

JACKSON ISLAND STORE, Aug. 27.

DEAR ——: Things are quiet and news is scarce. Not having seen any fish stories in your columns lately, I send you the following: M. C. Tucker, of the "Bachelor's Retreat," while out trawling this morning, with the help of a silver bait hooked a large lunge weighing 18 lbs. Over.

The South Ward School.

There is some dissatisfaction among parents on account of the half time system having been inaugurated in the lowest room of the South Ward School. We are requested to state that there was no other course open, as there were between 80 and 90 present on the first day. One class in the room attends in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon, and in two weeks the order will be reversed, those who now attend in the forenoon will attend in the afternoon, and vice versa.

The Echo Does the Phœnix Act.

The Minden Echo once more makes itself heard after a month's enforced silence in consequence of the complete destruction of the printing plant in the disastrous fire which visited the village on July 28th. The Echo appears in new form and looks quite as brisk as ever, despite the lament of the editor, who says:—"Having no assistance at present in the office except a lad three months at the business and being ourselves rather rusty at the case, the present number is defective in many respects but we hope within the next few weeks to make large improvements. Meantime we crave the lenient criticism of our friends as we submit this the first number of the seventh volume of the Echo.

Well Done, Eddie.

Belleville celebrated its civic holiday Wednesday, and among the attractions were some athletic sports held under the auspices of the G. T. R. fire brigade. Mr. Ed. Roy, son of Mr. E. M. Roy, of Peterborough, entered the two mile bicycle race against three other competitors. Davy Gibson, Belleville's favorite, was counted a sure winner, and at the beginning of the last lap led Ed. Roy by a hundred feet; but the Peterborough boy spurted. Gibson could not respond, so he fell behind and lost the race by several lengths. Ed. brought back the first prize gold medal, a handsome token valued at about $15. He is to be heartily congratulated upon his victory. Though only a young wheelman, he is rapidly coming to the front, and will, doubtless, soon be contesting honors with the national champions.

Ennismore's Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic in connection with St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, will be held in Tara grove, near the church, on Thursday, 11th September. An exciting programme of sports and games will be presented and liberal prizes will be awarded successful contestants. A commodious dancing platform will be erected and an excellent string band to provide music. Dinner will be served during the day, from 12 to 2 o'clock, by the ladies, and the menu will show that their culinary right hands have lost none of their cunning. In the evening the well-known Ennismore minstrel troupe will give their best musical, comic and sentimental entertainment in the Town Hall. Picnic tickets, including dinner, 50 cents; children half price. 4145 2w35

Wedding Bells.

The Nuptials of Mr. R. H. Fortye and Miss Roper.

A quiet wedding took place at four o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. J. H. Roper, Hunter street west, when his eldest daughter, Miss Minnie Roper, was married to Mr. R. H. Fortye, of the firm of Fortye & Phelan, hardware merchants. The event has been anticipated for some time in social circles, and as both young people were so well known in Peterborough their union aroused public interest to no small degree. Only the family relatives of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony, which was conducted without any fashionable display or pomp. Rev. E. F. Torrance, M.A., was the officiating clergyman. The bridesmaids were Miss Roper sister of the bride, and Miss Mamie Dennistoun; and the groomsmen Messrs. Thomas Fortye and Harry Roper. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of soft blue surah silk, and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms, carrying in her hand a bouquet of white flowers. The bridesmaids were dressed in white embroidered muslin, Miss Roper wearing pink ribbons and Miss Dennistoun terra cotta. Both wore tan gloves and carried bouquets.

After the nuptial rites had been performed the party sat down to a light luncheon, after which preparations were made for the departure of the bridal couple. They leave on the 5.50 train this evening for a few days honeymoon tour. Upon returning to town they will occupy the handsome new residence on Simcoe street west, which Mr. Fortye has elegantly fitted up as a home.

The EXAMINER begs to offer its most cordial congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fortye upon the occasion of their taking the most important step in their lives, and to wish them all the felicities which it is possible for future years to realize. Mr. Fortye is one of Peterborough's upright, industrious and progressive young business men; his bride is a charming young woman, beloved by all with whom she ever came in contact. The unusually large and handsome array of gifts testified to the high esteem in which both young people are held by their numerous friends.

Honouring a Nova Scotian.

Banquet to Attorney General Longley at the Reform Club, Toronto.

A most gratifying manifestation of the thorough good feeling existing in the Liberal ranks throughout the Dominion, regardless of Provincial bounds, was the unqualified success of the banquet to Hon. J. W. Longley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, on Wednesday night. Though the affair was arranged at short notice, the regard for the man, and the desire to show respect for the Government of which he is a member and the party whose successful champion he is, manifested itself not only in widespread interest in the affair, but in a large turnout of the Liberals of Toronto and from outside points through the Province as well. The banquet was held at the Reform Club, thus adding another to the long list of social gatherings which have been held within its hospitable walls. Those present from this district were Mr. J. A. Barron, Q.C., M.P., Lindsay, and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., West Peterborough, who occupied a seat at the left of the vice-chair.

News Nuggets.

The bills are out proclaiming Monday next a civic holiday in Peterborough.

Capt. Dennistoun, of the 57th Batt., won a prize in the Tait-Brassey match at Toronto Wednesday.

Messrs. W. A. Carr & Co. have returned to town from Toronto, and occupy their old premises on Hunter street.

—At the Orillia races Wednesday Mr. A. P. Morgan's Mayflower took second money in the 2:32 class, Volunteer winning first place. F.O.F. third. Of the six heats trotted Mayflower won two.

The American Canoe Association will meet next year among the islands in the Georgian Bay, and after the meeting it is proposed that the members take a canoe trip of about 150 miles among the islands. The date of the meeting has not yet been fixed.

—The dials for the town clock are being made in town and will be painted next week. Mr. R. W. Muncaster, caretaker of the clock, is waiting for the dials before beginning the work of removal, which will take about a week to complete.

County Police Magistrate Edmison had a couple of cases for trial Wednesday—one c. assault and another of carrying a revolver. Both were settled, the parties concerned coming to the conclusion that they all had too much whisky and it would be best to let matters drop.

Personal.

Mr. Frank M. Pratt, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at Hamilton, was married recently to Miss Minnie Dodge, at Springfield, Mass. Mr. Pratt has a number of friends in town who will wish him much joy.

Sunlight and Health.

Most people are afraid of sunlight. The direct rays of the sun, when not excessively hot, are, no doubt, beneficial, and a few thoughtful persons always try to get on the sunny side of the street. Most persons would suppose that the outside light is two or three times as strong as that within our houses. But the difference is vastly greater. Carefully prepared tables show that (in the words of "Health") for a view at the seashore, comprising sea and sky mainly (with a lens and plate of a certain speed) an exposure of one-tenth of a second is sufficient. An open landscape, away from the sea, would, with the same lens, the same aperature, and the same plate, require one-third of a second. A fairly lighted interior would require two and a half minutes, while a badly lighted interior, such as rooms which most ladies prefer to occupy, would require half an hour to obtain an equally good picture. In other words, persons strolling on the seashore in sunny weather, are in a light not two or three times, but eighteen thousand times stronger, than that in the ordinary shaded and curtained rooms of a city house; and the same patients walking along the sunny side of a street are receiving more than five thousand times as much of the health-giving influence of light as they would receive indoors in the usually heavy curtained rooms.

A September Picnic.

Remember Rev. Father Sweeny's picnic at Harwood, on Tuesday, September 2nd. Excursions by Golden Eye down the river, boat leaving wharf at 8 o'clock. This will be one of the most enjoyable excursions of the season. Don't neglect to make your arrangements to attend it. At Harwood, in addition to the attractions of the picnic, excursionists will have an opportunity of visiting the fine new mills of the Dickson Company. 2d1w

TO MR. "DOD" FORTYE.

A Complimentry Supper By His Young Friends.

The Occasion Was His Approaching Marriage—A Gathering to do Honor to a Young Bachelor Who Was Married To-day—A Jovial Party About the Festive Board.

When a young man gets married his chums and associates look upon him as lost to them, to a certain extent at least. They realize that he can be "one of the boys" no longer. The marital relationship has nearer and dearer claims than those of bachelordom; and hence it is that the occasion is always tinged with sadness to those who are left behind to worry along in a state of single blessedness. The complimentary supper to Mr. R. H. Fortye last evening partook largely of the nature of a farewell. It was the eve of Mr. Fortye's wedding, and a few of his intimate friends took advantage of the opportunity to tender him a practical token of their esteem and best wishes for future happiness. Among those present were a number of still young benedicts, who had spent the best part of their days in the enjoyment of Mr. Fortye's companionship, and they vied with the unexperienced celibates in congratulating the guest of the evening upon his approaching happiness. Among all classes of men in Peterborough Mr. Fortye is admired and respected, as much for his business enterprise and integrity as for the warm social qualities which make him

A GENERAL FAVORITE.

Born and brought up in Peterborough, he is thoroughly known by the townspeople, and it is no small compliment to a man, after living in a place for so many years as Mr. Fortye has done, to receive the wholehearted, spontaneous mark of friendship and regard that was tendered him last night. The firm of Fortye & Phelan, hardware merchants, is among the most solid and thriving business institutions of the town, and now that, in a social sense a new partner has been added, increased stability and progress will, no doubt, result.

Mr. Fortye's approaching marriage was an open secret among his friends, though the date was not definitely known until quite recently. The wedding was very quietly conducted, and the details were not common property. The supper was consequently gotten up rather hurriedly, in fact no steps were taken until yesterday. However, Mr. Fortye's young friends to the number of about thirty assembled on short notice at the Palace Restaurant last night. Mine host Tom Dunn was notified in the forenoon, and though cramped for time, he catered most satisfactorily. The tables were tastefully appointed and thoroughly sustained the excellent reputation of the Palace Restaurant.

Mr. LeBrun, the genial, large-hearted Harry, one of Mr. Fortye's fastest friends, occupied the chair, and Mr. R. W. Muncaster handled his office of vice-chairman gracefully. On the right of the chairman sat beside and in front of him being the familiar faces of a score or more young men, married and single, who have been his daily associates. All were "jolly dogs" together, as they had been many a time in the past, and the best of conviviality and good fellowship prevailed on this the last occasion before Mr. Fortye forsook the doubtful joys of celibacy forever.

THE GUEST OF THE EVENING,

After the good cheer had been partaken of, toasts and speeches were the order of the evening. Jokes and harmless personal hits were passed around with the freedom permitted and appreciated in gatherings of this kind. The guest of the evening was of course the centre of attraction. It would be impossible to record all the kind words that were said of Mr. Fortye and the cordial congratulations showered upon him. Though sorry to lose him as one of the boys, the young bachelors about the festive board were unselfish enough to wish him Godspeed and a happy life; while the married men eagerly welcomed him to their ranks. His fiancée also came in for a large mead of praise. Mr. Fortye was complimented upon securing such an estimable young lady as the one he had selected for his wife—one who was eminently qualified to make him a happy and contented man.

The Queen, Governor-General, Canada our Home, and Our Neighboring Republic were toasted. Mr. C. B. Clementi of the Customs Department, responded on behalf of Canada, while the United States was ably represented by Mr. A. V. R. Young, American Consul; Mr. Chas. Chumar, of New York, and Mr. Blantyne, another visitor in town. Mr. Chumar is one of the Bohemian colony at Stony Lake, now on his way home after a pleasant outing. He proved a a most worthy representative of the sixty-five million people across the border, and judging from the tone of his sentiment towards Canada and the Canucks, his first step when he reaches the President's chair will be to precipitate an annexation movement and attach the United States to this great Dominion of ours. It would tickle Mr. McIntyre to see his friend Charlie begin the work of reformation by becoming a Canadian himself first, after which we could gradually absorb the few remaining inhabitants and all meet occasionly at the Oriental to celebrate the union.

The toast to the guest of the evening was, of course, the principal one. It was honored with right hearty emphasis and replied to by Mr. Fortye in a brief but appropriately worded address, in which he assured the boys that he would always remember and cherish this occasion as one of the most pleasant in his life.

Other toasts and speeches followed, the speakers all referring in glowing terms to "Dod," who bore up well under the surfeit of sweets and accepted all the deserved compliments he received with good grace.

TOASTS AND RESPONSES.

The "Learned Professions" was responded to by Messrs R. R. Hall, A. V. R. Young, and John McKee; the mercantile and industrial interests by Messrs. W. Rudkins, James Fairweather, A. H. Stratton, M. McFadden, H. Phelan and Thomas Fortye; the Mayor and Corporation, in lieu of any civic representatives, by Messrs. J. F. McIntyre, F. J. Daly, F. Farren and M. J. Tierney. The ladies were also toasted, and nearly all those present responded. The press, the host and hostess, and the chairman and vice-chairman, were next honored, and Messrs. B. Morrow and T. E. Boddy also toasted; and, after the singing of the National Anthem and a general round of congratulatory hand shaking, the gathering dispersed.

During the evening songs were given by Messrs. Dunn, Tierney and Rush with their accustomed sweetness of tone, and Mr. Balantyne further favoured the assembly with a couple of well rendered recitations.

Eugenie again Blamed.

The Disaster of Sedan Attributed to the Empress by a French Writer.

PARIS, August 26.—Once more the blame of the Franco-Prussian war, which destroyed the French and completed the German Empire, is laid wholly at the door of the ex-Empress Eugenie. Her accuser this time is a writer in a newspaper who signs himself "Pierre de Lano." He quotes in his article letters of Eugenie which contain references to the war of 1870, and he declares that the Emperor Napoleon III at first tore up the ministerial decree for the commencement of hostilities, and that, despite his very positive attitude against the projected advance upon Germany, the Empress had the decree rewritten and compelled the Emperor to sign it while he was seriously ill and not at all master of himself, as he should have been when taking so important a step.

How to Use Coal Oil Lamps.

To get the best light possible from the burning of coal oil, it is necessary that lamp, wick, and oil should be of good quality and in good condition. A good lamp is one which produces a bright white light, with comparatively small consumption of oil, little heat, and thorough combustion. There should be no smell from a burning lamp. When the lamp is properly filled there is no leakage of oil from it, and no polluting of the fingers when oil fount or lamp-stand is touched. Care should be taken when filling not to spill any on the side of the lamp. When a little is spilled outside the reservoir, and thus rubber with a cloth, a film of oil is always left adhering, sufficient to cause the oil inside to syphon over by surface attraction.

The burner must be kept quite clean. In trimming the charred wick must not be allowed to fall down and fill the air-holes. The best of oil is often condemned as bad, when the evil is that the lamp cannot get air enough to burn the oil from the air-holes being partly filled up. Get the burner boiled in water with a little washing soda occasionally, and thoroughly cleaned and dried. Lamp scissors are to be had that retain the ash and char, and there are trimmers for the common duplex burner that give the wick the right shape at once. Some duplex burners are easily trimmed, but those of other makers are so defective that it is nearly impossible to get a good large flame free from smoky peaks at the side.

Wicks should be somewhat loosely woven and soft to the touch. Some wicks have an an acid reaction from the chemicals used in bleaching, or cause soddity in the burner by the decomposition of the chemicals. Good oil is often condemned on account of bad wick. Wicks also must be kept quite clean. If soiled they should be at once throw aside. If kept long in the lamp, they accumulate dust and dirt and get clogged up, producing a red light and heating the burner. Wicks should not be put in too long, and should be renewed every six weeks or so. Wicks are hygroscopic, and in damp weather particularly, absorb much moisture from the air. They should be thoroughly dried at the fire before putting into the lamp, and dipped into the oil while still warm. There is a great difference between the light from a dried wick and a moist one. The moisture naturally impedes the passage of the oil to the burner.

It is important, also, that the wick fill the burner completely without being too tight. There should be no free passage down the side of the wick, so as to connect the reservoir and the flame. If there are two burners, both should, of course, be filled with wick. I have heard of ignorant persons who thought it as an improvement to burn only one wick in a duplex burner, leaving the other burner empty. This is courting an explosion. Some persons dip the wick in vinegar and other things, but cleanness and dryness is what is required, and all doctoring is nurtful.

As to danger, it requires several things wrong at once to bring about an explosion. If the oil contains chemicals, or if the air holes are filled up with wick trimmings, or if the wick an oil reservoir dirty from long accumulation of dust, the lamp will burn badly, giving a red light and much heat. The burner in such cases may get very hot. This may cause the oil in the reservoir to get heated, and if it is of very low flash point, or if there is a badly fitting wick with free air passage down the burner, then on blowing out the lamp the flame may be sent down into the reservoir and an explosion ensue. But with ordinary oil, and with lamp and and wick in passable order, there is not the slightest danger.

Lamps should have extinguishers on them, so that they do not have to be blown out. If there is not an extinguisher, turn down the lamp to a small flame, and make a sudden puff across the top of the chimney instead of sending a strong blast straight down.

The only danger from an ordinary lamp is letting it fall when lighted. If the glass reservoir is broken and the oil dashed into spray and ignited, a person might be suddenly enveloped in flame. If lamps are to be carried, let the reservoir be of metal, or of special safety construction.—Scotch Paper.

IN LOVE AT SIXTY-SIX.

A Love-lorn Old Maid Deluded by a Youth of Twenty-one.

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 27.—The mental condition of Miss Mary Howell, aged sixty-six, of Chatham, will in a few days be examined into by a commission appointed by the court of chancery. Miss Howell's friends felt impelled to make application to the court on her behalf on account of her infatuation for a young man who made love to her only for the purpose of securing her property.

The young man who won Miss Howell's affections is Eliphalet Pace, twenty-one years old, a son of John Pace, a farmer. For over three years Eliphalet visited the elderly maiden, but within a few months he had so engaged her affections that she frequently gave him sums of money. The young farm hand pretended to be deeply smitten with Miss Mary's charms and readily procured of her a promise of marriage. Mary was very much in earnest, and two years ago, becoming tired of waiting for Eliphalet to fulfil his pledges, she began a suit against him for breach of promise, but after tears and declarations of undying affection on the part of the recent lover she forgave him and the matter was hushed up.

Eliphalet became more affectionate than ever, and succeeded, after much persuasion and promises of an early marriage, in inducing the infatuated maid to transfer two farms to him. In consideration of the transfer Eliphalet paid his fiancee a month's wages, gave her a personal note for $3,000, and for the balance promised to marry her speedily. Mary's brother lived in a small house on one of the farms, and, as he paid no rent, Pace invited him to move. Howell declined to do so, and questioned Pace's authority to order him out of the house. Pace then secured a writ of ejectment, and in this way it became known that the young man had prevailed on Miss Howell to deed her property over to him. The woman's relatives took the matter in hand and at once began measures to get the property from Pace. They will endeavor to show that Miss Howell is insane and could not legally transfer her property.

The Eisnerites.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—When it was first announced that a band of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's admirers had resolved to found an establishment dedicated to the expounding of the religious philosophy preached in "Robert Elsmere," there was some doubt as to whether the scheme would be carried out. All doubt is, however, now set at rest. The Elsmere Temple, otherwise the New University Hall, is making rapid progress, and will be, in all probability, ready for practical work in October next. The committee would appear to be tolerably strong in its composition. It includes the Earl of Carlisle, the Dowager Countess Russell, Dr. Martineau, Mr. Stopford Brooke and Miss Beatrice Potter.

Ismail Pasha's "Removal."

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A Paris despatch says: The latest advices from Constantinople concerning the rumored attempt that was made to poison Ismail Pasha, the ex Khedive of Egypt, are it is still uncertain whether the attempt was successful. The ex Khedive allowed himself to be tempted to the city by an invitation from the Sultan, and once inside Constantinople all idea of his ever being able to leave it had to be abandoned. Ismail was rarely, if ever, seen in public, and when any of his old friends called at the palatial residence which had been set apart for his use they were informed that he no longer continued to receive visitors. The inference from this was that he was no longer master of his own movements, as guidance in his actions was inexplicable, and enquiries now confirm this and show that Ismail was virtually under lock and key. It is known that Ismail took with him to Constantinople bonds payable to bearer, amounting to nearly $10,000,000. The ex-Khedive became addicted to the morphine habit, and, as a consequence of his excesses, soon showed signs of mental derangement. He has evidently fallen into the hands of his enemies. It is at present impossible to obtain any details, but there is reason to believe the former famous ruler of Egypt has been removed in accordance with the old traditions of Turkish despotism.

The Kaiser and the Czar.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says the Czar gave Emperor William strong proofs of his peaceful intentions. He agreed to consider the advisability of accepting the status quo in Bulgaria if the proposal emanated from Bulgaria, and to withdraw the Russian troops from the frontier if Germany would set that example. He would connive at the practical annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina provided Russia be allowed to exert pressure to prevent radical changes in the government of Servia. He disclaimed any wish to interfere with Turkey, but proposed to hasten Armenian reforms by collective pressure of the powers. The new commercial treaty between Russia and Germany was also discussed. An interview between the Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph is considered probable. It is understood Stambuloff, the Bulgarian Prime Minister, is willing to make every possible concession to Russia.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent says: It seems certain the Czar declined to discuss Emperor William's proposals. It was remarked that the German Emperor was in a hurry to leave, his haste compelling the curtailment of the manœuvres and court fetes. His hurry is attributed to Socialist activity and to a rumor of insubordination in the Hanoverian regiment.

SALVATOR V. TIME.

The Mile Record Lowered to 1.33½ at Monmouth Park.

MONMOUTH PARK, Aug. 28.—A large crowd made the journey here to-day to witness the close of the meeting and were fully repaid by witnessing a good day's sport. The track, while not absolutely fast, was in good shape.

Salvator was sent to beat the mile record and lowered it with ease from 1.39¼ to 1.35½. Right after the third race he was brought on the track and in company with Rosette was given his warming up gallop. Then there was a delay, but finally Salvator appeared, followed by Rosette and Namona, who were to act as pacemakers. Namona is a four year old. He got ten lengths the best of Salvator at the start and beat her twenty lengths to the half. Namona carried him along at a rapid pace to the head of the stretch, where he was joined by Rosetta. She helped him along easily in the meanwhile until the last furlong was reached, when Bergen set down to ride and he passed by the winning post like a steam engine. For a few moments there was silence, then 1.35½ was hung up and cheer after cheer rent the air. The fractional time was: Quarter 25½, half 47½, three-quarters 1.11½, mile 1.35½.

Previous to July last the record (1.39½) for a mile was held by Ten Broeck. On July 29, on Monmouth's straight track T. Puryear & Co.'s 3-year-old bay colt Raveloe carrying 107 lbs. won the Newark stakes over the mile course from a field of 8 horses in 1.39½, which record was smashed to-day. Salvator carried 119 lbs.

THE SPREAD EPIDEMIC

LAST NIGHT'S RECORD AT CHICAGO—A DESERT TOWN DESTROYED.

Over a Ton Ten Out—The Situation on the Alton Remains Unchanged—The Trouble on the Central to Be Officially Investigated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The strike epidemic has spread to the Lake Shore road. Supt. Amsden took a crew of men down to the stock yards yesterday afternoon. Just before reaching there the men quit and left their engine standing on the track. Some time afterward another crew was started but it abandoned the engines at 44-st-street. When the night shift came to go to work they learned that Supt. Amsden had discharged all the men who had left their engines. They immediately held a meeting and the men in the yards at 12th-street, 63rd-street and Englewood walked out in a body. A general meeting was called at the corner of 63rd-street and Indiana-avenue, and a communication was drawn up and addressed to Supt. Amsden, in which it was stated that the men would return to work when those who had been discharged were reinstated. Amsden replied that the men had been discharged for refusing to perform their duties. A strike was at once declared.

The switchmen held a meeting to-day at which Superintendent Amsden was present and explained the circumstances under which the night force struck and asked the men whether they intended to stand by the company or the strikers. Thirty-four of the 60 men present signed a paper agreeing to stand by the company and to go to work. The remainder decided to side with the strikers. Two engines were then sent to Packing town to do the work needed there and the remainder are at work in the Lake Shore yards.

There is no particular change in the situation at the stock yards. Everything is quiet and the engines manned as they were yesterday are doing whatever work is needed. There are no switchmen in the yards.

There is no change in matters at the Chicago & Alton yards.

TO INQUIRE INTO THE STRIKE.

The New York State Board of Arbitration Will Investigate.

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—The State Board of Mediation and Arbitration has notified Vice-President Webb of the Central Railroad and Mr. Lee of the Knights of Labor: "That in the judgment of that board it is best to inquire into the cause or causes of the controversy growing out of the differences between the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Co. and certain of its employes, who on and since Aug. 8 have gone on strike, and that such enquiry be commenced in the city of New York on Tuesday next at 10 o'clock a.m. at such a place as may be hereafter designated." It is requested that the parties to the controversy be prepared with their evidence to enable the board to proceed promptly with the investigation at the time named. District Master Workman E. J. Lee said to-night that his side was ready to present its evidence. The board will hold an informal meeting in New York on Monday evening.

A House Divided Against Itself.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—In his speech at the big Union square meeting Mr. Powderly said:

"There is along the line of the New York Central road an organization of labor whose headquarters are in Cleveland, and the chief officer of which is known as P. M. Arthur. [Hisses.] Don't hiss; hisses do no good. [A voice, 'He's no good.'] He stands at the head of a labor organization. If it is a labor organization, then the man who will step down from the foot board, who will let go the throttle and pick up the scoop shovel to throw coal into the furnace in the place of his brother man, stands a traitor to the high and holy name of labor the world over. [Applause.] Members of that organization have done that very thing. And when the report was sent in to Mr. Arthur he said: 'The members of my organization are minding their own business.'

"My God! Has it come to this when the chief of one labor organization will dare to stand up in the face of the American people and say that a man is minding his own business when he takes his brother man's place? [Applause.] The men of that Brotherhood are very good men, but they have got a mighty bad chief. [A voice: 'He has stock in the New York Central road.']

"I do not know whether he has or not, but I do know that he sat on a platform a few months ago with the president of the New York Central road and that they had their arms around each other's neck and that a compact, I believe, was sealed there that when the contest came P. M. Arthur would remain in Cleveland and refuse to raise his voice, and Chauncey Depew would be in Europe, so that neither one of them could be reached on behalf of the working men." [Hisses.]

The Miners' Strike.

MOSS, Aug. 28.—The number of coal miners on strike in the Borinage district is 16,800 and the movement is still spreading. The strikers have resumed their attacks on blacklegs.

A New Air Brake.

NEWBURGH, Aug. 28.—A test of a new air brake was made to-day on the New Jersey & Northern Railroad, twenty miles from Jersey City, witnessed by fifty experts representing trunk line and equipment companies. The train of eight coaches running 40 miles an hour was brought to a stop within nine car lengths.

Bishop McDonald Consecrated.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Aug. 28.—The consecration of Coadjutor Bishop Charles McDonald took place at St. Dunstan's Cathedral this morning with all the grandeur and ceremony pertaining to the Catholic ritual.

A Double Hanging at Midnight.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 29.—Otto Lent, aged 17, who outraged and killed a little girl at Cleveland, and Brocky Smith, who murdered a widow, were hanged here at 12 and 12¼ a.m. respectively.

The Daily Record.

NATIONAL LEAGUE—Boston 9, Cincinnati 7; Cleveland 2, Brooklyn 6; New York 9, Pittsburg 1; Chicago 16, Philadelphia 3.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION—Syracuse 1, Louisville 10; Rochester 3, Toledo 5; Athletics 8, Columbus 16; Baltimore 6, St. Louis 2.

FANNED BY THE GALE.

SERIOUS CONFLAGRATION AT AMHERST, N.S.

Robb & Son's Foundry and Machine Shop Burnt—The Whole Town in Danger at One Time—A Heavy Loss only Partly Covered by Insurance.

AMHERST, N.S., Aug. 28.—Fire broke out in Robb & Son's foundry and machine shop last night at 11 o'clock. The shops with offices and warerooms and all their contents were completely destroyed, nothing but the boiler works being left standing. Several dwelling houses in the vicinity were also burned. Owing to a heavy gale of wind blowing, it was feared at one time that the whole of the upper end of the town would go. At 2 o'clock the fire is still burning but is under control. The loss cannot be estimated. There is some insurance, but nothing in comparison with the loss.

An Early Morning Blaze at Guelph.

GUELPH, Aug. 29.—The Wellington steam laundry was totally destroyed with all its contents by fire at 1 o'clock this morning. Insurance $800 on plant and $800 on furniture in London & Globe and Western. Building owned by E. & G. Pressant, insured for $1500 in the Wellington Mutual. A two story brick house adjoining, belonging to Dr. Clarke's estate and occupied by Mr. Fulljames, was badly damaged by fire and water.

FIRE BUGS AT CHEBOYGAN.

A Michigan Town Excited by Many Dangerous Incendiary Fires.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Aug. 28.—The city is terribly excited over an apparent attempt to wipe out the town by a gang of incendiaries. Property owners are patrolling their possessions armed with revolvers, and all firemen and police are constantly on call. Yesterday six fires were started. They were extinguished with slight damage. This morning a fire started in Patrick Maloney's barn, which was burned with its contents. At 11 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in several parts of Thompson, Smith & Son's warehouse. The tired firemen were unable to cope with the flames and before the fire was extinguished the big warehouse was consumed. The fact that fires were set where there was every chance of their devastating the town has induced the officials to appoint a large number of deputies to patrol the town. Business is almost at a standstill, and determined men are waiting with ceaseless vigilance the more dangerous fire-bugs.

THE BARON WAS A FORGER.

A Swedish Vice-Consul Who Was a High Roller Pittsburg Banks Suffer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A despatch to The Tribune from Steubenville, O., says: A sensation was caused here yesterday by the discovery that Baron Lagerfelt, Swedish Vice-Consul at Pittsburg and Vice-President and member of the board of directors of the Jefferson Iron Works, had forged certificates of the stock of the company and disposed of them to Pittsburg banks, and also forged the name of his father-in-law, C. B. Doty, a prominent citizen and wealthy iron manufacturer. The principal sufferer by the transactions are the Allegheny Bank, $100,000; Keystone Bank, $70,000; Nelson & Sons, $3000. The face value of the certificates on which these amounts were realized must have been $400,000 to $500,000. Lagerfelt sailed for Europe July 19. It has been learned that he was removed from the consulship at Pittsburg and left for Sweden with the ostensible purpose of securing the consul-generalship at New York. It is not thought he will return from Sweden, as the extradition treaty of 1885 will not allow of his being brought back. The fugitive is a man of fine physique. His marriage to Miss Mary Doty on Dec. 11 was solemnized with great splendor. His home was in Pittsburg and his social relations were pleasant, although lately he had been leading a fast life. The baroness is in Pittsburg.

Lost in the White Mountains.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 28.—Edward Weiss of this city, one of the best-known musicians in Connecticut, is reported lost in the White Mountains. A despatch to a friend in this city says that he left Mount Washington on Sunday to make a hazardous trip and that nothing has been seen or heard of him since. Mr. Weiss came here about three years ago and his talent soon placed him in the front rank of local violinists. He was educated in the Royal College of Music, Berlin, and was a soloist of recognized ability. He was 24 years old and unmarried. His relatives in Berlin are wealthy and prominent.

Prince George Starts for Quebec.

HALIFAX, Aug. 28.—The flag ship Bellerophon, with Admiral Watson on board, the gunboat Thrush, commanded by Prince George of Wales, and the Canada sailed for Quebec this morning. In going down the harbor they unfurled their sails, presenting a very pretty spectacle.

STABBED IN A DRUNKEN ROW.

An Old Feud Between Neighbors Results in a Murderous Assault.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 28.—Randall Smith, a farmer who lives on the Indian Reserve, Tyendinaga, was yesterday stabbed in the shoulder by a neighbor named Timothy Drummy during a drunken row in a Shannonville tavern. The wounded man bled a great deal, but will doubtless recover. An old feud is at the bottom of the affray.

The Flour Market.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—The Northwestern Miller says: The flour output last week was 161,265 barrels. The flour market is rather unsettled and irregular. While stocks in the east are admitted to be very low the frequent fluctuations in wheat seem to keep jobbers from taking hold except as actual needs require. Some mills reported a fair demand for patents, while others are getting very little trade. Sales were made on the basis of $5.25 to $5.40 for New England. Bakers in wood are in considerable demand from eastern centres and sales have been made in New York as high as $5.25 per barrel. Owing to high prices transactions for export are small. The sales have been less than the production.

TRIED TO KILL HIS FIANCEE.

An Impostor Captivates a Young Lady and Then Shoots Her.

SUMMIT, Pa., Aug. 28.—James Harold Sawyer, an aristocratic young Englishman, made a cowardly attempt to take the life of Miss Merle Elliott while in conversation with her at her father's handsome residence near this place last evening. He was her affianced, and she had just told him she could no longer receive his attentions. He suddenly drew a six-shooter and fired two shots at her, one of which grazed the lady's cheek and carried away a portion of her ear.

The story of their acquaintance and the causes which led to the shooting is a remarkable one, and was told as follows by Miss Elliott herself: "For some years my father has been in feeble health. While making a tour of Europe we met and became acquainted with a young Englishman who gave us the name of J. Harold Sawyer. He was, to all appearances, a man of means and refinement. He became attached to us, and was unusually kind and courteous. Much of his time was spent with my father.

"Mr. Sawyer declared he never had been in America, but at present was perfecting arrangements to leave England and make it a permanent place of residence. Then he offered to accompany us home when we had resolved to return. We accepted his offer. His genial disposition and faithful attention to my father created a favorable impression. The third day of our voyage Mr. Sawyer approached my father and asked his consent to our marriage. While I was surprised, it was not wholly unexpected. My father told him that was a matter for me to decide.

"There was so much tenderness and apparent sincerity in his proposal that I consented to an engagement. On account of my father's health a marriage then was out of the question. On our arrival in New York, at our request Mr. Sawyer remained with us for two months. He then went to Chicago. The most affectionate letters were exchanged between us and our wedding was to have taken place in October.

"My father was now enjoying a period of unusually good health. He began to realize the importance of the step I was about to take. His will was executed in my favor. He then thought it proper to see what Mr. Sawyer was doing in Chicago and unknown to him he started for that city.

"He learned that Sawyer was a professional gambler, a confidence man and a frequenter of the worst dens in that city. He was also traveling under an assumed name.

"I was shocked and I immediately wrote Sawyer, breaking our engagement. On receipt of this letter he made a peremptory demand for a fuller explanation and the names of his accusers. To this I made no reply.

"Last evening my father in response to the bell opened the door and was handed Sawyer's card. He refused him admittance at first. Sawyer said justice to himself demanded a few minutes' interview with me. On a promise that it would be brief and the last he was admitted. We met in the parlor, while my father went into an adjoining room. Sawyer demanded to know who his accusers were. I told him I had most convincing proof of his duplicity.

"He grew violent and declared that unless I revealed the names of his accusers we would both die together. Instantly he drew the revolver and fired. My father rushed into the room and grappled with him, but he struck him a violent blow on the head, knocking him down. Sawyer then escaped.

"With the blood still oozing from my wounds I managed to drag myself over to my father and tried to restore him. He is prostrated and may not survive."

Miss Elliott is twenty-two years old and an amiable and accomplished lady.

WHO OWNS THE BIRD?

One Man's Hen Laid the Egg and Another Man's Hen Hatched It.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A novel suit is pending before Justice McMahon at Parkville, L.I. The litigants are James McKaughn and James Gormley, who are next-door neighbors at Parkville. Mr. McKaughn is the owner of fancy fowl, which he values at from $20 to $25 each. Gormley also keeps chickens, but not of so high a breed. When McKaughn saw among a brood of young chickens in Gormley's yard a chicken of the species of his own fancy fowl, he claimed it and alleged that one of his fancy hens must have flown over into Gormley's yard and laid an egg in the henhouse there.

Gormley refused to surrender the chicken, saying that if McKaughn's hen had laid the egg, a hen belonging to Gormley was practically the mother of the chicken, she having hatched the egg. Both men have engaged New York lawyers to look after their interest in the suit, and Justice McMahon is looking up the law on the subject, as it is the first suit of the kind on record.

AN IOWA SPOOK.

Cedar Rapids' Apparition Reveals a Mysterious Tragedy.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 28.—A haunted house is exciting the people of the city of Decorah and promises to disclose a tragedy of the darkest kind. The house was occupied by a young woman and man named Johnson. The woman gave birth to a child, which was disposed of by some means as yet unknown. Shortly after this a woman's screams were heard in the house, and from that time no one has been seen or heard on the premises. This was three months ago. The household goods remain untouched. It is thought by the authorities that both the woman and babe were murdered by Johnson. An apparition has been seen, it is alleged, by a number of the best people of the city, large crowds congregating near the house nightly. An investigation is being made.

Burglary at Bethany.

BETHANY, Aug. 28.—Some time during last night the store belonging to Mr. R. J. Johnston, general merchant of this place, was opened by burglars, who effected an entrance through a side window, carrying off with them a considerable quantity of tobacco, sardines and several pairs of fine boots.

How Genuine Brandy Is Made.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—Some time ago a man named Poupart was arrested for having an illicit still in his possession and for compounding liquors. He has now gotten into further difficulties and has been prosecuted by Gillespie & Co., agents for Hennessy & Co.'s brandy. On searching his premises they found labels and capsules intended to imitate those of this firm, and Gillespie has three counts against him: First, forgery; second, infringing on registered trade mark, and third, of putting up goods in spurious cases.

OUR TRADE RELATIONS.

In his speech at the banquet given him at the Reform Club Rooms, Toronto, on Wednesday night, Hon. J.W. Longley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, thus discoursed with reference to our international trade relations:—What I simply point out is this: That, situated as we are on the same continent, with a vast English-speaking population of between 60,000,000 and 70,000,000 people, with a border line extending from ocean to ocean, with common aims and common objects of a commercial character, it seems to me that it fulfil one of the conditions, looking for the thorough success of Canada as a country, if we could have the right to free and unlimited trade from one end of the country to the other. Remember that in connection with this self-same confederation of ours there are grave difficulties, whoever may say to the contrary. There are geographical difficulties of enormous magnitude. Who fails to recognize the fact that it is an enormous difficulty for Ontario to get up a large trade with the Province of Nova Scotia? Where 1,200 miles have to be traversed, is that not a serious obstacle in the way of the people of Nova Scotia trading with Ontario? After more than twenty years very little trade between the two Provinces has been built up. I am sure that it is not from any prejudice that the commercial men of Ontario do not trade largely with the commercial men of Nova Scotia. I am quite satisfied that the wealthy merchants and manufacturers of Toronto would be willing to push their trade into Nova Scotia, and I am sure that the people of Nova Scotia are too clear-headed not to seek to trade with Ontario wherever they could promote each other's advantages by doing so. And yet, although we have traded very little together, we may be confederated together and welded together in a great union for many generations; and when we take that great west the difficulty practically becomes greater and greater—indeed, I do not see as regards that vast territory a single instance in which the difficulties in the way of trade extension between the people of the West and the people of Nova Scotia are not insurmountable. I do not say that there is not pluck enough amongst Canadian peoples to rise above this geographical difficulty, but I do say that the great extent of territory that separates these peoples prevents close trade relations. As to the difficulties that encompass us, I would say take down the custom house barrier between us and the United States where the geographical difficulties don't prevail, permit the Maritime Provinces to have free access to the markets in the New England States, allow the Province of Ontario to trade without restriction with New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey; let Manitoba send her produce to States that are to the south of her, and give British Columbia the opportunity of exchanging her products with the States of Oregon and California. This does not mean the giving up of anything that the people of Canada value; it means simply fair relations, business-like transactions, which will promote the welfare of all sections of the country.

THE population of the United Kingdom in in the middle of 1890 is estimated by the Registar-General at 38,227,221.

THE United States census has brought to light the fact that there are 27,000 men in New York who are supported by their wives. It is a misnomer to call these beings men. Any human being of adult male sex, who allows a woman to support him, unless that support through sickness, accident or other cause of disability is necessary, is utterly undeserving the name of a man, for the very good reason that he possesses none of the attributes of true manhood.

THE difference between the truly modest young woman of the preceding generation and the conventional young woman of today in the United States is pointed out with many illustrations, some of them of a most striking nature, by Elizabet Stuart Phelps in the Forum for August. A study of modern society has convinced her that they have suffered a great loss of delicacy; and that in society delicacy is strength. This change, which the building of great fortunes has brought into social life, she traces through all their thought and activity; finding that there is a delicacy in their art, and in literature, and throughout the whole range of American activity. The article is an arraignment of the indelicate tendencies of society, by a woman. Especial emphasis is laid upon the evil of decollete dress. It is well to limit this broad charge to the women and girls of the United States. It cannot, in justice, be preferred against Canadian women or girls. True, such a tendency may be shown in younger girls of defective or indifferent training, but it to a large extent, ceases to apply to them in their maturer years. Canadian ladies as a class can lay claim to possession of a large share of that virtue familiar to us of mature years as often forming the head line in our copy books, in our school days—"Modesty is a quality which highly adorns a woman." As to the strictures of especial emphasis in decollete dresses, that seems to be a matter of custom and of costume. For certain occasions society sanctions the low corsage, just as society sanctions abbreviated skirts for bathing attire. If a lady were to appear in a drawing room dressed in a bathing costume, it would be as much an outrage on propriety as if she were to come into the streets in full evening dress, for a promenade. The measure of a woman's modesty is not, within reasonable limits, so much her dress as her manner, and the charge of immodesty often arises from a state of mind and moral temper which makes too readily discovered suggestiveness of attire a relex of a prurient nature. To a great many things in this world besides derelict garters, the pithy saying, originated by a chivalric English prince, has a very pertinent belonging, "Evil be to him that evil thinks."

Pig Iron Production.

Considerable jubilation is indulged in by some of our American contemporaries over the census returns concerning the production of pig iron in the United States. They even claim to have surpassed Great Britain in this heretofore peculiarly British industry. In 1880 the United States produced 3,781,031 tons, and in 1890 the output is set down at 9,579,779 tons. The production of pig iron has increased in the Southern States from 184,540 tons in 1879 to 1,780,909 in 1890. During the last ten years the South has increased its iron production five fold. Alabama, which in 1880 ranked tenth, now ranks third as a pig iron producing state. The census bulletin which contains these figures also asserts that the United States have caught up to, if they have not surpassed, Great Britain in the production of iron. The output of pig iron by Great Britain is quoted at 9,321,563 tons in 1889, or 258 216 less than the amount claimed for the United States for the year ending June 30th, 1890. All but a very inconsiderable portion of this iron was used in home consumption, the United States having no foreign trade in iron worth mentioning. It is a peculiar fact, however, that iron manufacturers have to import what are called Bessemer ores from Spain, Africa and Canada. These ores, as shown by Mr. H. S. Mould in the Toronto Empire, contain not more than ten per cent. phosphorus, and are used in the manufacture of pig iron, which in turn is converted by the Bessemer process into steel. The same writer says that the reason why Canada does not produce more pig iron is because of lack of capital and enterprise. Our mines, he says, are not properly worked and our transportation not sufficiently developed even to enable our iron ores to compete with ore from Spain and Africa in the United States.—Star

SHE LIED TO SAVE HIM.

Mrs. Schultheis Sees Her Husband Marry Another Woman Without Remonstrance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—John Schultheis was arrested on a charge of bigamy preferred by Bertha Samuels yesterday afternoon. Schultheis was discharged from the police force last Friday. He was a patrolman at East Chicago-avenue, and was accused by the Samuels woman of illegitimate parentage. Captain Koch investigated the matter and learned that he was a married man. The captain went to see Mrs. Schultheis and she claimed that she was the officer's sister, although she was told that he was in a position where he must marry another woman or provide for her child. The wife still claims that she had no interest in the matter, and as a result Schultheis was married to Bertha May 23. The first of this month Captain Koch secured positive evidence that the alleged sister had been married to the officer for twelve years, and so he had him discharged. The first wife finally admitted that she had lied to save her husband, and wife No. 2 swore out the warrant.

James Kelsie's Fatal Fall.

GUELPH, Aug. 28.—James Kelsie, aged about 60 years, at one time a marble polisher, latterly employed as porter at the Commercial Hotel, fell from the third story of the hotel to the ground floor last night and sustained such serious injuries that he died at an early hour this morning. Deceased was on his way to bed at the time and accidentally fell over the bannister.

THE C.P.R. PRESIDENT TALKS.

He Says That He's Not Going to Buy the Wabash The Dressed Beef Contract.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—President W. E. Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who has been making a brief visit to Chicago says that there is no truth whatever in reports that the Canadian Pacific Railway intend to purchase the Wabash Railway or any part thereof. His company he said, does not contemplate the construction or absorption of a new line between Detroit and Chicago. It has at present a strong traffic agreement with the Wabash and as long as that company carried out the provisions of the contract the Canadia. Pacific would make no attempt to secure at Independent Outlet west from Detroit.

As regards a five-year dressed beef contract made by the Canadian Pacific Railway with one of the dressed beef shippers which caused the present war on dressed beef rates, Mr. Vanhorne said that the contract was similar to the contract made by one or two of the regular trunk lines. He could not see a good reason why these roads should object to his company pursuing their methods. The Canadia. Pacific doesn't intend to cut rates, but thinks it is entitled to the same rate on dressed beef as the Grand Trunk Railway.

Regarding the bill recently introduced in Congress by Congressman Taylor of Chicago prohibiting the carriage of goods in bond through Canada, President Vanhorne did not think that Congress could afford to pass such a bill. The bill would not pass, because it would hurt the American much more than the Canadian roads. Such a law, he said, might benefit a few of the east trunk lines, but it would be an incalculable injury to the roads in the Northwest and New England. It would prevent the latter from competing with New York lines to the seaboard and export trade.

CALEDONIA, Aug. 27.—The election petition trial of J. W. Sheppard against Dr. Montague and Peter E. Reichelt will commence on Tuesday next at Cayuga. It is stated here that the petition has been withdrawn by consent of both parties.

A Terrible Storm in Trieste.

VIENNA, Aug. 28.—A terrific storm has visited Trieste, causing great loss of life and property. Many wrecks are reported on the Adriatic sea. The crews of several vessels have perished.

There is more fun in a sheet of sticky fly paper than in the average negro minstrel. Watch the kitten playing with it on the new carpet; the latter is ruined for ever; the kitten goes into a fit and all the women and children rush out of the house in terror. If you want to rid your house of flies, buy Wilson's Fly Poison Pads, and use as directed. Nothing else will clear them out thoroughly. Sold at 10c. by all druggists. dw

Fairer than all the fantasies that dart
Adown the dreams of our most favored sleep,
Thy perfect form, since Eden's day, doth keep.
The constant pattern, of a perfect art! BEST
Yet more must we admire thy better part—
The spirit's song to smile when others weep
And well know we who sail life's ocean deep
There is no haven like a woman's heart.

Thus, often weary ere the strife is won,
Tired of my task, my head I fain would lay
In some good lady's lap, as did "the Dane."
And I watch the action of the world go on,
Knowing 'tis but a play within a play,
The fleeting portion of an endless plan.
—Charles H. Crandall, in August Lippincott's.

"The Master of the Magicians," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps and the Rev. Herbert D. Ward, just out, is said to have been written during the honeymoon of the gifted authors. It is a biblical story of deep interest, with the Oriental splendor of the time of King Solomon. The book suggests a tremendous amount of research.

Jarbeau is living in a pretty Summer house at Lawrence, L. I., making bread and butter, raising chickens, which she converts into salad and pot pie as soon as they are ripe, and learning a new play. She has made a lot of money and her heart is as light as her biscuits.

Cotton is king and in spite of modes and modistes the world is wearing gingham, lawn and cambric dresses brightened with colored braids and heavy wash lace.

Few bodices are made without lining, for if they are to be worn in the evening and show the neck, then they are cut out a little, and it is considered in better taste than to have the neck showing through the thin stuff. The days when womankind walked the streets with neck and arms visible through thin muslins have gone by, and really the lined bodice is quite as cool and certainly more refined than that which is not, for to permit one's neck to show in daytime is bad form.

Mrs. Gen. Grant dresses in black and is never seen without $2,000 worth of diamonds at least.

Girls do not know how much they cheapen themselves in the eyes of all men when they permit and indulge in a familiarity of speech and manner. "Familiarity breeds contempt" is an old saw that holds the concrete wisdom of more generations of our young people have lived minutes, and like all other maxims based upon the facts of human experience, it will be true until the race of Adam is extinct. It is as easy to have good manners as it is to have bad ones; but to have them they must be taught in the nursery, and used habitually at home. The practice of habitual courtesy at home will make you courteous abroad, and to be esteemed well bred is certainly all the trouble that can be taken to acquire it.

Mary Anderson-Navarro will sit for Felix Moscholes, the London artist, in her bridal robe. During the visit to Chicago the idea of Galatea was decided for a study in green showing the classic beauty of the actress in a gown of apple-green silk.

Mrs. Emmons Blaine, nee Anita McCormick, will inherit a fortune of $10,000,000 from her mother. She has property in her own right from the income of which she supports the family and patronizes various charities.

That fashionable ladies in Parisian society sometimes inject morphia to calm nerves which have become agitated by excited days and sleepless nights is beyond doubt; but do they go so far as to inject patchouli and other perfum And if they do, what would be the advantage over simpler methods of diffusing sweet odors from their dainty persons. It has been gravely stated in quarters which would not be expected to libel even Frenchwomen that this is the new craze, but this is one of those bits of news which you may believe or not. It is not difficult to scent the feminine garments in such wise that the wearer, like the goddess in the Odyssey, should waft around her a cloud of sweet odors. To perfume the blood seems to be, to say the least of it, unnecessary. But are not women just now rather too much given to perfumes? A drawing-room with a half a dozen ladies in it is apt to have an atmosphere a good deal too reminiscent of Mr. Rimmel's shop. A little perfume goes a long way—at all events with me.

This is the way to make Sally Lunn: One teacup of yeast, one pint of warm sweet milk, a teaspoonful of butter, two pints of flour, two eggs and one tablespoonful of sugar. Work thoroughly and put to rise. About 9 o'clock make into round shapes the size of a deep jelly tin—roll a half inch thick. Put into the greased tin—rub over with melted butter, and place on top of it another round of the dough rubbed with the melted butter. Cook when light in a moderate oven. Butter before sending to the table, and cut as you would a pie. This is a real Southern bread, and "befoh de wah" no menu for a party was thought complete without the hot Sally Lunn, which was brought in steaming from the kitchen.

The latest description of Margaret Deland, the Boston writer, represents her as a slender young woman plunging through the snowdrifts of Beacon street with a market basket on her arm and her big dog at her side.

Some Things That Woman Does Not Do.

A change has come over the modern woman. She is not putting up jelly; not spanking the children; not wearing a watch, high heels, a bustle or tight corsets; not making fancy work to litter the house with; not nagging; not screeching like a tug whistle; not feeding her baby soothing syrup; not fondling a dog; not dining the parson more than once a week; not making a confidant of the family physician; not distributing tracts, preaching saloon lectures or wearing white ribbon and blue ribbon decorations. She is not subsisting on a diet of candy and love stories, and she does not sleep till 10 in the morning. "East Lynne," crochet, tatting, knitted stockings, wire bustles, crazy quilts, chatelaine pendants, worsted slippers, wire hair brushes, photograph albums, pinch bug breeding, salt shakers, shopping bags, lightning rods, fly traps and chromos are some of the few things that have gone out of fashion. —Evening World.

The Mule in the Brush.

Opposite a little railroad station about five miles below Jackson, Mississippi, was a dense thicket, and on one of the bushes hung a white rag. A dozen of us sat with our feet hanging off the platform, and, while every man had a revolver on his hips, no one had thought of shooting at that rag. It was a hot day, and we were smoking and talking, when a native came up the track and sat down with the rest of us. Presently he out with a big revolver and aimed at the rag and pulled trigger. The cartridge didn't explode, and there was a general laugh over the failure.

"It was sich a blamed nice mark to shute at that I couldn't resist,' he explained, seemingly much chagrined. "Perhaps some of you 'uns kin drap that rag."

Everybody out with his gun and began blazing away, some shooting high and some low, and we had finished for five minutes when a second native appeared, crawling out of the brush on hands and knees, and as he stood before us he said:

"What hev I done that you all wants to kill me?"

"Good gracious, man, were you in there?" exclaimed one of the crowd.

"Right in thar, stranger, and seemed to me the wah had come back. I didn't git a bit, but you have done killed my mule, I reckon."

We ran over with him, and sure enough there was his mule, down on his back and kicking his last, with four or five bullets in him.

"You dun didn't mean to, of co'se," said the owner, "but th's ar' mewl was all I had. I don't say he was wuth what a prima mewl orter fetch, but I could hev sold him fur $30."

He was informed that we would make up a purse to pay the damages, and we chipped in and made it $45. He took the money and disappeared soon after, followed by the first arrival, and they had got a long start, when a third native appeared and asked:

"Bin any shutin' yere?"

"Yes."

"Shute at that ar' rag?"

"Yes."

"Kill a mewl?"

"Yes."

"Pay fur him?"

"Yes. Do you know anything about it?"

"No, not much. I sold the animal to the Wheezen 'bout an hour ago fur $10, and I sorter reckoned he wanted him to play the old dodge with. How much did you raise?"

"Sixty-five dollars."

"Wall, that's purty moderate. He ginerally strikes 'em for a hundred, and you go off easy. Reckon I'll look him up and see if he can't work in a couple more this week."—N. Y. World.

A Stranger's Bluff.

There were a dozen of us in a smoking car on the Lake Erie and Western during the closing days of the last Presidential campaign, and, of course, we compared notes.

"Gentlemen," said a New Jersey banker, "I'll bet $30,000 on Harrison."

"Right now!" asked a man who came forward all of a sudden, having an old carpetbag in his hand.

"Y—yes, sir."

"I, y, w, which means produce your wad," said the stranger; and opening his carpetbag he took out a roll of bills as big as your leg.

"That is, I will bet $30,000 that he gets the popular vote," stammered the banker.

"C, d, w, t, t, which means come down with your chips," replied the stranger, as he fished for his box in the again.

"I—I haven't got $30,000 with me, but I'll —I'll see you later."

"Exactly. Any of the rest of you gentlemen anything to say?"

"I bank on Cleveland," remarked one.

"H, m, d, y, h, which means how much do you bank?" asked the stranger as he waved his wad on high.

"Oh, I don't care to bet."

"Does any one else."

No one did, and he took up his carpetbag and retreated to the next car. I found him there an hour later, and asked:

"Were you betting or bluffing?"

"Here's the roll and you can judge for yourself," he replied as he took it out.

"I'm telling you straight when I say that he had $28 in bills wrapped around an old piece of canvas—not a dollar more.

"I hain't got no anti-scare-blood in me," he said as he put the roll away again," and I hain't purty nor smart. For these reasons I generally travel with an outfit, which the same is this, 'Canvas,' which means come and be one with anything in the shape of a bet."—Detroit Free Press.

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,708,812 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,854,376	2.07
Confederation	17,574,828	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,068,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.36
North American	8,470,820	10 68
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17.64
Citizens	2,097,966	28.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,295	30 61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

The Peterborough riflemen showed up well on the last day of the Ontario matches. Capt. Dennistoun won $5 in the extra series, his score being 24, only one below the highest. He also won $5 in the third extra series, taking third place, with a score of 23, the first two prize-winners making the same score. Staff-Sergt. W. A. Mason won $3 in the second extra series and $5 in the Gibson match. The Peterborough men have carried off a number of prizes, Capt. Dennistoun getting the lion's share.

See their advertisement in this issue for wonderful prices. Don't let this golden (for you) chance pass you by. 1d

Attempted Burglary at Auburn.

The "loveliest village of the plain" was visited by a burglar early this morning, Mrs. Carter was roused by a noise in the lower part of her residence. Rising she saw a light shining through a stove pipe opening in the floor. The husband was roused and on investigating it was found that the would-be thief had decamped, leaving as souvenirs of his visit several burned match ends. He had entered by raising a parlour window, but as far as at present known, secured no spoil. A wide awake woman is equal to a burglar almost any time.

Criminal Assault.

The Norwood Register says:—"The rumour is current around town that the wife of a respectable farmer, who resides on the 9th line, Dummer, was criminally assaulted the other day. She was walking to a neighbours when overtaken by a man in a covered buggy, who invited her to take a seat in the vehicle. The invitation was accepted and before reaching her destination the assault was committed—so the story goes at all events. It is also stated that the case has been placed in the hands of a Peterborough lawyer. For the present we withhold the names. Messrs. Sawers & Stone had the matter in hand, but they have been advised that the case is settled, the defendant making good financial compensation for the deed.

Health Matters.

A joint meeting of the Board of Health and Health Committee of the town council was held last night. There were present Dr. Fife, chairman, and Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, B. Shorey, Wm English, Wm. Loch, H. Danne and Dr. Burnham, of the Board of Health; Councillors Dawson, Moore and Lungford of the Health Committee. A communication was read from Mr. John Burnham, Q.C., on behalf of residents of south ward, complaining of slaughter houses. The resolution recently adopted by the town council, requesting the Board to extend the time for the removal of slaughter houses from within the town limits, was read, and by way of reply the Board again called the attention of the council to their resolution of April 30th. The Board discussed other matters, among them Mr. Moore's bylaw, and an adjournment was made for two weeks.

The Major's Welcome Home.

Major Spooner Gives an Interesting Account of His Observations in England —Wonderful Sights in London.

The return of Major Spooner from England was celebrated by the Salvationists last night. At six o'clock tea was served in the basement, and at half past seven a torchlight procession took place. There was a large turnout of soldiers and several officers from outposts.

The meeting in the barracks was conducted in the usual way. There were rousing hallelujah salvos, hearty singing and earnest prayer. Capt. Cunningham, Ensign Logan, Bro. Mark Spenceley and others took a prominent part, but of course Major Spooner was the chief attraction. He has just returned from the great Jubilee in London, Eng., where the Salvation Army celebrated its twenty-fifth year of progress. After preliminaries were over the Major, resplendent in a new uniform of flaming red, delivered an interesting address upon what he saw in London.

He first said he was glad to be back again in Peterborough, because here was where his work lay—the work which he loved. Referring to his trip to England, the Major said that people here had no idea of what the Salvation Army really was. They should have seen the immense demonstration in the Crystal Palace at London, July 13th, when there were 100,000 Salvationists gathered together from all parts of the world, to get an idea of the extent of the Salvation Army. It was he said, and the meetings they held were wonderful ones, especially the one at which some 50,000 people were gathered in the central transept of the Crystal Palace, and when the invitation was given for sinners to break loose from the bonds of sin, 500 responded. Another wonderful meeting was that conducted by the Generals, who sent, through the representatives gathered there, his love and encouragement in the good work to all the soldiers throughout the world. Then there was the great march past, when 25,000 Salvationists from all parts of the universe were in line, with the music of 4,000 brass instruments and 100 drums. But the most wonderful feature of all, he thought, was the perfect harmony which existed—not a cross word, not a dispute of any kind, among all those hundred thousand people. The policemen stood around with nothing to do. The Salvationists were not the noisy, disorderly crowd the police looked for, but behaved themselves as Christians. During the jubilee the deposit bank was established—the Salvation Army is now doing a banking business. The first day there was $40,000 deposited on which they were paying 3½ per cent. interest. Another notable thing was the fact that $55,000 was taken in from sales of outlits alone. The Major referred to the books which were written against the Army, books which he said were full of lies and were published to make money for their authors. He saw the man who wrote the "New Papacy," and oh, what a sight he was. But he thanked God the poor man had been saved. He repented of his sins and the Army opened its arms and took him in again. This man is now very penitent and wants to do all he can to contradict the miserable lies which he printed in his book. Another wonderful sight was the four or five thousand young officers who gathered together; and the meeting at which six or seven hundred staff officers met and discussed ways and means of advancing the work. The charges contained in the books written against them were refuted. A committee of outside gentlemen was selected to go through the Army's books, and the man who wrote the scurrilous book in question was to have been there too, but he was afraid to meet the committee and left for America. The committee examined the books and found out that the writer of the screed was wrong and

THE SALVATION ARMY RIGHT.

The Major referred also to the rescue work among the drunkards and outcasts, which was meeting with splendid results. The Army had homes for the converts, and and factories in connection with them. In these Homes their conversion was tested, and if found genuine they were assisted to situations. Another project was the purchase of a farm outside of London, which it was proposed to make self supporting. It was further proposed to buy land to establish a colony in South Africa for the poverty stricken men and women who profess salvation, and thus relieve the crowded cities of the Old Country of the burdens of charity. The General wanted $100,000 to begin this philanthropical work, and no doubt it would be forthcoming. It was believed that the colony also would be self-supporting. The Salvation Army was the means of saving thousands of men and women from death and crime, and placing them upon their feet by this process. The rescue work for fallen women was also mentioned, and the detective agency for hunting up lost persons. The Salvation Army has to-day, the Major said, about 10,000 officers preaching in 37 different countries and in 35 different tongues. These were the figures at the twenty-fifth anniversary. The speaker, by way of comparison, gave some Methodist statistics, showing that after the first twenty-five years of their existence they had only 90 ministers at work. The Salvation Army had a great record. The Major said he saw wonderful sights at the demonstration, and he also saw the Salvationists after things had quieted down, and he noticed the same enthusiasm and determination after the excitement was over as during the jubilee. In conclusion the Major thanked the officers and soldiers for their work during his absence, and outside friends for their support. He trusted the work here would be still more successful in future.

After the meeting a five-cent lunch was given downstairs, to which a large number of the audience stayed.

Major Spooner and Capt. Cunningham will be here and lead the meetings over Sunday in the barracks.

A ten-cent social will be held in the basement of the barracks Saturday evening from 6 to 7 30 o'clock.

FROM EX-PRINCIPAL LONG.

His Unfavorable Impressions of Spokane Falls.

Canada is Preferrable to Washington State—Mr. Long's Unitarian Views Published—The Doctrine of Liberal Christianity Expounded.

It is now nearly two months since Mr. J. H. Long, LL.B., ex-Principal of the Collegiate Institute, went to Spokane Falls, Washington, to take charge of a Unitarian church. His many friends in town will be pleased to hear of him. In a letter to a friend he describes the city as being a wonderful place; but his first experience was a rather unpleasant one. Before leaving Peterborough he purchased a fine black suit for use in the pulpit; it was stolen from him before he had time to wear it, and made his first appearance before his congregation in an evening dress suit. Mr. Long writes as follows:—

"Well, here I am in Spokane Falls; and a wonderful place it is as far as business and building is concerned. The town was almost burned out last year, but now beautiful blocks are going up everywhere. It will be a large place—but I should not like to live here permanently. The days are terribly hot (the letter is dated July 22nd), and we may have no rain for two or three months. The dust is, as a consequence, very bad indeed. Then living is terribly dear, about two and a half times as dear as in Peterborough. And, lastly, the general tone is very low—not to be compared to that of our North-West.

"Personally, however, I am getting on all right—that is, if it were not for homesickness. Although a good many of my congregation are away for their holidays, yet the attendance at the church has been very satisfactory. Last Sunday one of the city papers reported my address.

"The people are friendly, but are so deeply absorbed in money-making that they think of very little else. Sunday, of course, is not very well observed.

"I was somewhat disappointed with the mountain scenery on the N.P.; it is said not to be nearly as fine as that on the C.P.

"I had the misfortune while staying at the hotel to have stolen a perfectly new morning suit, black coat, vest, etc., which I had bought at Mercer's. The first Sunday I had therefore to speak in a full dress suit, and to apologize for so doing.

"I expect to be in Ontario at Christmas. Of course I shall not give this up unless some good Canadian opening occurs. I like "the ministry" and getting on all right.

"Large harvest here but people not so well off as at home. I am more of an Imperial Federationist than ever.

J. H. LONG."

MR. LONG'S SERMON.

The Spokane Falls Chronicle of Monday, Aug. 11, contains a column report of Mr. Long's sermon in the Unitarian church on the previous Sunday. The Chronicle says:

"Rev. Mr. Long delivered a very eloquent sermon yesterday morning from the Unitarian pulpit. The speaker began by referring to the unfortunate tendency on the part of many persons to exaggerate the literary beauties of the bible, and said that this tendency has been very marked in the case of this parable. He asked, further, what warrant we have for saying that Christ claimed extraordinary literary excellence for his words. Without depreciation of the many beautiful passages in the Bible, what is especially needed is mental honesty, the freedom from any attempt to propitiate divine favor by exaggerated eulogisms. The parable of the prodigal son is however, the speaker said, at once touching and beautiful; touching in its simple, homelike pathos; beautiful in the delineation of eastern life and the human heart.

"After the reading of the parable, the two great lessons taught by it were pointed out: first, "that whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap," and second, that all God requires of us is that "the wicked shall forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy on him."

After describing at length the wanderings of the prodigal and the return home, the report continues:—

"The speaker then took up the second lesson, asking the question:—'What did the Father require as a perquisite to acceptance and forgiveness?' And the answer is simply sincere repentance. 'And yet no parable has been more largely used by orthodox ministers than this; a parable which alone will suffice to overturn the theory which says that before forgiveness of sins there must be a blood offering, before man can be saved God must die.'

"And so, without vicarious offering, simply upon heartfelt contrition, the prodigal received a joyous welcome home. The sermon concluded with an exhortation to those who may have been prodigals to return to the old home and to dwell forever with their Father and their God.'

MR. LONG AS A WRITER.

The Christian Register, of Boston, a Unitarian journal whose motto is "Liberty, Holiness, Love," contains an article from the pen of Mr. Long, upon "The Bible from the point of view of Liberal Christianity." Mr. Long says:—"Upon no question has the conflict between liberal Christianity and Orthodoxy waged more fiercely than upon that of the inspiration and interpretation of the Bible. For ages before the Christian era, the most learned of the Jews devoted their lives to a study of their sacred writings; and, since that day, the greatest minds in Christendom have spent their energies in the attempt to solve the question. Are the Scripture, or are they not, the very oracles of God?"

Then he proceeds to point out the differences between the Protestant and Roman Catholic views, and continues:—"And what has liberal Christianity to say upon all these points? Simply that the theory as to the Bible upon which orthodox churches are based is incorrect. In a word, liberal Christianity does not accept the Bible as infallibly inspired. And this opens up the whole question of inspiration. "What!" it will be said: "do so called liberal Christians not believe in Biblical inspiration?" Certainly they do—in their idea of inspiration, but not in that ordinarily held." It is rather difficult, of course, to know what idea is ordinarily held. Still, there are, I think, three current theories: (1) the theory of verbal or plenary inspiration,—namely, that every word in the Bible is directly inspired by God. This theory, held very firmly, by most persons in the past, and somewhat loosely by a few persons in the present, is fast falling into disrepute. Its inherent weakness is apparent at a glance. Even were the original texts directly inspired, the same cannot be said of copies or translations; for no one claims infallibility for copyists or translators. Therefore, inasmuch as we do not possess the original texts, the theory falls to the ground. * * * * * There is (2) the theory of what may be called sense-inspiration; that is that each word in the Bible is not necessarily infallibly inspired, but that the general meaning is. But who is to determine this general meaning? * * * * * There is (3) the theory of liberal Christianity, which says that the Bible is to be judged as are other books; that is, upon sound principles of exegesis. This argument Mr. Long meets with the statement that "The belief that the Bible has been from the beginning a perfect whole is entirely erroneous, and has worked incalculable harm. * * * * * Far from having been for all time one complete whole, the Bible is, then, merely a collection of the religious writings of the Jews and the early Christians, consisting of sixty-six books, written by about forty different authors, in various tongues and lands, under the most divers circumstances, and extending over a space of about fifteen hundred years."

"It must next be determined," Mr. Long writes, "whether these individual books are genuine, whether their writers were credible authorities, and, lastly, the book must be examined." He concludes:—"Tried by these tests, then, the reverent, truth-loving man will find that the Bible is indeed the most wonderful of books, but that it is not free from error. He will find that in many matters—for example, matters of science—it is entirely incorrect, and this, although for ages theologians used its pages as an exhaustless armory in their struggle with scientific truth. (This was before the adoption of the new line of defence—that the Bible does not profess to be a text book of science.) He will find, also, that it contains contradictions, repetitions, and omissions, and that much of it is legendary—for exrmple, the history of the fall, which orthodox churches would just now like very well to give up. He will find moreover, that in many parts the morality—i. e., the religion—is primitive and rudimentary; in a word, "that we have this treasure in earthen vessels." The Bible is, in fact, not so much a record of God's thoughts about man as a record of man's thoughts about God—an epitome of the religious life of that race which, above all others, was endowed with the religious instinct."

Accidental Death.

Mr. Martin Armstrong, Sr. Meets With a Fatal Accident.

A peculiar and distressing accident happened to Mr. Martin Armstrong, Sr., at Nassau, on Thursday evening which resulted in his death. He was leading a calf from the house to the pasture along the highway. He was accompanied by his wife and his son, the latter leading another calf. On the way the father's calf became spertive and giving a sudden pull at the rope, threw Mr. Armstrong to the ground with considerable violence. The mother had in the meantime turned back, but the son seeing that his father was badly hurt called to the mother, who seeing the husband's condition, called for assistance. Mr. Alex. Hamilton, Mr. Irwin's foreman, and Mr. Christopher Fagan, foreman for the Dickson Company, were on hand at once and assisted Mr. Armstrong to the house. He was able to walk with their help but could not speak. Dr. King was immediately summoned, but could discover no external marks of injury and all the symptoms pointed to concussion of the brain, resulting doubtless from striking with the head some hard object in the fall. Mr. Armstrong did not rally enough to speak and died this morning at 8 o'clock. The funeral takes place from the family residence on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock p.m.

Minden Hotel.

A Minden correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent writes;—On Wednesday of last week Mr. William Irwin, of Peterborough, owner of the Sturman House, accompanied by Mr. George Bick, of Bobcaygeon, paid Minden a visit. Mr. Irwin came to look after his property and to ascertain what damage had been sustained by the fire. This was found to be very trifling. While here Mr. Irwin succeeded in disposing of the hotel property to Mr. David Keers, of Minden township. It is rumoured that Mr. Cardwell will become Mr. Keers' tenant.

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps go as high as the highest, we are noted for having it as at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

THE STATE OF TRADE.

BRADSTREET'S REPORTS A FAVORABLE OUTLOOK.

Evidences of Increasing Commercial and Industrial Activity—Share Speculation Dull, But Values Improved Reaction In Grain Prices—The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's report all of the evidences of increasing commercial and industrial activity noted last week, the September outlook being for an active distribution of staples. There are no definite reports as to domestic crop shortages other than were made public last week. Boots and shoes are selling at prices materially higher than a year ago, with the autumn demand under good headway. Even raw wool is firmer, while other staples showing relatively most activity are clothing and seasonable dry goods.

Share speculation at New York is dull, but values have improved on the easier tone of the money market and the collapse of railroad labor troubles. Foreign interests are again large buyers of American stocks and securities.

Hogs are lower in price on heavier receipts, wheat has reacted 3c from the high prices touched early in the week, and corn and oats have, as is natural, sympathized with the decline. This is due to foreign markets refusing to follow farther at this time the advance in domestic markets together with some slight improvement in crop reports.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 183 in the United States this week, against 199 last week and 178 this week last year. Canada had 36 this week against 32 last week. The total number of failures in the United States, Jan. 1 to date, is 6797, against 7603 in a like portion of 1889.

The Outlook Bright.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: The great relief in the money market here, caused by treasury purchases of 4½ per cent bonds, the refusal of the labor federation to take up and extend the strike on the Central Railroad and the prospect that the Senate will soon reach final action on the tariff bill have all tended to improve the state of business. At the same time better crop prospects have brought a distinct reaction in the speculations which most retarded business. Thus, while the volume of domestic trade continues greater than in any previous year at this season, bank clearings for August outside this city exceeding last year's by 21 per cent., the outlook for the future is clearer and brighter.

HIS HEAD CUT OFF

Fatal Saw Mill Accident Near Windermere Muskoka.

WINDERMERE, Aug. 29.—A young man named the Clarke, head sawyer at Clarke's saw mills, was working in the mill when his boot caught on some of the machinery for shoving the logs up to the saw, and in the twinkling of an eye the saw had cut his head clean off. His brother was in the mill at work at the time, with others, and his mother was at the door of the house some little way off. She was attracted by a cry from one of the employes and instinctively ran to the mill. By the time the brother had lifted up the body of the unfortunate young man, and his mother picked up the severed head and carried it into the house. Young Clarke had been married only a short time and was 25 years old. The mill had been in financial difficulties and the Clarkes were just making a fresh start.

Chatemala Makes Up with Salvador.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The State Department has received a despatch from Minister Mizner confirming the report that a treaty of peace has been signed by Salvador and Guatemala. Acting Secretary of State Wharton said to-day he regarded it as a satisfactory settlement of the trouble.

The treaty provides that both countries shall withdraw their troops from the frontier within 48 hours. Within eight days all implements of war shall be stored and each country shall keep standing only the usual number of troops kept in time of peace. Neither country shall be liable for indemnity for any damage sustained during the war. In future the full independence of Salvador will be respected. At once an election shall take place in Salvador for the office of President. Congress is empowered to elect a temporary President to serve until the election is ordered. The ultimate success of the arrangement is due to the combined efforts of American Minister Mizner and Spanish Minister Arellano. The people of Salvador and Guatemala are satisfied. The troops are returning home.

Canadian Pacific Earnings.

The following statement shows the profits of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the first six months of the year:

	July, 1890.	Jan 1 to July 31, 1890
Gross earnings	$1,489,446 51	$8,401,266 08
Working expenses	866,393 42	5,667,930 40
Net profits	$623,153 09	$2,733,335 68

In July, 1889, the net profits were $601,048 37
And from Jan 1 to July 31, 1889, there was a net profit of 2,581,470 56

The gain in net profits over the same period last year is therefore, for July, $19,104.80; and from Jan 1 to July 31, $151,864.63.

Looking for Mr. Brown's Body.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 29. A volunteer party composed of J. C. Rykert, M.P., J. H. Ingersoll, W. H. Towers and others have taken the tug Augusta to make a thorough search of the canal and lake for the body of Lawyer Albert G. Brown, who is supposed to have fallen off the Lakeside on her late trip Saturday night. The missing man was seen on the steamer by several persons shortly before arriving at Port Dalhousie. Mr. Brown was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and children.

Looking for a Runaway Wife.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 29.—A man named Morrison is here from Montreal looking for a runaway wife. Two weeks ago Mrs. Morrison cut the pocket out of her husband's trousers, abstracted $15 and silently stole away. The police say that the woman has been in town and they are of opinion that she is still here.

MR. BLAINE'S POLICY

THE SECRETARY ALLIES RECIPROCITY AND PROTECTION.

Balance of Trade with South American Countries Largely Against the United States—Not Seeking Annexation—The Republic's Great Mistake.

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 29.—Secretary Blaine made a speech at a Republican mass-meeting here to-night. In regard to national questions he said:

"I wish to declare the opinion that the United States has reached a point where one of its highest duties is to enlarge the area of its foreign trade. Under the beneficent policy of protection we have developed a volume of manufactures which in many departments overruns the demands of the home market.

"In the field of agriculture, with the immense propulsion given it by agricultural implements, we can do far more than produce bread stuffs and provisions for our own people, nor would it be an ambitious destiny for so great a country as ours to manufacture only what we can consume or to produce only what we can eat. We are already in many fabrics and on many products far beyond that, and our great demand is expansion: I mean expansion of trade with countries where we can find profitable exchange.

"We are not seeking annexation of territory, certainly we do not desire it unless it should come by the volition of a people who might ask the priceless boon of a place under the flag of the Union. I feel sure that for a long time to come the people of the United States will be wisely content if we do not seek to engage in what the younger Pitt so well termed the annexation of trade. For nearly thirty years now the United States has had the great advantage of a protective tariff—by far the largest unbroken period that its industrial policy has been in force since the federal government was organized. Happily the great majority of our people without strict regard to party lines believe that the result to the American people from the protective policy has been incalculably beneficent, aggregating in a quarter of a century national and individual wealth beyond everything ever dreamed of before in the history of the world.

"Without protection the United States would have been poor indeed after the ravages of the war from 1861 to 1865. With protection every section has flourished and prospered, grown and gained. * * * But I am here to speak of expansion of our foreign trade—not by any novel process, not by any mode that will shock or disturb home industries, not by any mode that will invite our people to rash experiments or that will launch us in doubtful and dangerous investments.

"What I mean to speak of is a system of reciprocity not in conflict with a protective tariff but supplementary thereto and presenting a field of enterprise that will richly repay the effort and energy of the American people."

Mr. Blaine then quoted the trade statistics for 1889 and found this result: "Our imports from countries south of us in this hemisphere were $216,000,000; our exports to them were $344,000,000. The balance against us in our trade with those countries therefore is $142,000,000, exceeding our gain from all the rest of the world by $13,000,000. By no figure of speech can we better ourselves into the belief that our trade with our own neighbors is in a prosperous condition. * * *

"Our great mistake was made when we began to repeal the war duties on so large an amount of imports. Any duty repealed was a favor and an advantage to the exporting country and we have asked nothing in return. Instead of this course every repeal of duty should have been preceded by a most thorough investigation, and whenever it was found practicable to export anything from the United States, and thus establish reciprocity of trade, it should have been done. It is not a question of setting deliberately to work to establish reciprocal exchanges. But with all the duties we have thus far repealed it has been a question of whether we should get something or get nothing. We have chosen with our eyes closed to get nothing. I hope now with our eyes open that we shall in future choose to get something."

Mr. Blaine concluded by saying that if specie payment is endangered it will not be by reason of the gold exports, which have caused so much uneasiness in financial circles of late, but in consequence of the steady drain arising from present trade relations with the countries to the south.

LORD SACKVILLE'S HEIR.

Said to Be an Inmate of a Pennsylvania Workhouse.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 23.—The romantic history of Dr. John Sackville, now in the Allegheny County workhouse, has just come to light. Dr. Sackville is a near relative to Lionel, Lord Sackville, British minister to Washington, who was recalled by Lord Salisbury during the Cleveland administration. Sackville came to Washington, Pa., twenty-one years ago, having run away from his home in England. He took out a medical degree and built up a big practice there. He came to Pittsburg frequently, and being a victim to inebriety finally got sent to the workhouse for twenty days. During his imprisonment letters arrived at his home from Sackville-West, in England, clearly showing that Dr. Sackville was next of kin and heir to the large estate of the present lord, who has no son. Dr. Sackville married during his residence in Washington, and has one son, who may some day become Lord Sackville.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

A Guatemalan Revolutionist Killed on Board a U. S. Vessel.

SAN JOSE DE GUATEMALA, Aug. 29.—The port captain here and several officers to-day boarded a passing American steamer to capture the revolutionist Gen. Martin Barrunda. Capt. Pitts consented to give up the revolutionist. The officers thereupon went to Barrunda's cabin and informed him of their purpose. Barrunda opened fire with his revolver upon the party. The officers returned the fire and Barrunda fell riddled with bullets.

A Leary Raft Wrecked.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 29.—One of the Leary rafts has gone ashore at Rock Island, and is said to be a total loss.

SIR BALDWIN'S ANSWER.

THE DEFENDANT'S PLEA IN THE LOBSTER FACTORY CASE.

The British Commander on the Newfoundland Station Says His Acts were Justified by the Orders of Lord Salisbury.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 29.—Sir Baldwin Walker, captain of H.M.S. Emerald and naval commander of this station, has filed his answer to the summons and complaint of James Baird, the St. Johns merchant whose lobster factory on the French shore was closed last June by Sir Baldwin's orders. Sir Baldwin had warned Mr. Baird several times against operating the factory, declaring that it was forbidden by the modus vivendi which the British and French Governments entered into last March.

Mr. Baird declares that there is no law on the statute books of Parliament or of the Colonial Assembly which makes his business illegal, and that Lord Salisbury is not empowered by the constitution and laws of England to interfere with the lawful business of any British subject. He disregarded all Sir Baldwin's warnings and protests and instructed his manager to continue the factory's operations until forcibly interfered with. These orders were followed and the forcible interferance came, whereupon Sir Baldwin was promptly served with a writ issued from the Colonial Court directing him to answer Mr. Baird's claim for damages for trespass.

Sir Baldwin at first intimated, presumably under instructions from the British Government—for, of course, his proceedings have been wholly under Lord Salisbury's orders—that he would pay Mr. Baird's claim. But he has at last chosen to put in a defence, and he urges the plea that his acts were justified by the orders of the Imperial Government issued to give effect to the modus.

This raises the issue clearly and directly whether the British Government had the right to undertake the enforcement of the modus without the sanction of an enabling act, or without first proclaiming the territory affected by it to be under martial law. The trial will come off in November. Public interest in its result is naturally deep and universal.

FATALLY HURT AT PLAY.

A Hamilton Lad's Singular Death—The Alleged Abduction Case.

HAMILTON, Aug. 29.—Willie Slee, the 9-year-old son of Carpenter William Slee, was running across the street last night with a dog when the animal got in front of the boy and tripped him. He fell and struck his head, but was not apparently badly hurt. Shortly afterwards, however, his boy friend observed Slee becoming stupid and sleepy, so they carried him into his father's house. He was laid on a bed, but soon recovered sufficiently to go into another room and have supper. Then he complained of being drowsy and went to sleep, from which he awoke very sick and died an hour later. A post-mortem examination was made this morning and it was found that a blood vessel in the brain had been ruptured just over the left ear, and a clot of blood about two-thirds the size of a man's hand had formed on the brain.

A tinsmith named Jesse Grant was precipitated to the ground by the collapse of a scaffold on which he was working this morning and received serious internal injuries.

Henry Alford, the young English dead beat with the plausible tongue, was arraigned this morning on a charge of vagrancy. He said he was a teacher in London, Eng., and had followed that avocation for a brief spell in Montreal. The magistrate remanded the young man until Monday in order that further enquiries may be made into his peculiar methods of eking out a livelihood.

The case of Mrs. Louise Lee, the colored woman charged with the abduction of the 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Young, was up at the Police Court this morning, and after hearing some evidence the magistrate adjourned the hearing until Tuesday. A witness testified that the girl's mother lived with different men and her home was no place for the child, who is now living with a Mrs. Hutchinson in Chestnut-street, Toronto.

On Monday the portion of the Northern & Northwestern division from Port Dover to Georgetown will pass under the jurisdiction of Superintendent Stiff and become a portion of the Southern division. The Southern division at present contains all the Grand Trunk lines in Ontario south of the main line between Toronto and Sarnia. The only exception to this is the N. & N.W. line south from Georgetown through Hamilton to Port Dover. This will now be placed under Mr. Stiff's charge.

A young man named George Burgess was arrested to-day on a charge of having thrown red pepper into the eyes of Max Muscovitz, a Russian Jew, last evening.

Mrs. John Goodman, who came to Hamilton from her native Norfolk, Eng., in 1878, although 82 years old does all her own housework. She has been the mother of 14 children.

The Stiletto User Run Down.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—On Aug. 19 a desperate stabbing affray occurred in Miss Tinsley's dive in Centre-street. The victim was James H. Thompson of 312 Wilton-avenue and the stabber an Italian named Pietro Mastrano. Jealousy of Thompson was the cause of the trouble, which came very near becoming a murder. Mastrano had been living with a woman named Mary Moriarity, and the relationship had assumed to all appearance that of man and wife. On the Civic Holiday the Moriarity woman struck up an acquaintance with Thompson and accompanied him on the Orange excursion to Hamilton. When they returned they visited Miss Tinsley. Thither Mastrano followed them, and without waiting for an explanation drew a stiletto and began to get "square" after the Italian method. Thompson was slashed right and left by Mastrano, who made his escape in the confusion. Thanks to careful nursing in the hospital, Thompson has recovered sufficiently to be discharged from the institution, although still suffering from the knife cuts.

Ever since the affair the police have been searching high and low for Mastrano. They received a pointer locating him in the quarries near Shaw station, on the Credit Valley Railway. They communicated with the county authorities there with such good result that Pietro Mastrano is now in custody.

At 11 o'clock last night a tall thin man dropped into headquarters, accompanied by a small thin man, apparently about 30 years of age. Constable John Mooney was the big one and Mastrano was the small one. Mooney is attached to the Oxford county force, but he had traced his man over into Wellington county, where he secured his arrest. Mastrano took the situation coolly, laughing while being searched.

Stabbed in a Drunken Dispute.

KINGSTON, Aug. 29.—At Cushendall Wednesday several young men while in liquor got into a dispute. A man named Hogan, cheesemaker at Tuttle's Hill, seeing one of his friends being roughly treated, interfered, when an Italian, employed on the double track at once drew a knife and ran at Hogan, stabbing him three times, inflicting serious wounds. The Italian made good his escape.

Thomas Duffy's Fatal Fall.

KINCARDINE, Aug. 29.—Thomas Duffy, an old bachelor living at Gordon Huston's, 8th con., Huron, fell down stairs breaking his neck. He leaves a $9000 estate to relations in Ireland.

Drowned at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 29.—The body of Mahon M. Cox, the 11-year-old boy whose home is in Newark, N.J., and who was drowned yesterday in the canal here, was recovered this morning. The boy was the son of Albert N. Cox, and was visiting his uncle here. The remains will be taken to Newark to-night.

Man and Money Missing.

WINDSOR, Aug. 29.—Frederick Steers of Sandwich reports to the police that William Watson, his hired man, has stolen $68 from him. Watson has disappeared.

THE CHICAGO STRIKES OVER.

An Agreement Signed by the Alton Men—The Brick Boycott.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—At noon to-day the collapse of every railroad strike in the city occurred and work in the stock yards began in earnest. The Chicago & Alton switchmen recognized their mistake and went back to work as a result of the conference between General Manager Campbell, Grand Master Sweeney, Vice-Grand Master Downey and a committee of the strikers. The men agree to become members of the Switchmen's Union, to be hereafter governed by its rules and by the advice of its chief, to refrain from trying to dictate to the company in the matter of hiring or promoting men, but with the right to appeal to the officers of the company for redress of grievances, the latter agreeing to hear such complaints in a spirit of fairness.

The switchmen at the stock yards held a meeting during the morning and declared the strike off, to go into effect at 1 o'clock.

The Lake Shore strike is virtually settled, 47 of the men having signed an agreement to do work as ordered. This leaves about 20 whose places are being filled. These men will not be taken back. The road is moving freight without inconvenience.

THE BRICK TIE-UP.

Building Material Men Despondent—Dangers Which Threaten.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The members of the Building Material Association at a meeting held here this afternoon reviewed the situation in the brick tie-up and were despondant over it. One of the conclusions reached was that the present strike is one of the most disastrous which has occurred in this city for many years, embracing as it does every class of labor. Next week, if there is no change, work on all buildings will have ceased, as by that time the supply of brick will be exhausted. It is feared those of the building trade who have contracts will suffer very much.

Rioting Feared at Melbourne.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 29.—Special constables have been enrolled in the city in view of threatened labor riots. The city is without gas. The shipping companies are employing non-union men. The wharf men at New Zealand ports have struck.

FATAL FIRE AT SARNIA.

The Tunnel House Completely Consumed A Woman Perishes in the Flames.

SARNIA, Aug. 29.—About 3½ o'clock this morning the Tunnel House, a boarding house and grocery owned by C. F. Dickens, was entirely destroyed by fire. Alice Lennox, a married woman aged 40, who had not been living with her husband, was burned to death. She had been employed at the house. The remains were taken from the ruins and a coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts. The building was insured, but the owner refuses to state for how much. How the fire started is not known.

Due to Carelessness.

WINDSOR, Aug. 29.—Last night fire broke out in the engine room of the Windsor Patent Brush Factory, owned by D. A. McDonnell & Son. The fire department had considerable difficulty in preventing the fire from extending to the factory. The engine room was destroyed. The loss is about $1200. The fire is supposed to have started from coals left carelessly by one of the employes.

A $10,000 Quebec Cigar.

BUCKINGHAM, Que., Aug. 29.—A fire broke out in McAndrew's store last night, supposed to have begun from a cigar thrown on the floor, as there was a lot of paper scattered around. The fire was not noticed until about 5½, when it burst out of the windows. About $30 worth of stock is burnt. McAndrew's store was brick and was one of the finest in the town, and the house was also brick and one of the best. The insurance just ran out a few days ago. The house was occupied by J. L. Wills. The furniture was saved. The total loss is about $10,000.

A GENERAL SMASH.

Three Cable Trains Badly Wrecked in a Chicago Tunnel.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—An accident occurred to-day in the tunnel under the river at Washington-street. One of the West Side cable trains got stalled in the middle of the tunnel, two others followed it closely. The third became unmanageable on the down grade and ran upon the second train, which in turn ran into the first and a general smash resulted. The cars of both the middle and front trains were badly wrecked, and while no one was seriously hurt the passengers were badly shaken up. For a few moments there were scenes of the wildest panic. Some women screamed and fainted, while others jumped off the cars, dragging their children with them and precipitating themselves upon the dimly-lighted tracks on which the west-bound cars run. Order was finally restored and traffic resumed.

A Cholera Scare in Vienna—Dynamiters Busy at Trieste.

VIENNA, Aug. 29.—Some excitement was caused to-day by a report that a patient in the Central Hospital here is suffering from a disease alleged to be Asiatic cholera.

Pork and Paintings.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Le Paris says the negotiations between France and the United States relative to the American tariff are approaching a favorable conclusion. The Washington Government will remove the duty on works of French art, and France will remove the prohibition against American pork.

Dynamiters' Work at Trieste.

TRIESTE, Aug. 29.—The explosion of a bomb in the doorway of the police headquarters last night caused much excitement. Another bomb with fuse burning was found in the railway station in time to prevent what might have been a dreadful catastrophe.

Another bomb was exploded to-day at the threshold of the office of the editor of The Adri. A boy who tried to extinguish the fuse was killed.

THE FUTURITY.

Nearly a Thousand Entries for the Rich Event—Who'll Win?

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—With the close of Monmouth Park interest is transferred to Sheepshead Bay, where the opening day of the Coney Island Club's autumn meeting will have as the great card the Futurity, which is worth $70,000. For this there have been as many as 915 entries, representing all the leading stables and owners of race horses in the country. Opinions differ as to the excellence of the two-year-olds of this season as compared with the past, but it is quite certain that the starters will include a fine lot of fast thoroughbreds that have won this season. The whole racing world is agog with expectation as to which of the horses that have developed speedy qualities this season will be crowned with the laurels of this victory. Many horses have been a long time in preparation for it.

Quarterstretch was much talked of a week ago as a possible candidate, but it appears he is not available. Barthena, the pride of Brighton, is something of a favorite, while Esperanza is also in training, and El Rey del Reyes has many admirers, and if he starts will be well backed. Key West, who will probably carry the Morris colors, ran a good race on Tuesday, but if he has extraordinary qualities they have not appeared. It is well known that Mr. Scott hopes to capture this rich prize with Bolero, but after all it would not be surprising if the victor would be Mr. Belmont's splendid colt Potomac.

The Grand Circuit Trot.

HARTFORD, Aug. 29.—The weather here to-day was warm and the sky cloudless. The attendance at the Charter Oak races was 6000. The track was in splendid condition. The 2.23 class postponed from Thursday was hotly contested. In the next race Dallas paced a mile in 2.14, the last half at a 2.11 clip, distancing Chimes C. and Dodd Peal, and winning first and third moneys of a $4000 purse.

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

A return, of an order of the House of Commons, just issued shows the amount of money expended on public government buildings in the Dominion since, Confederation according to provinces, shows that there were erected or purchased for government use in the time named :—In Nova Scotia twenty-four buildings at an aggregate cost of $480,194 44 or an average cost of about twenty thousand ; in Prince Edward Island eight buildings at at an aggregate cost of $223,769.6b or an average of nearly twenty-eight thousand ; in New Brunswick thirty buildings of an aggregate cost of $1,725,067 02 or an average of nearly fifty-eight thousand ; in Quebec forty-six buildings of an aggregate cost of $2,888,308 97 or an average cost of nearly sixty-three thousand ; in Ontario sixty-nine buildings at an aggregate cost of $5,960,229.01 or an average cost of over eighty-five thousand ; in Manitoba seventeen buildings of an aggregate cost of $917,636.88 or an average cost of over fifty-three thousand ; in the Northwest Territories fifty-one buildings of an aggregate cost of $1,139,774.12 or an average cost of over twenty thousand ; in British Columbia twelve buildings at an aggregate cost of $442,492 or an average of over thirty five thousand. The grand aggregate of expenditure on all the public buildings is $13,761,141.15. The following recapitulation will show in what proportion this was distributed amongst the several provinces :

Nova Scotia	480,194 44
Prince Edward Island	223,769 67
New Brunswick	1,725,067 08
Quebec	2 888,308 92
Ontario	5,960 229 67
Manitoba	917 636 84
North West Territories	1,139,774 18
British Columbia	452 492 92
England	43,667 03
Grand Total	13,761,140 15

No doubt these are necessary public buildings in many cases, but there is equally little doubt that their erection has been for the advantage of the Government ; hoy at election times. In Peterborough we know the use the post office matter was in placating complicating interests in the local Conservative family. The cost of the Peterborough post office is put down in the return referred to above, at $42 352.46—the odd forty-six cents being perhaps for wear and tear of the architect's intellect in devising means to conceal the western clock dial from public view. The extra $3 000 squandered in the interests of the family party in Peterborough, if indulged in in respect of the two hundred and eighty-two public buildings in the country, would amount dangerously near to a million of dollars. The Peterborough post office building borned the party interests in the contest of 1886-7, and the customs building, which could just as well as otherwise have been accommodated in the building on the Hunter street site.

THE Montreal Star thus refers to the probabilities of the date of the general election : "Professional politicians are busy canvassing the possibilities of a Dominion general election being held this autumn. They quite correctly credit Sir John Macdonald with the intention of regulating the time for making an appeal to the people with a view to the best interests of his party. The indications on the political horizon, however, do not portend an early dissolution. Granting that the demise of the present Parliament comes at an awkward date, close after taking the census of 1891, there will be, nevertheless, ample opportunity to redistribute the representation before the efflux of time. Besides, there would be very little advantage to be gained by the party in power bringing on the elections when another dissolution would be inevitable within two years. It, therefore, seems more probable that Parliament will run its full term till 1892. The year 1892, by the way, will be a year of big election events. It will witness a general election in Great Britain and Ireland, as well as in Canada, and a presidential election in the United States. On these three great events the course of future history in the old and new worlds will depend. The Star, for aught we know, may speak with authority, but we know that Sir John will not allow any "awkward dates" to interfere with his bringing on the election at any time he may regard as most advantageous to himself and party, regardless of the interests of the country or of fair play to his opponents.

MONDAY was a red letter day for the Grand Trunk Railway, as it witnessed the practical completion of two great works, which are calculated to place the line in a far better position than it has hitherto occupied ; those were the meeting of the two ends of the tunnel under the St. Clair River, connecting Sarnia with Port Huron in the United States, a sort of steel rail annexation, and the opening for traffic of the section of the double track between Morrisburg and Aultsville, on the line between Montreal and Toronto. The company has shown great pluck and enterprise in carrying out these two great works, and it is to be hoped that it will meet with its just reward. If Sir Joseph would kindly give us gates for Brock street and Charlotte street crossings, the measure of merit calling for unstinted praise of the enterprise of the road and its regards for the public interests, would be full.

THE Peterborough post office cost $13,352 46. The High Commissioner's house in London cost $13,667.07. That is, the people of Canada pay $314.152 cents more to house Sir Charles Tupper than they pay for the accommodation of ten thousand ordinary persons—the citizens of Peterborough—who can have some idea of the style our representative in London lives in. His modest abode costs more than our palatial post office, which, by the way, would not be a very humble residence for any of our citizens. But, then, the post office is not equipped with cut glass decanters, champagne goblets and fine pictures.

The Toronto Exhibition.

An Immense Entry of Exhibits—Numerous Special Attractions.

If Toronto can't get up a summer carnival there is one thing it can do, and that is to maintain an Annual Exhibition that has no superior on this continent. Successful as have been the past exhibitions held by the Industrial Exhibition Association, that to be held at Toronto this year from the 8th to the 20th of September promises to eclipse them all. The list of entries is the largest, and it includes the best exhibits that have ever been made in Canada. The special attractions, as announced in the official programme, are very numerous, and are of a character that cannot fail to attract the people from all parts of the Dominion and adjoining States. The railway arrangements are good, and cheap fares will prevail during the whole exhibition, and, with fine weather, the attendance of visitors at the Toronto Fair this year will probably be greater than ever. All who take a special interest in the manufacturing departments should endeavour to go the first week, as the buildings are not so crowded as later on, and apart from the show in live stock, agricultural products and the dog show, the Exhibition and all the special features are just as good the first week as the second.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The C.P.R. After the Esplanade Lynch's Race Exposed.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—Yesterday morning Wells & McMurchy, acting for the C.P.R., served notice on the city that they will on Tuesday next at 10 o'clock in the morning apply before any court of the full-ne judges at leisure for the appointment of a sole arbitrator in the matter of the property of which they lack possession on the south side of the Esplanade, between Yonge and York-streets.

Richard Clarke of The Orange Sentinel is suffering from a peculiar accident. On Tuesday last he was bitten by a spider on the left arm, and as a result that member has swollen to such an extent as to render it practically useless for the time being, compelling him to carry it in a sling.

At the Police Court yesterday James Lynch, who sold matches at 5c each and threw in a drink of beer therewith at Dufferin Park, was found guilty of contravention of the License Act and fined $50.

ALLEGED ABDUCTION.

Victimized Clergymen and Physicians—Horse Thieves Arrested at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 28.—Louise Lee, a young colored woman, was charged at the police court this morning with abducting a child belonging to Mrs. Ellen Young. Mrs. Young, who is also colored, told the judge that she lent her child Frances, about 11 years old, on Aug. 7 last, and she believed the prisoner had taken her to Toronto. "Where is the child?" asked the Judge. "Down in Toronto, sir," replied the prisoner coolly. "She's staying with Mrs. Hutchinson, Chestnut-street. She doesn't want to live with her mother." "Did you see the prisoner take the child?" asked Judge Cahill of the complainant. "No, sir, but I can get witnesses who did." "Then I adjourn the case until to-morrow for you to get them here."

Henry Alford, a young Englishman who claims to be a grandson of Dean Alford, Archbishop of Canterbury, has been imposing on a number of the charitably inclined, among his victims being Rev. Mr. Bland, Rev. Dr. Crawford, Dr. Ridley and others. Alford was found by a detective industriously copying a list of the city clergymen of all denominations and of the physicians from the city directory, and was taken into custody as a vagrant.

Adam and William Close of Brantford were arrested here yesterday, charged with stealing a team of horses from A. R. Murdoch of London West. A detective took the men to London to-day.

A private despatch to-day announces the death of H. E. Wilcox, president of the Maiden Britannia Company. Mr. Wilcox was 50 years old. He was connected by marriage with Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the well-known writer.

The police have been notified that there is a Brantford woman here trying to induce young girls to go home with her. The woman is thought to be a notorious divorcee.

TEST SUITS BEGUN.

Claims Against the Government for The Quebec Cliff Slide Losses.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—Papers in the commencement of test suits for the recovery of damages from the Dominion Government for losses caused by the Quebec rock slide were filed in the Exchequer Court to-day by Messrs. Belcourt, McCracken & Henderson, acting for the residents of Quebec, Allan P. Fitzgerald and John W. Henry. Fitzgerald's claim is for $8[illegible] damages to furniture and Henry's for $2,000 for the demolishment of a cut stone foundry with machinery and a dwelling house attached.

On these cases hings forty others which the firm have on hand.

There is more fun in a sheet of sticky fly paper than in the average negro minstrel. Watch the kitten playing with it on the new carpet; the latter is ruined for ever; the kitten goes into a fit and all the women and children rush out of the house in terror. Origin of Swearing.

The brother of the fairy Pari Banou was only thirty-two inches high. His beard was thirty-two feet long and extended horizontally in front of him as he walked. He invented swearing to express his feelings when poor biscuits were set on his table. His wife could always make biscuits to please him by using Imperial Cream Tartar Baking Powder. t h s-w

LOTTERIES IN ENGLAND.

WHAT WAS DONE IN THE OLDEN DAYS

For Nearly Three Hundred Years Lotteries Were the Means of Raising Money for the Country—Fortunes Lost and Gained —Some Queer Experiences

The earliest English lottery of which any record has been handed down took place in 1569. In this drawing the largest or capital prize was of the value of £5,000. Of this amount £3,000 was paid in cash, £300 in plate and jewelry, and the rest, according to an authority, in "good tapestry, meet for hangings, and other coverlures, and certain sorts of good linen cloth." The various prizes, apart from the money, were chosen to grow out the house of Mr. Derricke, the Queen's goldsmith, in Cheapside, and attached to the original proclamation, which is still in the possession of the Society of Antiquaries, was a sheet of wood cuts representing the various pieces of gold and silver plate. The price of the shares was 10 shillings each and their total number 400,000. For the purposes of the drawing a temporary building was erected at the western door of St. Paul's Cathedral, and the ceremony itself lasted from early in the month of January until the following May. The excuse put forward by the Government for the foundation of the scheme was that they might acquire the means for the harbors and fortifications of the kingdom and other works.

After the Restoration the custom received new impetus, several drawings being advertised under the sonorous title of "the presence of aiding the poor aflicents o. the Crown who had suffered in the civil wars." So popular did the scheme become that the rights were leased out to various speculators, whose individual profits were, of course, enormous. The most popular lottery at this time, and one which maintained its existence until the end of the century, was known as "The Royal Oak Lottery." To give some idea of the general popularity of what was then a comparatively new form of gambling, it may be mentioned that in the year 1698 a lottery was formed with a capital prize of £1,000. Each share was sold at the low price of one penny or, in other words, the number of tickets was about 240,000, the whole of which were disposed of within the space of a few days.

At a later period, and especially during the madly exciting times of the South Sea bubble, the drawings of most of the accredited lotteries took place at the Guildhall. On such occasions the old civic building was the scene of the greatest excitement. It is recorded, indeed, that numbers of poor men had practically used to be in constant attendance with their instruments in readiness for the letting of blood in cases where the sudden announcement of the fate of tickets overpowered the senses of the holders.

At the drawing cards or pieces of paper, inscribed with as many numbers as there were tickets, were placed in a hollow wheel. These were drawn out, one by one, usually by a boy from the Blue-at School, the number it bore being announced to the audience; from a second and similar wheel another Bluecoat boy would then draw out a paper on which was inscribed either the fateful word "blank" or the amount of a certain prize.

The years 1744 and 1745 are memorable on account of two great lotteries held therein. For the former, the total amount of money subscribed amounted to £1,500,000, a truly prodigious sum when it is considered how much greater the relative value of money was in those days than to-day. In 1753 a special act of Parliament was passed, authorizing a public lottery for the purpose of providing funds for the building of a bridge over the River Thames at Westminster. To this end 125,000 tickets, of the face value of £3 each, were quickly disposed of. Encouraged by its success, Parliament sanctioned other lotteries in succession, until the bridge was finally completed and paid for. By another act passed in 1755, the sum of £300,000 was raised by similar means and expended upon the primary purchases of collections from which the British Museum was ultimately formed.

In 1757 a worthy citizen of London presented a lottery ticket to his wife, the prospective prize, when won, to be devoted to pin money. On the Sunday preceding the drawing the minister of the church at which she was a regular attendant gave out at her request, the following: "The prayers of this congregation are desired for the success of a person engaged in a new undertaking." Unfortunately, heaven's verdict in this case has not been recorded.

From time to time collections of valuable property were disposed of with the aid of the lottery. Among such may be mentioned the Poet's gallery of pictures in 1805, and Boydell's Shakespeare gallery of pictures by Reynolds, Northcote, West, and other celebrated artists, the drawing for which took place in 1804. The Leverian Museum, a magnificent collection of natural history and other curiosities, formed by Sir Arthur Lever, was disposed of in the same manner in 1784, the fortunate winner being a Mr. Parkinson. A celebrated gem, the Pigot diamond, was lotteried in January, 1801. In Mawe's interesting "Treatise on Diamonds" is found the following reference to this stone:

This gem is valued at £40,000, and was about twenty years ago made the subject of a public lottery. It became the property of a young man, who sold it at a low price. It was again disposed of, and afterward passed into the possession of a jeweller in the city, and is said to have been lately sold to the Pasha of Egypt for £30,000. It may justly be called a diamond of the first water, and ranks among the finest in Europe.

It need hardly be said that from that time the mania for this form of gambling, legalized as it was, was emphasized by some sad reverses of fortune. In the City road, London, there still stands a large vinegar manufactory, which dates back for upward of a century and a half. A former proprietor, one James Calvert, was the winner of the first single prize, amounting to so much as £30,000, ever drawn in an English lottery. Strange to say, in a later drawing, he gained another premium of £3,000. Yet he lived to see his whole immense fortune squandered in futile striving after a repetition of this exceptional good luck, and died in 1799 in the direst poverty. In 1800 Christopher Bartholomew died in a mean garret in Windmill street. At one time he had been sole owner of two most celebrated and valuable hostelries, the White Conduit House and the Angel Inn at Islington, and had also inherited a large fortune in money from his parents. Not content with this degree of wealth, he became imbued with the mania for lottery gambling, being known to expend and lose as much as £1,000 on tickets in a single day. He ultimately found himself a beggar and forced to subsist on the charity of his old-time friends. Strangely enough at this period he made his first winning, the thirty-second share of a £20,000 prize. With the money he was persuaded to purchase a small annuity; but, the old fever coming over him once more, he lost even this in lottery speculation and died a simple pauper. On Oct. 18, 1826, the last State lottery was drawn in England, and almost immediately afterward an act of Parliament came into force rendering all such forms of gambling unconstitutional and illegal.

The most monotonous city in its buildings is Paris, the houses there being almost all alike. An attempt is now being made to vary this by building houses of the style of the Renaissance and Louis XI., and hope is expressed that the example will be followed generally.

A wonderful wedding dress was recently made up in Russia for the daughter of a great Russian artist. It is of regulation white satin, but on the satin are innumerable little pictures, chiefly allegorical, painted by her father's artist friends. What may be its value in years to come?

There is an interesting scheme for establishing a floating hotel at Hong Kong. The vessel is to have three decks, the lower being arranged for dining, billiard, smoking and card rooms. The main deck will contain a drawing-room, twenty-one bed-rooms, each with a full-sized bath and dressing room, while the upper or spar deck has been arranged as a promenade.

English ladies are adopting the fashion of putting their maids who wait at table in livery. The skirts are plain of these livery gowns and of the heraldic color of the house. All the pleats are thrown behind. Then the waistcoat and jacket are trimmed with livery bands, buttons and crests or monograms in metal. A high stiff white collar, white cuffs and a tiny white cap like a topnot complete this livery.

Autograph fans, a revival of an old fashion, are made this season of ivory paper, an excellent imitation of real ivory, and on each stick the name and sentiment and name of favorite book or friends can be inscribed with indelible ink. If you number an artist or a musician among your favorites a sketch or a bar of music and the autograph can perhaps be etched upon two or more of the sticks, along with the name of the artist.

It is a good deal easier to spoil a knife than to sharpen it. To begin with a rough stone is used too freely. Unless a knife has a very rough or ragged edge it does not want any grinding at all, and it can be brought into shape far more rapidly and surely by the aid of a whetstone and a little oil. It is no use having the blade flat on the stone and rubbing hard. Hold the back of the knife well up and sharpen the edge of the blade only. If you know how to use it, the back of a knife makes an excellent steel or sharpener.

A Daughter's Influence.

I had a very severe attack of bloody diarrhœa and was persuaded by my daughter to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which I did with great success, as less than two bottles cured me. It is worth its weight in gold. Mrs. MARGARET WEIR, Pembroke, Ont. 2w35d

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,708,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $213,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,884,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,828	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,068,827	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10 36
North American	8,470,620	10 68
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17 84
Citizens	2 067,856	23.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,722,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,286	30 61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That as large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Horticultural Exhibition.

The public are again reminded of the annual horticultural exhibition Thursday afternoon and evening next in the new market building. The prize list is about the same as usual, and it is hoped the citizens in general will take enough interest in the exhibition to make the display in every department better than ever. The attendance also should be larger, as there will be plenty of elbow-room in the large hall. The exhibit of the Mechanics' Institute drawing class will also be very interesting. The floral and vegetable displays will be conspicuously and artistically arranged. Let there be a large attendance of the public and encourage the promoters of this praiseworthy institution.

The Lindsay Show.

In the Peterborough Central Fair prize list the date of the Lindsay Central is put down—in the list of fairs at the end of the book—for Sept. 30 to Oct. 2. This is not correct. The date of the Lindsay Central is Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 23rd, 24th and 25th. The former date was first selected for the Lindsay Central, but as the Governor General could not attend at that time the latter date was substituted, and notices sent to the secretaries of the several agricultural societies six weeks ago of the change. It is unfortunate that the mistake has occurred, as some may think it was not by accident but design, as the Peterborough Central is to be held nearly the same time, Sept. 24 to 26.—Wesleyan.

Swift Retribution.

Mrs. Martha Emory, who was acquitted on the charge of murdering her husband on the 19th September last, in the Marmora swamp, the crime for which Peter Davis paid the penalty on the gallows, is dying at the home of her father in Marmora. Since the hanging of her lover she has been steadily declining in health, until, a mere skeleton, she has been forced to again seek the protection of her father's roof. She has been attacked with fever, and those who knew her robust constitution state that she cannot recover. Public sentiment against the fallen woman has been so severe that she has almost given way under the strain and it is not likely she will ever again face her fellow-creatures.

Miss Clara Louise Kellogg.

The Boston Herald thus refers to Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, who appears with her gifted company at Bradburn's Opera House on Oct. 8th:—"Last evening's performance was a veritable triumph for Miss Kellogg, and the scenes of enthusiasm which followed her leading numbers recalled her successes of former years. She threw herself into the role with all her old time earnestness, and sung with delightful effect throughout the evening. In the opening scene her voice wavered a trifle from the key, but later on there was the same certainty of attack, beauty of delivery and artistic excellence in her vocal work that she used to display in her old-time successes on concert work. The tower scene called out a grand ovation for Miss Kellogg, and she gained her triumph of the evening by the most honest means. It is evident that her return to the operatic stage is a wise action on her part, and her further appearance will be awaited with impatience by all who heard her last evening."

A Brothel Broken Up.

Maud Northcutt was arraigned before P. M. Dumble, Friday afternoon on a charge of selling liquor without a license at her house on Bethune street. She pleaded not guilty and was remanded. At this morning's session of the police court she was further charged with keeping a house of ill-fame. The place has been known to exist for two or three weeks past, and complaints being made to Chief Reazel, he and P. C. Adams yesterday raided it. "Mrs." Northcutt, of Toronto, was the only occupant and she was arrested. The bottles of lager found in the house were placed upon the table in court. Upon the first charge, of selling liquor, only one witness of the several called was examined, he proving conclusively a breach of the law. Mrs. Northcutt was fined $100 and costs, and, having no money nor goods to distress upon, was committed to gaol for three months. She was then charged with having kept a house of ill-fame, and, pleading not guilty, was remanded till Monday. An individual named Dave Stewart, who came as a witness in the liquor case, was charged with being a frequenter, and also remanded till Monday. He was allowed bail.

Division Court Cases.

There were twenty-two suits disposed of at the sittings of the Division Court Friday, Judge Weller presiding. Most of the cases were of an interesting nature, but several are worth mentioning. An action was entered by M. S. Dean, of Bridgenorth against Geo. J. Bummell for damages for appropriating wood. Awarded $45. W. H. Moore; Dumble & Leonard, solicitors. W. H. Robertson, of the Times, entered a garnishee action against A. F. Anderson, late of the Ontario Telephone Co., for advertising. The sum of $20.85 for advertising, was claimed, but after taking the evidence of several newspaper men, the Judge proved the accounts, and reduced the claim to $17.41, which amount was awarded to plaintiff. Stratton & Hall; Dennistoun & Stevenson, counsel. Dr. Yelland sued Mrs. Beckett, late of the Queen's hotel, for $19.50 for professional services in attending Mrs. Beckett's child. At the time Mrs. Beckett was living with her husband but before the amount was paid they separated. Then Mr. Beckett refused to pay it on the ground that the boys were not his, but Mrs. Beckett's by a former husband. Mrs. Beckett also declared that, as she was living with her second husband at the time, he was responsible. Mrs. Beckett was the mental partner of the bankrupt matrimonial firm, and so the Doctor brought action against her. The Judge held that the husband was bound to pay the debt, and so dismissed the action against Mrs. Beckett. Stratton & Hall; Geo. Edmison, counsel. James Montgomery vs William Yelland, was a claim for $25 for misappropriation of lumber. Mr. Yelland it appears, saw the lumber at Bridgenorth, and was told by a man in Lindsay that he might have it. Mr. Yelland took it, and then Montgomery the owner, put in his claim. Mr. Yelland refused to settle with any one but the man who gave him permission to take the lumber, hence the action. Plaintiff awarded $10 25. John Burnham, Q C; Pousette & Johnston.

New Industry for Peterborough

The Edison Electric Manufacturing Company to Locate Here—An Immense Concern—The Letter of Acceptance Received To-Day.

Mayor Stevenson received a letter to-day which will give satisfaction to all classes of citizens. The Edison Electric Manufacturing Company, of New York, write that they intend to locate their Canadian factory at this point. Some time ago it will be remembered the secretary and manager of the company were here and met the town councillors in private conference. Since that time nothing has been heard from them until to-day, when a letter was received, stating that after a meeting of the Directors they had decided to come to Peterborough. The terms of agreement are also mentioned in the letter.

This means a great deal for Peterborough. The Edison Company intend to consolidate their Canadian branches and establish a large central manufactory. At present the lamps are made in Hamilton, the dynamos at Sherbrooke, Que., and there is, besides, a factory in Montreal. The Edison Company have for some time been prospecting for a site for the consolidated works, and, after much deliberation, have chosen Peterborough, whose advantages were ahead of all competing towns.

The Edison company asked for a site free of rent, exemption from taxes and a sewer. The site will probably be in the south end of the town, where the council have options upon several pieces of ground, but are not bound to any, provided they secure enough land and necessary accommodation.

The Edison Company is said to be a very large concern, and propose to erect buildings at an expense of about $50,000. They will employ about 300 hands, and manufacture all kinds of electric light machinery and appliances.

Until the agreements are signed, of course, the matter is not finally settled. There is every reason to suppose, however, that the Edison Company mean business. As soon as the papers are signed the council will buy the property and the company can then begin work, being anxious to begin work on a $50,000 building they wish to erect this fall.

Forty Days in the Woods.

A Haliburton Farmer Lives Two Score Days on Leaves and Bark. Within Four Hundred Yards of His Home.

A gentleman returning from a mineral prospecting tour to-day gives the particulars of a remarkable case of tenacity of life. Wm. Preston, a stalwart farmer, aged 68 years, of Guilford, Haliburton county, on the 29th of June, went into the dense wood around his residence to look for his cows. Not returning, a diligent but unavailing search was made, and he was given up for lost.

On August 10th Mr. Preston's son went into the woods, also to search for cattle. He came upon his father, lying alongside a log upon the leaves. He was alive, but reduced to a skeleton. The place where he was found was only about four hundred yards from the house, which is surrounded by thousands of acres of dense forest. The unfortunate man seems to have lost recollection of his experiences of his forty days in the wilderness. He only remembers that he had to subsist on the leaves and bark of trees. Though a powerful man when he entered the woods he is now a mere wreck and there is little hope that he will survive his forty days suffering and privation.

Earl Dudley's Rackets.

A Noble Youth Who is Painting London Red—A Reckless Devil-May-Care—A Couple of His Latest Larks.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The escapades of the young Earl of Dudley are filling the air in the smoking rooms of the swell clubs. He is a young fellow of twenty-three, who succeeded to the title five years ago, and has already given the historic name a town celebrity entirely different to that given it by his eccentric father. A spirit of reckless devil-may care breaks out in this ancient family every generation or two. For five centuries it has presented an alternation of rakes and hermits. A scapegrace Viscount Dudley three hundred years ago put Dudley Castle "in hock" and lived on charity. Over two centuries ago an aged profligate of the name, who had wasted his patrimony, married his grand daughter to a London goldsmith named Ward, from whom the family takes its patronymic to this day. William Humble Ward, the present earl is a "jolly good fellow" and a great society favorite, but his life does not convey the idea that of his coat-of-arms are constant companions; quite otherwise.

THE "TWO ANGELS PROPER"

It was lately reported in American papers that he was engaged to marry an American actress, Agnes Huntingdon. Dudley's family indignantly deny it. When the gay young Earl was interviewed about it he laughed and said he was "tickled to death" when he read the report in the American papers. He presumed it was an advertising dodge. A few nights ago the noble Earl made part of a jolly company, including Mr. Abeud, formerly Mary Anderson's manager; Marcus Mayer and that merry managerial crowd. A great spree was the outcome of the gathering, which took place at a club house in St. James' square. When the party broke up Dudley was "tight" and proceeded homeward in his dress suit. It was after midnight and when he came upon a gang of workmen engaged in laying underground wires for the new electric light, he stopped and began

CHAFFING THE "NAVIES."

He could wield the pick better than they could, he said. Loud grunts and snorts were their answers. He offered to make a bet and finally jumped upon the foreman. After a struggle he wrested the pick from the man and then swinging it around his head told the others to look out for themselves. They looked out, and the earl then began picking like a trojan and singing wildly. After a quarter of an hour of this, seeing no sign of the madman, in the dress coat desisting, the foreman fetched the police, who took the noble lord and ran him into Vine street station. By the time he succeeded in explaining his identity he was somewhat sobered and was liberated, giving each of the men a five pound note "to drink his health."

A CRAZY FREAK.

Afterwards he met a prominent circus performer, Mme. Oceana, and forthwith escorted her to the grand Dudley town mansion in Park Lane. The family were away and he took the actress in. He told her to wait for him in a room upstairs, and then went out, leaving the front door open. Mme. Oceana, much as she may have desired a house in Park Lane, was not comfortable. After waiting for two hours and no Dudley appearing, she finally came down stairs and saw the open door. She called aloud for him; wandered over the house, but no one was in. At daybreak the actress left, closing the door. The house, as everyone in London knows, is crammed with costly plate, jewels and pictures. The burglars evidently lost their chance. It may be added that Dudley is a great chum of young Lord Dunlo, who married Ball Bilton.

LAWN SOCIAL.—A goodly number of our aristocratic young folks, together with some from Peterborough, Ashburnham and even England, assembled on Wednesday evening, 27th inst, at the residence of Geo. Garlick, Esq., to attend a lawn social held at that place under the auspices of Mrs. and the Misses Garlick. All kinds of games, together with music, both vocal and instrumental, were participated in until about 12 o'clock, after which a sumptuous repast was dealt very enjoyably with, as each one felt as he or she could rest much better after having partaken of the delicacies which were so amply provided. It was shortly after 12 o'clock when our group began to disperse, and after thanking their hostess for the pleasant evening and sumptuous repast they had enjoyed, they each took their leave. It was quite plain to see they had a very enjoyable evening by the light step and quick movement on their way homeward. We wish the many such socials and long life to enjoy it.

To Our Subscribers.

The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosburg Falls, Vt., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work FREE by sending their address (and enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) is renewed for a limited period. We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To every lover of the horse it is indispensable, as it treats in a simple manner all the diseases which afflict this noble animal. Its phenomenal sale throughout the United States and Canada, make it standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for a "Treatise." w21

Ennismores Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic in connection with St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, will be held in Tara grove, near the church, on Thursday, 11th September. An exciting programme of sports and games will be presented and liberal prizes will be awarded successful contestants. A commodious dancing platform will be erected and an excellent string band to provide music. Dinner will be served during the day, from 12 to 2 o'clock, by the ladies, and the menu will show that their culinary right hands have lost none of their cunning. In the evening the well-known Ennismore minstrel troupe will give their best musical, comic and sentimental entertainment in the Town Hall. Picnic tickets, including dinner, 50 cents; children half price. 4d48 2w35

Wedding at Lakefield.

The Chronicle says:—The marriage of Mr. Jas. Sautter, of Toronto, to Miss A. J. Ray took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Queen street, Lakefield, on Tuesday evening. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. McEwen, the bride being assisted by her sister Miss Mary, while Mr. W. H. Casement did like service for the groom. The happy couple left for Peterborough in the evening and took the C.P.R. east bound train for Montreal. Mr. Sautter was formerly a resident of Lakefield, and his many friends unite in wishing him and his wife life-long happiness and properity.

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps go as high as the highest, we are noted for having it so at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

DAVID SMITH OF COBOURG STABS PETER HANSON.

The Result of a Boyish Quarrel. The Victim Only Two Years His Assailant's Senior. A Pocket Knife the Deadly Weapon. The Murderer Arrested.

COBOURG, Sept. 1.—Two boys named David Smith and Peter Hanson had a quarrel Sunday afternoon and came to blows.

Smith stabbed Hanson in the breast with a pocket knife.

The wound, which extended into the right lung, proved fatal and Hanson died to-night.

Smith is only about 10 years of age and the deceased was but two years his senior.

Smith has been arrested.

WAS IT A FAKE?

Doubt Thrown Upon the Story of Attempted Wrecking on the Central.

UTICA, Sept. 1. It looks now as if the story of an attempt to wreck the eastbound Chicago express near Kanora on Saturday morning was not founded on facts. John Bosch, a reputable citizen of 322 Central-avenue, this city, made a statement to-night which tends to show no obstruction was placed on the track. Mr. Bosch, with James Maher, Thomas Patton, Edward Walsh, Frank Fisher and Eugene Gorham, was in the forward coach of the train. They were returning from a fishing excursion to the St. Lawrence. When the train slowed up and finally stopped a short distance west of Kanora Mr. Bosch and his companions got off and went ahead to the locomotive to find out what was the matter. There was no obstruction on the track, nor were there signs that one had been removed. There was nothing near the track that could have obstructed it. No one was excited. Some one said there had been trouble with the air brakes and no further explanation was given. Nobody said anthing about an obstruction on the track.

"I am not a Knight of Labor," said Mr. Bosch, "but when I read in the papers of the attempt to wreck a train I thought it no more than right to state the facts in the case in order that unjust suspicion may be removed from those upon whom it may have fallen." Mr. Bosch says his companions are ready to corroborate his statement.

LABOR DAY

Demonstrations at the Capital and Elsewhere. The Trades Congress.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1. The annual meeting of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress will be opened in the City Hall to-morrow. Mayor Erratt will deliver an address. Delegates are in attendance representing assemblies from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The Labor picnic at the fair grounds this afternoon was a fitting termination of the big day's celebration. There were over 5000 persons present. The flags were hoisted on the Parliament Building's in honor of Labor Day.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. The Labor Day demonstration here was a great success. The procession, which was a big one, was viewed by thousands.

The Liverpool Congress.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 1. The Trades Union Congress opened here to-day. Five hundred delegates are present. The congress is the largest ever held. Among the delegates are a number of women. John Burns, the socialist leader, made a motion expressing the sympathy of the congress with the men who are now on strike in Australia and urged that material help be sent them.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1. The Dominion Rifle Association matches opened to-day at the Rideau ranges in the Macdougall Challenge Cup match the cup and $40 was won by Pte. Abbott, 59th, with 70 points, Lieut. Crean, Q.O.R., taking second place with 69 points and winning $25. Among the other prize winners were Staff Sergt. Mattie, R.G., $20; $15; Pte. Westman, Q.O.R., $10; $7. Staff Sergt. Donnelly, Q.O.R., $5; $3. Corp. Meadows, Q.O.R., $6; $3. Pte. Tingle, Q.O.R., $4; $3. Major Delamere, Q.O.R., $5; $3. Col. Sergt. Crooks, Q.O.R., $5; $3. Twenty-two 50's were counted out.

The Czowski and British Challenge Shield matches were also shot off to-day, but owing to a hitch in the work of compilation results will not be known until to-morrow.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

The Locks of Lots 18 in the Welland Canal Carried Away by a Steam Barge.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Sept. 1.—About 4 o'clock this afternoon word was received here from locks 1 that the steam barge T. D. Stimson, bound from Oswego to Oswola, had run into the head gates of the lock and carried them away, as well as the lower two, making a clean sweep of them all. The pontoon with the necessary gates is being put in readiness to proceed up the canal to repair the gates. It is impossible to tell how long the delay will be, it may be two days and perhaps five. There is nothing bound up in the canal this side of the break at present, but at the other side of the break are the barge Glenora and the steamer Rhoda Emily, with prospects of several more by morning.

SHERMAN'S RESOLUTION.

THE OHIO SENATOR FOR RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.

He Proposes an Amendment to the McKinley Tariff Bill Providing for a Free Exchange of Coal and for the Appointment of a Commission.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—As the debate on the tariff bill will close this week the Senate must decide very soon what it will do with the proposal to attach a reciprocity scheme to that measure. The power to be vested in the president is far greater than has ever yet been given to the chief executive. Mr. Evarts is reported to be earnestly opposed to the committee's plan, because he believes Congress cannot so delegate its own powers to the president, and because if it can it is too much power to put in the hands of any one man, even if he be a Republican president. While there are other Republican senators who think the amendment gives dangerously large power to the president, it is confidently expected by the finance committee that its plan will be supported by all the Republicans except Mr. Evarts.

The representatives of the various South and Central American Governments are watching the reciprocity amendment with a great deal of interest. To some of them at least the proposed section does not commend itself. They are inclined to think it is not entirely in accord with the constitution, and they are sure if it should ever be put in operation it would be very embarrassing to such of the southern governments as have treaties with European Governments containing the "most favored nation" clause. These countries depend very largely upon their import duties for their revenue. Brazil, for instance, relies upon such duties for practically the entire revenue necessary to run her government, and the proposal to put a duty of 3 cents a pound on coffee unless she gives up her duties on articles imported from the United States is one of serious importance to her.

It is of some interest to the people of this county, too. We imported from Brazil during the year ending June 30, 1890, an exclusive, 353,283,840 pounds of coffee, valued at nearly $40,000,000. An addition of 3 cents a pound to the cost of coffee from Brazil means over $11,000,000 a year taken from the pockets of the people who buy coffee. Mr. Evarts's dissatisfaction with the reciprocity amendments is shared by Erastus Wiman. The latter's objection, however, is that the amendment is not broad enough. He wants it to include a provision for reciprocity with Canada, and he has come to Washington once more to urge upon the Republican senators the great advantages to be gained by removing all restrictions to trade between the two countries.

In the Senate this morning Mr. Sherman gave notice of an amendment which he proposes to offer to the tariff bill, looking toward reciprocity with the Dominion of Canada and toward extending trade relations between Canada and the United States.

They Found Him Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. Attorney-General Longley of Nova Scotia and Erastus Wiman of New York are in the city, the guests of Mr. Hitt, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Relations. They have impressed upon leading senators and representatives their views in favor of reciprocity with Canada, and were fortunate to find Senator Sherman so heartily in sympathy with them that he this morning introduced in the Senate resolutions looking toward reciprocity with Canada, and by attaching them to the reciprocal amendments of the tariff make almost certain their adoption. There is a general sentiment now favorable to a fair measure of reciprocity with the British possessions in North America.

The text of Senator Sherman's resolution is as follows:

That whenever it shall be certified to the President of the United States that the Government of the Dominion of Canada shall by law or regulation admit free of duty into all its ports coal mined in the United States, he shall make proclamation of the fact, and thereafter, while such law or regulation is in force, coal mined in the Dominion of Canada shall be admitted free of duty into all the ports of the United States, and whenever it shall be duly certified to the President of the United States that the Government of the Dominion of Canada has declared a decree to enter into such commercial arrangements with the United States as will result in the complete or partial removal of duties upon trade between Canada and the United States, he shall appoint three commissioners to meet those who may be designated to represent the Government of Canada, to consider the best method of executing the trade relations between Canada and the United States and to ascertain on what terms greater freedom of intercourse between the two countries can best be secured, and said commissioners shall report to the President, who shall lay the report before Congress, and the necessary expenses of the commissioners appointed by the President, including their compensation at the rate of $10 a day each for the time necessarily employed in said duty, shall be paid out of the appropriation for the collection of the customs revenue.

The McKinley Bill's Progress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The wool schedule of the Tariff Bill was completed to-day, the silk schedule as amended was also agreed to and Mr. Aldrich said the sugar schedule would be taken up to-morrow. The conference report on the bill in relation to collisions at sea was agreed to.

PRINCE GEORGE AT QUEBEC.

Arrival of the Warships at the Ancient Capital. No Salute Fired.

QUEBEC, Sept. 1.—H.M.S. Bellerophon, Canada and Thrush arrived in port to-night. The commander of the fleet, Vice-Admiral Watson, and His Royal Highness Prince George of Wales came ashore on arrival and paid their respects to His Excellency the Governor General. There was no salute fired, that formality being dispensed with by the Governor-General.

Insane Asylum Staff Changes

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—Dr. Cascaden, who is to take charge of the new asylum at Mimico on Wednesday next, has been spending a couple of weeks with Superintendent Russell of the Asylum for the Insane here. Dr. Reynolds, who is now at the Mimico institution, will come on here as Assistant Superintendent of the Hamilton Asylum.

Hurt by Runaway.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—George Porter was struck by a shaft on a runaway horse Saturday and had his skull fractured.

ETTA SIMPSON'S MANIA.

SHE DEVOURED SCORES OF BROWN PAPER BAGS.

After Satisfying Her Regular Appetite the Young Lady Drops Into a Slumber Which Has Lasted Eight Days—Fears That Death Will Ensue.

HALIFAX, Sept. 1.—Etta Simpson, aged 17, living in Beaubassoa-street, Moncton, N.B., went to sleep Sunday, Aug. 24, and has not yet awakened, nor has she taken any nourishment. Dr. Chandler, who is attending her, says it is a case of hysterical coma. Miss Simpson has for some months had a mania for eating brown paper, and would consume large bags such as are used in grocery stores. At a single meal she has eaten scores of these brown paper bags. About a year ago she slept five days, but was awakened while being bled by her medical attendant. It is feared if she does not soon awaken from her present sleep death will ensue.

BONUS OR NO BONUS.

A Railway Meeting at Campbellford in the Interest of the C., N. & P. J.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 1.—This afternoon a deputation from Cobourg and other municipalities interested in the construction of the Cobourg, Northumberland & Pacific Junction Railway arrived in town, and this evening a meeting was held in Music Hall, at which addresses were given by Messrs. C. C. Field, M.L.A.; E. Cochrane, M.P.; R. Mulholland, ex-M.L.A.; J. W. Ferris, ex-M.L.A., and others. All were agreed that this is a most important point to be touched, and it was simply a question of bonus or no bonus as to whether the line would be built or not. Meetings are to be held along the proposed line to find out what inducements can be offered.

BICYCLISTS AT HARTFORD.

PREPARING TO KILL.

The Vancouver's Narrow Escape From Destruction A Rough Voyage.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 1.—Advices from the frontier say the Kurds are preparing to massacre Armenians, who it is alleged are passing into Turkey.

Social Science at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, Sept. 1.—The quarter centennial of the American Social Science Association was held here to-day. President Andrew White in his annual address, speaking of municipal misgovernment, said: "Our only safeguard at present is in periodical resolutions tearing down officials as soon as their plundering becomes unbearable. Far better would it be to evolve among the people truer ideas of municipal government." He advocated the establishment of courses of instruction in social science at the higher institutions of learning.

Reliably Democratic.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 1.—The state and county elections passed off quietly so far as known. Nothing more than a few disturbances of the ordinary character occurred. Partial returns and estimates received by The Gazette from 30 of the 75 counties in the state indicate a largely increased majority for Governor Eagle and the Democratic state ticket over two years ago, when his majority was 15,000. Democratic majorities on county offices and legislators have been correspondingly increased. The Democrats claim the state by from 25,000 to 30,000 majority.

Losses Caused by Flames.

THORNBURY, Sept. 1.—About 6 o'clock last evening fire was discovered in the roof of Mrs. Riley's millinery shop. It spread rapidly to Stevenson's harness shop, a store formerly occupied by W. G. Beggs & Co., and owned by T. McKenny and Dr. Kent's surgery, owned by T. McCarroll, Meaford, and seriously damaged them. The buildings are supposed to be fully insured. The cause of the fire is unknown.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Sept. 1.—Fire last night almost totally destroyed the town of Oxford, west of this city. Nearly all the business part and many private residences were burned. The postoffice, the bank and many other buildings were destroyed. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The fire bell rope was cut. Loss $25,000 to $30,000.

MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 1.—R. D. Hubbard & Co.'s wheat elevator was burned yesterday. Loss, $50,000.

HALIFAX, Sept. 1.—Fire broke out in the stables of J. D. McLeod & Co., at Charlottetown, P.E.I., Saturday night. The building and contents, including two valuable colts, were burned. J. Farquharson, a fireman, was so badly burned in trying to save the horses that he has since died.

COMO, Col., Sept. 1.—The Wolford house was burned this morning. The fire caught in a room occupied by an invalid, who, it is thought, knocked over a lamp. Three persons were burned to death. One body has been identified as that of William Prior, a telegraph lineman.

The Armenian Patriarch, after a conference with the Sultan's secretary, obtained an irade assenting to all the demands made by the Patriarch in his memorandum, including the restoration of the privileges of the Armenian Church and the improvement of the condition of the Armenians in Asia Minor. The Patriarch then consented to withdraw his resignation and continue in his post for some months pending the fulfilment of the Sultan's promise.

CRASHED INTO AN ICEBERG.

The Vancouver's Narrow Escape—A Rough Voyage—Toronto Passengers.

RIMOUSKI, Sept. 1.—The Dominion liner Vancouver, which arrived here yesterday morning after an exceedingly stormy and exciting voyage with nearly 500 passengers aboard, many of whom belong to Toronto and other parts of Ontario, had a dangerous and thrilling encounter with an iceberg Friday morning.

It was about 10 o'clock, a dense fog had set in and the speed had been reduced to a dead slow. A sharp outlook was kept from the bow, as well as by two officers, one being the captain, on the bridge. All at once what was thought to be a dense fog bank was observed about three lengths of the vessel ahead, but in a moment more it was discovered to be a huge iceberg, extending to a great distance on either side of the course of the ship, and a collision was inevitable. The order was instantly telegraphed to the engineers to reverse the engines, but too late to diminish the speed to any very noticeable extent, though the command was promptly executed. By this time the passengers on deck saw the situation and the consternation was indescribable. Women screamed and fainted and the wildest confusion prevailed during the few anxious moments before the crash came.

Not more than two minutes at most elapsed from the moment the order was given to reverse the engines before the Vancouver struck the huge iceberg with a crash and trembling that sent a thrill of horror to the bravest heart. Notwithstanding the reduced speed of the vessel the collision was so emphatic as to cause those in the body of the ship to think that she had struck on a rock, and passengers, stewards, sailors, etc., rushed on deck from every quarter like rabbits out of a warren, and the scene was a most animated one indeed. The officers stood to their posts and gave their commands with a promptness and firmness that did them infinite credit, and the bow was under examination almost as soon as the vessel left the indentation made in the side of the iceberg. When the word went forth that no serious injury had been done to the ship the excitement abated, and those whose lives were so terribly imperilled a few moments before again breathed freely. Captain Lludall said this was one of the largest icebergs he had ever met with. Estimates of its length vary from one mile to a mile and a half, and it towered high above the main deck of the vessel. Great quantities of ice fell from the berg from the force of the crash, dashing the spray in every direction.

There were 201 cabin, 142 intermediate and 133 steerage passengers on board the Vancouver at the time.

TORONTO TOPICS.

What it Costs to Run the City—More Wormwood for Wormworth.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—The price of bread went up yesterday morning. In future large loaf wholesale will be 18 cents and retail 14 cents.

Sixty deaths were registered at the City Clerk's office last week.

Professor Ellis made a verbal report yesterday morning of an analysis of the city water. He says generally the results of the analysis are inferior to the former analysis.

Long vacation is over at Osgoode Hall, and business was resumed yesterday.

The City Treasurer's return of civic expenditure in all departments up to Aug. 31 has just been issued. The amount paid out was $1,646,455, leaving a balance on hand of $1,878,980. Among the items of expenditure was $305,000 for school maintenance, $113,958 for salaries, $11,969 for hospitals and homes, $22,016 for engineering expenses, which, by the by, exceeds the appropriation under this head by $2016, $59,659 for street lighting, $15,000 on free library account, $15,464 for sanitary purposes.

Frank Sparks, whose arrest was brought about by the finding of a valise in Trinity College grounds filled with stolen property and containing the name of the prisoner on a slip of paper, pleaded guilty at the Police Court yesterday to stealing various articles of jewelry from a half-a-dozen houses. Sparks was further remanded. He admitted having served a term in the Central. When arrested Sparks was "sparking" an Ossington-avenue young woman, who threw her arms about him and had to be forcibly removed. It is said the young woman and Sparks were about to be married.

Mr. J. G. Holmes yesterday issued a writ for $2000 against W. Wormworth, the Mountain Grove merchant who had Patrick O'Leary arrested on a false charge of robbing him of $50.

Mr. Walter Turnbull, aged 72, residing at 29 Walton-street, met with a terrible death yesterday morning in rear of his house. He had left instructions with a scavenger to fill up a privy vault and the man was to call at 8 o'clock yesterday. He failed to do so, however, and about 9 ¼ o'clock Mr. Turnbull told his wife that he would nail a board over the seat pending the scavenger's arrival to prevent any effluvia arising. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Turnbull, who states that she had a sort of premonition that something was wrong, went into the yard, and was horrified to observe her husband's foot sticking out over the seat. She ran screaming to the front door, and a couple of gentlemen who were passing by hurried into the closet and pulled the old gentleman out. Dr. Dobie, who chanced to be passing, and Dr. Stark were promptly on the scene, but life was extinct. While attempting to nail on the board deceased had evidently tumbled head first into the vault and was smothered. His watch had stopped at 10 ¼.

Bill Rutherford's Luck.

MOOSE JAW, Sept. 1.—The Times relates a curious circumstance. Three years ago there was in the district a large sheet of water, known as Wellington's lake, on which wild fowl congregated, and which was a resort for the sportsmen of Moose Jaw. The lake was more than a mile in circumference. In the summer of 1889 the water disappeared entirely from some cause, and in the following winter Mr. William Rutherford purchased the lake bottom and plowed it up. This season he has a magnificent crop of wheat, where three years ago was four feet of water. Mr. Rutherford's crop was one of the best in the district, and he will reap over 30 bushels per acre.

Single Tax Conference.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Delegates from single tax clubs of 35 States and the District of Columbia met here to-day to form an organization of the single tax clubs of the United States. There were 500 delegates present.

Drowned at Hamilton Beach.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—A young man named James Murray, son of James Murray, gardener, Ottawa, took cramp while bathing at Hamilton Beach this evening and was drowned.

MILITARY RIFLE LEAGUE.

The Annual Meeting. Election of Officers To Check the Scores.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Military Rifle League was held this evening, Major Mason in the chair. The secretary's report showed that 800 rifleman had participated in the contests. The treasurer's report showed there remained a balance of 24 cents in the treasury.

Sir Adolphe Caron presented the trophy, cups and badges. He delivered an address, in which he referred to the boon secured by the militia officers in the House of Commons, in inducing the Government to issue free ammunition for the matches. He promised a prize for competition and agreed to give free ammunition again next year.

These officers were elected:

President—Lieut.-Col. Hon. J. M. Gibson, Hamilton.

Vice-presidents—Lieut.-Col. Anderson, Ottawa; second vice, Major Delamere, Q.O.R.

Treasurer—Capt. J. Bruce, Toronto.

Secretary—W. R. Pringle.

Upon the suggestion of Capt. O'Grady the Executive Committee was instructed to devise some means of checking the scores in future.

Report adopted.

EDISON GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Mr E. H. D Hall, presented the report of the Manufacturing Committee, as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the town of Peterborough:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your committee, appointed for the purpose of endeavoring to secure the location of manufactories here are pleased to report that negotiations which have for some time been carried on between your committee and the Edison General Electric Company, have resulted in the acceptance by the Company of the offer of your committee, and they have decided to locate here on the confirmation by this council of the agreement entered into between the committee and the Company, which is here attached.

The land chosen by the Company is park lots No. 14, 15 and 16 on lot 13 in the 12th concession of North Monaghan now embraced in the limits of the town, owned by the Chamberlain Estate and Mr. Peter Hamilton, and your committee have secured an option for the purchase of this land from the Chamberlain Estate at $200 per acre and from Mr. Peter Hamilton a $250 per acre, which option is open until the 1st of October next. Your committee therefore recommend that the council should confirm the agreement with the Company and that a by-law should be prepared for submission to the ratepayers for the purpose of providing the necessary money for the purchase, and for the purpose of carrying the same into effect.

E. H. D. Hall,
Chairman.

GIVING THE MAYOR AUTHORITY.

A by-law was introduced and duly passed, authorizing the Mayor to execute a contract with the Edison Electric Light Company, in conformity with the terms of the letter of acceptance of the company, of the terms proposed by the town council, which terms are embodied in a formal document, was duly signed by the officials of the company and the mayor of Peterborough. The chief conditions of the agreement are:

That the town shall exempt from taxation the property of the company for ten years and that the town shall supply to the company a ten-inch water pipe and a six-inch sewer for the use of the company, and provide a railway switch from the G. T. and C. P. railways and power as needed to the company the property selected by the company.

On its part, the company agrees to erect, with all possible speed, buildings of brick or of stone, to the value of $30 000. On the fulfilment of the conditions on the part of the town, the company will at once proceed to erect its buildings.

PROVIDING THE MONEY.

A by-law to create debentures was passed to provide the money required to be paid to popular vote on September 25th, to raise the sum of $25 000, debenture bonds, to be issued for such amount as may be found necessary.

A resolution was passed ordering the By-law to be published in three evening papers so that the widest publicity be given the By-law, the cost not to exceed $20 each.

A SEWER BY-LAW.

A by-law was introduced by Mr. Davidson and duly passed to borrow from the Nicholls Hospital Trust the sum of $15 000 for Public School purposes.

CONSOLIDATING DEBENTURES.

Mr. Davidson introduced a by-law to consolidate some debentures now held by the Commissioners to the extent of $20 000, and to issue an equivalent amount of debentures as security for the money to be borrowed from the Nicholls Hospital Trust.

The matter of the Hunter street drain was referred to the Street Committee with power to act, providing the parties interested pay half the expense that may be incurred.

The council then adjourned.

Mr. Forester Phipps.

Pen and Ink Portrait of the Ontario Clerk of Forestry.

(Globe, 1st inst.)

The Minister a few days ago gave a pen and ink sketch of the deputy head of the Department of Agriculture. That department is, in some respects, more in the public eye than any other division of the Provincial Government, and this perhaps is not less owing to the fact that its headquarters are with the chief industry of Ontario than that it is well and ably manned.

The Board of Health is part and parcel of the Department of Agriculture, closely identified with the agricultural industry, for it has to do with the health of the brute, as well as of the human creation, and its secretary is one of the best known men in the Province. There are few public officers who have done better work than Dr. Bryce, and his numerous investigations and reports on sanitary matters have kept his name prominently before the country during the past six or seven years. The doctor finds in his sphere the scope to make a solid reputation, and he is making it, too.

Then there is a third man in the same department, the clerk of forestry, a widely-known and unique character. Robert W. Phipps has capacity to do anything well, unless it be to study geography, and he cannot understand what geography has to do with trees unless enough to know. If he was set down Londonward in the wilderness beyond the Laurentian Hills, or the Hudson Bay slope, how adrift and his way out to civilization again. But this fault is no secret, for instance, and it what you will anything but geography.

He is a much-tried man as those who know him well will cheerfully bear testimony, and there are not many who know him well, for Mr. Phipps is something of a recluse; he has a great store of knowledge in many lines of subjects, and whatever work he lays his hands upon to do he masters it before it is turned out. It has been said of the late Charles Reade that before beginning to write a story he got together and read every book and report and letter and paper which treated on it, however remote or obscure the treatment might be, and then he wrote with a mind soaked in the subject matter. There is enough learning in the Cloister or Hearth to make the reputation of two or three college professors of the first class; yet there is not a chapter in the book, and hardly a page, but bears the stamp of the mint of genius. Now the way of Charles Reade may be like the way of a bird in the air or a serpent on the rock which none may follow, but Mr. Phipps is also thorough. He has been known to read 100 volumes to get together the material for one report of little more than 100 pages, besides getting information by travel, correspondence and other ways. And his work is well beaten and hammered.

Every sentence is finished and rounded before the printer is given a chance to put it in type. No urgency can force the man faster than his own gait, and if a page take a day or a week he alone must be the judge of his quality. Goldwin Smith has said that his reports are literature, and that is what we should look for where so much time and labor are bestowed to finish the article. But they are more than literature, for in an eminent degree they are instructive and practical also. The style is varied, being suited to the purpose in the writer's mind; but it is always clear, and sometimes it is strong, sparkling and eloquent; occasionally it breaks out into a humor of mellow quality and where facts have to be stated they are put concisely and in exact terms.

Mr. Phipps was born in the City of Toronto something more than half a century ago, but early in life he crossed the Oak Ridge and settled down on a bush farm somewhere up in the County of Grey. It was there he gained a practical knowledge of forestry, but he has been adding to the store ever since. He has been a printer also, and set up many a column of type for the Globe newspaper a quarter of a century ago.

He has also been something of a politician, and in 1878 he wrote up the N. P. for John A. and the Tory party. This was one of his bad acts, and he has been trying ever since to do penance for the deed by walking in better company and seeking to serve the country in a more reasonable way. But Mr. Phipps had always said that John A. never did understand the N. P. of the Phippsian pamphlet, and that, had we got the genuine child in place of the foundling picked up on the country's doorstep by Sir Leonard Tilley, Canada would to-day be many millions ahead. As it is she is disinherited, and honest industry pays toll to the gentlemen of the red parlour.

MURDER IN A MONASTERY

THREE MONKS AND A BOY KILLED WHILE AT DINNER.

The Motive of the Crime Said to Have Been Robbery—Brigandage in Italy Increasing. A Scheme for a Ship Canal to the Sea from Paris.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Dispatches from Rome tell of a terrible murder at Narni, in Umbria. About 12 miles from the city of Narni, on the side of a mountain, is an ancient convent called La Speco, in the woods near which St. Francis of Assisi used to wander about in contemplation.

The convent has lately been inhabited by only five friars who were greatly respected by the people of Narni. On Sunday morning two of them went to celebrate mass in a chapel near by, it being the feast of St. Lorenzo. The other three about 12 o'clock went as usual to the refectory. While they were eating they were surprised by four individuals with their faces masked and armed with long knives and sticks with which they attacked the friars.

One of the monks was beaten to death, another killed by having his throat cut and the third stabbed and left for dead, although he did not die until he had told the story. A boy of 15 who lived in the convent was also killed. The motive is supposed to have been robbery. So far the assassins have escaped arrest.

Brigandage is again becoming somewhat frequent in Italy, and one brigand, upon being offered a bribe to connive to permit him to escape, said he would willingly comply, but that should he do so the other brigands would pursue him even to America to wreak vengeance upon him.

SHOT HER IN THE TYROL.

An Austrian Lieutenant Kills His Sweetheart and Himself.

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—A distressing murder and suicide is the sensation here to-day. The city architect, Herr Saling, disturbed at the attachment his 17-year-old daughter had formed for a lieutenant in the Lancers named Fischer, started with the girl for a holiday trip in the Tyrol, hoping thus to cure her of her infatuation. Herr Saling and his family had reached the Ozethal, a small village with a single hotel. There they learned that the Lieutenant was following them, and before night he arrived and put up at the hotel where they were stopping.

The parents of Miss Saling ventured that daughter carefully that she might have no communication with the Lieutenant, and for several days she was not out of their sight. The other morning the young lady left her apartment, and on being missed search was made, resulting in a discovery of her father and the Lieutenant in a grove of fir trees, and approaching a point opposite the room occupied by Fischer the latter was suddenly thrown open and he sprang into the passageway seized the girl around the waist and dragged her into his room. Then he placed a pistol against her temple and blew out her brains. Turning the weapon upon himself, he fired a second time and fell dead beside her. Attracted by the reports, the terrified guests ran to the apartment, where the two bodies were found stretched on the floor. The mother of the girl, as it happened, was the last to enter, and she fainted at the sight.

Lieut. Fischer left a letter upon his table narrating the incidents of his life until he met Miss Saling. He told of his love for her, the belief that it was reciprocated and the utter recklessness of his hoping ever to marry her, owing to heart disease, which he had inherited and which had been increasing in its intensity to such a point as to demand his retirement from the army. He pity seems to be said gather, and warned him against marrying and now when he saw fame, position and his love lost to him he had resolved to end his life at once, and in ending it end also the life of the one dearest to him.

THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

A Congress of the Powers to Be Held Early in the Spring. The Czar's Message.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The progress of the negotiations for the entrance of Russia into the European entente is indicated by the arrangements for the autumn meeting of the sovereigns. Emperor William's conference with the Emperor of Austria is fixed for Sept. 21, during the manœuvres in Silesia. The Czar will arrive at Breslau on Sept. 22. He will stay there until the end of the month and will come to Berlin to see Emperor William and the King of Saxony will be received by the Emperor of Austria at Vienna and they will go on a shooting expedition to the Styrian Alps. It is expected interview between Emperor William, the Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph depends largely upon the latter's concurrence and acceptance of the terms on which Emperor William proposes a revision of the Berlin treaty. The opinion of the Foreign office officials here continues hopeful of a pacific solution of the Balkan troubles before the end of the year. It is probable that a congress of the powers will be held early in the spring.

The Czar has sent the Grand Duke Michael, president of the Russian Council, on a special mission to Paris to reassure the French government.

The Moscow Gazette seeks to calm the fears expressed by the French press in regard to the desertion of France by Russia by declaring that the Czar's persistent aim is to maintain the balance of power, recognizing the fact that Russia and France have common interests and limited responsibilities. France might, therefore, conclude the Gazette, remain absolutely tranquil.

The report that Chancellor von Caprivi obtained a promise from M. De Giers to alter the frontier tariff was baseless. A message issued to-day at St. Petersburg raises the customs duties generally 30 per cent.

The Catholic congress at Coblentz is holding a three days' session. 1,000 persons are in attendance. The congress demands the reestablishment in Germany of all the Catholic orders, including the Jesuits, and the restoration of the Pope's temporal power.

To Make Paris a Seaport.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The Minister of Public Works has submitted to the Cabinet a project for the construction of a sea canal to Paris. Its plans were favorably considered and were referred to a committee of engineers.

The commission of enquiry which has been investigating trans-Saharian railway scheme, has approved a route from Colomb Bechar and Biskra in Algeria across the desert to Lake Tsad. Its length is given at 2000 miles.

Bulgaria and the Porte.

SOFIA, Aug. 31.—The Journal of Bulgaria in an article on the anniversary of the accession of Abdul Hamid II. to the Turkish throne, gives ample praises the sultan's wise and far-seeing policy, which, it says, has had the effect of uniting Bulgarians and their suzerain by bonds of gratitude.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

POTOMAC'S FUTURITY.

BANKER BELMONT'S COLT CAPTURES THE $70,000

His Stable Companion, Masher, Second—Roy Wilkes Lowers the Trotting Record a Half Second—Dundas Wins the Canadian Baseball Championship.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, Aug. 31.—The weather to-day was fine and 20,000 people gathered to witness the races. There were 115 bookmakers on hand, the largest number that ever did business on an American course. The chief attraction was the race for the Futurity Stakes, worth $70,000.

It is not every day that one can see $70,000 go to one man just because a horse passes an iron post with a gilded ball on it, three or four feet before a few other horses, and that accounts for the crowd. There was no pool of duty in the country half so important as that put to-day. It represented $70,000 to somebody. The crowd was probably not as great as on Suburban day, which was attributed probably to the absence of so many New Yorkers in the country or at the seashore.

There were probably 20,000 persons present, so that if the Futurity Stakes had been divided among the spectators everybody would have got $3 and something over with which to pay his expenses.

Last year's race, while containing all possible interest, was not quite so satisfactory in its results. Cahoo, who, on his previous and in some of his subsequent forms, should have finished nearer last than first, stole the prize by a fluke from St. Carlo, who, under ordinary circumstances and with anything like luck, would have scored a handsome and popular victory for Mr. Belmont. The field which ran for the $70,000 yesterday, while not quite so good in point of class or quality as that which faced the starter two years ago, nevertheless provoked a greater and more diversified speculation.

Potomac, Banker August Belmont's colt, by St. Blaise, out of Susquehanna, has won the third Futurity, in 1:14 1-5, and thus becomes a worthy successor to Proctor Knott and Chaos. His stable companion, Masher, by Hindoostan, out of Magnetism, is second, and Strathmeath, the junior champion, a good third.

KING ROY WILKES.

The Record of Maud S., of 2.08 3-4 Lowered by a Whole Half-second.

INDEPENDENCE, Ia., Aug. 31.—Alabaster and Roy Wilkes each lowered a record yesterday. Alabaster's mark was in the 4-year-old trot, purse $5000. It was in the second heat. Alabaster 5's, 0:34 1-4, 1:06 1-4, 1:37 3-4, 2:08 1-4. Quarters 32 1-4, 1:05 1-4, 1:37, 2:08 1-4.

Maud S. made her record, 2:08 1-4, at Cleveland on July 30, 1885.

THE SHAMROCKS NOT BEATEN.

Referee Shanks Makes a Mistake That May Give Toronto the Pennant.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—In the champion ship series the Cornwall and Shamrock team played a lacrosse match on the Shamrock grounds to-day. When time was finally called the score was declared to stand three to two in favor of Cornwall. But it afterwards transpired that through a mistake of Referee Shanks there was yet nineteen minutes to play. This was not discovered till too late and the players left the field, so that the match will have to be played again as this decision may decide.

After the fifth game was scored every one thought the match was over. The players went to their dressing rooms and the spectators went home. The mistake alluded to was then discovered and a conference was held at the hotel, when it was agreed to declare the match off. Both sides with this decision. The mistake was made in computing the number in the first and fourth games and for a foul.

Dundas has the Canadian Champs.

DUNDAS, Aug. 31.—The Dundas baseball team won the championship of Canada here this afternoon, by defeating the Toronto Athletics by 11 runs to 6. To-day, have won two games to 0, before a large and enthusiastic gathering. Great excitement was manifested.

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase—$1,708,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,204, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$43,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,928	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,068,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10 26
North American	5,470,220	10 63
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17 84
Ottawa	2,097,956	29.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,285	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 20 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Hotel Property for Sale.

By reference to advertisement in another column it will be observed that the estate of the late Sidney Smith have placed upon the market the hotel property in Peterborough known as the Croft House. This property will no doubt bring a good price as it is a desirable property for other purposes.

The Custom House.

Work will be begun this week. It is intended by Mr. Askwith, the contractor, to build the foundations only this fall. The government have recently purchased an additional 20 feet on George street from Mr. Phelan. They now own the whole lot from Mr. Comstock's furniture store around to the Cavanagh House. Messrs. Curtis & Son have been contracted with for the brick, Mr. Rehill for the excavation and Mr. John McLennan for the stone.

Range and Rifle.

The annual prize meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association is being held at Ottawa. The Peterborough contingent is scooping in some good prizes. Capt. Hill and Capt. Dennistoun stood third and fourth respectively in the nursery match, winning $10 each, with scores of 23, only one below the highest. Pte. F. Hall also won $5 with a score of 21. In the Macdougall challenge cup match Staff-Sergt. W. A. Mason took a $10 prize with a score of 41 points.

George Street Church Improvements.

On Monday night the contract was closed with Mr. D. Belleghem for extending the choir loft of the George street Methodist church. Under the energetic management of Mr. Seward, organist, the choir has grown so much numerically that there is not room for the accommodation of the members of the choir. The additional room is to be provided by advancing the pulpit about its width to admit of bringing forward the railing of the choir loft so as to give room for another row of seating. Mr. Belleghem has begun the work, and will push it on so that the improvements will be completed by next Sunday.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

Chief Roezel received the following telegram Monday forenoon:—

COOK'S MILLS, Sept. 1.—John Keller killed by falling tree Saturday at Douglass' camp—mother, remarried, lives in Peterborough on Sherbrooke street, opposite Mr. Robb. Hamilton, sr. Enquire if she wants body, which is in bad shape, forwarded.

CHAS. BROS.

Constable Adams was despatched to make inquiries. He found Keller's mother was Mrs. Duquire. The old lady when she heard the sad news fell in a swoon and upon recovering appeared to be heart broken. The body will be brought here for burial. Deceased only left his home two or three weeks ago to work for Cook Bros. in the Serpent River district.

On the Water.

Civic holiday was pretty generally observed in town. Large crowds went out in all directions, the majority going either down the river or up to the lakes. Duck shooting opened Monday and great havoc was created by lovers of hunting. It is estimated that 1500 ducks were shot in the vicinity of Rice Lake. Mr. E. Calcutt's excursion to Jubilee Point was attended by about a hundred people, who were joined by a hundred others from across the lake. The day was spent in fishing and dancing, splendid music and a good pavilion being provided for the purpose. On the way home a large number of private picnic parties were passed. All who spent the day in the open air enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

A New Dye Works.

Mr. A. Parker, proprietor of the prosperous dye works, has succeeded so well in his business that he has decided to enlarge and improve it by erecting a fine new building on Charlotte street, alongside the creek. Ground has been broken, and the work of construction will be hurried along by Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, contractor. The building will be of brick, three stories high, and supplied with all modern conveniences and the latest appliances known to the trade. Mr. Parker will be able to give better satisfaction than ever to his customers. The front will be something elegant. Plate glass windows from top to bottom, with stained glass tops, will be a feature. The building will be large enough to accommodate the entire works and leave room for a handsome office in front. Mr. Parker is to be congratulated upon his success and commended for his enterprise.

A Former Peterboroughnian's Success.

Mr. G. H. Allen, Inspector of Agencies for the Standard Life Assurance Company, of Kingston, and late of Peterborough, has negotiated and secured the passing of a loan of $200,000 at 4½ per cent. to the Right Reverend Archbishop Cleary, of Kingston, on the Catholic Church property of the diocese of Kingston. Besides the Archbishop insures the lives of forty young men (ages from 20 to 30) of his church for $5,000 each, making $200,000 of life insurance. These polices are assigned to the company and, as they become claims, are placed to the credit of the loan. This is said to be one of the largest transactions ever effected in Canada in this manner, and is a good stroke of business for Mr. Allen for which he deserves great credit, and which will give great pleasure to his many friends in Peterborough.

The Bawdy House Case.

Monday's session of the police court was one of the most interesting ever held. The bawdy-house case was on the docket, and the interest usually manifested in such matters by the average male was increased by the fact that a score or more of young men about town had been summoned as witnesses. The court room was crowded to suffocation, and hundreds were turned away. Maud Northcott withdrew her plea of not guilty, to the charge of keeping a house of ill fame, and entered a plea of guilty. The magistrate imposed a fine of $10, stating that he made the punishment for this offense light in view of the previous fine of $100 incurred for selling liquor. Not having the money the prisoner went to gaol for three months. Dave Stewart, who was supposed to be the proprietor of the place in question, was charged with being a frequenter. He pleaded not guilty. Mr. Short represented town solicitor Edwards, and Stewart defended himself in a style which showed that he was quite familiar with police court proceedings. He did not deny going to the house but said it was strictly on business connected with the laundry firm which he represented. A number of witnesses were examined, but the evidence was not very entertaining. Stewart was convicted and fined $20 and costs—in all $33 30—which he paid.

The Workingmen's Picnic.

A Successful Annual Picnic and Excursion—List of the Sports.

Nearly three hundred people went to Campbellford Monday with the Workingmen's Excursion. Labour Day has become a regular institution in Peterborough, and every year the workingmen make it the day of their annual outing. Everything passed off charmingly, Monday. The weather was delightful, quick time was made by the trains, and everything was done by the committee to ensure the comfort of the picnickers. Headquarters were established on the agricultural grounds, where the following programme of sports were run off:—

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Cricketers and Lacrosse Players Win Their Games.

The Baseball Club Defeated—The Madoc Boys Badly Left by the Riversides—The Celts Win Easily at Millbrook.

The baseball club went to Cobourg Monday and were taken into camp by the team of that town. The Peterborough nine comprised only eight local players—all that could be scraped together—and the team was completed by picking up Burt, of Port Hope. With this aggregation, McCabe and Graham as a battery, the Peterboroughs faced one of the strongest amateur nines in Canada, a mixture of the Independent and Cobourg teams, with some American visitors at the Arlington—one of them third baseman for Princeton—thrown in. The game was played in a small vacant building lot with a circus ring in it near the lake shore. Cobourg prides itself on being a good ball town, but it has miserable grounds. The fences are so close together that the least pop outside the diamond is sure to go outside the field. The Cobourgs had played there so much that they appeared to have the knack of lifting the ball just over the boards; there were at least a dozen put beyond the fence. Our fielders were handicapped—McCabe always reckons upon a number of fly hits being taken in. The field work of the two teams was about on a par, but the Cobourg's excelled in their batting—or battery. They took kindly to McCabe's delivery, and pounded out 13 runs in one innings and 8 in another. Turnbull went into the box in the sixth innings and held them down better. The Peterboroughs scored steadily, but could not hit the ball enough to win. P. Mulhall twirled for Cobourg and was relieved in the sixth by Parker, an American player. The score was 31 to 15 against Peterborough—rather agricultural, but just what might have been expected from the style of meadow the game was played in. The complete score was not kept for Peterborough, but the Cobourg scorer has promised to send up a copy of his record in time for to-morrow's EXAMINER.

A feature of the game was the large attendance of ladies. Half the audience was composed of Cobourg ladies, who take an interest in the game and encourage the boys by their presence. Peterborough ladies should also take advantage of the special privilege of free admission made in their favour and attend the games in Peterborough.

THE COLTS' VICTORY.

A contingent of Colts, strengthened by two veterans, journeyed to Millbrook yesterday to play the local eleven. Wood having won the toss elected to send his opponents in. Miles Hamilton, who went in first wicket down, played a magnificent innings for 34 not out, his leg hitting being very fine. No one else succeeded in getting into double figures and the innings closed for 62. Millbrook's innings only produced 46, thanks to the admirable fielding of the Colts, Boucher making two brilliant catches. In their second innings the Colts ran up 65 thus leaving Millbrook 81 runs to make and half an hour to make them in; but when time was up there was a wicket down for twenty-two—and the Colts had won the match on the first innings by 16 runs. Following is the score:—

BY FIVE TO ONE.

The Riversides scored a grand victory over Madoc in the presence of five hundred town people. The large crowd present seemed to indicate a revival of public interest in the national game. It is to be hoped that this will continue. Those present Monday witnessed a good game of lacrosse, and were pleased with the result. The teams lined up as follows:—

Madoc.		Riversides.
J. McDonald	Goal	F. Larone
A. Huff	Point	F. Pakenham
H. Kaschum	Cover Point	T. Meagher
J. H. Orr	1st Defence	J. Cronin
C. Morrison	2nd Defence	E. Hickey
R. Collings	3rd Defence	C. Brennan
C. Lynde	Centre	D. Simons
J. Kirk	3rd Home	J. McCabe
W. Harper	2nd Home	H. Welsh
E. A. Brough	1st Home	J. Phelan
Chas. Cross	Outside Home	J. Daly
H. S. Price	Inside Home	W. Phelan
J. A. Ferguson	Field Captain	W. Radkins
A. E. Seymour	Umpire	F. Corkery

In the opening of the first game a scrimmage followed the face. McCabe got the ball and brought it up to Orchell and threw a drop on the flags; twas knocked behind, and secured by Walter Phelan, who made a side shot over goal. Joe Phelan was standing behind the flags; he swept his stick around and catching the ball nicely carried it through.

The second game gave the defence field some work for a few minutes, but Pakenham relieved them and threw down in front of Madoc goal, where a scrimmage took place. The rubber was shot from the crowd towards the flags, but was going past when Walter Phelan by a quick move guided it through. Time, 3 minutes.

The third game was short and resulted the same as its predecessors. After the face the ball was tossed around centre field a while, Cronin and Hickey showing up well. Ketchum also played a grand game for Madoc, Morrison threw the rubber down field, but it was quickly returned by Daly with a drop on the flags, and Joe Phelan rushed it through. Time, 2 minutes.

The Madocs went in to do or die and by quick, sharp work scored a goal. The ball was in on the Madoc goal first thing, but they claimed a foul—and got a free throw. Their cover-point sent the sphere up to Price, who being uncovered easily scored. Time, 3 minutes.

The fifth games was the most exciting of any, and the spectators seemed to realize that it would be the deciding game. For 25 minutes they were treated to a good exhibition of lacrosse. At the start Welsh was ruled off for fouling. This left Peterborough one man short and Madoc had a good chance to score with this advantage; but the Riversides defence worked hard and though Larone had some close calls no goal was scored. Larone relieved the goal once by a fine run up field, followed by several Madoc men. But they couldn't catch him. Pakenham, Meagher and Cronin played a great game here, and Brennan, Daly and Simons also had a chance to show their ability to play lacrosse. After ten minutes the sides were evened up by Lynde being ruled off for fouling. Finally Orr made a run on the Riversides' goal, but being checked lost the ball. It was returned and Joe Phelan got it. He was not covered, and by a fine bounding shot at 75 feet distance again scored for Peterborough.

The sixth and last game was also taken by Joe Phelan. The sphere went from centre to Madoc's goal. McCabe got the ball and threw at the flags. It went behind, and was returned by Welsh and knocked to centre, where Walter Phelan got it and sent it back. The Madoc boys were so closely checked that they had not a chance to throw, and played a defence game. McCabe again got the rubber and passed it to Joe Phelan, who by a lucky shot sent it through.

There were eight more minutes to play, but the Madoc team did not wish to continue. For Madoc, Cross, Brough and Price did good work, as well as Ketchum.

Mr. B. LaBrun gave every satisfaction as referee, and it looked like old times to see him once more on the field. The Riversides are also indebted to Mr. Wm. Radkins for his able field captaining. The boys show a great improvement in their playing, and are particularly apt at close checking. Following is the record of games:—

Time.	Winner.	Scored by.
1st game, 2 min.	Peterborough	C. J. Phelan
2nd " 3 "	"	W. Phelan
3rd " 2 "	"	C. J. Phelan
4th " 3 "	Madoc	H. S. Price
5th " 25 "	Peterborough	C. J. Phelan
6th " 2 "	"	C. J. Phelan

The boys hope to see a good attendance at their championship game here with Beaverton on Friday.

Gold at Madoc.

An English Syndicate Testing Samples of Ore—Fred. Lingham in North Hastings on a Prospecting Tour—Shipping Tons of Ore to England.

The Madoc Review announces this week that a flutter of excitement has been occasioned in that village lately by rumours of a revival in gold mining in that section, and the indications would seem to point to such a desirable consummation. Mr. Fred. Lingham, who represents probably the largest and wealthiest syndicate of capitalists in the world, of London, England, has been visiting the various gold properties in the Madoc district for the past week or two, and is shipping a great many tons of gold ore to London to be tested. This syndicate is, at the same time, testing a new process machine for crushing and extracting gold, which if satisfactory they have agreed to purchase from the patentee for the enormous sum of £250,000 sterling. They have agents all over the world, where gold can be found sending them samples for testing and we understand for this purpose Mr. Lingham has a credit of $10,000 to be used in examining the Madoc district. If satisfactory, the new machinery will be sent out and mills erected, and we may then look for another "gold excitement." Mr. Lingham will ship about 200 tons from the Feigle, Gladstone, Consolidated and other mines near here, and also a number of tons from the vicinity Flinton. We can only hope that this vision of future prosperity for our mines will come to pass.

Dehorned by Lightning.

Mr. George Williams, senior, is the possessor of a cow that, during the thunderstorm of July 3, lost her left horn and came home without that important appendage. After the storm her owner, on going to repair some damage done to a fence enclosing the field in which the cow was pastured, found two fence stakes shivered into kindling wood, while alongside lay the cow's horn—both evidently put in that position by the lightning that flashed so vividly at intervals during the storm. On examination the entire side of the cow from her ear to her hip was found to be scorched, doubtless by the lightning, when it struck of the horn. The cow during the following couple of days became sick and lost her milk, but at length recovered. Mr. Williams says that during the course of his long life he has seen many strange occurrences, but not one as strange as this.—Picton Times.

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps go as high as the highest, we are noted for having lines at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

BY-LAW No.——

A By-law to aid the Edison General Electric Company by Acquiring and Conveying to the said Company certain lands in the Town of Peterborough, and in other ways.

Passed ...., 1890.

WHEREAS, by an Act of the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, passed in the 53d year of Her Majesty's reign, Cap. 99, it is enacted that the corporation of the Town of Peterborough may by By-law to be passed under the Act passed in the 35th year of Her Majesty's reign, Chaptered 71, to aid the promotion of manufactures in the said Town by assuming and paying the rent of any building or buildings to be used for such purpose, or by erecting any building or buildings, or acquiring any lands or buildings, and granting the same or the use thereof, to any person or persons or body corporate for manufacturing purposes.

And, whereas, by the Act of the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, passed in the 15th year of Her Majesty's reign, Chapter 71, it is enacted that:

"It shall and may be lawful for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, to aid by way of bonus, the promotion of manufactures in or about the said Town of Peterborough, by granting such sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole, the sum of forty thousand dollars, to such person or persons, or body or bodies corporate as to such municipality may seem meet, and in aid of such branch or branches of industry as the said municipality may determine upon and to pay such sum or sums either in one sum or in annual or other periodical payments, with or without interest, and subject to such terms, conditions and restrictions as the said municipality may deem expedient."

And, whereas, it is by the said Acts provided that the by-law or By-laws therein referred to shall have been submitted and approved by the majority of the qualified electors of the Town of Peterborough voting thereon, in the same manner as with money By-laws requiring the assent of the electors.

And, whereas, the Edison General Electric Company have agreed to erect brick or stone buildings of the value of at least thirty thousand dollars on the lands to be conveyed to them as hereinafter mentioned, for the purpose of carrying on the manufactures of the said Company in the said Town on condition that the said Company receive the aid hereinafter mentioned;

And, whereas, the corporation of the Town of Peterborough desires to aid the said Company in the establishment and promotion of its manufactures in the said Town, by acquiring and conveying to the said Company Lots Numbers Fourteen, Fifteen and Sixteen, in Lot Number Thirteen in the Twelfth Concession, formerly in the Township of North Monaghan, now in the Town of Peterborough, excepting thereout the northerly fifty feet of said Lot Number Sixteen to be purchased and used as a street, and by conveying to the said Company that portion of Townsend street lying between said Lots Number Fifteen and Six each and by providing the necessary money as a bonus to the said Company for enabling it to construct a ten-inch water pipe and a sixteen-inch sewer pipe, from the lands so to be conveyed, to the River Otonabee;

And, whereas, the entire cost of the said lands will amount to the sum of eleven thousand dollars or thereabouts, and the cost of constructing the said water and sewer pipes will amount to the sum of four thousand dollars or thereabouts;

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars respectively, and for that purpose to issue debentures of the said Corporation for the said sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars respectively to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum and to be payable in thirty years from the date of issue thereof;

And whereas the amount of the whole ratable property of the Town of Peterborough according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year One housand eight hundred and ninety, is the sum of four millions sixty-five thousand three hundred and fifteen dollars.

And whereas the amount of the existing debenture debt of the said municipality is the sum of two hundred and five thousand, five hundred and fifty dollars and there is no part of the principal or interest in arrear.

And whereas no greater sum than the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars has heretofore been granted by the said Corporation by way of bonuses under the said Act 35 Vict. Cap. 71.

And whereas the amount required to be raised annually in respect of the said sum of eleven thousand dollars is the sum of four hundred and forty dollars for interest and the sum of one hundred and two dollars to provide a sinking fund in respect thereof; and whereas the amount required to be raised annually in respect of the said sum of four thousand dollars is the sum of one hundred and sixty dollars for interest and the sum of forty dollars to provide a sinking fund in respect thereof as by the said act 35 Vict. Cap. 99 required.

The Corporation of the Town of Peterborough by the Council thereof therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-law shall take effect on the thirtieth day of September. One thousand eight hundred and ninety.

2. The Mayor and Treasurer of the said Corporation are hereby authorized to borrow the said respective sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars and for that purpose to issue debentures of the said Corporation to be sealed with the Corporate Seal, and to be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the said respective sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars. Such Debentures shall be made payable at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation in Thirty years from the date of issue thereof, and shall bear interest at the rate of Four per centum per annum, payable half yearly on the Thirtieth day of June and the Thirty first day of December, in each year, and shall have coupons attached thereto respectively for the payment of such interest.

3. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of said Debentures the respective sums of four hundred and forty dollars and one hundred and sixty dollars for payment of said interest sums, and the sums of one hundred and ten dollars and forty dollars respectively, as sinking funds for the payment of the said debts by special rates sufficient therefor upon all ratable property in the said municipality, in addition to all other rates levied in said Municipality.

4. Upon the sale of the said Debentures the moneys received therefor shall be applied to the said purposes respectively in the preamble hereto set forth in the said town, and to no other purpose, and in case the whole of the said sums shall not be required for said respective purposes no greater amount of Debentures shall be issued than shall be required therefor respectively, but the purchaser of any such Debentures actually issued shall not be obliged to inquire or see as to the necessity of such issue or as to the application of the proceeds of such Debentures.

5. The votes of the duly qualified electors of the said municipality shall be taken upon the said By-law on the commencing at the hour of Nine o'clock in the forenoon and closing at Five o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, at the following places and before the following Deputy Returning Officers:

Twenty-fifth Day of September, 1890,

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

ABOUT 100 DELEGATES PRESENT AT THE CAPITAL.

Proceedings of the First Day's Sessions—Speeches For and Against a Distinct Political Party Organization—Report of the Executive Committee.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress met at 10 o'clock this morning in the Council Chamber of the City Hall. Eighty-six delegates were present and before night the number was swelled to 100. J. W. Patterson of the Ottawa Typographical Union called the meeting to order and introduced Mayor Evatt, who welcomed the delegates to Ottawa and expressed a hope that the session would be profitable. Mr. Patterson then introduced J. T. Carey of St. Catharines, who thanked the mayor for his hearty welcome, and in a brief speech congratulated the Congress on the large and representative character of the gathering, closing by formally declaring the Congress open for transaction of business.

When a Credential Committee had been appointed, a point of order raised and settled, and the time for re-assembling fixed at 2 o'clock, the Congress adjourned to give time for scrutiny of the documents which confer on their possessors rights to a seat in the convention.

When the Congress re-assembled at 2 o'clock the report of the Credential Committee was received and concurred in.

George W. Dower read his report as secretary-treasurer, in which he said:

In accordance with the following members of the Government, namely: Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, Hon. Sir John Thompson and Messrs. Carling and Tupper, and impressed upon them the justice of totally discontinuing the granting of assisted passages; that if there was need of assisting people to the Northwest preference should be given our own citizens, with assistance enough to start them in farming; of amending the Anti-Combines Act so as to leave out all reference to labor organizations; of substituting the word "statute" for "law" in the "amendment to the Criminal Law;" of appointing inspectors to carry out the provisions of the safety of ships laws; and the enactment of a law compelling vessels either loading or unloading to have proper tackle and gear to secure people engaged in that class of work from accident.

At the request and on the suggestion of your Executive Committee, who were accompanied by Bro. George Warren of the Cigarmakers' Union of Montreal, Hon. Mr. Costigan introduced and had passed into law an act providing for the destruction of cigar boxes when empty. This very necessary and just measure protects, to a great extent, both the members of the cigarmakers' unions and the public generally against the packing of inferior cigars in the boxes which had previously contained only first class cigars.

Your committee also interviewed Hon. Mr. Carling, Minister of Agriculture and Immigration, and warmly protested against the granting of assisted passages to immigrants from abroad, be they adults or children.

The following report is presented by the Legislature Committee of the Province of Ontario:

We find that since 1872, when organized labor in Ontario in fact in Canada first began to figure as a factor in the domain of practical politics, of the many acts of the Legislature of this province passed into law since that date no less than 30 or 40 of them have been of more or less direct interest and importance to the wage-earners of the Province.

In so far as the legislation of the session of 1890 is specially concerned, your committee desire to bear testimony to the unvarying courtesy accorded them by Attorney-General Mowat, as well as by such of his colleagues in the Government upon whom it was incumbent to wait at any time, in reference to needed legislation or for the purpose of offering suggestions as to measures pending during that session. We are much pleased in being able to report, also, that the Government, in most instances, recognizing the justness of our suggestions, embodied them in Government measures.

While there is more, however, yet very much remains to be done, first in seeking that legislation affecting the working classes should, as nearly as possible, local circumstances will permit, be alike in all the provinces of the Dominion; and, secondly, in agitating in the direction of securing such further legislation as, while not to the detriment of the general interests of the country, will still further improve the conditions surrounding and governing the toilers of the Dominion.

We desire also to draw attention to the act that steps should be taken, either by the Congress itself or by provincial or local labor organizations, to provide funds with which to carry into court, when deemed expedient or necessary, and prosecute to judgment such infractions of existing laws as occur, as well as appealing to higher courts in cases where it appears that justice requires such action, when those aggrieved are not in a position financially, to take the requisite steps in that behalf. In this connection it is but just to record that the Attorney-General of Ontario, at the request and on the application of organized labor, has, in more than one instance, taken steps to sustain the letter and intent of the law respecting cases of the nature referred to.

Your sub-committee desire to record their appreciation of the unvarying attention paid by Capt. William Garson, M.P.P., for the county of Lincoln in the last Legislature of this province, to all matters affecting the interests of working people which came before that body during its existence. His services were ever at the disposal of your representatives, and were of unquestionably great value on many occasions.

Delegate John Bartley of Vancouver, B.C., moved, seconded by D. J. O'Donoghue, that a committee be appointed to take into consideration the advisability of forming a labor platform for the coming Dominion elections. In the discussion which ensued opinions were freely expressed that the congress should eschew politics. An amendment to defer consideration till Thursday and a further amendment by Delegate Jury to consider the resolutions passed by the congress as the labor platform, were offered and discussed.

Delegate MacLeod of Ottawa wished to know whether the resolution aimed at the formation of a distinct Labor party or the adoption of the principle in vogue among the Knights of Labor in the United States which was to accept such candidates irrespective of their political leanings, as would subscribe to the demands of the labor interests. If the Congress attempted to go any further than this the result would fall short of the mover's anticipation.

A vote being taken the amendment of Delegate Jury that the resolutions of this congress be the labor platform was carried by a large majority.

BETRAYED BY HIS LOVE.

BANK ROBBER KIMBALL IN THE TOILS AT NEW YORK.

Met on the Pier by Detectives—The Stolen Bonds, Amounting to $43,500, Found in the ex-Paying Teller's Clothes—Wanted in Worcester, Mass.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Within a few minutes after the big French line steamer La Bretagne had been moored alongside her pier on the North River yesterday Detective Sergeant Rogers had placed under arrest one of her passengers, Frederick Kimball, the ex-paying teller of the People's Savings Bank of Worcester, Mass. Kimball absconded on April 2 with $43,500 worth of the bank's bonds and $4900 in cash. A stately and handsome French brunet, Estelle Le Bon, was reported as his companion in his flight.

Kimball went to Europe and the police have been watching his movements closely ever since. He is a tall man with neatly trimmed whiskers and about 45 years old. He has a wife and two children in Worcester, where his home was a happy one, it is said, until about a year ago, when he became infatuated with the Le Bon woman, who is a French-Canadian and locally well known. The pair grew deeply in love and finally Kimball took advantage of his position to steal a large share of the bank's securities and run away.

The couple took a steamer here for Europe, and spent several months in making a tour on the Continent. In this way nearly all of Kimball's ready money was spent, and finally in Paris they quarreled and the woman left him and returned to America. She went to Boston first, and there Detectives Hayter and Shaw of Worcester located her. They followed her to this city and called on Inspector Byrnes, who aided them with information from Europe and detailed Detective Rogers to assist them.

The woman was watched by the three men, who haunted the uptown flat where she had taken up her residence. Finally the detectives intercepted some of her letters to Kimball, which led them to believe that their difficulties had been healed and that Kimball was coming to America to join her. Then they redoubled their vigilance.

The three detectives followed the woman to the French line pier yesterday and awaited developments with interest. As the passengers came ashore from the steamer she was seen to dart towards one of them, a tall well-dressed man in a dark suit, who wore a soft felt hat, and with little feminine shrieks of joy she cried as she did so:

"It is he! It is Fred!"

The woman was quietly led to one side, while Rogers slipped a pair of handcuffs on Kimball's wrists, and then the entire party went to police headquarters in carriages.

The woman was nearly insane with grief over the thought that by her action she had betrayed her lover into the hands of the police. They were taken before Inspector Byrnes separately. Kimball seemed overcome by surprise at his arrest and was deeply affected, but had very little to say. His clothing was searched, and stitched in the lining of his undershirt, about his waist, were the $43,500 worth of stolen bonds intact. He had very little ready money.

The Le Bon woman shook her jet bangs and burst into a fresh flood of tears as she talked to the inspector. She was plainly but richly dressed. She spoke a jargon of bad French and poor English in her excitement, and said in substance that she loved Kimball better than any person she had ever met, that he loved her and his wife did not love him. She was heartbroken to think she had been the means of leading the police to him. She was released.

TO AVENGE A FATHER'S DEATH.

Senorita Barrundia Tries to Shoot United States Minister Mizner.

CITY OF GUATEMALA, Sept. 2.—A daughter of Gen. Martin Barrundia, who was shot to death in the cabin of the Pacific Mail steamship Acapulco last week, attempted to shoot United States Minister Mizner yesterday. Mr. Mizner was at his desk translating the guarantee given to him by this government that Barrundia's life would be spared in case he surrendered, when the young woman came into the office. As the minister looked up from his work she was standing within four feet of him with a revolver in her hand. She saluted him, saying, "Are you the American minister?"

Mr. Mizner replied, "I am. Can I be of any service to you?"

With flashing eyes she accused him of having been directly the cause of her father's death and announced that she meant to kill him. Mr. Mizner took the matter coolly and tried to reason with the girl, who was apparently almost crazed with excitement, and in the most tragic manner poured on him the bitterest invective of which the Spanish language is capable. At last she pulled the trigger of the pistol. Mr. Mizner had taken up a heavy law book, which he, with apparent carelessness, held between himself and the girl, and the ball which was meant for his heart was caught in the leaves of the book. The sound of the shot attracted attention, and before a second shot could be fired assistance arrived and the pistol was taken from the young woman. Throughout the entire exciting interview Mr. Mizner maintained the utmost coolness, which unquestionably saved his life.

Policemen were called in and the young woman was arrested. She proved to be Christina Barrundia, a daughter of the murdered general. As soon as President Barillas heard of the occurrence he sent his respects and offered the power of his government to protect the American legation. Mr. Mizner, however, declined the offer, and will not prosecute the lady and insists that no further notice shall be taken of the affair. It is generally believed that Barrundia would have been in no danger of death had he not resisted arrest.

ALIEN CONTRACT LABOR.

The Washington House Passes a Bill Aimed at Canadians Along the Line.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The House yesterday adopted the amendment to the contract labor act after several speeches had been made in its favor, amongst them one by Mr Chipman of Michigan, who spoke of affairs as he knew them on the Michigan frontier line, where Canadian laborers had been daily seen crossing and returning, competing with American laborers, who should be protected against them. The bill did not prevent acquisition of desirable citizens, but it proposed to keep out the aliens who reside among us, partook of the benefits of our free institutions and in war refused service to our Government. The existing law, strong as it was, had been evaded with ease.

Mr. Wade of Missouri, from the committee on labor, then called up the bill prohibiting the employment of convict labor on public works. Passed.

Also the bill to prevent the purchase of supplies, the product of convict labor, by the United States. Passed.

AN EXCUSABLE MISTAKE.

The Buffalo Police Board's Verdict on Mrs Tupper's Arrest.

BUFFALO, Aug. 31.—The Board of Police Commissioners yesterday closed its investigation of the arrest of Mrs. Edith Sessions Tupper in Toronto on the strength of a despatch from Superintendent of Police Morin of that city. The finding adopted was:

"Resolved, That it is the unanimous opinion of the board that the arrest of Edith Sessions Tupper was a mistake liable to occur at any time in the working of police affairs."

Mrs. Tupper has something more to say now regarding the statement that Morin apologized to her by letter, and that the Toronto police understood the cause bell. She telegraphed last night from New York to The Times:

"Buffalo statement of Morin and police commissioner that they and Toronto police never letters apology to me at time of arrest since is false."

A BULLET IN HIS CHEEK.

A WINDSOR FESTIVITY WINDS UP IN A ROW.

Colored Devotees of Terpsichore Engage in a Free Fight—Joseph Reed Dangerously Wounded—The Would-be Assassin Avoids Arrest.

WINDSOR, Sept. 2.—Last night a dance of colored people took place at Brighton Beach. Some of the participants engaged in a row, during which Joseph Reed, aged about 19, living at 198 Goyeau-street, was shot through the left cheek by one Kemp. Reed with remarkable fortitude walked to his home accompanied by a friend named Kelly. The wounded man fainted three times on the way from loss of blood. Dr. Reaume probed for the ball this morning but was unable to find it. Reed is delirious and his condition is dangerous.

Soon after the shooting Kemp met William Reed, a brother of the victim, and drew his revolver again. William was too fast for Kemp, however, and knocked him down, taking the revolver away. As William knew nothing of Kemp's attack on his brother he permitted him to escape. The police are looking for Kemp.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1890.

The Divinity of Christ.

Sermon Preached in St. Paul's Church on Sunday, August 31st.

The above subject formed a chief feature of a sermon delivered by Rev. E. F. Torrance, in St. Paul's church on Sunday, which, from the nature of another sermon published in part a few days ago in the EXAMINER, will be of special interest to many persons. The reverend gentleman took as the foundation of his sermon, Acts xvi-31. The following is the portion of the sermon more especially referring to the above subject:—

Rev. Mr. TORRANCE said:—The three points upon which I wish to speak to-day are, the object of faith, the nature of faith, and the result of faith.

THE OBJECT OF FAITH.

The object of faith is the Lord Jesus Christ. There can be no doubt that multitudes have made the Lord Jesus Christ, the object of their faith, and yet have had very crude and imperfect ideas as to His person and work. This must have been the case with the Old Testament saints. They looked forward to a coming Messiah; but their ideas about that Messiah were not realized in the Messiah, who actually came. None of them uttered remarkable prophecies of the Messiah; but these prophecies were uttered under inspiration, and their full meaning they did not themselves understand. This was certainly the case with the disciples in the lifetime of our Lord. It was only gradually that the great truth of the divinity dawned upon their minds; up to the last day they had no idea as to the necessity and meaning of His death. This was certainly the case also with the Philippian jailor. It is not necessary for us to suppose that this was the first occasion on which he had heard the name of Jesus. Paul and Silas had been for some time preaching in Philippi, and in all probability their statements concerning the life and death of Jesus had reached the jailor's ears. Notwithstanding this, however, the jailor could not have had very clear ideas as to the person and work of Christ. This is certainly the case likewise with many in our own day. There are little children, who trust in Christ as their Saviour, though they do not understand that He is the God-Man and that He died as a sacrifice for sins. While many, with crude and imperfect ideas about Christ, make Him the object of their faith, it is a great advantage to understand clearly the constitution of His person and the nature of Hisdeath. This brief sentence which Paul and Silas addressed to the jailor, contain a great deal of truth concerning Him on whom we ought to believe. Let us consider what is implied in the words the Lord Jesus Christ. The word 'Lord' implies that Jesus Christ is divine. The divinity of Christ is one of the fundamental articles of the Christian faith. There are those that hold that He was the ideal man, the embodiment of perfection, but they deny that He was in any real sense divine. It is certainly strange that any can hold to the perfection of Christ's character, and yet

DENY HIS DIVINITY.

There are some who have constructed an argument for Christ's divinity upon the perfection of His character as man. Once in the history of the world has there appeared a Man free from the slightest stain of sin and adorned with every virtue. How can we account for the fact that this Man is the one solitary exception to the rest of the human race? Only on the supposition that He is more than man. Yes, that He is the Son of God. We may have an unanswerable argument for Christ's divinity upon the claims which He himself puts forth. How could He, the perfect man, have claimed to be divine if He were not really so? He gave the Jews to understand that He existed before Abraham, and they, regarding the claim as blasphemous, took up stones to cast at Him. At another time He asserted to the Jews His equality with the Father, in the words, "I and my Father are one"; and again they took up stones to slay Him. He commended Peter for his answer: "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Yes, Jesus was not a perfect man merely, but

HE WAS GOD AS WELL.

He was the incarnate Son of God, the one who, having existed from all eternity in the bosom of the Father, in the fulness of time became man. In the person of Christ, God was brought nigh to man; the unveiled splendor of the divine majesty was visible in the human form of the Redeemer, so that man could see the face of God and live.

The word "Jesus," which means Saviour, implies that the Lord is human. The angel who spoke to Joseph about the birth of Mary's child, said: "And thou shalt call His name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins." And the angel who came to the shepherds said: "Fear not, for unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ, the Lord." The Saviour was a man. He took part of the flesh and blood of which the children were partakers. In all things He was made like unto His own. He had a true body and a reasonable soul. All the sinless infirmities, which pertain to human nature, were found in Him. He suffered from cold and hunger and fatigue. He craved human sympathy. His gentle and sensitive nature shrank from the opposition of men. As if to be more thoroughly to identify himself with humanity, He spoke of himself again and again as the Son of Man. He said, 'For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.'

The word "Christ," which means anointed, implies that the Lord Jesus is set apart for the discharge of certain offices. The three offices for the discharge of which he is set apart are the offices of prophet, priest and king. As prophet he teaches, as priest he atones, as king he rules.

Let us speak for a moment upon his office as priest. As a priest He offered up of himself a sacrifice to satisfy divine justice and reconcile us to God; and He makes continual intercession for us. 'For this man, after he had offered up one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God. From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.' Wondrous truth! The Son of Man offered himself as a sacrifice. He took our sins upon Him and He bare the penalty which we had incurred. He came in between us and the curse of the law and averted the curse by enduring it Himself. He drained to its dregs the cup of wrath in order that we might enjoy the cup of salvation. He was forsaken of the Father as He hung upon the cross in order that we might enjoy the presence of the Father forever. The Lord Jesus Christ the object of faith, is divine and human, and the redeemer of fallen man.

THE NATURE OF FAITH.

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." While the term "faith" is now applied almost exclusively to the attitude of the soul with regard to the testimony of God; it had originally a much wider application. In its first and most elementary sense it applies to the reliance placed by one man on the truthfulness and integrity of another. In this sense faith is exercised to a certain extent by all men, and without it intercourse between man and man would be impossible. If no man had any reliance upon the truthfulness and integrity of another there would be an end to all pleasure in domestic and social intercourse, as well as to all possibility of engaging in commercial transactions.

There are some who hold that the faith which we have in the testimony of God as to His Son Jesus Christ is of the same nature precisely as the faith which we have in the testimony of our fellow men. According to this view, faith has its rest in the intellectual part of our nature. While there are some strong arguments in favour of this view of faith, we do not think that it is correct. Are there not many who have an intellectual apprehension of the truths of the Gospel, who are not living under the power of these truths? This could hardly be if the intellectual view of faith were correct. Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ is an intellectual act, and insofar as it is that, it is like faith which we place in our fellowmen. But it is more than an intellectual act; it is a moral act as well. It is not merely the assent of the understanding to what God reveals in His Word, but it is trust, a reliance upon Him of whom "this is the record that God has given to us eternal life and this life is in His Son." It is an act in which the will and the affections are concerned as well as the understanding. The Gospel is God's message to us concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, and they who truly believe the Gospel, appropriate Him concerning whom the Gospel speaks. Their minds apprehend the message, but their wills and their affections go out to Him who is the subject of the message.

THEY APPROPRIATE JESUS CHRIST.

and thus become one with Him. This is the view of faith, which is presented in our Shorter Catechism. The Catechism says: "Faith in Jesus Christ is a saving grace whereby we receive and rest upon Him alone for salvation as He is offered to us in the Gospel." In support of the definition, we have the words of the evangelist John: "And as many as received Him to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name." Those therefore, who believe on the name of the son of God, receive Him as their personal Saviour. They receive Him as the gift of God to them; as the one who has just taken away their sins by the sacrifice of Himself.

There are several terms used in Scripture, as synonomous, with and from them we see how simple faith really is. It is sometimes set forth by a look. As in looking we direct the eye of the body to some object without us; so in believing we direct the eye of the soul to the Lord Jesus Christ. "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness." It is sometimes set forth by a touch. What more simple than a touch! As in touching there is contact between the body or some member of it and some object without us, so in believing there is contact between the soul and the Lord Jesus Christ. It is sometimes set forth by "come." What more simple than to come? As in coming the body passes from one place to another; so in believing the soul passes from a state of self-reliance into a state of reliance upon Christ. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ; look to Him with the eye of faith; touch Him with the hand of faith; come to Him just as you are and commit unto Him your soule.

TONAWANDA'S FIREBUG.

John Lump Confesses to Kindling Over a Dozen Conflagrations.

BUFFALO, Aug. 31.—Tonawanda is rid of a demon whose delight was to set fire to lumber yards out of revenge. Numerous fires occurred within the past few years, but on Thursday night a citizen of Tonawanda made a lucky capture. He saw a man get some waste out of the car journals at a switch, which the fellow was putting to good use. The fellow was John Lump, aged 25 years, and a resident of North Tonawanda, where he was born. Lump confesses to having kindled over a dozen fires in lumber yards and mills where he had been refused employment. In one case a loss of $100,000 ensued.

Incendiarism in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 31.—No less than six fires evidently of incendiary origin broke out in Brooklyn last night, and only prompt work of the firemen prevented loss of life. The police are at a loss to account for the motive of the firelings unless pure devilry or insanity may account for it. Five of the fires did but trifling damage. George Perkins was arrested on suspicion of starting one of them. The sixth fire started at 11 a.m. in rubbish in the cellar of the four story double flat house 452 Atlantic avenue. There was a panic among the sleeping tenants. Three tenants were injured. Fireman Meyer was overcome by smoke. A baby was so severely burned that it died a few minutes later. The loss was $7,000. Thomas Connolly was arrested on suspicion of starting the fire.

"MRS." TRAVERS BADLY HURT.

A Canadian Girl's Accident in New York Something of a Mystery.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Travers, who with a companion was thrown from a Tilbury in Eighth avenue on Wednesday and seriously injured, was said to be in a critical condition last evening at her residence, No. 128 West Seventieth street. There is a good deal of mystery surrounding No. 128 West Seventieth street. In November, 1885, William R. Travers, the celebrated wit and Wall street operator, presented each of his three sons and six daughters with a house and lot on the south side of West Seventieth street, with the stipulation that the property should not be sold or mortgaged before the expiration of fifteen years. Beverly J. Travers, a young man, received No. 128.

About four years ago Beverly married a woman with whom he did not subsequently agree. Some time after that he met, it is said, at Newport, a Miss Dido Davis, who came from Canada and went visiting in the States. She was tall, rather stout, fair and decidedly handsome. She comes of a good Canadian family.

It is reported that Miss Davis and Travers were secretly married in this city, though there are those who deny it. At any rate she was installed in No. 128 as the mistress of the house and was fully recognized in the neighborhood as Mrs. Travers. Apparently she had all the comforts and luxuries she needed and was very fond of driving, which eventually led to the accident. Mr. Travers it is alleged, did not live at the house and only visited the place. His own residence is in the Broadway Apartment house.

The Decline of Life

In the decline of life, when one is going down hill, the passage should be made as smooth and pleasant as possible. The moral evils can often be guarded against by religion and philosophy; but our physical weaknesses—our dyspepsia, sick headache, sour stomach and biliousness can be cured only by Beecham's Pills, the greatest remedy of the age for diseases of the stomach and liver. w361

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

Suddenly Prostrated.

GENTLEMEN,—I was suddenly prostrated while at work by a severe attack of cholera morbus. We sent at once for a doctor, but he seemed unable to help. The Sleep of the Just.

For sleepless night depending on worry, vexation, indigestion, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is a remarkably efficient cure. "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for sleepless nights and now sleep well all night. I recommend it to all suffering from imperfect rest." GEO. H. SHIEL, Stony Creek, Ont. 2w351

Some of the Western Politicians collect the seeds of a plant, powder and sift them, and then bake into cakes, which they smear with oleomargarine and eat. OCEAN RAFTING.

Mr. Leary's Third Venture Not a Glittering Success

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The third venture of James D. Leary, in transporting heavy rafts of spruce and pine logs from St. John, N.B., has not been a success. The latest experiment consisted of two lots of 8 and 16 sections respectively, in tow of the Storm King and Dirigo, small tug boats from St. John. The towing masters committed a mistake at the outset by taking the inside passage, hoping to escape the storm centers of the Bay of Fundy. The current greatly impeded the progress of the boats, and heavy storms set in. Before reaching Rockland, Me., several sections of logs were swept away, and when the tow was moved seaward it was caught in a terrific storm near Seal Harbor, and the tugs could not manage it. The great logs, swayed and tossed by the angry sea, pulled the tugs down until the waves swept their decks. The rafts drifted toward the shore, and the eight sections in tow by the Dirigo were being sucked into the eddies that led to the breakers. Reaching them, it became a question whether the Dirigo should cut loose or be drawn upon the rocks.

The captain of the big boat was loath to cut loose from the valuable raft until his crew revolted and insisted that the boat be saved. He asked for more time for consideration, and was told by his engineer and fireman that if he hesitated they would cast him overboard. The raft was pulling shoreward, and as the Dirigo was being tossed about on the outer edge of the white breakers one of the deck lands severed the big hawser, and the boat was saved. The eight sections of logs were dashed to pieces on the rocks, and 600 of them were lost to Leary. The Dirigo went to the relief of the Storm King, and the remaining lot of six sections was towed safely to Portland. The lost logs were worth $20,000. Captain Laughlin, who represents Leary, started yesterday in the powerful tug Hercules to bring the other raft to port. Leary expects to start another great raft soon.

MRS. EMORY DYING.

The Marmora Tragedy Recalled—Peter Davis' Dying Wish.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Martha Emory, who was tried for the murder of her husband Sept. 19, 1887, in a Marmora swamp and acquitted, Peter Davis paying the penalty of the crime on the gallows, is dying at the home of her father in Marmora. Since the hanging of her alleged lover she has been steadily declining in health, until, a mere skeleton, she has been forced to give in to the protection of her father's roof. She has been attacked with fever, and those who knew her robust constitution state that she cannot recover. Public sentiment against the fallen woman has been severe, but she has almost given way under the storm, and it is not likely she will ever again face her fellow creatures.

A fact in connection with the cold blooded tragedy which has not yet been given to the public was told to a reporter of The Ontario last week. It was one of Peter Davis' last wishes to have it known that Mrs. Emory's youngest child, whom Davis claimed he was the father, should be taken from her and given over to a responsible guardian. Rev. S. Day who was with the prisoner almost continually, agreed to fulfil this request and accordingly drove to Marmora and asked that the child be handed over in accordance with the alleged father's request. He was unsuccessful in his mission, however, as the mother refused to part with it and was encouraged by her father, with whom the children are now living.

THE WORLD OF LABOR.

Troublous Times in Melbourne—The Shipping Docks Barricaded.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 31.—A proclamation has been placarded throughout the city prohibiting gatherings of men the object of which is to intimidate workmen who refuse to strike. A guard has been placed about the gas works and some gas was available last night.

The full police force of this city and 500 special constables were on duty today, but the labor demonstration which marked the day proved to be orderly. Forty thousand men representative of all trades, formed in procession and paraded the streets. At the meeting, subsequently held a resolution of thanks to the support given by English unions to the strikers here was adopted. The deficiency of gaslight in the streets caused by the gas stoker strike has been partially remedied by the use of electric lights.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Aug. 31.—The colonial government has decided to partially barricade the circular quay here for protection against blacklegs while the strike in the shipping trade is on.

LABOR IN POLITICS.

Brutal Assault on Two Agitators in Arkansas—Tickets Stolen by the Mob.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—A despatch from Little Rock says: A mob of about 200 men acted prompt and some on foot, yesterday surrounded the Merrilltown station on both sides of the track. A Union-labor mass meeting was to have been held here yesterday. On the incoming train from Little Rock among others were J. B. McLaughlin a well-known Union-Labor orator, and Geo. Small of Springfield, Conway County, a prominent white Republican who had been here for the purpose of getting Union Labor tickets for use in Conway County for the election to-morrow. Small carried the tickets, 5000 in all, in a valise. When the train stopped a crowd of men, sprang forward and poured into the coach where McLaughlin and Small were seated. Small was struck repeated upon the head with bowie knives and soon lost consciousness. McLaughlin was thrown upon the floor and his right shoulder was severely wrenched. After striking Small several additional blows, the satchel was dragged from beneath his feet and passed through the crowd. In a few moments the assailants had left the car. All the business houses were closed and every man and boy in town were out taking in the general excitement.

Strike Notes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Varnishers' Union of Brooklyn and New York today decided that the 500 members should strike Tuesday to secure an increase of wages. The union men constitute about half those in the trade.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 31.—The locomotives of the Standard Coke Works struck yesterday against unorganized labor. The furnaces have been banked and the plant is now abandoned.

Farm Mortgages in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Aug. 31.—Letters from 45 district court clerks show there were 110 foreclosures of farm mortgages in those counties during the first six months of 1890, about 2 to the county. The letter for the 105 counties in the state on the same basis would show 4,620 or probably about 5 to the county. A large proportion of the foreclosures are on unoccupied lands bought up and mortgaged for what they would bring by speculation.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE ACCIDENT RECORD.

FIFTEEN PERSONS CRUSHED AND BURNED AT A FIRE.

Many Workmen Buried Alive in a Cellar—Victims of Runaway Horses Killed by Electric Light Wires—Frightful Fall From a Balloon.

PESTH, Aug. 30.—Fifteen persons were killed to-day in a building which was on fire in the village of Majoe Keresteze. They were in the building endeavoring to save property when the roof fell, crushing them to death.

The cellar of a brewery in Stotteritz, Saxony, in which a number of men were at work collapsed to-day, burying sixteen of the workmen. Of the [illegible] seven were killed and the remainder were severely injured.

KILLED BY HORSES.

A Runaway Ends an Old Man's Life—Crushed Under a Load.

BLYTH, Aug. 31.—George Densteed's horse broke loose and ran down the sidewalk the other day, knocking down Squire Wilson. The old gentleman was so badly injured that he died last week. The deceased was one of the oldest members of the Methodist church here and a Conservative in politics, also one of the oldest members of the Masonic Order in the section. He leaves an aged wife, four sons and four daughters.

Run Over By a Wagon.

SARNIA, Aug. 31.—While drawing wood from his farm in Enniskillen, William R. Butler of Sarnia Township met with a fatal accident. In passing over a bridge the tongue of the wagon fell. Mr. Butler, thinking that he with the load would be thrown into the ditch, jumped in front of the load when his foot became entangled in the reins. The wagon passed over his body, breaking his ribs and crushing in the left lung. His injuries were of such a serious nature that he died Thursday noon. The deceased leaves a wife and nine children.

Trampled on by Horses.

NAPANEE, Aug. 31.—Jack Lynn of this place, while sitting on a nail keg in Lowry's blacksmith shop, fell asleep. Mr. Lowry wakened him once, but he was soon off again soundly that he fell over under the feet of a span of colts standing in the shop. The colts being frightened, trampled upon him inflicting some dangerous wounds and bruises. His head was the place of the chief injuries, his skull being fractured. Dr. Rutan advised his removal to the hospital where the operation of trepanning could be performed and he would be sure of proper attention. At last reports he was likely to recover. Some of those who witnessed the accident vaunted over the ghastly appearance of his wounds.

The U S Duty on Barley.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Pressure exerted by the Senators from North Dakota and Minnesota, who insisted that they must have something for their people in return for the protection which they were asked to vote to the manufacturers of the east, induced the Senate last week to fix the duty on barley at 30 cents per bushel and the duty on barley meal at 45 cents, and these figures will go into effect Oct. 1. The sheep duty was altered so as to make the impost $1.50 per head on sheep one year old or more and 75 cents per head on sheep less than one year old. This is the only change of any account likely to be made in the agricultural schedule. It is now well settled that the final vote on the Tariff Bill is to be taken in the Senate Sept. 8. The bill will be signed by the President a few days afterwards and will go into force Oct. 1.

One Wife Too Many.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—Henry John Stuart Roy, who married Miss Walgrove in England 10 years ago and again committed matrimony with Annie Marie Switzer in this city May 7, 1891, was yesterday committed for trial on a charge of bigamy.

His Tongue Torn Out by Footpads.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 31.—While walking in the eastern part of the city early this morning samuel Fosbenes was brutally assaulted by four footpads and robbed. In the struggle his tongue was torn from its roots and he was found [illegible] when found he was unconscious.

We cannot all be first, but T. A. STORM of 186 West Adelaide St., Toronto, Ont., must feel more than ordinary pride in the success of his valuable preparation for the cure of lung diseases, viz: STORM'S ONYX ENALED EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL. No preparation of the kind has ever met with the same success in the same time and the testimonials in its favor are all from the same authentic sources. Every druggist sells it. w36-ws

A Daughter's Influence.

"For four years I had pimples and sores breaking out on my hands and face, caused by bad blood. Medicine from the doctor was tried without avail, but after using two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I am well." MISS MABEL LINDSAY, Sawyerville, Que. 2w35d

It Saved His Life.

GENTLEMEN,—I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it saved my life when I was about six months old. We have used it in our family when required ever since, and it never fails to cure all summer complaints. I am now fourteen years of age. FRANCIS WALSH, Dalkeith, Ont. 2w35d

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,706,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,684,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,628	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,058,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.36
North American	5,470,620	10.68
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17.84
Citizens	2,097,956	29.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30.12
London Life	1,644,235	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Orders for Turner.

Mr J. J. Turner, has received an order from Major Sloan, of Boschink, for a curtain 305 feet long to run around the verandah of his summer house. The Major has also ordered a Dominion ensign from Mr. Turner. The Prince Edward Agricultural Society have written Turner for a large ensign for their exhibition buildings at Picton. Mr. Turner has also received a large order from Belleville. All these things betoken the enterprise and excellent workmanship of Turner the tent and awning maker.

Dry Goods Opening.

Messrs. Dolan & Hackett will open out on Saturday in M. Sullivan's old stand, 395 George street a new dry goods shop. This will be found superbly stocked with a fine assortment of staple and fancy dry goods. The stock is entirely new and selected with the greatest care in the best markets at very favourable prices, and will be sold at a very close margin on cost. The public will find at this store always the finest goods, the best selections and the most moderate prices. Remember the opening next Saturday. d53w36

It is confidently expected that the display of flowers and fruits will, this year, surpass all previous ones; and, in addition to the usual attractions, there will be an exhibit of drawing by the Mechanics Institute class. The citizens should turn out en masse, and, while themselves enjoying a sight of the finest flowers and fruits grown in the town and district, encourage the directors and gentlemen who are the promoters of the exhibition.

The Champion Coming.

The Caledonian Games to be held on the 25th September, under the management of St. Andrew's Society, and in connection with our Central Fair, promises to be a big attraction. Entries for these events began coming in last week and to-day the secretary received a letter from Mr. William Johnston, the present champion dancer and bagpipe player of America, instructing him to enter his name for competition in the following:—Highland Fling, Sword Dance, Bagpipe competition and Best Dressed Highlander. Mr. Johnston's presence here will undoubtedly give an increased attraction to these games.

The Stony Lake Store.

The Lakefield Chronicle says that one and all of the visitors to Stony Lake during the present camping season unite in praising the store kept by Mr. T. W. Robinson, of Peterborough, one of the most popular resorts on the lake. Mr. Robinson has not only supplied campers with everything necessary to make camp life a pleasure, but has also acted as general postmaster and kept a depository for all parcels, messages, appointments, etc., on the lake. Campers of Stony Lake trust to see Mr. Robinson back in his old quarters another year.

Personal.

Capt. Andrews, whose record as a saver of the lives of human beings from drowning is probably the highest in the world, arrives in Peterborough to-morrow. He will be easily recognized by the numerous medals that adorn his breast. He has saved the lives of 68 persons, and his medals correspond to these acts of bravery, which have by the necessary exposure involved, caused loss of eyesight. Since this affliction he has turned his attention to writing poetry, and he goes about selling copies of his little book "The Life Boat and other Poems," and on this mission he will be in Peterborough to-morrow.

A Convenient Canoe Slide.

Canoeists will feel grateful to Mr. R. B Rogers, Superintendent of the Trent Valley Navigation. He is having a canoe slide put in at the locks, so that canoes can be got over the dam with very little trouble. All the labour of transferring luggage and lifting the canoe will be obviated by the improved slide. Running up alongside the new platform, which has been built at the usual portaging place, the canoes are shoved on the slide, which is fitted with rollers, and run down into the water. The return is nearly as easy. One person can handle a canoe without any trouble. The slide will probably be finished this week. Mr. Rogers will receive the hearty thanks of the hundreds of people who frequent the river for recreation, for this convenience at the dam.

A Good Team.

Messrs. Carr & Davidson, rubber stamp works, etc., have removed their place of business from Toronto and have wisely selected premises on the site where a thriving business was built up—in the old EXAMINER block, 425 George street. The premises are well adapted to their business, a handsome plate glass front, and well equipped inside for their business, which embraces the manufacture of rubber stamps, banking, commercial and every other description, steel name stamps, stencils, self-inking and dating stamps, pocket stamps, printing wheels, at from $6 to $25, according to size, notary and lodge seals, rubber type, door plates, etc. The firm is making preparations for stereotyping in celluloid. Both members of the firm are young men of push and intelligence, and both practical printers having gained their knowledge in the EXAMINER office, and they will, doubtless, build up a large business, not only in Peterborough, but all over Dominion. They have even executed orders for stamps for places in South America. The EXAMINER wishes them every success.

A Few Suggestions.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

I understand that our rate of taxation this year is 15 mills, an increase over last year, and we will soon be asked to vote on another money bylaw—and one that in my opinion ought to carry. But there are a few things that our Council and Board of Trade ought carefully to consider, with a view to keeping our rate of taxation down, and at the same time give us just as good or a better service than ever. For instance, I think, if they would think the matter out, we could own the waterworks and give more efficient service for fire, etc., and be at liberty to supply manufacturers with water for less than it now costs the town. Then, in the matter of electric light, I understand that an electric light plant complete, lamps, wires, poles and everything necessary (except power) set up, can be obtained for $15,000; and the power and attention, etc., required can be obtained for about $3,500 or $4,000 per annum; and these would burn all night. We now pay more than $4,000 for about 60 lamps burning until midnight only. 100 lights burning all night under our present system, would cost us eight or ten thousand at least. I merely throw out these hints because they are large items of expenditure, and are deserving of the careful consideration of all the ratepayers.

Obituary.

The Late Wm Pearson of Smith.

A few days ago the EXAMINER recorded the death of Wm. Pearson, of Smith, at the advanced age of 90 years and 8 months. The deceased was a native of Kingston, though born of American parentage. From Kingston he removed to Quebec where he was living at the time of the declaration of the war of 1812. He, with his father, went to the other side and enlisted on the side of the United States, at the early age of 13 years, and saw considerable service in the western peninsula of Ontario, receiving in all a pension for his service. While his father and he were fighting for the Yankees a brother, Silas, fought on the Canadian side. About 1820 William Pearson returned to Canada again and settled, with his brother Silas, on lot 19 in the 10th concession of Smith, being one of the earliest settlers. He afterwards sold out to his brother and bought the south half of lot 19 in the 9th concession, which he held till his death. He married Mary Fitzgerald who bore to him twelve children, six sons and six daughters. All are living but one son. Two sons and three daughters are in Michigan and the others reside in their native township. Mr. Pearson was a very unassuming man and took no active part in public matters. He was straightforward and honest in all his dealings and much respected by all who knew him. The funeral on Sunday was very largely attended.

Women's Work.

W. C. T. U. Annual Meeting—Election of Officers and President's Address.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held their annual meeting Tuesday. The election of officers resulted as follows:—

PRESIDENT—Mrs. Patou.

VICE-PRESIDENTS—One from each church—Mrs. Rutherford from George street; Mrs. Jas. Stratton, Baptist; Mrs. Alexander, St. Paul's; Mrs. R. Stenton, Charlotte street; and Mrs. Wand, Mark street.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY—Mrs. Hawkins.

RECORDING SECRETARY—Mrs. Price.

TREASURER—Mrs. Lousley.

SUPERINTENDENT OF BAND OF HOPE—Mrs. Paton, assisted by Mrs. Dr. Stephenson and Mrs. Price.

The superintendents of other departments will be elected at next meeting.

Mrs. Paton, as president for the last year, as well as superintendent of the Band of Hope and superintendent of Literature Department, has performed her many duties with unwearying faithfulness, and we are sure the Master has bestowed upon her His magnificent eulogy—"She hath done what she could."

The following is the president's address (published by request of the Union):—

Dear sisters in the Grand Army of White Ribboners, of which our Union in Peterborough forms a part, another year has passed in our work—our labour of love for the reforming and lifting to a higher level our brothers and sisters that are brought to the lowest ebb through drink and other evils that fellow in its train. It has been a year of prosperity to some; to others a year of trials, which come upon us all more or less, but concerning which we rest assured that our Heavenly Father knoweth what is best for each of us. We have been spared to see the close of this year; death has not entered our ranks; we are the living to praise Him. Holy and blessed is His name.

Dear sisters, from all the observations I have taken as I pass along I conclude that our laws in connection with the rum traffic are loopholes through which we are deprived of our rights. Our grocery stores where drink is sold are the greatest evils we have to contend with. Many happy homes are made miserable through the sale of strong drinks in these stores, because women and children that would never enter a bar-room are reached and ruined by the sale of liquor in the groceries. In view of all this I would suggest that when the time comes again for petitioning for licenses, we do all in our power to stop this traffic.

In the past year of our work we have had many things to contend with. For instance the expense of printing in our local papers and the lack of co-operation in pastors and people of the different churches in our midst. With a little more help along these lines we could do a great deal more than we can situated as at present.

Thanking the ladies that have labored with me "For God, and Home, and Native Land," I remain yours in God's noble cause,

MRS. GEO. PATON,
President.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting was well attended Saturday evening. Mr. James Hanna gave a very earnest address on the turning point in the life of Moses. The attendance was good. All present were helped and blessed.

The consecration meeting was a season of much blessing to all who attended on Sabbath morning.

Mr. Wm. Barker, Allandale, gave a pointed and touching Gospel address at the open air service in Central Park on Sabbath afternoon. His earnest words made a deep impression on the hearts of the large crowd, who showed their interest by their attention. Mr. Wm. Wallbrooke followed with a few heart searching words on the need of the new birth. Praise the Lord, we are seeing fruit in the life of some who are attending. The singing was effectively led by the Y.M.C.A. band.

At the Gospel and song service on Sabbath evening Rev. Mr. Torrance gave a delightful address. It carried all by its earnestness, simplicity and power, and we are satisfied much good will be the result. Mr. Wm. Barker gave a few earnest words to the workers on "Consecration." It was a blessed meeting to all present.

PROTECTION FOR FARMERS.

New York Republicans Endorse the McKinley Bill.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Republican State Committee met to-day and decided not to call a state convention. Judge Earl (Dem.), whose term as a member of the Court of Appeal has nearly expired, was nominated by the Republicans. The committee adopted resolutions commending the administration of the President, the vigorous policy of Speaker Reed of the House of Representatives and his associates. It heartily commends the McKinley Tariff Bill for the protection of home industries and especially for the reason that it is the first measure of the kind that has embraced a distinctively agricultural schedule. The resolutions continue:

The farmers of New York have had to meet a constant and aggressive competition of the Canadian agriculturist across the northern border of this state. They recognize that the proposed new agricultural schedule of the McKinley Bill offers to them, as it offers to the American working man and the farmer generally, the direct and decided benefits of a protection policy instead of increasing, as the late Administration sought to do, the hardships of the past, by making wool free and reducing the duties on a long list of agricultural and other products. During the past ten years Canada has sent nearly $300,000,000 worth of her agricultural products across the border into the United States, thus materially lessening the demand for and the prices of our own farm products. The proposed new agricultural schedule will put an end to this intolerable wrong to the farmers of this and other states.

The Republican party heartily endorses every and any proposition for commercial reciprocity which will open new markets for the product of our farms and factories without jeopardizing the interests of either. * *

The Buffalo Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—In the Senate today Mr. Evarts (Rep., N.Y.) presented resolutions from the Buffalo Merchants' Exchange favoring reciprocity both with the nations to the south of the United States and with that on the north.

The Tariff Bill was then taken up and the sugar schedule was considered.

Mr. Carlisle (Dem., Ky.) gave notice he would move to strike out all the paragraphs relative to sugar bounties.

Reciprocity Proposals Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—In the Senate today Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) offered the reciprocity amendment, of which he had given notice June 19, and addressed the Senate upon it. He was followed by Senator Evarts (Rep., N.Y.), who criticized the amendment, and Kenna (Dem., W. Va.), who spoke at length on the general subject of the tariff.

Mr. Allison (Rep., Ind.) made a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Government and of the probable effect of the Tariff Bill on the finances. He estimated, paying nothing on the sinking fund, a surplus of about $15,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year, even if sugar were put on the free list. He favored putting sugar on the free list. He also favored further extension of reciprocal trade.

Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) criticized unfavorably the Hale amendment, and said if any reciprocal arrangements were made with any country they ought to be made with Canada. He thought Mr. Aldrich's amendment and his own, proposing reciprocal relations with Canada, would open a door to reciprocal relations as far as they ought to go.

Mr. Hale was willing to accept the Aldrich amendment, but did not favor reciprocity with Canada, as she produced products common to both countries.

Mr. Dolph (Rep., Or.) opposed reciprocity as dangerous to the protective system.

Mr. Gibson (Dem., La.) moved as a substitute for the sugar schedule the paragraphs in the existing law imposing duties on sugar.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Suspected Incendiarism—Can a Prisoner's Money Be Garnished?

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—The various insurance companies doing business in Toronto are seriously disturbed over three fires which have occurred of late in the vicinity of Hayter street. It is believed that all were of incendiary origin and detectives are now on a still hunt for the miscreant.

J. G. Holmes, counsel for John J. Neil, the Yonge-street photographer who was yesterday morning at the Police Court committed to stand his trial on the charge of criminal assault on a young girl, in the afternoon obtained from Chief Justice Galt an order admitting his client to bail. Neil is to enter into his own recognizance in the sum of $1000 and to furnish two sureties in the sum of $500 each. Mr. Dymond appeared on behalf of the Attorney-General and consented to the order. Neil will be tried at the criminal assizes in October.

Can a prisoner's money taken from his person be garnished is a question which was sought to be decided yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall. Henry Reid was arrested some time ago at Brantford, and when locked up had $80 on his person. He had been a litigant and there were judgments unsatisfied standing against him. The local judge granted an order attaching this money, and a motion was made to Mr. Justice Falconbridge for a declaration that this is contrary to public policy. The motion was enlarged for one week.

The first step towards quashing the verdict rendered at the coroner's inquest over the body of Patrick Dowling, who was killed by a C.P.R. train at Brock-avenue, and which found Superintendent Thomas Tait guilty of manslaughter, was taken yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall, when counsel for Mr. Tait obtained from Mr. Justice Falconbridge an order of certiorari to remove into the Common Pleas Division of the High Court, the conviction, evidence and all proceedings connected with the matter.

At the Police Court yesterday Joseph Bullock, charged with seducing his 15-year-old step-daughter, offered to marry his victim but the magistrate declined to consent to the unholy alliance and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

Not a Forger, Only a Swindler.

WINDSOR, Sept. 2.—Detective Campau of Montreal arrived in Windsor on Sunday to make arrangements for the transfer of R. B. Ford, the man arrested for forgery, to that city. The police were notified that Ford's partner, J. H. Graham, was coming east over the Canadian Pacific Railway, and upon the arrival of the train he was also arrested. Detective Campau left with the couple at midnight. It seems that the check Ford passed on Landlord Horseman, signed by John Labatt, was not forged, but was obtained by fraud. The charge upon which they are now held is of swindling the chief of the Montreal fire brigade out of $500 by means of forged checks.

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken, in our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows
Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties
Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we purchase as high as the highest, we are noted for having it so at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

A DOUBLE ELOPEMENT.

TWO TORONTONIANS SIMULTANEOUSLY MISS THEIR WIVES.

Investigation Discloses That Two Married Men Have Also Disappeared and That the Four Have Left Town Together—One of the Women Repents.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—There is great excitement in St. John's and St. Andrew's Wards over what some of the gossips term a double elopement. The upper portion of democratic Terauley-street, in fact, is ready to boil over over the affair.

When John F. Hughes, foreman for J. P. Wagner & Co. of West Toronto Junction, arrived at his home, No. 214 Terauley-street, at 7½ o'clock on Tuesday evening of last week he found this note pinned to the door:

"Johnnie, the key is in the shutter."

He secured the key and on entering the house discovered that the interior resembled a last year's bird's nest. Not only was his wife and 7 year-old daughter Alice missing, but the furniture had disappeared as effectually as though it had taken wings and flown away. Next day he learned that as speedily as possible after he left for his work his wife had called in a second-hand dealer and disposed of almost everything portable, leaving nothing behind excepting a bedstead and a few chairs. Hughes also discovered that his wife had left in the direction of Hamilton.

The same evening James Atley of Chestnut-street, foreman for the Wyness Plating Company, discovered that his wife was missing and did not take very long to find out that the two women, who were "chummy," had gone together.

The same day a married man residing in the vicinity, whose identity inquiry has not as yet been able to establish, deserted his wife and family and journeyed in the same direction.

On Monday last Martin Kerr, for several years past a branchman in the Portland-street fire hall, kissed his wife before going to work. There was nothing unusual in that, except that the osculation appeared to be more affectionate than was his wont. He proceeded to the City Hall, drew his month's pay of $45, and he, too, journeyed in the direction taken by Mrs. Hughes. Kerr, who resided with his wife and 7-year-old son Freddie at 29 Turner-avenue, had been on particularly good terms with Mrs. Hughes.

A day or two ago Mr. Atley received a letter from his wife from a town near Hamilton, asking "Jim to forgive her for God's sake and take her back." She acknowledged that she had done wrong, but claimed to have been induced to take the step she had by Mrs. Hughes. Her husband decided to restore her to his affections and sent her money with which to come back. His sister states that she will return to-day.

Mrs. Kerr, upon discovering that her husband was missing, at once suspected that he had gone to join Mrs. Hughes and Tuesday visited Terailay-street, only to find that sure enough the woman had also disappeared. And her suspicions were thereby strengthened. Her husband has been in the fire brigade eight or ten years and is well known in the city. Of late he has been neglecting his family and indulging in liquor to excess. Mrs. Hughes, who took 7 year-old Alice with her, is a buxom woman of 32. She was a widow of 10 months when Hughes met her eight years since. Hughes, it is said, does not intend to take her back, but will endeavor to secure possession of his child.

Although the proverb has it that "Marriages are made in heaven," some would seem to have their origin in a far removed locality. Some wed spontaneously, others from the circumstances of their environment. An illustration of the latter class was given last night in the pastor's room at Bond-street Congregational Church. Here, in the presence of a few friends, Nathaniel John Hutchinson married Martha McLean, the story of whose courtship certainly did not run smooth. The bridegroom is a machinist, whose business premises are in Richmond-street west and whose residence is in McCaul-street. The bride would fain have had the wedding months ago, but as Nathaniel was not a-willing, resentment at the injury which she alleged had been done to her caused her to take the law into her own hands, and in his workshop she shot her faithless swain. When the case came up at the Police Court Hutchinson admitted his offence, and promised to marry Martha, as the only reparation in his power. On this mutual understanding further proceedings were dropped, and after a lapse of four months Rev. Dr. Wild tied the knot which made Nathaniel and Martha man and wife last night. Besides bridesmaid and best man, there were few to wish them good luck and prosperity. However, the old saying still stands, "All's well that ends well."

As a coincidence to the wedding in the church, Hutchinson's brother, William H., was best man at a marriage ceremony which took place at his residence, 204 George-street, after the first marriage. Dr. Wild also officiated at this wedding.

LAWYER BROWN'S BODY FOUND.

Tossed Up by the Waves on the Lake Shore Near Jordan.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 3.—Advices come from Jordan this evening that the body of Lawyer A. G. Brown of this city, who was drowned off the steamer Lakeside Saturday, Aug. 23, was found on the lake shore near Jordan by Constable Rogers of Beamsville.

Whose Boy Was This?

CONSECON, Sept. 3.—This evening about 7 o'clock while the Rev. S. F. Dupew was driving along Weller's beach near here he discovered the body of a boy with light hair, about 12 to 14 years of age, washed ashore. Evidently the boy had not been very long dead. He was dressed in a grey coat and knickerbockers and was without shoes or stockings. Coroner Thornton has taken charge of the body and will issue his order for interment at Consecon without an inquest.

Mind Reading.

Dinguss—Hello, Shadbolt! How are you? By the way, Shad, have you seen that big alligator down at—

Shadbolt (cutting him short)—No, Dinguss, I haven't seen it, but I know what it was going to lead up to. Alligators have hides, their hides make nice leather the leather is made up into pocketbooks, and pocketbooks hold money. I haven't a cent to spare this time. Good morning, Dinguss.—Chicago Tribune.

MR. SHERMAN TALKS.

HIS RECIPROCITY RESOLUTION EXPLAINED.

How the Ohio Senator Would Settle the Fishery Question He Favors Reciprocal Legislation With the Power in Each to Recall.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Senator Sherman, interviewed in regard to the resolution which he introduced providing for reciprocity with Canada, said:

"There can be no question that better trade relations ought to be had between Canada and the United States. While they produce largely the same articles and are competitors for the market, their trade with each other is larger than with any other nations. Canada consumes more of our food than we consume of theirs. It produces metals that we do not, and has immense stores of nearly all the metals within convenient distance to our coal, our furnaces and rolling mills. It seems unnatural to have any commercial barrier between us.

"The arguments for free trade between Canada and the United States are almost as strong as they are between the several states of the Union.

"The coal of Nova Scotia finds its best market in New England, while the coal of Ohio and Pennsylvania finds its largest export market in Canada, and the coal of British Columbia is the chief reliance for all the Pacific states. In this condition of affairs it is absurd for either country to levy a duty on coal carried from one to the other.

"So the article of fish is the cause of constant disturbance of friendly relations between the two countries, as the fish migrate constantly back and forth in the waters of both. The exclusion of our fishing vessels from the ordinary rights of hospitality in Canadian ports is the reason why we levy high rates on Canadian fish. So a simply fair arrangement to admit fish free, or at a very low rate of duty, upon reciprocal relations as to the admission of fishing vessels into the ports of the two countries would cure this sore.

"I could name articles by the score where both countries would be benefited by a free exchange of products and commodities, but it is difficult to make any adjustment without having previous conference. Reciprocity treaties are of doubtful expediency at best, but reciprocal legislation with the power in each to recall seems the best way to increase that exchange of commodities between the two countries. The amendment I introduced looks to such a conference and I believe will be productive of advantage, not only in cultivating friendly feeling but in increasing trade and commerce."

The following is the text of Senator Sherman's resolution:

Whenever it shall be certified to the President of the United States that the Government of the Dominion of Canada shall by law or regulation admit free of duty into all its ports coal mined in the United States he shall make proclamation of that fact and thereafter while such law or regulation is in force coal mined in the Dominion of Canada shall be admitted free of duty into all the ports of the United States.

And whenever it shall be duly certified to the President of the United States that the Government of the Dominion of Canada has declared a desire to enter into such commercial arrangements with the United States as will result in the complete or partial removal of duties upon trade between Canada and the United States he shall appoint three commissioners to meet those who may be designated to represent the government of Canada to consider the best method of extending the trade relations between Canada and the United States and to ascertain on what terms greater freedom of intercourse between the two countries can best be secured, and said commissioners shall report to the President, who shall lay the report before Congress. And the necessary expenses of the commissioners appointed by the President, including their compensation at the rate of $10 a day each for the time necessarily employed in said duty, shall be paid out of the appropriation for the collection of the customs revenue.

DIVORCE BY AGREEMENT.

The Queer Document Drawn up by a New Brunswick J.P.

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 3.—City Marshal Foster was called upon to interfere with the improper relation of Robert Leaman and Mrs. Susan C. Prosser. Mrs. Prosser protested that she was doing nothing wrong. She admitted that she had been married, but said she had been divorced and intended to marry Leaman. In proof of her statement she produced this novel document, which she said had been drawn up for her by Squire Garland, an Albert County Justice of the Peace.

"MONCTON, N.B., Aug 29, 1890.

"We, the undersigned, do hereby show that we are and have been lawfully united together in marriage as man and wife and that we are now lawfully joined together as such man and wife, and we do hereby mutually agree together as such man and wife that we are unable to live together, as the said husband is unable to provide a living for us and live together. We do both hereby agree to each other to now separate as such man and wife and do hereby agree that the said former marriage is null and void and that each of us is at liberty to marry any other person at any time hereafter.

"That neither of us shall have any right to any action either at law or equity against the other nor against any person that either party hereto may marry, and we do hereby mutually agree and abandon all claims of any action whatever against each other in all matters that may hereafter arise, or against any person that either of us may marry.

"In witness whereof we, the undersigned, do hereby set our hands and seals the day and year above. "TRUEMAN PROSSER.

Morbid Relic-Hunters.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 3.—The small stump on which young Benwell's foot was resting when his remains were found has been removed to Woodstock and is now on exhibition in the window of Willis' cigar store. The large stump which also supported a portion of the unfortunate young man's body has been nearly all carried away by relic-seekers. Indeed, from one cause and another, the scene has become so completely changed as to be almost beyond recognition.

A $35,000 Bonus for the T., L.E. & P. Ry.

PORT BURWELL, Sept. 3.—The bylaw to grant $35,000 to the Tilsonburg, Lake Erie & Pacific Railway was voted on in Bayham township to-day and carried by 260 majority.

THE TOILERS' TROUBLES

PROGRESS OF THE SHIP LABORERS' GREAT STRIKE.

Employers Uniting for Protection—English Aid for Australians—The Chicago Carpenters' Victory—The New York Central Investigation.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 3.—The Australian coast shipping trade has partly resumed. The places made vacant on the vessels by the strikers have been filled in many cases by non-union men. The situation at the gas works in this city arising from the strike is improving.

Capitalists to Protect Themselves.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 3.—At a meeting of employers of all classes yesterday, held under the auspices of the Employers' Union and the Steamship Association, it was resolved that the time had arrived when it was necessary for employers and capitalists to form a protective association and co-operate in fighting the battles of the community against aggressive unionism. An employers' defence association was accordingly constituted and a committee appointed to draft a scheme of colonial co-operation. A fund was also started to assist the shipowners in the fight against their striking employes.

The Strike Extending.

AUCKLAND, Sept. 3.—The colliers in the Waikato district have gone on strike. At Sydney the strike is extending. In the Wallongong district the unions have struck and it is probable all the Broken Hill mines will be closed by Saturday.

English Aid for Australians.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—At a meeting of trades union delegates yesterday arrangements were made to raise a fund for the Australian dock laborers now on strike. Mr. Tillett, who presided, said he believed the generous assistance received from Australia during the strike of the London dockmen would now be repaid. The dockmen alone, he thought, would be able to raise from £15,000 to £20,000 for their Australian brethren. Regarding the proposed union of ship owners, Mr. Tillett said the men had no cause for fear. A committee to raise funds for the strikers was appointed. The gas workers and sailors' unions have decided to raise £1000 each for the strikers by means of a levy upon their members, and other trades unions promise to follow their example.

A Victory for Carpenters.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—About 4000 union carpenters are now on strike. Over 2000 strikers have been allowed to return to work for bosses paying 37½ cents per hour and allowing the eight-hour day.

The carpenters' strike is practically over. There are less than 700 carpenters still out. President O'Connell of the Carpenters' Council has been forced by the discontent of members of the union to resign.

Riotous Panama Railroaders.

PANAMA, Sept. 3.—The strike on the Panama Railroad continues. The strikers will not allow work to be done by outsiders. The telegraph wire was cut several times and attempts were made to tear up the rails. Troops have been sent to Colon to maintain order. Steamers will probably be detained on both sides of the isthmus in consequence of the strike.

The Central Strike Investigation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The State Board of Mediation and Arbitration to-day resumed its investigation of the New York Central strike. General Manager Toucey testified that he had an interview with Lee some time ago, in the course of which Lee alluded to the watering of the company's stock, intimating that someone was making a good deal of money and that he and the other men ought to have some of it.

In reply to a question by Mr. Pryor witness said he did not discharge Lee. Before the talk about stock watering Lee made certain demands on behalf of some of the men and they were refused.

Superintendent Voorhees testified that he had nothing to do with the discharge of any of the 78 men. He was out of town for three weeks before the strike.

Master Mechanic Buchanan testified that in discharging Lee he did so by order of Vice-President Webb and had no knowledge of the causes for his discharge. Of the 78 men he knew the cause of discharge in two only—Malloy and Conway. Malloy was discharged for obtaining a pass under false pretences. Conway was discharged for neglect of duty. he absented himself without leave and was several times late in the morning and at noon.

Trainmaster J. W. Stevens testified that he had never told any employes of the company that he must either leave the Knights of Labor or leave the road.

The board decided to adjourn until Friday at 10 a.m., when it will meet in Albany. A large number of witnesses will be examined then. They are mainly dismissed employes of the Central Railway.

SPARE THE FORESTS.

Chief Sioui of the Hurons Addresses the Forestry Congress at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Sept. 3.—The old Huron Chief Sioui, accompanied by four braves decorated with war paint and plumes, visited the congress of the American Forestry Association this afternoon. Sioui made a speech in the Huron tongue, which was translated to the members. He said: "The woods were once our domain but now they belong to him who has the most money. We are given what is called a reserve, but there is no game there, and if we want to hunt we must travel far in the mysterious regions of the Mistassini, where, thank God, the axmen have not yet mastered the land. Gentlemen, remember in your noble pursuit the sons of the forest, spare if you can our hunting grounds from the merciless ax of the lumbermen, that our sons may find in them the game which is so dear to a Huron heart."

The Employing Printers' Congress.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—At to-day's session of the United Typothetæ Mr. Pettibone of Chicago, for the committee on apprenticeship system, presented a report in which the revival of the system in some form was strongly urged on the ground that such revival would tend to make better workmen, to do away with labor troubles and bring in a better class of men.

Business Failures in the States.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Sept. 3.—Hixie & Mellor, one of the most extensive lumber firms in Wisconsin, failed to-day.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The paper of the Worcester Street Works went to protest in Boston yesterday in consequence of the Potter-Lovell failure. It is stated the embarrassment is only temporary.

Pressmen's International Union.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The second annual convention of the International Printing Pressmen's Union of America was begun here last evening. President Thomas Mahony of Boston presiding. Proxies were granted to the Press-Feeders' Union of Toronto. The reports showed that the union had been very successful during the past year.

The convention of the International Printing Pressmen's Union was continued to-day. The secretary-treasurer reported the union in good financial order, with a total membership of 1200. The Executive Committee reported that efforts to form an alliance with the International Typographical Union had been unsuccessful. These officers were elected: President, C. W. Miller, Philadelphia; first vice-president, J. W. Williams, Toronto; secretary-treasurer, T. J. Hawkins, New York.

Feared Drunkenness More Than Death.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—William Butts of Butts & Robinson, publishers of The Protector, the official organ of the United Workmen for Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and New Jersey, died to-day from the effects of morphine, which he took last night to kill himself. Mr. Butts told the physician he took the drug owing to fear that he might become a confirmed drunkard, as he frequently drinks to excess.

SMITH GAVE UP PREACHING.

And Now He Is Accused of Bigamy and Embezzlement.

NEWBURG, N.Y., Sept. 3.—William J. Smith, the young man who was arrested at Rochester and lodged in jail at Scranton, Pa., on a charge of embezzlement and bigamy, is a son of William Smith of this city. The family lived at Poughkeepsie, where Smith's father inherited some money from a relative. William was the elder son of the family and the bulk of all the inheritance was devoted to his education. He had been attending a preparatory school in New York, intending to become a minister. Three years ago he finished his course and about this time he chanced to meet the girl whom he is said to have married first.

About that time the Smith family removed to this city, and William, becoming sick, came home and was nursed back to health by his mother and sister. During the three or four months he was here nothing was heard of the wife. On recovering he left here to meet her, abandoning the idea of the ministry. That was the last heard of him until a short time since parties came here from Scranton to learn something of his history. Last week a letter came from the secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at Scranton informing his relatives that the young man was in trouble and urging them to do what they could for him. As they are poor nothing could be done. They felt deeply the disgrace, but say if he is guilty of the crimes charged he deserves to suffer.

BLEW OUT THE GAS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—Aaron Buckler, a Bowmanville jeweler, blew out the gas when retiring at the Albion Hotel last night. He lingered until 6 o'clock, when he died.

BOWMANVILLE, Sept. 3.—Aaron Buckler, whose accidental death is reported from Montreal, was one of the oldest and best known residents of Bowmanville.

A Cold-Hearted Villain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—J. Bartlett Cook of the so-called American Development Company was to-day sentenced to four years in prison. Cook lived on money deposited by innocent clerks as security for the handling of stocks and bonds. Cook obtained $250 apiece from four such clerks and then fled to Philadelphia, whence he was brought here. Recorder Smyth denounced the prisoner as a cold-hearted, designing villain.

The Welland Canal Again Open.

THE TRADES CONGRESS.

A Protest Against Chinese Immigration—Cigar-making Licenses.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress got down to work at 9 o'clock this morning. Resolutions bearing on the policy of the congress were received from delegates and various unions, and were referred to the Committee on Standing Orders with instructions to embody all motions having the same object in view into one straight motion and to report these and others as soon as possible.

Secretary Dowes read a letter from the Victoria (B.C.) Trades Assembly protesting against Chinese immigration as tending to immorality and the conjestion of the labor market.

A motion that the congress petition the Dominion to have the fee for cigar-making licenses reduced from $75 to $6 and also to have no stipulated amount of tobacco per thousand cigars manufactured was amended so as to provide for the appointment of a committee to draft a resolution to meet the views of the congress and carried.

An explosion occurred Monday in a mine at Berwyn, Galicia. Eighty miners were entombed.

LABOUR LEGISLATION.

The annual meeting of the Trade and Labour congress of the Dominion, is now going on in Ottawa. This is an important organization a pretty thorough representation of the labour interests of Canada. A reading of the report of the proceedings of this workingman's parliament indicates that their deliberations are carried on with as much shrewdness, intelligence and ability as those of a real live parliament and, with altogether more decorum and regard to the decencies of debate. The reports have considerable to do with Dominion and provincial legislation in the interests of labour, showing what has been done—or, rather, not done, (by the Dominion)—and the several provinces. The report of the executive committee of the Province of Ontario, shows that the Ontario government and legislature are the most progressive and on the labour question, are the most practical in enacting laws for the protection and promotion of the interests of the working classes. The report referred to says:—

The sub-committe of your Executive, whose special duty it was during the past year to promote, as well as watch, legislation in the interests of labour in the Provincial Legislature of Ontario, beg leave to report as follows:—

We find that since 1872, when organized labour in Ontario—in fact in Canada—first began to figure as a factor in the domain of practical politics, of the many acts of the Legislature of this Province passed into law since that date, no less than 30 or 40 of them have been of more or less direct interest and importance to the wage-earners of the Province.

* * * * * *

In so far as the legislation of the session of 1890 is specially concerned, your committee desire to bear testimony to the unvarying courtesy accorded them by Attorney-General Mowat, as well as by such of his colleagues in the Government upon whom it was incumbent to wait at any time in reference to needed legislation, or for the purpose of offering suggestions as to measures pending during that session. We are much pleased in being able to report, also, that the Government, in most instances, recognizing the justness of our suggestions, embodied them in Government measures.

While this is true, however, yet very much remains to be done, first, in seeking that legislation affecting the working classes as a class should, as nearly as purely local circumstances will permit, be alike in all the Provinces of the Dominion; and, secondly, in agitating in the direction of securing such further legislation as, while not to the detriment of the general interests of the country, will still further improve the conditions surrounding and governing the toilers of the Dominion.

We desire, also, to draw attention to the fact that steps should be taken, either by the congress itself or by Provincial or labour organizations, to provide funds with which to carry into court, when deemed expedient or necessary, and prosecute to judgment, such infractions of existing laws as occur, as well as appealing to higher courts in cases where it appears that justice requires such action, when those aggrieved are not in a position financially to take the requisite steps in that behalf. In this connection it is but just to record that the Attorney-General of Ontario, at the request and on the application of organized labour, has, in more than one instance, taken steps to sustain the letter and intent of the law respecting cases of the nature referred to.

It is pleasant to record that the Government of Ontario is recognizant of the rights and watchful for the interests of the great mass of our population, and the most useful and wealth and comfort-producing portion, at that, the willing hands that toil. When the working people ask the Ontario Government for bread, they get bread. When they ask the Dominion Government for bread, they get, not bread, but "pie-crust," something which the common proverb says, is like their promises, easily broken. When the labour interest asks the Ontario government for a practical consideration of their rights they get it in the shape of practical legislation; when a similar request or demand is made of the Dominion government, the labour interests get a promise of legislation, which is never carried out—most of the bills introduced, being by some parliamentary hocus-pocus strangled in their progress through the house.

South Monaghan.

A General Rate of 2 8-10 Mills for the Township. A Proposed Ferry for the River Otonabee.

SOUTH MONAGHAN, Aug. 20th, 1890.—Council met at the hall, Centreville, pursuant to the call of the Reeve, at 10 a.m. Members all present. Minutes read and confirmed.

Communications from Mr. Henry Calcutt with invitation to join an excursion on Otonabee River and Rice Lake. Moved by W. Morrison, seconded by W. Fisher, that Mr. Henry Calcutt receive the thanks of the council for his kind invitation.—Carried.

Reports of committe on roads and bridges: Grading on west boundary; David Baxter, committee, amount expended $37.50, gravelling on west boundary, balance of McBride contract, amount expended $23.00; gravelling on Con. 1, James Greer and R. Fisher, committee, A. Barnard's contract, amount expended $39.00; south boundary, putting in culvert and cedar, $14.00; Con. 3, John Buckham and Wm. Morrison committee, graveling, Charles Murney's contract $43.50; Joseph Kerr's contract, $29.25; Thomas Lucy's contract, cutting down hill east of Centreville, amount expended $122.50; Con. 4, river road, Walter Bradshaw's contract, amount expended $16.50; Joseph Higgin's contract, amount expended $13.65; west boundary, culvert near Centreville, Thomas Lucy, contractor, amount expended $8; gravelling west boundary, John Donaldson, contractor, amount expended $32.50. Committees' time—Roads and Bridges, John Buckham, 2½ days, James Greer 1½ days, David Baxter 2 days, Wm. R. Morrison 2½ days, Robert Fisher ½ day. Bills—Wm. Bonus, damage to crop and lane, $8; Henry Larmer, hammer handle, 25 cents; John Thorne, cedar for culvert, $2.50; R. Nummp, sr., repairing bridge, $4; A. Dawson, quarter's salary as clerk, $18.75; Shep. Huggins, 2 days' work, $2; Agricultural Society, for use of the hall, $4; Wm. Robertson, cedar for roads, $16; E. E. Bowie, 2 steel scrapers, $20.50; Wm. Byers, repairs to Squirrel Bridge, $1; Pathmaster's report—total for gravel, plank and damages, $63.61.

Moved by W. Baxter, seconded by W. Morrison,—That the foregoing bills and accounts be paid, with the exception of Wm. Byers, to be sent to the pathmaster of beat 20 for certification.—Carried.

Re communication from North Monaghan, in respect to road work on north boundary, it was explained by W. Baxter that the men on beat No. 23 helped to keep the boundary in repair.

A by law was introduced and passed appointing W. E. Kerr collector for the year 1890.

A by law was introduced and passed to levy the rates and assessment for the year 1890. Estimates:—County rate $560, county school rate $125, township purposes $990, school section No. 1 $292.50, No. 2 $320, No. 3 $350, No. 4 $350, No. 5 $257. A general rate of 2 8-10 mills on the dollar was struck for county and township purposes, school section No. 1, 2 4-10 mills on the dollar; No. 2, 2 7-10 mills, No. 3, 3 1-10 mills; No. 4, 2 7-10 mills; No. 5, 2 6-10 mills for local school purposes.

The reeve announced the passing of a by-law of the county council to confirm by-law No. 81 of the township of South Monaghan, with expenses of registration of by-law ($1.70) by county registrar; also refund of 57 cents from the World Printing Co., Cobourg.

The Clerk paid in the sum of $1.50 for cedar from Lewis Ryers, pathmaster beat No. 28.

The reeve, W. Buckham, drew the attention of the council to the ferry at Gannon's Narrows with the opinion that it would be in the interests of the township for a deputation to inspect the same with a view of placing one on the Otonabee river near Rose's in place of a bridge.

Orders on the treasurer: W. Bonus, damage to crop and lane, $8.00; E. Nimmo, sr., repairing bridge, $4.00; John Thorn, cedar for culvert; $2.50; H. Larmer, handle for hammer, $0.25; E. E. Bowie, 2 steel scrapers, $20.50; John Buckham, committee work, $5.00; Jas. Greer, committee work, $2.00; David Baxter, committee work, $4.00; Wm. R. Morrison, committee work, $4.00; Robt. Fisher, committe work, $1.00; Jas. Perrin, gravel for road jobs, $10.85; H. Waddell, gravel for road jobs, $8.45; Martin Parker, gravel for road jobs, $4.00; Wm. Robertson, cedar for roads $16.00; Jas. Perrin, gravel for beats 13 8, 17 and 4; $11.35; Andrew Finnie, gravel for beats 2 and 6, $3.15; T. R. Pengally, gravel for beat 2, $4.70; J. Buckham, gravel for beat 21, $6.60; J. Wood, beats 11 and 17, $4.80; H. Waddell, gravel for beat 17, $0.85; Nelson McDonald, gravel for beats 26 and 7, $7.55; M. Parker, gravel and damages, beat 3, $8.65; Freeman Thompson, gravel for beat 15, $3.30; J. Fisher, plank beat 26, $11.66; John Buckham, councillors pay, $10.00; A. Dawson, quarter's salary, 18.75; Jos. Wood, damages, $1.00; J. Greer, committee work, $1.00; Shep. Huggins, 2 days' work, $2.00; F. Eyre, Registrar, Cobourg, $1.70; Agricultural Society, $4.00. Council then adjourned to meet at the call of the Reeve.

RIVERS OUT OF THEIR BANKS.

Prague Flooded—Villages in the Danube Valley Partially Submerged.

VIENNA, Sept. 3.—The Moldau River has flooded a portion of Prague and has done much damage to the country between Bechmer and Wold and the confluence of the Moldau and the Elbe.

Many villages in the Danube valley are partially submerged. The authorities here are taking special precautions.

The Empress Takes a Swim.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Empress Elizabeth of Austria continues on her eccentric travels. On Saturday she sent for the clerk of the Grand Hotel at Arcachon, where she is stopping, and told him she was not an imperial personage at all, but simply plain Mme. Edina of Corfu and the wife of a plain Greek merchant, and she hoped and asked to be let alone. One morning last week she arose before daybreak, unknown to her suite, and went into the sea at 5 o'clock and swam about for nearly 20 minutes. Then she got in a boat, rowed for a few minutes and returned to her hotel. She goes out walking in the rain, persists in cooking her own breakfast over a spirit lamp and doing other startling things.

The Meat Inspection Bill.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—United States Minister Phelps was interviewed to-day regarding Senator Edmunds' Meat Inspection Bill. He said: "Public opinion in Germany is doing the work for us as rapidly as we could expect. Different German interests are bombarding Chancellor von Caprivi so hotly that we can afford to wait a little before throwing our great shell. We might turn this civil war into a foreign war to our own undoing. Germany is a good country to coax, but a bad one to threaten, as Minister Sargent discovered."

PAN-AMERICAN PEACE.

The Resolutions of the International Conference Sent to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3. The President today transmitted to Congress the recommendations of the International American Conference touching International arbitration, with a letter of transmittal from Secretary Blaine, which says the conference adopted these reports:

1. Recommending a definite plan of arbitration for the settlement of differences between the American nations.

2. Recommending the adoption of a similar plan by the nations of Europe.

3. Declaring that the right of conquest could not be recognized by the American nations.

The President, in his letter, says: "The ratification of the treaties contemplated by these reports will constitute one of the happiest and most hopeful incidents in the history of the Western Hemisphere."

THEY MUST HAVE OUR BARLEY.

Ten Million Bushels Imported Annually Into the United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3. In the Senate a communication from the Oswego Board of Trade contradicting a statement of the Secretary of Agriculture on the subject of the production of barley was presented by Mr. Evarts, who asked that it be printed in the Congressional Record. Objection to that was made, but 500 copies were ordered printed for immediate distribution. Mr. Rusk's statement was that barley is the only cereal of which there is not raised a sufficiency for home consumption. The denial is to the effect that the annual product of the United States is about 60,000,000 bushels and that the quantity used last year for malting purposes was less than 15,000,000 bushels. Ten million bushels had been imported from Canada, the quality being superior for malting purposes to that of United States barley.

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

FARM, ORCHARD, GARDEN,

NOTES OF INTEREST ON ALL THESE SUBJECTS.

The Care of Trees and Plants—Something About Fertilizers—Hogs in August—Nest Eggs—Foul Brood Among Bees—The Salt Box—Feeding Cattle

There is no security to the farmer against failure of a crop. He has the seasons and the insects to combat. But the farmer can at least grow more than one kind of crop, and thus save himself from total loss. It is not a wise farmer who will place full reliance on a single crop.

Heat is necessary to the process of nitrification, and for this reason more is done during the summer than any other time, while the hot, dry weather is more injurious to a naked soil than at another season. So it is an item to have a soil that is to be built up protected during the summer by a growth of some kind.

Now, while the weather is warm, the food should be almost wholly vegetables. Meat is not necessary as a regular article of food. It is at this season that the advantages of a garden are appreciated. If you have no garden come to a determination that you will not overlook that important adjunct of the farm next year.

Fully matured bulls are better for breeding purposes than younger ones. If a bull becomes ugly and dangerous as he grows older he should be kept penned up constantly except when he is taken out for exercise. If the animal is broken to do hauling and other farm work it will take considerable of the ugliness out of him.

For August the hogs should have more than usual attention. The hot, dry weather that is often experienced requires it, the pastures dry up, and the water is apt to fail. By all means do not depend on pond or pool water for hogs. A pool that is fed only by rains will not furnish the pure water required for hogs to thrive on.

It pays to feed meal to cows giving milk and if a cow insists on having it every time she does a good turn by forcing us to be regular. Of all losses incurred by American farmers scarcely any one is greater than that which comes from allowing cows to fall in their milk for want of sufficient food of a kind that answers their requirements.

Grass can do good work on any location overrun with weeds when the weeds are young. Many kinds of young weeds are preferred to grass by the geese, and especially plaintain and pursiane. Geese go right down to the roots of the plants, and effectually keep them down if the flock is a large one.

Milk is a very oily substance, and greases the clothing with which it comes in contact. It is a point of both neatness and economy in milking to use cloth aprons when drawing the latent fluid from the cow. If the apron is slit half way up, and each flap tied around the milker's knees, freedom of movement is secured, and protection to clothing from all spatters vouchsafed.

Experience has proven that while trees on which stable manure was used were healthy and vigorous, yet they were short-lived, while such as were fertilized by ashes were equally vigorous and far more durable. The conclusions thus forced upon us were that heavy applications of potash and bone made healthy trees, while any large amount of nitrogen led to the yellows and other diseases.

The coming farmer will have better implements and machinery with which to cultivate his farm. He will employ his mind to rest his hands. He will do more headwork on the farm. He will aid in uniting the agricultural interests of his neighborhood into a union of strength, a power that will be available at all times in the maintenance and protection of honest labor and American production.

Lichens are numerous and may be found upon the bark of trees in dry forms of gray and yellow growth, and on walls and old stones in our grave-yards. On the hills we find them growing upon the granite, and it would appear that they prefer stone to any other holding ground. The Arctic lichens form the principal food of the reindeer, and Iceland moss is wholesome for man. Lichen is derived from the Greek term for "wart."

Porcelain nest eggs are, everything considered, the best, but they are also the most costly. Wooden eggs are very good and durable, and their cheapness is in their favor. Addled eggs are objectionable from their liability to break or to be accidentally taken from the nest with good eggs. Nest eggs made of plaster of paris are cheap, but the porous nature of the plaster causes dirt to adhere and soil them in a short time.

The much complained of foul brood in bees could be easily eradicated and kept out if every man having bees would destroy the swarm having it and then burn the old hive in which they lived. There are too many men who will not do it unless someone will pay them for their loss. What would you think of a man who would not remove a dead horse from his own premises until his neighbors would pay him for doing it? The two cases are very parrallel.

Don't give apple trees such low heads that a horse and cart cannot be driven around in the orchard quite close to them. It is convenient to pick fruit standing on the ground, but the inconvenience of low trees over balance that advantage. If the branches start from the trunk five feet from the ground, and the pruning is properly done afterward, a pair of seven foot cattle or 15 g hand horses can be driven along as closely to the trees in plowing the orchard as is necessary without interfering with the branches.

We have a salt box in our general pasture. It is fastened on a block too high for hogs to reach. To supply the hogs when we pass the box almost daily we throw out a small quantity on the ground for them. We notice the sows take lumps of the salt in their mouths and crush them, but we see no evil effects from this. However, if not accustomed to a regular supply, it would, taken in such quantities, no doubt sicken them. The more succulent and rank the pasture the greater the quantity of salt the hogs require.

It is the opinion of the writer that the injury to fruit which is charged to bees begins with decay, birds, yellow jackets and other pilferers, and the offices of the bees are such as are only beneficial in the economy of nature. The province of the honey bee is to fertilize blossoms and save the nectar from it and from decaying fruit. A bee is guilted to its legitimate plunder by the sense of smell, and never punctures the skin.

Potash fertilizers have decidedly proved the desirable qualities of fruits. Wherever the percentage of the element has been raised the change is accompanied by an increase of sugar and decrease of acid. This is important—a matter of dollars and cents. Other things being equal, the fruit with the largest per cent. of sugar will bring highest price. Moreover, less desirable varieties may be brought up to a higher standard thus giving to some good quality, as hardiness and prolific bearing. The fact that the quality and character of garden and orchard products can be modified by the effect of special fertilizers, is of immense importance in its practical as well as scientific bearing.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

A Rondeau.

The summer girl, in cool nainsook,
Swings in the hammock with her book—
And with a beau, of course—at ease
With her dear self; and as the breeze
Comes slyly up, she gives a look.

So loving—to the beau, not book—
As makes him yearn to have her look
That way again, if it should please
The summer girl.

She hugs it close—not beau, but book—
And tenderly she lets her look
Fall not on him. Beyond the trees
Another comes. The first one sees—
She smiles. He swore. And then he shook
The summer girl.

LAWYER BROWN'S FATE.

The Missing St. Catharines Man's Hat Found on the Lake Shore.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 31.—The only new feature developed in the case of the missing man, Lawyer Brown, was the finding of a hat by H. C. Kerman on the lake shore three miles below Port Dalhousie. The hat has been identified by his wife and others as the hat worn by Mr. Brown on the day of his fatal trip from Toronto on the steamer Lakeside. The finding of his hat has removed the last doubt as to his fate and his friends have organized a vigilant search party, who are patrolling the lake shore in the hopes of recovering the body Mr. Brown carried an insurance policy on his life for $3000.

THE NORTHWEST HARVEST.

The Biggest Crop Canada Ever Saw Being Gathered.

HAMILTON, Aug. 30.—The Spectator says Senator McInnes has just returned from another trip to Manitoba. He says there is no use in denying that there was a frost—4 degrees of frost being the maximum—there was no material damage done to the wheat Some very late wheat suffered a little, but it is a mere bagatelle, there being very little late wheat. The great bulk of the wheat was ripe when the frost came and was unharmed. All that is necessary now to secure the greatest crop Canada ever saw is good harvest weather, and that is the rule in the Northwest.

For moths, salt is the best exterminator. The nuns in one of the hospital convents have tried everything else without success, and their experience is valuable, as they have so much clothing of the sick who go there, and strangers when dying often leave there quantities of clothing, etc. They had a room full of feathers, which were sent there for pillow making, and they were in despair, as they could not exterminate the moths until they were advised to try common salt. They sprinkled it around, and in a week or ten days they were altogether rid of the moths. They are never troubled now.

An extraordinary bank note made its appearance at the First National Bank in this city the other morning. It was a national currency note on a Kansas City bank, with a face value of $50, but its back was printed from a $100 note plate, while the number was inscribed upside down. The note is regarded as a great curiosity, and such a freak, it is said, has never before been seen outside of the Treasury Department. Indeed, the bank officials are at a loss to explain how it could have got into circulation. It is worth its face value, $50, but as a curiosity it is valued at more than double that amount.

A discovery in ethnological and masonic lore is announced by Rev. Hackett Smith, a rector of Lincolnshire. While in Lebanon Mr. Smith was admitted to the most secret intimacy with the Druses for having saved the life of a young man by sucking the venom of a snake bite from his body. He was initiated into the Druses hitherto unknown mysteries, and in these the natives startled him as a freemason by using the most characteristic of masonic signs. Hence he argues that the Druses are none other than a branch of the great Phœnician race, whose ancestors supplied the Lebanon cedars for Solomon's temple.

A queer and suggestive find is reported to have been made in the sleepy old Moravian town of Salem, N. C. Not many days ago a workman was fitting electric light wires in the attic of one of the old buildings of the town when he came upon a quaint group of souvenirs, which showed the different stages of illumination which had successively come within the experience of the household. There was first a set of oldfashioned tin candle molds, then an oil lamp of antique pattern, and, lastly a small section of gas pipe, which he there and then surplanted by the wire, through which the electric current was soon to pass.

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,708,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $316,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,874,823	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,460	10.29
Federal	10,058,537	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,617	10.36
North American	8,470,620	10.68
Temperance and General	2,864,972	17.84
Citizens	2,007,956	29.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30.12
London Life	1,644,295	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Clothing practically given away—only a nominal charge made to cover wear and tear of counters. The biggest bargains in the universe in clothing at Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. 6d54-1w

The Coming Grand Operatic Treat.

The music loving public are again reminded of the appearance in the opera house on Oct. 8th of the Clara Louise Kellog Opera and Concert Company. Reference has already been made to the magnificent vocal abilities of Kellogg, and she is not one whit behind in dramatic power. She created the roll of "Marguerite" in Gunoud's "Faust," when it was produced, and she has given a particularly sensitive character to her rendering in other operas of the roles of "Violetta," "Anima," "Rosina," "Catherine," "Lucia," "Elvira," "Arline," "Zoolina," and half a score of other familiar characters. On her visit to Peterborough she will have splendid support—Miss Carrie Morse-Lee, contralto, Mr. W. H. Lee, baritone, Sig. Carlo Spigaroli, tenor, and a complete company with magnificent scenery. Wherever this company has appeared, crowded houses and enthusiastic receptions have greeted them. The public are advised not to delay the selection of their seats.

How Jack Keller Died.

Mr. Frank Fairen has received a letter from Mr. Archie Moffatt, at Cook's Mills, concerning the manner of Mr. John Keller's death. He says:—

"He and three others were cutting logs about two miles from camp. The tree which they were sawing down (all trees are sawn up here) had a maple tree lodged on the lower limb. When the pine began to fall he and the other man with him attempted to jump clear. Jim Allen succeeded, but Jack was struck by the maple and crushed beneath it. He fell with his chin on another fallen tree, which accounts for the gash on his chin. The tree struck him across the back and, of course, his injuries were internal. He was taken out and stood upon his feet for a moment and said to the boys that he was hurt inside. Then he took a spasm of pain for a few minutes, and after that became unconscious, living about thirty minutes. We brought his body to the camp about ten p.m. the same night, Saturday."

Archie Moffatt and some others brought the body 45 miles, over land and water, Sunday, to the mills, whence it was forwarded home.

Flowers, Fruit and Fine Art.

A Splendid Display at the Horticultural Exhibition.

The new market building is the centre of public attaction to-day. The annual exhibition of the Horticultural Society is being held within its spacious walls, and an admirable exhibtion it is. Does will be open this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, and this evening from 7.30 to 10 o'clock. It is earnestly hoped that the citizens of Peterborough will encourage the directors of the Society by their presence.

The visitor will be amply repaid. The exhibition is fully up to that of other years. In all departments there are splendid displays. Flowers and plants as usual are abundant, the cut flowers being particularly good. Fruit and vegetables show up well also, and there are besides exhibits of fine arts, amateur photography, ladies fancy work, stuffed birds, and an exhibit of Mechanics' Institute drawing class workmanship. In this is a fine crayon drawing of Ontario's premier.

The hall will to-night present a brilliant scene. The exhibits are tastily arranged on the tables and walls, leaving ample room for promenading between. Four electric lights will shed their brilliant rays on the beautiful floral scene, and the fire brigade band will be present and render some entirely new music. There is everything in the exhibition to attract a large crowd to-night, and doubtless the attendance will be very large.

Sports and Pastimes.

Football Organized Games Friday and Saturday—The Baseball Score.

A meeting of young men interested in football was held in the Olympic Club rooms last night. The attendance was not very large. The meeting was not representative enough to decide as to whether Rugby or Association football should be played. Mr. E. B. Loucks was elected secretary. The committee is composed of Messrs. Parker, Burritt and Loucks; director, Geo. Schofield. The kickers present discussed the prospects of establishing a club here, and all were of opinion that there was material in the town for a first-class team. It is to be hoped they will maintain the interest in the game. A practice match is called for next Monday evening. Messrs. Burritt and Forbes will captain the opposing sides.

LACROSSE AND CRICKET.

To-morrow afternoon the Beaverton Checkers meet the Riversides on the P. A. A. A. grounds in a game of lacrosse. The Riversides hope and confidently expect to be able to wipe out the stain of defeat they received at Beaverton this year. Ball faced at 2 o'clock sharp.

The return match between Millbrook and the Colts takes place on the grounds here Saturday.

The Baseball club expect to play at Hastings Saturday.

Mount Pleasant,

THE VILLAGE ATTACKED BY WILD CATS.—One evening last week as the villagers were quietly settling down, after their day's work, looking forward to the enjoyment of a peaceful night's repose, they were suddenly alarmed by the unearthly yells of those fierce denizens of the wild-woods in their very midst. Strange and unaccountable as it may seem, several of these ferocious creatures had made their way up from the big swamp, and, with their furious wauling, would make the stoutest heart tremble. However, our brave men rushed to the defence; our doctor and our merchant were first on the scene, and, with guns in hand, led in the chase. Soon they were reinforced by others, some with guns, some with axes, or such other weapons as they could lay their hands upon. The excitement was tremendous. Three large animals were captured, the rest escaping. Without a doubt, we believe this event is unparalleled in the history of our romantic little village.—[COM.

LAKEFIELD'S DAY OUT.

How Civic Holiday was Celebrated in the Village.

Cricket and Football in the Forenoon—Horse Races, Sports and Splendid Regatta in the Afternoon—General Illumination and Canoe Parade in the Evening—A Royal Humane Society Medal Presented for Life Saving.

Lakefield does not often spread itself in the line of demonstrations, but when it does the villagers always make a brilliant success of their effort. The civic holiday demonstration on Wednesday was like its predecessors, only more so. Business was suspended and all classes of citizens, joined by hundreds from Peterborough and the surrounding country, celebrated the holiday in orthodox fashion. Lakefield has some enterprising, energetic men within its borders, and when they undertake a demonstration which is calculated to boom the thriving village and interest the people, they know no failure. In their laudable efforts they receive the hearty support of the populace. No wonder, then, that Wednesday's celebration passed off so successfully. Flags were flying, and across the main street was strung a banner bearing the inscription:—"Lakefield Civic Holiday—Welcome." The visitors accepted the proffered hospitality and enjoyed themselves as thoroughly as did those who reside in the village.

For some time the committees had been at work elaborating a programme of amusements. Subscriptions were taken up in Lakefield and Peterborough for the purpose, and in all the events contested valuable prizes were given. As a result there were numerous entries in all classes of sport and everything passed off most pleasantly. The general committee comprised Messrs. W. A. Eastland, chairman; Geo. A. Milner, secretary; Wesley Sherin, treasurer; Dr. Bell, R. J. Munro, F. Barlee and Wm. Leahy. Sub-committees were drafted for the different departments on the programme.

Beautiful weather graced the occasion, though the cloudy sky early in the morning doubtless deterred many in Peterborough and the country from attending. The sun shone merrily in the afternoon, to the delight of everybody.

THE CRICKET MATCH.

The first event in the morning was the cricket match on the club's grounds, between eleven's representing the village and the Lumber Company. The latter won on the following score:—

LAKEFIELD'S CHAMPION KICKERS.

Concurrent with the cricket match a game of football was played on the agricultural grounds between junior teams representing Dummer and Lakefield. The village boys were victorious, scoring two goals to their opponents nil. The teams were:—

Dummer.		Lakefield.

SPORTS AND RACING.

The afternoon sports were of course the principal features of the day. There were nine hundred or a thousand in the agricultural grounds. The gate receipts, at 10c. a head, amounted to over $80.00. The village band was present and during the afternoon enlivened the proceedings by frequent selections, well rendered and evidencing the considerable progress that has been made since organization. Lakefield should be proud of its band.

The horse races were exciting and well contested. Messrs. J. Dinwoodie, E. Wade and Geo. McIlmoyle were the judges. Peterborough horses won the principal events, Mr. R. Tierney riding his handsome chestnut mare to victory, while Mr. W. Clancy easily brought Gipsy to the front. There were a number of town sports present also to cheer on their favorites. The races resulted as follows:—

Running Race.

Carter's Race.—Only one entry—John Cooper.

Dump Cart Race.—1st, J. W. Gilroy; 2nd, W. Sutton. This race was very amusing. The winner's chain harness broke and let one shaft down, but the driver bravely "stayed with it" and brought in his chariot a length ahead.

The track was not in very good shape and slow time was made.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

These were run off between the heats by a vigorous committee, composed of Messrs. R. C. Strickland, Jno. Clarin, J. H. McWilliams and Fred Barlee.

There were numerous entries in nearly all the events. The prize-winners were:—

BOYS' RACE (13 YEARS AND UNDER). 100 YARDS—1st, F. Hendren; 2nd, Jas. Simpson; 3rd, F. Stubbs.

BOYS' RACE (16 YEARS AND UNDER)—1st, C. Tanner; 2nd, F. Morin; 3rd, T. Redpath.

QUARTER MILE RACE—1st, A. Simpson; 2nd, McKenzie; 3rd, A. Miller.

ANIMAL RACE—1st, Master Tanner with a hen; 2nd, Master Cox with a rooster.

100 YARD RACE (MEN)—1st, W. Hendren; 2nd, A. Simpson; 3rd, A. Miller.

A MEDAL FOR LIFE SAVING

About four o'clock the regatta was begun in the river opposite the wharves. A pleasing event transpired shortly after the commencement of the races. Mr. John Richardson, jr., was presented with a Royal Humane Society's medal for having saved Master Reginald Blomfield from drowning last summer. Mr. Richardson deserves the honor conferred upon him, as he has previously saved three or four other persons from drowning by his heroic efforts. Mr. Richardson is employed in Mr. Gordon's canoe factory near the wharf, and has fortunately been close enough to the water to save several lives. The hundreds of sight-seers who thronged the wharf congregated about a lumber pile which had been converted into a band stand. Mr. C. J. Blomfield, having his little boy by his side, got up and addressed the people. He said it gave him great pleasure to do honor to a fellow-citizen, and he felt sure all the people of Lakefield would share that pleasure with him. A year ago last July him son Reginald fell off the end of the wharf, he said, and sank to the bottom of the river, where he would have remained and been drowned but for the courageous rescue of Mr. Richardson, who plunged in and brought him to the surface. This was an occasion, Mr. Blomfield said, in which all classes of citizens should feel as interested as himself, and all should feel grateful to Mr. Richardson for having saved a human life. After some delay in corresponding with the Royal Humane Society, a medal in commemoration of the brave deed had been sent out, and it was requested that the presentation be made as public as possible. It therefore gave him great pleasure to present the medal to Mr. Richardson. The medal was of bronze, suitably inscribed, and accompanied by a certificate of the Royal Human Society.

The medal was presented to Mr. Richardson and pinned on his breast, after which three ringing cheers were given for Mr. Richardson. He, in reply, modestly thanked Mr. Blomfield and the citizens for the interest they had taken in this matter. This was not the first token of gratitude he had received from Mr. Blomfield. Shortly after the accident Mr. Blomfield had made him a substantial present, for which he took this opportunity of thanking him.

THE REGATTA

was then continued to a most successful conclusion. The efficient committee in charge were Messrs. Geo. Cochrane, chairman, Jas. Moore, Jno. Richardson, Geo. Featherstone and Capt. Reynolds. Lakefield's regattas are always good, and Wednesday's was no exception to the rule. The events and prize-winners were:—

BOY'S DOUBLE CANOE RACE (13 years and under)—1st, J. Cox and F. Hendren; 2nd, W. Cochrane and T. Redpath.

BOY'S DOUBLE CANOE RACE (16 years and under)—1st, F. Morin and R. Wynn; 2nd, C. Tanner and T. Redpath.

SINGLE CANOE RACE—1st, W. McIlmoyle; 2nd, P. Strickland.

DOUBLE CANOE RACE—1st, P. Strickland and J. Richardson; F. Morin and Geo. Balsdon. In this race Messrs. McIlmoyle and Jarvis outstripped their competitors by several lengths, but were disqualified by the judges for having turned the buoy the wrong way.

LADIES' DOUBLE CANOE RACE—1st, Miss Strickland and Miss Barlee; 2nd, Miss N. Sherin and Miss A Sherin.

SINGLE SCULL (SKIFF) RACE.—1st, F. Morin; 2nd, Geo. Balsdon.

TUB RACE.—1st, Sam. Redpath; 2nd, J. Strickland.

SINGLE CANOE RACE (any canoe)—1st, Dr. Douglas, in a Rob Roy; 2nd, J. Richardson, in a hunting canoe.

DOUBLE SCULL (SKIFF) RACE.—1st T. J. Bird and P. W. Strickland; 2nd B. M. Eden and Wall McIlmoyle.

The tournament at the last afforded considerable amusement. After a number of boats D'Arcy Strickland was declared winner.

EVENING ILLUMINATION.

As dusk began to settle over the village innumerable Chinese lanterns appeared like glow-worms in the lawns, store fronts and river shore. Lamps and candles added their share to the general effect, and three electric lights along the wharf gave a brilliancy and finish to the illumination. Hundreds of people promenaded up and down the spacious wharves, while on the river scores of gayly decorated canoes passed along in procession in a blaze of glory. Prizes were given for the best illuminated canoes in the parade.

The illumination committee comprised Messrs. Wm. Graham, W. H. Casement, Dr. Fraser and Jno. Holland.

The "Cruiser" ran an excursion to Young's Point, which was well patronized.

Thus Lakefield celebrated her civic holiday—the one day of the year when the citizens arrayed themselves in their best bib-and-sucker, locked up their houses and went en masse to join in the fun. The villagers are justly pleased with the success of their celebration

A Deseronto Young Man Carries Away a Peterborough Maiden—Miss Anna Howden Married.

Last evening at seven o'clock, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Walter Smith, London street, the marriage of Mr. Wm. A McLeod, of Deseronto, head accountant in the shipping department of Rathbun & Co., to Miss Eva Long, daughter of Mr. John Long, formerly of Nassau but now of Toronto, was celebrated by Rev. E. F. Torrance in the presence of a number of guests. The bride wore a cream serge, and the bridesmaid, Miss L. Marks, a brown cashmere. Mr. T. P. Calhase and Mr. Garrett M. Taylor, of Deseronto, performed the duties of groomsmen. After dinner had been partaken of the bridal couple left at nine o'clock for a honeymoon tour. They will live in Deseronto, where Mr. McLeod has built up a character and competence for himself by his industry and integrity. The bride was well known in Peterborough, where she has many relatives and warm friends, whose numerous beautiful gifts were unmistakable evidences of their cordial congratulations.

MISS HOWDEN MARRIED.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 3.—A society event looked forward to with much interest by citizens of this town and friends of the contracting parties throughout the province, took place this afternoon at five o'clock in St. Mark's Church. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Charles Wilmot, of the Newcastle fish hatcheries, and son of Mr. Samuel Wilmot, superintendent of fish hatcheries, Ottawa, to Miss Anna Howden, daughter of Major Howden, collector of inland revenue at this port, and one of Canada's most popular and talented vocalists. The church was profusely decorated with floral offerings, the handiwork of the many lady friends of the bride in this town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Baker, of St. Mark's church, assisted by Rural Dean Allen, of Millbrook. The church was crowded with the beauty and fashion of the district. The bridesmaids were three in number—Miss Howden, sister of the bride, and Misses Burton and Wood, of Millbrook, uniformly dressed in cream serge trimmed with yellow silk. The bride was costumed in white India silk. Mr. Wilmot was supported by his brother, Mr. G. C. Wilmot. After the ceremony was over, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father, at which over 100 friends attended, and extended congratulations. Among those present were Mr. T. E. Bradburn, Miss Lundy and Miss Brown, Peterborough. The happy couple left on the 8 o'clock train on a trip to New York city.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

On Tuesday evening the Board of Directors met. Mr. Early, president, presided. There was a fair attendance. After devotional exercises the general secretary read a lengthy report of the work, an outline of what is to follow during the coming months. Mr. Isaac Richardson read an exhaustive report on the devotional work from personal observation. It was gratifying to know that, although it was vacation season, that all the meetings had been held regularly with one exception, which was prevented by the rain. The Saturday evening, consecration, hospital, open air, Gospel and song service, on Sabbath, Protestant Home Monday afternoon, Bible class Tuesday evenings, and family worship each evening have been used of God as a means of great blessing to all who attended. Young men have been led to Christ and workers quickened and built up. We do praise God for this continuance of the showers of blessing, and we are believing for much more. On Friday evening at 7.30 we shall begin boys' work, opening a junior branch. All lads over ten and under sixteen are invited. We purpose having bright, cheerful meetings for the boys.

During the fall and winter months "Trade receptions" will be held, when practical medical and other talks will be given. We are anxious to reach and benefit all classes of our young men. We hope we shall have the help and countenance of all employers. Other attractions will be announced later, for we are determined, with God's help, to make our Association a power for good in our midst, and our home a place of resort for all young fellows away from home influence.

From Nov. 9 to 15, is the week of prayer for young men all over the world. We propose making Sabbath, Nov. 9th, Y.M.C.A. day in town, seeking the co-operation of pastors and people, asking pastors to preach special sermons to young men, and people give a thank offering for the work among young men. During the following week we shall have Bible reading at 3 p.m. and evangelistic services at 8 p.m.

Owing to a misunderstanding with regard to the munificent gift of the late Mrs. Nicholls, funds have not come in as freely as they should, many thinking we don't require their generous aid now. We therefore desire to say that the money left by the will is for the purpose of putting up a home for our work among young men, and we have not and will not receive any for current expenses; we therefore ask our christian friends to bear our work in mind and by their prayers and means, aid us to do God's work, which we praise Him has been

WHERE IS ALICE SMITH?

A WITNESS IN THE BIRCHALL CASE REPORTED MISSING.

Col. Benwell Detained in England by Illness The Aged Father of the Murdered Man Broken Down by the Tragedy The Prisoner's Nonchalance.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 4.—It is reported that Miss Smith of Eastwood, one of the most important witnesses for the crown in the Benwell murder case, has mysteriously disappeared. No trace of her can be had although Government Detective Murray has been endeavoring for several days to locate her. The absence of Miss Smith as a witness at the trial may have an important bearing on the case. It will be remembered she met Birchall at the Eastwood station with Benwell, and was the only one of many who could positively identify the prisoner. With this link in the chain of evidence broken the crown case will be materially weakened, but as there are 14 days yet before the Assizes open she may be found.

It was on the fatal Feb. 17, 1890, that Miss Alice Smith met the accused at Eastwood, and at the coroner's inquest at Princeton she gave a clear, intelligent account of the meeting with Birchall. "I went over to the station to mail a letter," she said, "and saw a man there whom they call Lord Somerset. I knew him before that day. I saw him at my grandfather's house. He came up and shook hands with me near the gate. He held out his hand and said: 'Shake hands.' I set my basket down and shook hands with him. I said: 'Is it Dudley?' He laughed and said: 'Don't you know me?' He asked about the family and said, 'How is the old governor?' We walked over to the station together and he bought his ticket. I was present when he purchased a ticket for Hamilton." Miss Smith also identified Birchall, or, as she called him, "Lord Somerset," after he was brought to the jail here.

Col. Benwell, father of the murdered young man, was to have sailed to-day from England to give evidence at the trial, but he did not. Arrangements were made to meet him in New York next week. During the progress of the case he was to be the guest of County Attorney Bull, but a cablegram announces the fact that the broken-hearted father is dying and of course will not be a witness against Birchall. Col. Benwell's cousin may come to Canada, but this is not certain. Col. Benwell is a man now past his three score and ten, and the cruel murder of his favorite son last winter has shattered his days on earth. From latest reports it is hardly likely that he will survive to hear the verdict.

A reporter was granted the privilege of seeing Birchall in his cell to-day, with the understanding that he should not be interviewed, as the Government has issued very strict instructions to Jailer Cameron on the subject. Birchall occupies a cell in one of the upper corridors, and next to him are confined three men charged with burglary. Birchall, however, has nothing in common with these prisoners, save proximity of location and the unavoidable detention that results from the intervention of a heavy iron door between them and liberty. His cell is neatly carpeted and decorated with pictures and potted plants. A large writing table littered with papers occupies one side, and behind it this morning sat the prisoner, looking as sleek and comfortable and self possessed as a rising young barrister with a good practice calmly awaiting juicy cases in his private office.

On one side of the cell is a large lunching picture painted in water colors by the prisoner himself, and very cleverly done, for he is an amateur artist of uncommon ability. He spends a good deal of his time in making pen sketches of hunting scenes and highly colored, French-looking wash drawings of actresses in light marching order. It would naturally be imagined that the mental strain to which a man in such a perilous position is subjected would begin to tell on his appearance and demeanor, but Birchall is evidently not that sort of a young person. He is looking just as slick and pretty as when he went through Hamilton last spring on his way to Oxford county jail. "He is a most remarkable man," says Jailer Cameron. "He continues just as light-hearted and free from anxiety as possible. Apparently the apprehension of his approaching trial for murder does not weigh down his spirits in the least." The prisoner has his meals sent up from a hotel, and lives like a fighting cock.

His wife and sister-in-law, Mrs. West Jones, are staying at the Commercial hotel, and have become familiar figures on the streets. They dress rather clamorously, and are quite giddy in their walk and conversation.

The place where Benwell was killed, the "swamp of death" the local papers are fond of calling it, has become an objective point for pilgrimage of morbid curiosity seekers within the last few days, and the livery keepers are reaping a harvest. Last Sunday a constant stream of rigs passed to and fro over the roads between the swamp and the city, and the number of visitors continues almost unabated. They have hacked away at the familiar old stump that has figured in so many newspaper cuts until its oldest friends would hardly recognize it, and not content with that, have carved and written their names and addresses over every place where an autograph would stick. The scene of the murder has been surveyed and stakes planted to show the exact location of Benwell's body when found.

Nobody who visits the spot can fail to be filled with admiration for the almost poetic romanticism exhibited by the murderer in his choice of a background for the tragedy. No place so secluded and so ghastly in its solitary wildness could be chosen by other than a mind keenly alive to the dramatic fitness of things. The place is approached by a narrow lane through dank swamp underbrush, and ever on a bright sunny day the route is anything but a pleasing one. On either side is the primeval swamp, with its scraggy pine trees lifting their skeleton arms, from which the dank, funeral moss swings solemnly in the wind. Huge crows inhabit their branches and go flapping off in lumbering flight, jeering derisively at their disturbers. In the dusk of the narrow road the slimy trails of snakes are seen as the reptiles have wriggled across it from the swamp on one side to plunge into the mire on the other. Here and there their dead bodies lie festering in the road.

The scene of the murder is back about ten yards from the road in the thick of a wide belt of marsh cedar. The victim must have been very unsuspicious indeed to go into such a place on a winter's day, because it would be hard to assign any plausible reason for taking a man into such a God-forsaken hole.

Since the tragedy has become a well-spring of news from this vicinity the crop of amateur newspaper correspondents has increased alarmingly. There is money in the sending of specials to sensational New York and other American papers, and the work has been taken up by clergymen and others intent on augmenting their stipends by this comparatively easy method. Truly it is an ill wind that blows nobody good.

A BEAMSVILLE BELLE.

Figures in a Peculiar Buffalo Scandal—$10,000 Damages Demanded.

BUFFALO, Sept. 4.—If a bridegroom were to cudgel his brains for a month could he think of anything more embarrassing than to be made defendant on the eve of his own wedding, in a suit for alienating a wife's affections? Such a case is before the Supreme Court.

Cards were issued for the marriage of Edward C. Burkhardt, of the well-known real estate firm of Burkhardt Bros., and Miss Laura Schmidt, daughter of Lorenz Schmidt, a well-known German citizen of Highstreet.

The complaint in an action brought by John F. McLaughlin against Edward C. Burkhardt for $10,000 damages, for alienating his wife's affections and debauching her, was filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court this morning.

John F. McLaughlin is a newspaper man. For a number of years he was Buffalo manager for The Elmira Telegram. At present he is special correspondent for a number of out of town newspapers. He alleges in his complaint that his wife, Myra McLaughlin, was assaulted by Edward C. Burkhardt at 184 Maine-street, in October, 1887, and that by threats Mrs. McLaughlin was made to continue an intimacy with Burkhardt for two years thereafter. He claims $10,000 damages.

The place indicated was the Buffalo office of the Elmira paper, and Mrs. McLaughlin was frequently there alone in charge of the office while her husband was away gathering news and collecting money.

Mr. McLaughlin was found at his mother's residence, 132 Michigan-street, and was at first adverse to talk about the case.

"It will do no good to talk about it," he said. "The public will get to know all about it when the trial comes on."

"Where is your wife now?"

"Living with some friends at 19 Seventh-street."

"Apart from you?"

"Yes; I am living with my mother."

"When did you discover your wife's disloyalty?"

"This summer—not very many weeks ago."

"How did you discover it?"

"I found some letters."

"What sort of letters?"

"Letters from Burkhardt. She called herself Ida Brown and carried on a clandestine correspondence with him under that name. They were ordinary love letters."

"What did you do then?"

"Confronted her with what I found out. She denied everything at first and afterward confessed all."

Mrs. McLaughlin is a brunette, petite of figure, dresses well and is rather good looking. She is 27 years old. Her maiden name was Myra House and she came from Beamsville, Ont., a village lying between Hamilton and St. Catharines. She was married to McLaughlin in this city July 8, 1884, by Rev. G. Chapman Jones, formerly pastor of Asbury M. E. Church. McLaughlin is one year older and is a dark haired, bright-eyed, hand some young man.

Mrs. McLaughlin claims her husband says, that she was loyal to her marriage vows until she met Burkhardt.

Louis Brauniein is McLaughlin's attorney. He appeared before Judge Lewis yesterday and secured denial of a demand from the other side for a bill of particulars. The complaint was served several days ago, but not filed till to-day. The defendant, through Roberts, Alexander & Messer, his attorneys, makes a general denial.

Divorce proceedings were begun, it is said some time ago, but abandoned for a peculiar reason. Mrs. McLaughlin fell ill and her husband was sent for and spent the night at the sick woman's bedside caring for her. Constructively this was a condoning of the alleged offence.

Some surprises are expected when the case comes to trial.

At noon to-day it was learned that Mr. Burkhardt and Miss Schmidt were married this morning at St. Louis Church.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Charged With Forgery and Fraud—A Breach of Promise Case.

TORONTO, Sept. 5. Maximilian Berbeur charged with forging a postoffice order, was remanded yesterday that the charge be amended to one of fraud. A second charge has been laid against him. It is alleged the prisoner, after altering the amount in his Savings Bank book from $1 to $4000, got a withdrawal notice, prepared it to send to Ottawa and gave it to William J. Wagner, M. D., who gave him $40, the doctor to get the money from Ottawa, which he proved unable to do.

In the breach of promise case of Fallow field v. Hutchinson Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, for the defendant, moved before the master in-chambers at Osgoode Hall yesterday to change the place of trial from London to Woodstock. The defendant is a widow residing in the township of Durham, Oxford, and the plaintiff a widower and farmer, living near her. It is alleged that he kept company with the plaintiff for about three years and made several promises to marry her. The defendant on Jan. 4 last was married to another woman, and this action was brought by the slighted lover to compensate for her harrowed feelings. The defence alleges that the plaintiff is a woman of "unchaste, dissolute and immoral character," and denies the promise of marriage. Mr. W. Read appeared on behalf of the plaintiff. The master made the order on the ground of convenience, and in so doing said that as this was a case which would depend largely on the proof as to the character of the parties he thought Woodstock was the proper place for the trial.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 4.—The Northwestern Miller says. The flour output last week was the heaviest in nearly a year, being 172,960 barrels. The weakness in wheat has upset the flour trade and caused jobbers to largely withdraw from the market. The sales of local mills the past week have been considerably less than the output. Prices have been reduced 25 to 35 cents per barrel. The trade in all kinds of flour for export is very small. The export shipments for the week were 88,100 barrels.

THE LABOR TROUBLES.

PINKERTONS STILL GUARD THE CENTRAL ROAD.

Raising the Freight Blockade—Many Vacancies in the Shops—Another Alleged Attempt at Train Wrecking—A Narrow Escape—A "Scab" Badly Beaten.

ALBANY, Sept. 4.—General Car Accountant Ewings of the New York Central road was in the city to-day. He said the blockade which had existed in this vicinity was effectually raised, and that everything was running smoothly on the Mohawk and Hudson River divisions. He added that all the fast freight trains would again be running to-night. Robert Pinkerton says there are still 460 of his men stationed at points between here and Schnectady, two-thirds of them being at the East and West Albany yards and at Karner's. He said the men would be kept on patrol duty until the strike was declared off.

The strikers who have not returned to work and who are occupying the railway company's houses have been notified to vacate within 30 days. Superintendent Bissell said to-day that the houses were intended for the occupancy of the company's present employes and not former employes. Assistant-Superintendent Harrington said to-night that a number of applications had been received personally and by letter from striking yardmen who wished to be reinstated, but they were invariably refused work. The strikers deny this.

There are about one-third of the number of men usually employed now at work in the West Albany shops. The majority of these are new men. Each passing day finds a few of the weak-hearted Knights returning to work in the shops. The men do not deny this and are bitter in their denunciation of such as do return to work. A notice was posted to-day by Master Mechanic Packard of the West Albany shops saying no more applications for work would be received, as the company had all the men it needed to carry on its present work. This notice, however, is evidently meant for new men, as it is known the company stands willing to take back more than half of the old shop hands who have become gray in the company's service and whose experience represents so much capital for the company's use.

Attack on a Scab Brakeman.

ALBANY, Sept. 4.—Frank Snyder, a "scab" brakeman in the West Albany Yards, while proceeding to his hotel within a stone's throw of the yards about 10 o'clock to-night was set upon by three men and brutally beaten with clubs on the head and body. His cries attracted the attention of the Pinkerton guards and the assailants fled. Snyder was taken to the city hospital. The house physician says he is in a semi-conscious condition and appears to be badly hurt.

The Brick Boycott.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The members of the Executive Committee of the brick manufacturers appeared to-day before the State Board of Arbitration. They were informed that the walking delegates were willing to submit the dispute to the arbitration of the board if the manufacturers would agree to do the same. Mr. Smith, for the brick manufacturers, said the committee had no power to make such an agreement, but he agreed to submit the matter to the manufacturers at their meeting next Monday. The board left this afternoon for Albany.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.

A Freight on the Central Cut in Two by Unknown Miscreants.

ALBANY, Sept. 4.—Supt. Bissell said to-night that a dastardly attempt to wreck a portion of a freight train was made this afternoon at the Van Woert-street crossing in this city. As the train was proceeding west at that point somebody succeeded in parting the couplings of the second rear car from the rest of the train. The two cars thus separated gained speed as they rolled down the hill at this point. As they passed through the upper part of the yards a yard brakeman observed them and succeeded in boarding them as they rolled on the upper railroad bridge and stopped them within a hundred feet of the open draw. The draw had been opened to allow the passage of one of the Troy boats which was just passing through as the cars were brought to a stand still. Had the runaway continued on they would have plunged down on the vessel, which was freighted with human lives. Superintendent Bissell said the company has as yet obtained no clue to the party who parted the coupling.

A Train Wrecked 5 Persons Killed.

ALBANY, Sept. 5.—The train from New York due here at 11½ p.m. had not been heard from since it left Hudson on time. It is now two hours late. No information can be obtained at the station here.

ALBANY, Sept. 5.—Train No. 13, the Adirondack, Montreal and Niagara Falls express, was wrecked three miles north of Castelton.

Four men and a woman are reported killed.

It is reported rails or ties were fastened on the track.

No details are available.

Strikers Discharged.

GREENVILLE, Pa., Sept. 4.—The strikers on the Pittsburg, Shenango & Lake Erie Railroad refused to work yesterday and were discharged. The company is trying to fill their places.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

Entertained by the Ottawa Unions—Election of Officers.

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—There was no business session of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress this morning, the delegates being treated to a drive about the city and vicinity by the local unions. The experimental farm, Chaudiere Mills and other points of interest were visited.

The election of officers took place this afternoon. For president the nominees were J. T. Carey of St. Catharines and Urbaine Lefontaine of Montreal, the latter being chosen by a vote of 42 to 39. Mr. Lefontaine was vice-president last year and has for some time been prominent in labor circles. He is a printer by trade and is employed in Le Monde office.

John Armstrong of Toronto was elected vice-president and R. R. Elliot of Niagara Falls, secretary-treasurer.

The congress sat to-night until 10½. The immigration question was discussed. Mr. D. J. O'Donoghue submitted a resolution condemning the immigration policy of the Dominion Government. The debate was a most acrimonious one and the congress adjourned without disposing of the resolution, which will be further considered to-morrow.

Sudden Death at Palmerston.

PALMERSTON, Sept. 4.—There was another very sudden death here Tuesday morning at the residence of Mr. Robbins. Rev. James Broley, Methodist minister of Fergus, went to visit with Mr. Robbins on the Friday before. He got up Tuesday morning quite early as was his habit, and after walking around for some time went to his room again. Shortly after Mr. Robbins heard a noise, and went to the rev. gentleman's room and found him dead. It is supposed death occurred from neuralgia of the heart or some kindred trouble.

Drowned at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Sept. 4.—Last evening an elderly man named Page was sitting on the Michigan Central slip dock in company with two other men fishing for minnows with hand nets, when he fell in and was drowned.

The Premier's Return.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—Sir John and Lady Macdonald, accompanied by Mr. Joseph Pope, will return to town Saturday. The Premier has been greatly benefited by his summer vacation and change of air and scene. He will leave Riviere du Loup to-morrow at midday and reach Ottawa at 12:00 on Saturday.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

CHOLERA BREAKS OUT IN A VALENCIA COLLEGE.

Eight Young Ladies Prostrated by the Scourge—Emperor William Meets With an Enthusiastic Reception at Flensburg—Armed Armenians on the March.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The cholera has broken out among the students of the College of Jesus and Mary, an institute for young ladies in Valencia. There are under treatment 18 cases. No deaths have occurred.

Emperor William arrived at Flensburg last night. He met with an enthusiastic reception. To-day he reviewed a large body of troops. Many foreign princes and officers were on the parade grounds to receive him, and the review was a brilliant affair.

It is reported from Constantinople that a body of armed Armenians have crossed the frontier from Persia to assist their persecuted brethren in Turkey.

The Drave River has overflowed and vast tracts in Corinthia have been laid waste. The rains in the valleys of the Danube and Moldau only ceased at noon to-day.

Fires broke out almost simultaneously in four different parts of Salonica to-day and did a large amount of damage. The Greek and Jewish quarters are devastated. It is supposed the fires were set by incendiaries. The Government at Athens will send two warships to Salonica to protect Greek subjects.

The express train was derailed near Calais to-day. The mail was smashed. Four persons were killed and 20 injured.

Hartington Speaks at York.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—At a Unionist demonstration at York yesterday Lord Hartington said he believed that the exultations of the Gladstonians were wasted. The session recently closed could scarcely be paralleled in any period of English history, even during the bitterest party contests. He warned the Gladstonians that contempt for or miscalculation of the strength of the Unionist party was likely to lead to disaster. It could not be denied that the success of the Parnellite tactics rendered Parliament impotent, and made the Irish party more formidable than it ever had been, even in the days of O'Connell or of Mitchell, Smith and O'Brien. This success, he was convinced, had been the chief factor in the conversion of Harcourt, Morley, Trevelyan and a majority of the Liberals to Home Rule. They did not think that Ireland with Home Rule would be better governed, but believed that it was useless longer to contend against the insidious poison that was sapping the life of parliamentary government. He, however, was of the opinion that they ought not to succumb, but should resist to the last, as their predecessors had done, and he believed that public opinion would support the Unionists in so resisting.

MIZNER IN TROUBLE.

The Mob Thirsts for His Gore and Cries "Death to Yankees."

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—A special from Guatemala City says: "Death to Yankees," was the cry of an angry and excited mob that surrounded the United States legation yesterday. Threats of stoning the building and mobbing the inmates were freely uttered, but no overt act was committed in the face of the strong force of police that guards the premises day and night. Every visitor is closely questioned before being admitted to the office, and is more or less under surveillance while inside. Whenever Mr. Mizner has occasion to leave the legation he is surrounded by a body guard of armed police. Rumor has it that these are to be superseded by blue jackets from the Thetis, who are also to form a cordon of safety about the legation. Sympathy grows for General Barrundia's daughter, who is kept a close prisoner for her attempt upon Mizner's life.

RUN TO EARTH AT CHATHAM.

Newton Kempt Arrested, Charged With Shooting Joseph Reeds.

WINDSOR, Sept. 4.—Newton Kempt, the colored man charged with shooting Joseph Reeds at a Brighton Beach dance, was arrested at Chatham by Chief Young last night and brought to Windsor this morning by Detective Campau. Kempt says he knows nothing about the shooting, but he was remanded until Sept. 12. Reeds is reported as doing fairly well to-day and may recover.

A FATAL BEAR HUNT.

John Brown of Russell County Shot Instead of Bruin.

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—A horrible fatality is reported from Cumberland township, Russell county. John Melville and John Brown, two farmers, went bear hunting at night. They mounted separate scaffolds, erected for the double purpose of giving shelter and affording a place of retreat. In the night Melville heard a noise and observing a dark object tired. The report was followed by a human shriek. The shot had taken fatal effect on Brown, killing him almost instantly.

Atty.-Gen. Robidoux's Washington Mission.

QUEBEC, Sept. 4.—Attorney-General Robidoux will leave for Washington Saturday to negotiate for the extradition of Leda Langtagne, who was arrested in Boston for arson. It has been arranged that he will meet Secretary of State Blaine. This is the first time that an Attorney-General has undertaken a mission of this kind.

The Stationary Engineers' Convention.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—In the convention of stationary engineers to-day on the question of affiliating with the Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers, it was voted to tender to a representation of the Canadian organization present the privileges of the floor. The question was laid over.

Juveniles Rob a Till.

WINDSOR, Sept. 4.—Paul Ronan (white), aged 10, and Benjamin Coleman (colored), aged 13, have been arrested on a charge of robbing the till of James Haggarth of about $130. Part of the money has been recovered.

Atty.-Gen. Longley Blackballed.

HALIFAX, Sept. 4.—Attorney-General Longley has been blackballed by the aristocratic Halifax Club. Out of 55 votes cast there were 11 ebon-hued spheres.

Hamilton's Library Opening.

HAMILTON, Sept. 4.—The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen have promised to attend the opening of the new public library building on Sept. 16.

BARRUNDIA'S DEATH.

President Harrison's Message to the Widow—Careful Consideration Promised.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Acting Secretary Wharton to-day sent the following telegram to the widow of Gen Barrundia in reply to her message to the President Monday:

"President desires me to say he has received your telegram announcing death of your husband, Gen. Barrundia. While deeply sympathizing with you in your affliction he awaits official details of the occurrence necessary to determine his action in regard thereto. The matter, you may be assured, will receive most careful attention."

Halifax Honors Her Hero.

HALIFAX, Sept. 3.—The harbor and residences on the Northwest Arm were brilliantly illuminated in honor of the visit of Lieut. Stairs.

Bad Hamilton Boys.

HAMILTON, Sept. 4.—Johnnie Slattery, the 12-year-old boy convicted of larceny, against whom a previous conviction was scored, was sent to the Penetang Reformatory to-day for three years. His brother Leo, two years younger, was fined $10, and the remaining four youngsters concerned in the crime were allowed to go on deferred sentence.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1890.

Mr. John Mather says that no damage has been done to the crops in Manitoba and the Northwest by frost, and that the wheat yield will be abundant.

The British Board of Trade return shows that there were 1,076 persons killed, and 4,836 injured on railways in the United Kingdom last year. Of these, 183 killed and 1,834 injured were passengers.

Capital is being raised in Paris to construct a railroad across the desert of Sahara, from Algiers to Lake Tchad. The road will be two thousand miles long, and is designed to connect the French settlements in the interior of Africa with Tunis and Algiers.

Sir John Macdonald denies that he has invested any money in West Virginia timber lands. The premier is anxious to show, says the Ottawa Free Press, that at least one member of the Conservative party has not been placing his surplus wealth in the United States. Sir Charles Tupper, Sir David Macpherson, and Messrs. Chapleau, Ives, Pope, Cochrane, Ogilvie, and the other professional patriots are not able to point to the premier's example as an excuse for investing in Colorado and Texas ranches.

There seems to be no doubt that the petition against the return of Mr. Jas. H. Sharpe, the Liberal M.P.P. for Parry Sound, has been allowed to drop by default. The law requires that the candidate petitioned against must be served with the necessary papers within five days of the filing. Mr. Sharpe was not served until twelve days after, and then application was made to Mr. Justice Osler to allow such service as good. This the judge declined, and now there is nothing to do but for the petitioner to move for leave to withdraw his deposit of $1,000.

The modus vivendi between Great Britain and France, with respect to the Newfoundland fisheries, will expire with the present fishing season, and the Imperial authorities have intimated that, in view of the feeling in Newfoundland, it cannot be renewed. Newspapers supporting the Salisbury government are urging that France should be given territory in Africa or the South Seas in exchange for the surrender of all her rights on the Newfoundland coasts, and Great Britain's liberality towards France in the recent subdivision of Africa may pave the way for some method of settling the Newfoundland difficulty.

The United States has a surplus of politics; they have a good many acres in their bounds, and a good deal of politics to the acre. And just now politics are in a lively condition. The elections in Kentucky a short while ago and in Arkansas last Monday indicate that the South is even more solidly Democratic than ever. In Maine the Republicans are meeting with unexpected obstacles and difficulties. But the whole interest of the State contests centres in Pennsylvania. The elections in that State, however, will not take place till November. The result largely depends on the labour vote, which at present seems to incline most towards the Democrats. Should Mr. Pattison, the Democratic nominee for Governor, carry Pennsylvania, it will be regarded as the death knell of the Republican party in the elections for the House of Representatives.

In the last session of the Federal Parliament it was announced for the special benefit of the Maritime Provinces that the duty on molasses would be reduced and that a drawback of 90 per cent. of the duty paid would be allowed on all corn kiln-dried and ground for human food. The whole thing, as the Montreal Herald shows, has turned out to be a humbug. The reduction of duty on molasses only amounts to about a cent and a half a gallon, and the scheme allowing a drawback on corn is simply unworkable. The scheme itself was surrounded by natural difficulties and the government regulations have simply killed it. The miller is actually asked to give an undertaking that every barrel or bag of kiln-dried cornmeal he grinds and sells will be used only for human food, before he can secure the drawback, and is made liable to pains and penalties if afte. it goes out of his possession it should be diverted to any other use. Of course no miller who has a spark of conscience or common sense would consent to give an undertaking that the cornmeal which he grinds will not be fed to pigs, and so the law is a dead letter.

The New Asylum Inspector.

Dr. Chamberlain, of Dundas, has been appointed to the Inspectorship of Prisons and Asylums, made vacant by the death of Dr. O'Reilly. The appointment will give a large measure of satisfaction. Dr. Chamberlain is well known and much esteemed throughout the whole of Eastern Ontario. He has exceptional qualifications for the position. He has an honorable standing in his profession. He has plenty of energy, a sound judgement and an unblemished character. He has been a fighting Liberal for a quarter of a century. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the representation of Dundas in the Commons, and ran three contests for the seat in the Legislature. In the general election of 1886 he was successful, and notwithstanding that Dundas ranks as a safe Conservative constituency, he was defeated on other occasions by very narrow majorities. He has fought the battle of Liberalism all through Eastern Ontario, and ranks as one of the best platform speakers in the Province. In the Legislature he was by no means a silent member, and perhaps Dundas and the Eastern Counties never had a more vigilant champion of their interests. The appointment will have the hearty sanction of Conservatives and Liberals alike, and will afford an additional guarantee of the efficient, economical and humane working of the Provincial institutions over which he will exercise official control. The Government's management of these institutions has always been one of its best titles to the confidence and support of the community.—Globe.

HIS LITTLE GAL.

One bright summer morning as I threw open the blinds of my sitting-room I saw an old man coming slowly up the walk, seemingly seeking someone or something. I answered his gentle tap at the open door.

"Be you the lady who lives here?" he asked timidly. I replied that I was she.

"I hate to trouble ye, ma'am, but have ye seen anything of our little gal? We call her Polly. She has brown eyes and long, yaller curls, and wears a blue dress and white pantalets. It an't but a few minutes since I seen her about, so I know she can't be gone fur—but it seems like I ort to keep her in sight more now that mother's gone."

I had seen no child of that description, but thinking that she might have strayed too far for his feeble strength to follow, I offered to go with him to help find her. He accepted my offer with thanks, and I put on my hat and we started slowly up the shadeless street.

My companion chatted with me as we went along. He was "nigh 81," he said, and but for a touch of the "rheumatiz" was as well and strong as ever he had been.

He was a handsome old man, a little bent, but still taller than the average. His hair was fine and perfectly white and hung in long locks, making a silvery frame for his ruddy face and blue eyes.

He told me a good deal about Polly; she was a good little thing, but of late she had taken to running away. Polly "favored" her mother's side, and she came from the handsomest family at this end of the valley. They were short-lived, that family, and poor mother was the last to go. "I suppose the little girl was his grand-daughter, although he referred to her as "my little darter."

We were passing a comfortable-looking house with a great roomy, yard at the back, where some children had made a miniature ring on the turf and with a pony were having the gayest, noisiest sort of a time, playing circus.

"Father! father!" called a stout, middle-aged woman, who came out of the door and down the walk to the gate.

"It's Mis' Green, my darter," explained my friend.

"I hope he hasn't bothered you, madam. It's only father, and he runs away if we don't watch him pretty close."

"Not at all! I was trying to help him find his little girl," I replied.

"Oh! that's just his notion. Since mother died he isn't quite himself here," tapping her forehead. "I'm Polly, and he forgets that I am grown and thinks he has lost me. If I only had a daughter now he'd be more contented like, but my five is all boys, you see. Some days he wanders about in the church-yard, there hunting for my name among the tombstones. 'Goodness knows!' if them boys don't quit breaking their necks with that circus out there, he'll find it soon enough, but it will be a bigger mound than he is looking for."

The old man had quietly slipped into the house and now came out with a faded daguerreotype, which he put into my hand, saying "This is my little gal: my Polly."

As I looked from the delicate little pictured face, with its long, fair curls to the broad, good-natured features of the woman before me, I scarcely wondered that his weakened brain could not grasp their identity.

Here with a rush and a whoop three youngsters came running toward us calling "Grandpa! grandpa! come to our circus and see how Bob can ride bare-back, standing up."

"Yes, yes, boys, I'm coming," he answered, and off he trotted after them. And I heard him asking as he went along, "Boys has any of ye seen my little gal? We call her Polly. She has brown eyes and long yaller curls, and wears a blue dress and white pantalets. It an't but a little while since I seen her about and I know she an't fur off, but it seems as though I ort to keep her close by me, now that mother's gone."

The Largest Check Ever Drawn.

Up to the present day Vanderbilt's check for £700,000 was erroneously supposed to be the largest ever drawn. This has been eclipsed, as one drawn by the Indian & Peninsula Railroad company for £1,250,000 on the London and County Bank of London has just passed through the Clearing House. In 1883 the Pennsylvania Railroad drew a check in favor of Messrs. Kidder, Peabody & Co., for over $14,000,000 in payment of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore stock. This check was framed and hung up in the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.—Financial News.

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

SOME STRANGE SUICIDES.

REMARKABLE INSTANCES OF INGENIOUS SELF-DESTRUCTION.

A Home-Made Guillotine—One Man Tried to Fall Down a Scaffold and Crush Himself—The Cool Attempt of Hunter the Murderer—Bridgeport's Suicide Club.

Statistics of suicides show that self-destruction is more prevalent among men than among women in all countries except France and Spain, where the proportion is about equal. Suicides among men are largely in a majority in Germany, the proportion being sixty-seven to thirty-three. In Ireland felo de se is rare, and among Africans it is almost unknown.

In America, with its polyglot population, the proportion is about the same as in the countries of the Old World, but the ingenuity and the determination displayed in a large number of instances have no counterpart anywhere else in the world. It remained for a Yankee boy in Connecticut to devise a method for ending his life, which has, in all probability, never had a parallel. Reproved or punished for some trifling offense, he went to his father's barn and spent three days in rigging up a guillotine, with which he successfully beheaded himself. Between a pair of grooved uprights he fixed a butcher's cleaver, sharpened to a razor-like edge. This he weighted on top with a box of scrap iron and stone weighing 200 pounds. From the top of the uprights to the bottom the distance was five feet, and the cleaver was held in position at the top by a rope reeved through a pulley and held by a wooden lever four feet in length. On the end of this lever he hung a large tin pail, in the bottom of which a small hole had first been bored. The pail was filled with water, which slowly dripped through the hole in the bottom. After these arrangements had been completed the lad placed his neck between the uprights directly in line with the cleaver. When the water in the pail had nearly all escaped the lever flew up, the rope was released and the sharpened blade fell like a flash. The head of the suicide was cut off clear and clean.

A SURE THING.

In March, 1883, a man boarded a ferryboat running between Philadelphia and Camden, N.J., and when the boat was in midstream he took a vial from his pocket containing prussic acid. He swallowed the contents, at the same time mounting the rail. Before the deck hands could check him the self-murderer leaped into the river and as he went overboard shot himself through the head with a bullet from a bulldog revolver. When his body was recovered and a post-mortem examination was made sufficient poison was found in his stomach to have killed a dozen men.

A few years ago a despondent German, who had lodgings on Grand street, near the Bowery, rigged up an old fowling-piece in front of a table, with the stock resting on the floor. He had first charged it heavily with powder and slugs. To the trigger he attached a string which was run around the table leg. The other end was tied to his foot. He had two revolvers of 42-calibre each in the right and left pocket of his sack coat. There was a pitcher of beer on the table. Thus the man drank with the muzzle of the gun pointing at his face. When he was ready to die he drew out the revolvers and placed the muzzles against either side of his head. As he pulled the triggers he jerked his foot. The three weapons exploded simultaneously. The gun had been improperly set and the charge went over his head. The bullet from the pistol in his left hand glanced upward and simply cut a groove through the scalp. The other bullet entered the brain, but did not have the effect even of producing unconsciousness, so the suicide arose, dragged gun and table across the room to a bureau, and there, picking up a razor, cut his throat from ear to ear. This caused death.

A MURDERER'S ATTEMPT.

One of the coolest and most deliberate attempts at suicide recorded is that of Benjamin Hunter, the murderer of John Armstrong, in Camden, N.J., in 1879. Hunter was confined in the "murderers' cage" in the county jail under charge of the deathwatch. He complained of chilliness one night and was permitted to wrap up his lower extremities in a blanket. He had previously torn off the rim of his tin cup with his teeth and had it concealed in his trousers pocket. Talking on commonplace topics to his guard, Hunter secretly took the jagged strip of tin from his pocket, and concealing his movements with the blanket, began cutting into an artery in his left leg. The blood spurted out in jets, and the flow was concealed by Hunter spreading the blanket out like a skirt. He became so weak that he was unable to continue the conversation and the guard's suspicions were aroused. He made an examination and found that the murderer was bleeding to death. Physicians were summoned, a ligature was applied and Hunter's life was saved. He was afterwards hanged and it was pretty generally believed that he was dead from fright and sedatives before the cord tightened around his neck.

A man named Nerdinger, living at No. 618 East Eleventh street, killed himself in April last with unusual deliberation. He went into a woodshed, and, placing a thin rope around his neck, tied the ends to a post. Then he walked around and around until he had strangled himself.

A tailor in Philadelphia took one of the blades of a pair of scissors, and, putting the point directly over his heart, pushed the blade slowly into his body by pressing the other end against the wall of his shop.

WANTED TO BE CRUSHED.

Probably the most remarkable attempt at self-destruction was that of a man in Pittsburg, in May of the present year. He gave his name as J. Henry Elkins and wanted to die because he was out of work. He was found standing under the scaffolding of the United Evangelical Church trying to loosen one of the props to pull it down and crush himself. He was arrested and sent to the workhouse for thirty days.

to you?" in a spirit somewhat different from that in which the same words are used by us in answer to "Many happy returns" on birthday and other anniversaries. It may be mentioned that where the Jews are in power they give no salute to one of the Goim, but scowl at him.

The Chinese in greeting not only depreciate their own status, but exaggerate that of the party of the other part. The established ritual averages thus: "How is the excellent health enjoyed by your wealthy and accomplished highness, and that of the brilliant full moon, his spouse, and of the strong lions, his sons, and graceful gazelles, his daughters?"

The wish of salute is often specific, connected with the circumstances of environment. The people of Cairo anxiously ask: "How do you perspire?" a dry skin being the symptom of the dreaded fever. In hot Persia the friendly wish is expressed: "May God cool your age!"—that is, give you comfort in declining years. In the same land originates the quaint form: "May your shadow never be less!" which does not apply, as often now used in Europe, to the size and plumpness of the body as indicating robust healt, but to deprecate exposure to the noon sun, when all shadows are least.

The Genoese, in their time of prosperity, used the form "health and gain!" In some of the Polynesian isles the prayer for coolness is carried into action, it being the highest politeness to fling a jar of water over a friend's head. According to Humboldt the morning salute on the Orinoco is "How have the mosquitoes used you?" The old religious views of the Persians are found in their wishes: "Live forever!" and still retained in Spain, probably a direct legacy from the Moors, "May you live a thousand years!" They believed only in this life, and that through divine favor it might be unlimited.

Some quaint theories have been presented with regard to the special phraseology of verbal salutation among several nations. It is contended the Romans expressed their main interest concerning the vigor constituting the basis of a warlike nation by Quomodo vales? literally "How is your strength?" The French, Comment vous portez vous? is supposed to be appropriate to a people attaching great value to agility and the manner in which the body is supported on its legs for immediate motion. The Italian, Come stadella? may have reference to the posing dignity of the nation, while the German, Wie befindensie sich? suggests the analytical and self-inspecting character of the Teutons. In the English "How do you do?" Krummacher, laying great emphasis on the word "do," as denoting action, distinguishes the energy of the people.

The terms of affection in greeting are too numerous to be now recited. The following are mentioned as unhackneyed and of interest. Some Orientals say: "Thou hast made me desolate by thine absence from me," and the ordinary form of greeting among the Zulus is simply "I see you, and I am glad."

The variant phrases of respect are also multitudinous. Perhaps the most distinct form in which the common and ancient expression of the East, 'I am your slave,' survives in Western Europe is in the Piedmont district of Italy. The Spaniards through the influence of Moors and Jews, have many relices of Orientalism. Its features become colloquial in the form Usted contracted from Vuestra merced, your mercy, your grace, often appearing in the phrase "I kiss my hands to your grace" and "I kiss your grace's hands."—Philadelpia Record.

JUNIPER ISLAND STORE

A full assortment of Groceries, Canned Goods and Campers' Supplies generally—a first class stock, fresh and reliable, and at Peterborough prices. The popularity of this store last year and the favor with which it was received—has induced us to enlarge the building and lay in a much larger stock this season so that campers may be saved the trouble and annoyance of bringing their supplies from town and other places, as they can be equally as well served by us. Being centrally situated, it is easy of access—the Steamer passing close to the Island both entering and leaving Stony Lake.

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and unbalanced by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of assurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,708,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; so was that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,864,576	2.07
Confederation	17,674,623	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,971,400	10.29
Federal	10,058,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.36
North American	8,470,620	10 68
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17.84
Ottawa	2,067,956	20.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	20.12
London Life	1,644,295	20.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Iron in Belmont.

A Blairton correspondent writes the Campbellford Herald as follows:—Mr. T. J. Ledyard, of Toronto, owner of what appears to be a large body of iron ore, situated on lot 17, con. 1., sowrship of Belmont, has given orders to Mr. J. W. Purdy, his superintendent, to sink a number of shafts 6 by 8 feet, from 80 to 100 feet deep as trial pits. Captain Purdy procured a gang of blasters, blacksmiths, etc., from here, and commenced operations on 25th ult. If the mine proves good enough to guarantee an outlay of building a branch line from C.P.R. to the mine, it will likely be operated ere long.

A Hundred Miles of Wire.

A carload of material has arrived for the Ontario Telephone Company, including over 100 miles of No. 12 wire, a thousand feet of 100-wire aerial cable, manufactured by the Edison Electric Company, of Sherbrooke, (soon to locate in Peterborough), and 10,000 glass insulators. The work of construction is progressing rapidly. The company have already erected 200 poles, all well dressed. Those on the principal streets are to be painted. The cross-arms are now being put up, after which the wires will be strung. The central office on Simcoe street is also being got ready for business. The superintendent and directors are hustling everything along and promise to have their lines in operation in a very short time.

News from the North.

The Progress of Christianity in Geodetham—Clever Mormon Prophets.

To the many friends of Rev. F. A. Leitch in Peterborough the following letter to a friend and co-worker in Peterborough, giving a sketch of his experience in his new field of labour, will be like a personal message:—

DEAR BRO. SUTHERLAND:

I am back in this north country doing a grand work for the Lord. His name be praised. At Swamp Lake, the McMann appointment, was the scene of them st wonderful revival the world ever saw, for the mighty, quickening influence of God's Holy Spirit. The church membership has been increased four or five times, and last Sunday morning every man, woman and the boys and girls stood to their feet, showing a determination to live for God, and all but two or three were soundly converted to God. Whole families have been blessed. Rough shantymen can now praise God, who used to blaspheme His Holy name. In homes where prayer never was made, they now have family altars. Where the squeaking of the fiddle, and "ladies to the centre, half way round," was the most familiar sound, and the only amusement for m st of the peoples—there is now "Praise God from whom all blessings flow"; and still the good work is going on. In Monmouth the Mormons have quite a few members. They call themselves the re organized Church of Latter-day-Saints of Jesus Christ. Their prophets, as they are called, work hard, they are well posted in the Scriptures. An ordinary Methodist preacher, or any other preacher, would be twisted endways by these men. They are irrepressible, know nothing of defeat, and would debate for months on anything in the Word, taking opposite sides. Some good meaning people have joined them, but thank God some have renounced their faith in this doctrine when the exposure was made, feeling mortified to think they had been duped so badly.

We have considerable hunting and fishing. The settlers intend making it interesting for hunting parties who bring dogs and run the deer out of the country. One camp left about twenty to rot in the bush one year, merely hunting for fun; while the settlers depend upon the deer for food.

Who Will be There.

Delegates from the Bay of Quinte Conference to the Coming General Conference, Montreal.

The General Conference of the Methodist Church opens in Montreal on Wednesday next, 10th inst. The delegates from the Bay of Quinte Conference who will be present are as follows:—

MINISTERIAL—W. Burns, Millbrook; E. Badgley, Cobourg; W. Buchanan, Brighton; N. Burwash, Cobourg; A. B. Chambers, Napanee; Amos Campbell, Sterling; J. S. Clarke, Norwood; W. P. Dyer, Belleville; Thos. Griffith, Picton; Wm. Johnston, Omemee; Wm. Jolliffe, Tamworth; O. Lambly, Wellington; A. Rayner, Cobourg; J. J. Rice, Dalesford; S. J. Shorey, Peterborough; E. B. Stratton, Trenton; Wm. Williams, Lindsay.

LAYMEN—W. H. Austin, Trenton; James Aylesworth, Newburg; R. W. Clarke, Millbrook; Judge Dean, Lindsay; W. Eyers, Cannington; J. M. Ferris, Campbellford; Dr. Ford, Norwood; R. Gordon, Madoc; W. F. Hall, Napanee; J. A. Holgate, Foxboro; John Hull, Lakefield; Wm. Johnston, Belleville; A. L. Morden, Napanee; E. D. Flynn, Madoc; G. D. Platt, Picton; C. T. Wilson, Picton; Geo. Wilson, Port Hope.

This is a representative body meeting once in four years and is composed of about three hundred members, half ministers and half laymen. These representatives are chosen by the Annual Conferences by ballot, without nomination, in the proportion of one representative for twelve members of the conference. The programme of business for this session is unusually heavy. First among the burning questions may be placed the university matter, in which the whole church and the people of Ontario are interested. The superannuation fund will be up for re-adjustment. Some think the fund should be divided into two parts, ministerial and lay. An attempt will be made to equalize the assessments so that the burden will fall lightest on the ministers with the smallest salaries. Then there will be the length of the pastoral term—shall it remain at three or shall it be extended to four or five or left optional? The general superintendency will form a subject of consideration, and shall call for a decision as to whether there shall be in future two or one. The scope of the powers of a general superintendent will also be defined. Another question will be the equalization of ministers' salaries. At present a sustentation fund is permissive, and some of the conferences have one and others have not. A memorial will bring up the status of evangelists, and an effort will be made to formulate regulations under which they may be brought. The Constitution of the Stationing Committee will probably be as live a question as will be debated. Some laymen are agitating for a place on the Stationing Committee and the admission of laymen to functions now purely ministerial. Another memorial will bring up the State order of precedence recently so much discussed. Mr. Clark is also the representative from his conference to the Board of Missions, which is composed of one minister and one layman from each conference, and this year meets immediately after the close of the General Conference, and makes all appropriations to the Foreign and Domestic Missions of the Canadian Church. The sum to be disbursed amounts to about $220 000.

HORTICULTURAL EXHIBIT.

The Grand Annual Display of Flowers, Fruit and Fine Art.

Increased Interest Manifested by the Public—Mr. Cobb's Fine Floral Exhibit—List of the Prize Winners.

Another highly successful annual horticultural exhibition was held in the new market building Thursday. A pleasing feature of the exhibition was the largely increased attendance over other years. This is not only encouraging to the promoters of the exhibition, but also is an evidence of the growth of the public taste for displays of flowers and the fine arts. The building was thronged with people at the evening exhibition. Their promenade around the gayly decorated hall was enlivened by delightful music from the band, which was stationed at one end. All the visitors were loud in their praises of the exhibition. The departments were all well filled, the floral display being especially good. A fine show was made by Mr. J. H. Cobb, who in former years has been an extensive exhibitor and prize-winner. Some murmurs were heard from less fortunate exhibitors regarding Mr. Cobb's appropriation of a majority of the prizes; so this year he did not make an entry but contented himself with making a large and most attractive display on one of the centre tables.

A good deal of attention was also attracted to the exhibit of drawing by the Mechanics' Institute class, the workmanship shown reflecting great credit alike upon the pupils and their teacher, Mr. A. McCallum.

Following is the prize list, the prizes in the majority of instances being $1 for first and 50c. for second:—

Stony Lake Musings.

(Written for the Examiner.)

A fish! A fish! I've caught a fish!
Rings out the cheerful cry.
And eager hands the trophy raise
Exultingly on high.

Swift speeds the news from group to group.
And all rejoicing share.
The good success while rod or line
They hold with double care.

How hopefully! How patiently!
For hours and hours they stand.
Now here, now there, the line to throw,
With sure and steady hand.

No sluggishness, no apathy,
At all is manifest.
Betimes they rise each morn to trawl,
With undiminished zest.

Oh, that we would as patiently
Work for our blessed Lord,
Expectingly as line is cast.
Publish salvation's word.

Gladly proclaiming tidings glad,
Of good for Jesus doms,
Rejoicing together when we hear
Lost souls to him are won.

Republican Government.

French and American newspapers have taken to criticizing and comparing the political systems and methods in vogue in the two countries with a candour quite refreshing. An American writer, Mr. William H. Hurlburt, started the controversy by showing how the French Government defeats the will of the people and tramples on universal suffrage. As might have been expected when the proverbial tenant of a glass house takes to throwing stones, the retort from the French brought a shower of splinters about the head of the aggressor. If the Republicans who govern France are adept in the art of perverting the popular judgment, they are yet, in the opinion of the French writer, mere novices compared to the Republicans of the United States. It is the old story of the pot and kettle exchanging sarcastic compliments on each other's cleanliness. It is a pity that the two greatest republics in the world should show each other how little either possesses of civic virtue and political honesty. It would be unfair, however, to pass silently over the fact that the best men in France as well as the United States do not meddle in politics. Politics in those countries do not enter into the lives of the people so intimately as one would suppose by reading their newspapers. The masses of the people, so long as they are secured in the peaceful enjoyment of the proceeds of their industry, and conscious of of their power to right all wrongs of government themselves by constitutional methods, do not trouble much about charges of dishonesty and corruption hurled by one party against another. They regard all such as part of the game, and nothing is more difficult than to get them to look at them seriously.—Montreal Star.

Personal.

The Port Hope Guide says:—Mr. J. J. Tilley, Inspector of Model Schools, is in town to-day. He and Mrs. Tilley have just returned from and eight weeks outing at lake Minnitonka, Minn. They have had a most enjoyable time among their American cousins.

Mr. R. A. Lyon, ex-M.P.P. for East Algoma, was yesterday appointed Registrar of East Algoma. Mr. Lyon represented the constituency named from 1878 until 1890, with an intermission from 1883 to 1885. He has been for many years engaged as a lumbermen and merchant among his late constituents.

Wilson's Wild Cherry.

For nearly twenty years this valuable medicine has been largely used for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis Croup, Whooping Cough, Loss of Voice, and Lungs. Those who know its value always recommend it to their friends, knowing that Wilson's Wild Cherry never disappoints. The genuine is sold by all druggists in white wrappers only. dw

There are many white soaps in the market each represented to be as good as Bailley's. They are not, but like all counterfeits, lack that peculiar and remarkable quality of the genuine. Ask for Bailey's Electric or Cyclone, and insist upon getting it. tuf-w

ICE! ICE! ICE!

Hotels, Shops, Private Families, Attention.

EVERYBODY requires ice in the summer season, and in order that their wants shall be fully supplied with that indispensable article a new and fully equipped ice house is in course of erection.

The Point St. Charles Ice Co.

have commenced building a large, commodious and thoroughly equipped ice house, with all modern improvements for the storing and handling of ice, and will be in a position next season to supply all those favoring them with their patronage.

The undersigned, in soliciting the patronage of the citizens of Peterborough and Ashburnham, beg to state that all orders for ice with which they are favored will receive prompt attention. It will be to the advantage of the public not to place their orders for next season's ice until they have compared rates, etc. There is plenty of time to think the matter over.

Trusting that by supplying the best quality of ice, and by attending to the refrigerators promptly and courteously to receive a share of public patronage.

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps go as high as the highest, we are noted for having lines at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

KINGAN & CO.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

A DECLARATION FOR AN ELECTIVE GOVERNOR.

The Delegates at Ottawa Think the Time Has Come to Put a Canadian in Rideau Hall—Chinese Immigration Strongly Opposed.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Congress to-night these resolutions were adopted:—

"That in the opinion of this congress the employment of Chinese labor in the mines should be prohibited by law and a penalty of $500 should be imposed for each offence.

"That this congress demands that the Dominion Government pass such legislation as will have the effect of prohibiting the importation of Chinese labor and so prohibiting the further importation of this undesirable class of people."

There was another warm debate on the immigration resolution to-day, in the course of which Mr. R. R. Elliott of Niagara charged that Mr. O'Donoghue had struck at the Dominion Government because he was in the employ of the Ontario Government. Mr. O'Donoghue characterized this remark as impertinent.

An hour or more was spent in discussing the credentials of R. R. Elliott of Niagara, their validity having been questioned. The question was finally referred to the executive.

The congress at midnight adopted this resolution, moved by Mr. Darlington of Montreal and seconded by Mr. R. Keyes of Montreal.

"That this congress is of the opinion that the people of Canada at the present are capable of finding a man from amongst themselves to perform the functions of Governor-General of Canada. Therefore be it resolved that we demand on behalf of the people of this country to hereafter elect our Governor instead of having one appointed by the British Government."

EIGHT HOUR MEN VICTORIOUS.

The Principle Endorsed by the Trades Congress at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 5.—The trades unions congress yesterday voted in favor of having the working day of eight hours made compulsory by parliament. Mr Abraham, member of parliament, said if the present parliament would not make the adoption of the eight hour system compulsory, the workingmen, by the use of the franchise, could get a House that would give them what they wanted.

Charles Fenwick, also a member of parliament, urged that to make the eight-hour day compulsory would be an economic error and he warned the congress that such a measure would prove oppressive to the workingmen and injurious to trade and would sap the strength of the trades unions.

Mr. Tillett ridiculed the notion that a legal day of eight hours would weaken the unions. On the contrary, it would strengthen the position of the laborer and consolidated works.

Mr. Burns held that Parliament must be used to obtain the eight-hour day. In several parts of the country after the men had obtained the adoption of the eight-hour plan the capitalist forces had driven them back again to the twelve-hour system. The lost ground could only be recovered by a general strike unless Parliament interfered.

The vote on the question of making the eight-hour day compulsory stood 181 to 173, and the announcement of the result was followed by prolonged cheering.

It Doesn't Go in Spain.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 5.—The Socialist conference has ended with little result. The eight-hour scheme is looked upon with small favor by Spanish workingmen.

NEW YORK'S NEW LAW

Two Cigaret-Smoking Boys Arrested While Enjoying Themselves Illegally.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Policeman Downing of the Elizabeth-street station was on duty on the Bowery yesterday when he was approached by a grim-faced individual, who said harshly:

"Where have you been?"

"I have been here all the while," replied Downing. "Why, what's the trouble?"

"A great deal," said the man. "A person is wilfully violating the law on your post, and here I've been looking for you for ten minutes. The criminal has probably escaped by this time."

The policeman followed the man to the corner of Canal-street, where the man pointed to a dirty-faced, weak-kneed lad not two feet high, who was standing complacently on the corner with a lighted cigaret in his hand.

"I'm not going to arrest that kid," declared the policeman.

"It's your duty to do it, sir!" shouted the man. "What is your number? I'll report you for neglect of duty."

When the lad felt the policeman's hand on his shoulder he cried, and 500 persons gathered in the space of five minutes. Abuse was heaped on the head of the policeman by the onlookers, who declared it an outrage to arrest a child. The policeman never felt more uncomfortable, but he was unable to explain that he had made the arrest against his own inclination. The man who had caused the trouble disappeared.

The boy was Meyer Levy, aged 7, of No. 16 Ludlow-street.

"Don't cry, there's a nice little boy," tenderly said the newly appointed Justice, Clarence W. Meade, who is being "broke in" by Justice Smith.

Justice Smith said: "Go right home. Don't smoke any more cigarets. It is against the law."

Richard McManus, aged 15 years, of No. 242 East Thirty-ninth-street, was standing at the corner of Thirty-ninth-street and Second-avenue smoking a cigaret Tuesday night, and Policeman O'Neil of the East Thirty-fifth station arrested him. In the Yorkville Police Court yesterday the lad pleaded ignorance of the law, and Justice McMahon discharged him after he had promised to give up cigaret smoking until he attained the proper age.

A SERIOUS SMASH.

The Union Pacific Fast Mail Wrecked Near Ogden, Utah.

DENVER, Sept. 5.—An Ogden (Utah) special says the fast mail on the Union Pacific, which left Ogden at 9.55 a.m., is reported to be a complete wreck at a point 40 miles east of Ogden. A wrecking train with three doctors and an unusual number of stretchers has left Ogden for the scene of the wreck. It is thought to be a very serious affair, but the railroad officials are reticent.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

TWENTY THOUSAND HOMELESS PEOPLE AT SALONICA.

The Public Buildings and 12,000 Houses Destroyed by Flames—A Turbulent Boulangist Meeting—An Editor Knocked Down and Kicked.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A noisy Boulangist meeting was held in Paris last night. The meeting protested against the revelations concerning Gen. Boulanger and passed a resolution affirming their adherence to the program of the party for the revision of the constitution. M. Castelline, one of the speakers, made a violent attack on M. Mermeix, editor of The Cocarde (Boulangist organ) and the author of the revelations, who upon arising to reply was greeted with hisses and groans and compelled to abandon the attempt. He left the meeting and was subsequently knocked down and kicked. One of the Boulangists also spat in his face. Several duels are expected to occur as the result of the meeting.

The fires which broke out almost simultaneously in four different parts of Salonica yesterday and which destroyed 12,000 houses and most of the public buildings have been extinguished. Twenty thousand persons are homeless.

The rise in the Elbe has flooded the royal castle at Pillnitz and the court has been transferred to Strehlez.

As the train with Senor Canos del Castro, the Spanish Prime Minister, and his wife to-day left Vittoria a jeering and hooting mob made a rush for the premier's car and smashed in the windows of his compartment with stones. So far as known neither the minister nor his wife was injured.

GILBERT WINS HIS CASE.

Some Interesting Revelations About Comic Opera Profits.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Gilbert has scored in his lawsuit against D'Oyly Carte and Sullivan. London is astounded at the revelations in court of the enormous profits made by these three men. During the last eleven years from their comic operas they have, at lowest estimate, cleared $500,000 each. Gilbert is kicking because he has not received more of the $300,000 divided between them from the profits of American copyrights. When the agreement was made between the two in February, 1883, D'Oyly Carte agreed to pay Gilbert and Sullivan each one-third of the net profits after deducting $30,000 a year for the rent of the theatre, also all taxes and expenses incidental to the performances. It was also agreed that accounts should be settled every three months.

This part of the agreement, Gilbert claimed, Carte has not lived up to. He had fallen behind in his accounts and had been using the money which he should have divided between his partners in building a new West End theatre. D'Oyly Carte also proposed to put money in Sullivan's attempts at grand opera, but would have no use for Gilbert's comical libretto; consequently, after "The Gondoliers" was produced, Gilbert began to call for a settlement of accounts. When Carte was disposed to dilly-dally he went to law and asked to have a receiver appointed. This Carte opposed vigorously.

Sullivan, who was made a defendant in the case with Carte, explained in the court that he deprecated being mixed up in the quarrel, but opposed the appointment of a receiver. Gilbert said he did not care about a receiver if Carte would only settle accounts and give him his money. The court ordered this to be done. Carte must pay Gilbert $5000 instanter and settle accounts within three weeks.

THE CREW OF THE SLIGO.

They Were Induced to Desert—An International Question Involved.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—An international question of some importance is involved in a difficulty between the captain of the Canadian schooner Sligo and the officials of the Seamen's union. Sunday evening the Sligo arrived at Chicago with a non-union shipping crew of 14 men. These seamen were seen by a sailor committee from the union, and the results are that the crew will not continue in the service of Capt. Kerwin of the Sligo, although he claims to have explicit shipping articles with all of them. The captain charges that the union has interfered with the rights of Canadian seamen, and has made formal complaint to James Hayes, the British consul here. The latter was unwilling to express his views regarding the question, but it was the understanding that he would make an effort to have the matter clearly and officially defined and brought to a settlement.

President C. J. Elderkin of the Seamen's Union said: "These non-union men aboard the Sligo were working for $20 a month, while the boat with its American charter carried American freight to and from American ports. The men in the union get $2 a day or three times the amount paid to these Canadians. When the vessel came here the vessel came up in the city, and, finding the superior advantages of the union both as regards wages and fraternal benefits, some of them joined our union at once, and all voluntarily declined to return to their work at the low wages they were receiving. All that our organization does is in the interest of the American labor and American shipping interests."

HORRORS OF SIBERIAN EXILE.

Prisoners Shot Down by the Guards—Women Outraged and Scourged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 5.—The bark Catharine Sudden has arrived at Port Townsend from Siberia. Her commander, Capt. John Thomas, has sent to this city a description of the Russian exile system as witnessed by him. He describes a brutal scene he witnessed on Saghalien Island, a famous exile prison. A large party of exiles of all ages, heavily manacled, were being taken to the island. A few old men, whose strength gave out, fell from exhaustion. The driver, acting under orders from his superior, shot the unfortunate men and removed their chains. No mercy was shown. Wives saw their husbands killed before their eyes, and mothers saw their daughters outraged and insulted. The exiles were driven like cattle, a heavy whip being used to urge them on. The prison cells were filthy and the treatment barbarous.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 5.—Photographer Dixon of Toronto, who is to walk the tight rope over the river to-morrow, arrived here this morning. This afternoon he walked out on the wire and performed a number of feats which satisfied the spectators that he has the nerve to accomplish his proposed undertaking.

THE U. S. TARIFF DEBATE.

Binding Twine Free—13 Republicans Vote With the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—In the Senate the tariff bill was taken up to-day. Mr. Butler (Dem., S.C.) presented a communication received by him from the state department showing the relative exportations of cotton goods by Great Britain and the United States. His thought the information would be valuable in view of reciprocal propositions.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) referred to a statement recently published by an English gentleman (Mr. Glover), to the effect that a cotton manufacturer, who had been traveling extensively through the United States, had said that were it not for the American tariff England would shut up every cotton manufactory within two years.

On motion of Mr. Davis (Rep., Minn.) binding twine was struck out of the dutiable articles in the tariff bill. Thirteen Republicans voted with the Democrats, mostly representatives of farming states. Action on the dutiable list was covered with the exception of the sugar schedule and paragraphs passed over informally.

The McKinley Bill Approved.

SARATOGA, Sept. 4.—The Republican league convention adopted a platform to-day. It heartily approves the McKinley bill, and says: "The hearts of Republicans throughout the land are gladdened by the thought that within the next 30 days the McKinley bill will doubtless pass the Senate, receive the signature of the President and become a law."

Fell Among Thieves.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—John McCulloch, a farmer of St. Thomas, Ont., will probably be more particular in choosing his company in future; he will be wary of strangers. He came down here a few days ago with some cattle for shipment to England. During his stay here he made the acquaintance of two affable sailors, William Dalland and John McMillan, and the trio set out to "see the town." While engaged in this agreeable task, one of the sailors dealt McCulloch a severe blow and relieved him of some change which he had on his person. He reported the matter to Constable McKenna, who arrested Dalland in St. Paul-street about 8 o'clock last evening. McMillan came to his companion's rescue, but shared his fate and the two brought up at the Central station, where a charge of highway robbery was laid against Dalland and one of assaulting a constable against McMillan. McCulloch was detained as a witness.

MAINE AGAINST THE WEST.

A Proposition to Make Lumber Free Defeated in the U.S. Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The tariff bill was taken up in the Senate to-day and the free list proceeded with. Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) moved to insert in paragraph 498, allowing free importations of books for colleges, educational and religious societies, etc., the words: "or any college, academy, school or seminary of learning in the United States, in its own behalf or in behalf of its professors or teachers." Agreed to.

Paragraph 543, putting fish on the free list, was laid aside.

Mr. Davis (Rep., Minn.) moved to insert binding twine on the free list and the western Republicans supporting the motion it was agreed to.

Mr. West (Dem., Mo.) moved to insert in the free list "timber, hewn and sawed, squared and sided and sawed boards, plank, deals and other lumber of hemlock, white-wood, sycamore, white pine and basswood."

Mr. Carlisle (Dem., Ky.) referred to the inconsistency of the policy which on the one hand offers a bounty for the planting of trees and on the other hand offers a bounty in the shape of a protective tariff for cutting down prices. He advocated the placing of lumber on the free list so as to get lumber from Canada.

Mr. Frye (Rep., Me.) argued against the amendment. There was $300,000,000 invested in the lumber industry of the United States and a million men were employed in it. The competitor of the United States in lumber was Canada, where the wages of men employed in the business were from 25 to 35 per cent. lower than in the United States. How could any senator professing to believe in protection vote to expose that million of laboring men in the United States to competition with the lumbermen of Canada? The Senators from Maine had voted duties on iron ore, coal, wool and scores of articles which Maine's interest was to have free, because those Senators were protectionists, and now should the Senators from Minnesota, Kansas or Nebraska—because they thought lumber might be cheaper in those states if it was on the free list—vote to remove duties on lumber and still announce themselves protectionists? There was no consistency or justice in such protection.

Mr. Stewart (Rep., Nev.), argued that of all the countries in the world Canada was the last that ought to be favored in an American tariff bill, because Canada discriminated against everything that came from the ed UnitStates.

Mr. Black (Rep., N.H.) said that if lumber were put on the free list the tariff would not be worth whistling after.

Mr. Evarts (Rep., N.H.) argued that local and limited interests should not be permitted to encroach on the general principle of protection to industry and capital. The amendment was rejected.

Mica was restored to the dutiable list. A motion to strike out quinine from the free list was rejected. A number of committee amendments were adopted.

Senator Evarts' Teaser.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Senator Evarts (Rep., N.Y.) to-day introduced this amendment to be proposed to the tariff bill: "That there shall be levied, collected and paid on all teas the growth or produce of the countries east of the Cape of Good Hope, when imported from places west of the Cape of Good Hope, a duty of 10 per cent. ad valorem. That teas that have been entered for consumption or for warehouse or that have been permitted to remain for any purpose many country intermediate between the country of export and the United States shall not be considered as in transit through such intermediate country, but shall be treated as teas imported from such intermediate country and shall be valued and rated for duty accordingly."

GOV. ANGER'S BALL.

A Brilliant Social Event at the Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, Sept. 5.—The Lieutenant-Governor's *ball to-night was one of the most bril*liant events in the social history of the Ancient Capital. The lawns of Spencerwood presented a most dazzling spectacle, an immense circle produced by thousands of tourches marked the space wherein the guests could enjoy the cool of the evening.

Prince George opened the ball in a quadrille, in which these ladies and gentlemen took part:

Prince George of Wales and Lady Caron.
Judge Caron and Mrs. Roy.
Sir John Ross and Mrs. Sherbyn.
Judge Larue and Mrs. O'Meara.
Hon. H. Mercier and Mrs. Langelier.
Lord Stanley and Mrs. Casault.
Hon. P. Garneau and Lady Shea.
Hon. L. P. Pelletier and Mrs. Belleau.
Judge Casault and Lady Stanley.

A Baltimore Prophetess.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 5.—Louisa T. Robinson created something of a stir last night in the colored part of the city. The woman is impressed with the idea that God has commissioned her to warn the people of Baltimore that the city is to be visited by a tremendous flood and all of its inhabitants washed from the face of the earth. She started out on her mission last night, first putting on a white robe and accompanied by a baud of eight or ten converts. She went among the impressionable colored people, rolling on the street in her ecstasy, while her companions held a sort of revival service. The colored people, whose superstitions are easily aroused, became very excited and a panic might have ensued but for the arrest of Louisa and her band. She spent the night in a cell singing and praying, and to-day consented to go to Chestertown to avoid going to jail.

A Governor to Sue for His Salary.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 5.—Governor Hovey sent to the Treasurer of State yesterday for an instalment of his salary, but that official reported that it could not be paid and stated he was compelled by law to hold the funds in his possession subject to the demands of the benevolent institutions, there being only enough money now in the treasury to pay their running expenses till funds were due from the counties. The governor will make the refusal to pay his salary the basis of a suit against the treasury on the ground that the law is unconstitutional and discriminates against other creditors of the state and in favor of the benevolent institutions.

Torn Limb From Limb.

BLOOMFIELD, Sept. 5.—Walter Cameron, aged 15, was riding to the field to-day on horseback, when the horse ran away, throwing the boy, and his feet becoming entangled in the harness he was torn limb from limb.

The Privy Council Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—The Railway Committee of the Privy Council meets next Thursday.

Train Wrecking In Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Sept 5.—It is reported a bad wreck of a freight train occurred last night on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad at Caney, Kan., from the disconnecting of a switch by some unknown person. The engineer and four tramps are reported killed and the fireman scalded fatally. Six cars of hogs were killed and 18 cars of grain burned.

Lord Stanley's Movements.

QUEBEC, Sept. 5.—His Excellency Lord Stanley of Preston and suite leave Tuesday morning by the Grand Trunk Railway for Sarnia, where he will visit the St. Clair tunnel. On His Excellency's return he will visit the Toronto Exhibition, returning to Quebec again on Saturday.

A Philadelphia Blaze.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—This evening fire in the buildings extending from No. 4 to 18 South Eighteenth street, occupied by the Pyle-Knodler Baking Company and H. R. Mutford, manufacturing chemist, did $165,000 damage.

Another Interesting Letter From Mr. D. Spence.

The Tyneside District—More Foundries Visited — Fraternizing with Masonic Friends—Down in a Coal Mine—Canadian Exhibits, etc., etc.

WALKER-ON-TYNE,
SATURDAY, Aug 16th, 1890.

I am going to give you a little more news about the Tyneside district before I begin to make preparations for coming home. On Saturday, the 9th, we visited some foundries which occupied us till noon. After dinner we went to see the sports of the Brunswick Amateur Bicycle Club at their grounds in Gateshead. Newcastle and Gateshead are like Peterborough and Ashburnham. We had a splendid afternoon.

On the 11th I went to Newcastle to buy some meerchaum pipes and blackthorn sticks for friends who had commissioned me to procure them. I bought some splendid pipes and cigar holders. I was unable to get any blackthorn sticks at all, but I left an order with a friend of mine, a wholesale dealer, who promised to have them ready for me in a few days.

Next day I went to the city to get a steam engine (a small one, of course) for, Mr. Ross. They have same very nice ones here. I have quite a commission for one and another.

On Wednesday, 13th, I went and had a look through some more factories. There is always something new to see. At night I went with some of my friends, who are P.M. to visit a Masonic Lodge in Newcastle. I was received very heartily indeed. I was greatly surprised to find an old school mate of mine W.M. Shortly after I entered, the usual business of the lodge was done with, and then proceeded to confer the E.A.D on one of their candidates. The exemplification was splendid. I was very much pleased with it. After the business was over we adjourned to the banquetting room, where I was seated at the right hand of the W.M. There were a good many distinguished visitors there from the neighbouring Provincial Grand Lodges, and among the usual toasts I was not forgotten. They do things a little different here, but none the less fraternal. There was some splendid singing which I enjoyed very much. I appreciated very much the many little acts of kindness that Wor. Bro. J. W. Robson

SHOWERED ON ME DURING MY VISIT

I wont say what time we got home in the morning. I went to visit some of my friends who were leaving for Scotland at midnight, I had to stay till then of course and see them off. You will have some idea of the sleep I get. On the 15th I had to be up in the morning at five o'clock to get the train for Stockton, a place about fifty miles from here. We landed in Stockton at 9.10 a.m., doing the fifty miles including stoppages, in an hour and ten minutes. After visiting our friends in the morning, we had dinner and after that was over went to visit the Union Foundry here. It is a foundry that does nothing but light work, American stoves, fire fronts, baths, pots, spouting, the latter are thin, it makes one wonder how they are done. We were about four hours in looking round. We had the superintendent for a guide. We were shown through pattern shop, drying kilns, warehouse and show rooms. It was a splendid sight. They cast about 17 tons of light castings every day. I went to Newcastle to get the black thorn sticks, I got six splendid ones. All my arrangements are made for sailing. I received my tickets the other day. I expect to sail from Liverpool on August 28th, on board the steamship Circassian, the same boat we came over in. I will be accompanied by Mr. Couch, so I will have company back to Peterborough. Monday, 18th, I made for the city and had a look through the works of Messrs. Carver, Hill & Co. Here I met two or three old friends who gave me all the information I required and spent an hour or two letting me see all there was to be seen in the shop. They were not busy, however, and I got through much sooner than I expected. I filled in a little time by going to Mawson, Swan & Morgan's picture gallery, where I that is causing so much comment in Newcastle. I also saw the actual basket that the babes and other passengers were hoisted up in. In the evening I went to the opera house with some of my friends to see the most recent of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. For full news see marked papers Aug. 19th. sent you.

THE FOUNDRY FINISHING ROOMS,

Tuesday I started to visit a friend whom I met on the boat coming over. I had promised to visit him as soon as I got settled down on shore. He also promised me a visit down the coal mine. So I started for his home this morning, which is about six miles out of Newcastle. I saw more rabbits on the way out, in the fields, than I saw all the years I was in Canada. I arrived there at 11.10 a.m. I soon found my friend and received a very hearty welcome from him. After dinner we made our way to the works of the Birtley Iron Company, which comprises foundries, machine shops, boiler, etc., pattern shop, and coal mines, large blacksmith shop, etc. On entering the works we made for the foundry, being to me. On entering I had an introduction to the foreman moulder, Mr. John Todd, to whom my heartiest thanks are due for the very kind and courteous treatment I received at his hands. I was shown everything in the foundry that was thought new to me. They have a gear mouldi g machine here, for making tooth wheels without any pa tern. Unfortunately for me, it was not in use, but Mr. Todd gave me an introduction to his son, who was a foreman pattern maker, who let me see and explained all the papers he had relating to the machine. We then went down to where it was cased in and worked it as much as we could, so I left with a pretty good idea of what it was like. We then went through the boiler, pattern and machine shops, after which we made for the coal mine, where my friend, Mr. John Lorraine, interviewed Mr. Stoker, the manager, who very kindly ACCORDED US PERMISSION TO DESCEND.

He directed us to Mr. John Cameron, the chief engineer, for instructions regarding lamps, guides, etc. This trouble was soon overcome. Mr. Cameron himself very kindly acted as guide. Before proceeding any further I might say that there are two mines within a quarter of a mile of each other, generally known as the Upeth C and B shafts. The one we choose to go down was the Upeth C shaft, 62 fathoms from the surface. B shaft is 130 fathoms from the surface. Having procured lamps, we were deprived of all the matches, tobacco pipes, etc., in our possession. We stepped into the cage and took hold of a cross bar that ran across the cage. As their were only four of us we had plenty of room, and having steadied ourselves the signal was given down we went into the bowels of the earth. I felt on starting, which, however, passed away before we got to our destination. I was informed that this feeling was quite common to those who went down. The place we elected to go to was the Low Main, about 54 fathoms from the surface, and the time occupied was 20 seconds. As soon as the cage stopped our guide stepped out and opened the door at the side of the shaft and we stepped out and found ourselves in a passage all whitewashed and lighted with gas. Proceeding onwards we found ourselves in the engine room, and having examined the engine which is used for the purpose of drawing the small coal wagons from the interior to the shaft and from the shaft to the interior again, which is done by means of an endless cable. Having retraced our steps till we got back to the shaft, and then started for the interior down a passage about twenty feet wide and about twenty-five high. This state of things did not last long, however. The roof got lower and lower and the passage till I had to keep my head well down and walk close to the side of the passage to make it pleasant for traveling. After going about 200 yards we arrived at the first junction where we decided to stay and watch a train load of coal go by. After waiting a few minutes the load was started and we expected to have the train right along but it was not to be so. The rope suddenly stopped. After waiting sometime our junction men started off to see what was the cause of the delay. We could see his lamp away in the distance until it gradually disappeared altogether. After waiting about twenty minutes we were just making for another part of the workings when we saw the light again glimmering in the workings. It kept getting stronger and stronger until very soon our friend was back again. The train had run off the track somehow or other; it was an accident that very rarely happened. Everything having been put to rights our train made another start and very soon we had the pleasure of seeing it pass. The train itself was composed of 50 of these little coal wagons each carrying 825 lbs. of coal. The whole train

GOT NARROWER AND NARROWER

MEASURED SOME EIGHTY YARDS

or more. It had about 700 yards to come taking three minutes to cover the distance. The small wagons are brought from the more remote part of the workings by the small ponies till they reach the place where the cable is here they are made up into trains and sent on to the shafts. After the above train had passed we had another signal from a different part of the mine to take along another train, however the signal came too late, as it was time to quit and the signals announcing the fact were soon heard all over the workings. All along the passages in the workings there are nicnes twenty yards apart, where four or five men can get in until the horses get past, so into one of these we settled ourselves to see them coming to the stables. As soon as the signal to quit was given the whole mine was in motion wherever the eye could reach, there were moving lights away in the distance coming nearer and nearer; it was something grand. No gas out here, just the miners' lamps. Very soon the sound of horses hoofs were heard and the announced their approach. They were all sizes, from those little fellows no bigger than a Newfoundland dog to the large ones 15 and 16 hands high. These ponies come into the stable on the gallop with their riders lying flat on their back with their lamps in their hands. Before they can enter the stable they have to run through a trough or pond to wash their feet. After all the horses and men had passed, we then started off for another part of the mine. Retracing our steps about twenty yards, we turned to the right and went down an incline for about fifty yards, and arrived at the bottom of the shaft sixty-two fathoms from the surface. After looking around awhile, we started for the other shaft where the pumping engine was placed. We had about 500 yards to go down an incline to reach it, here we found we were 72 fathoms from the surface. We went into the engine room and had a look at the pumping engine. It was a splendid engine, capable of forcing 700 gallons of water a minute out of the shaft. It was not working above 180 to 200, no need of any more power put on. Here was the other shaft further down. We did not go down as there was not time, we could see the men going up and down from where we were standing. We then then turned to our left and went up to one of the seams. It was about 3 ft. thick, splendid coal. I hewed a piece to bring away with me as a memento of the occasion. We then had had a look through one of the stables there was about sixty horses and ponies stalled here. They were being groomed by the men in charge. After looking all over the stables, we got to the shaft and signalled for the cage which was soon forth coming, which we entered and were soon on the surface again. We then went and had a look at the engine they have for forcing air down into the mine. That it does its work well and effectively was clearly proved to me, when I was down the air in every part of the workings being simply splendid. We then went and had a look through the lamp shop. Here all the miners' leave their lamps when they come out of the mine. They are cleaned and tested before they are given out in the morning. They are always locked too. They have a testing machine with a little fan attached.

ABOUT SIXTY FATHOMS

THE LAMP IS THEN LIT

and placed in a socket with a hole in the side to see the light, after which a current of air and gas is turned on, and if the lamp goes out it is considered safe. You see the gas and air are, in some proportion, what you would meet with in the worst parts of the workings. Where they have good ventilation it makes it safer still. We had a look at another machine, where they wash all coal for making coke with. They wash about 150 tons a day with it. After a look at the coke ovens, I thanked Mr. Cameron for the kindness we had received at his hands, and, having said good bys, we started for my friend's house, where we had a good wash and felt like doing justice to all the good things Mrs Lorraine had prepared for us in our absence. After saying good-bye to friends I took the train for home, arriving there at 10 o'clock at night. The English train system is exceedingly good. The trains all make connections and you can tell within ten minutes what time you will be home.

NO STANDING TWO OR THREE HOURS

On the 22nd I visited Berwick-on-Tweed. I boarded the fast express at 6 a.m., arriving at Berwick at 7.15. Distance covered, 67 miles. (Very good time indeed.) Went to the Tweedmouth churchyard to see the grave of John Mackay Wilson, author of the Border tales. I was looking through the workshops of W. Elder & Co., Tweedmouth, when I came across some wide open steel binders by A. Harris, Son & Co., of Brantford and Winnipeg. There were plough points and other castings by the same makers. Mr. Elder informed me he had sold 50 of the binders already this year and that the farmers liked them well. I also came across some copies of the Peterborough EXAMINER and Review, and as soon as I got back to Newcastle I saw some watch chains in jeweller's windows labelled Canadian gold. I availed myself of an old standing invitation from Supt. Matthews, of the Newcastle Fire Brigade, to go and look through one of the fire halls. I was very kindly received by the Supt. (who is "on the square,") and who proved very painstaking in showing me through every nook and cranny of the fire hall. It was too complicated for me to explain, but I left fully impressed with the idea that fully abreast of the times is everything pertaining to the equipment of of the Fire Department

I was trying to get you some heather the other day. Will be in Peterborough a week after you get this, if all goes well.

DAVID SPENCE.

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

A MURDER MYSTERY

TALE OF THE DEAD MAN'S SWAMP TRAGEDY.

HOW BENWELL WAS MURDERED.

THE COMING TRIAL OF THE SUSPECTED MAN—J. REGINALD BURCHELL.

Who His Judge Will Be—The Counsel For Both Sides—Something About His Honor Judge Macmahon, B. B. Osler, Q. C., and G. T. Blackstock Q. C.—The Sensational Trial of the Present Day.

On the 21st of February last, the dead body of a young man was found in the tangled growth of a dark swamp on the edge of Mud Lake, Oxford County. Two bullet holes in the head told of his violent death. Investigation was made, and evidence was pieced together telling a tale of crime so utterly horrible that the wildest imaginings of a Braddon, a Gaborian or a Wilkie Collins, seem tame beside it. The truth of the tale thus made up is to be tested at the Oxford County Assizes, which open on the 18th of September and which will in future years be spoken of as the occasion of Burchell's trial for the murder of Benwell. Without desiring to prejudge the case, the story of the crime as the Crown will seek to establish it may be given:

JUDGE MACMAHON.

The murderer coolly cut from his victim's clothing every mark which could lead to identification, but, by one of those oversights which even the most

COLD-BLOODED, CALCULATING VILLAINS

sometimes make, a new cigar case was left upon the ground, the name upon which—"F. C. Benwell,"—led in the first place to the identification of the body. Benwell was a young Englishman, son of Col. Benwell of Her Majesty's army. The young man came to Canada in the steamer Britannic, sailing from Liverpool on the 8th of February. His object in coming out was to investigate a project which had been submitted by one J. Reginald Burchell, to establish a partnership in a stock farm near Niagara Falls, of which Burchell claimed to be the owner. Burchell had sought to get money from Benwell and his father, but without avail, the old gentleman declaring that when his son reported to him from Canada that the business was satisfactory, he would pay the money agreed upon—£500 sterling. With Benwell sailed Burchell and his wife Florence, and a young man named Pelly, who also had made arrangement with Burchell to engage in farm work in Canada. The party after a short stay at New York, went on to Buffalo, thence almost immediately to Niagara Falls, where Burchell and Benwell started on the 17th February to investigate the alleged farm and they got off at Eastwood station and started to walk. Burchell was recognized on the road having been well known in that section of country. He had lived at Woodstock for a time where he made himself spending his own money and other people's as well, and committed in his departure to settle a number of bills. The Crown will seek to establish that Burchell's farm being a pure myth the man dreaded exposure, that he walked his victim into the swamp on some pretext and there deliberately shot and killed him. So far as has yet been made public, they have no direct witnesses to prove the deed, but they claim to be able to show that he was seen with Benwell near and going in the direction of the swamp and that he was seen returning from it alone. It is true that when the discovery of the body and the cigar case was published Burchell promptly went to Princeton from Buffalo and there identified the remains as those of his friend Frederick C. Benwell. But, the Crown officers declare that this, instead of being presumptive proof of innocence, only proves the superhuman nerve of the man who would murder another in daylight and then coolly cut from his victim's clothes pieces upon which his name was written.

Burchell declares his innocence, and had lawyers and detectives engaged to confute and confound his adversaries. What the character of his defense will be in the way of proving himself to have been in other company at the time is not known. But, judging from what has been published by persons who are friendly to him, it is evident that his lawyers will attack the soundness of the Crown's theory of the murder at a theory. They will seek to show that the body could not have lain for four days where it was found—and as Burchell and Benwell were seen at Eastwood on the 17th sure and the body was certainly found on the 15th to establish this fact will completely undermine the prosecution. They will try moreover to show that the body here but, there were no evidences of a struggle about the place or about Burchell when he was seen returning to Eastwood. They will call attention to suspicious pointing to other persons as the guilty ones and will try to convince the jury that the detectives, having committed themselves to the declaration that Burchell was guilty, had devoted their whole work to an attack upon his life and not to the business of finding out the murderer.

In no Canadian criminal trial for years has there been such an array of legal talent as will appear in this case. The theory of our land is that the Attorney General, the legal representative of the Crown, appears to prosecute in all cases. Of course this is impossible and usually the work is committed to the County Crown Attorney or some special appointee. In this case the County Crown Attorney, Mr. F. R. Ball, Q. C., will be the junior counsel. The Attorney General will be specialy represented by his deputy Mr. J. R. Cartwright while the weight of the actual prosecution will rest upon the shoulders of Mr. B. B. Osler, Q. C., whose portrait is published in connection with this article. Mr. Osler is a Canadian and a member of a distinguished family, being a brother of Judge Osler and of Mr. E. B. Osler, the chief western director of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Lawyer Osler is fifty years of age. He has been a member of the bar for years. He contested Welland for the Dominion Parliament in the Liberal interest in 1882, but unsuccessfully. He was one of the Counsel for the Crown in the trial of Riel for high treason and is one of the leading counsel for the Grand Trunk in the immense suits for damages growing out of the St. George accident.

On the other side are to be found Mr. Hellmuth of London, who has been in the case from the first. The working up of the case on the ground is entrusted largely to Messrs. Finkle, McKay & McMullen of Woodstock, Mr. McKay being the active man in this case. The senior counsel will be Mr. George T. Blackstock of Toronto. Mr. Blackstock is a young man, as will be seen by the portrait of him which is given. He is a native of Newcastle Ont., where he was born on the 7th of April 1856. He was called to the bar in his twenty-second year and has made a brilliant record. He is retained by the Canadian Pacific whenever they have a big suit on hand and his services are available. In the great case of the Canadian Pacific against the Dominion Government over the state of the coast section of the road—a case involving millions—Mr. Blackstock was junior Counsel to that peerless lawyer Hon. Edward Blake, and made a brilliant argument in his clients' behalf. These eminent legal gentlemen will be called upon to before Judge McMahon and a jury of Oxford yeomen. Without disrespect to other judges the Province may be congratulated upon the choice for this trial having fallen upon so good a man. Judge McMahon was an able barrister and he is a sound and upright judge. He is a brother of Dr. McMahon, M. P. P., and is a native of Guelph, Ont., where he was born in 1830. He began life as a civil engineer but took up the study of law in 1857, and was called to the bar five years later. He has been engaged in many notable cases, including the Boundary case which he argued before the arbitrators and later before the Privy Council. He was the leading Counsel for the prisoners in the celebrated Biddulph murder case and made ever addressed to a Canadian jury. Mr. McMahon was called to the bench in November 1887.

G. T. BLACKSTOCK, Q. C.

ONE OF THE MOST BRILLIANT SPEECHES

The Burchell case will probably last a full working week and may last a good deal longer. There will be a host of witnesses, including Col. Benwell, the murdered man's father, who will come from England specially to testify. Mrs. Burchell's fortitude and wifely loyalty have won her friends as her misfortunes won her sympathisers. Regarding Mrs. Burchell it is not too much to say that public opinion has unanimously acquitted her of the charge of complicity in the crime at one time made against her. She has remained in Woodstock since her husband's incarceration in the jail there visiting him as often as the rules of the jail would allow and manifesting in every way sympathy for her husband and the most perfect faith in his innocence. She is supported in her trials by the sympathy of her sister Mrs. West—Jones who remains with her.

The prisoner has shown himself a model of good behavior since he was put under lock and key. Though allowed to see no person but his wife and his lawyer, he makes no complaint. If he worries about his position and prospects it is not apparent. He is a skillful artist with his pen and he has made many sketches some of which adorn his cell and some of which he has given to friends.

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,709,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $316,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,894,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,828	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,058,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.38
North American	8,470,620	10.66
Temperance and General	2,994,972	17.84
Citizens	2,067,956	23.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,295	20.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company above under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Getting Ready to Build.

The Edison Electric Company have already taken the preliminary steps towards having the levels taken of the property in the south end of the town which they are to occupy. Test wells are also to be immediately sunk. This prompt action looks as if the Edison Company mean business.

Hours for Information.

The principals of the Business College will be in the office from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for the purpose of enrolling students for the day or night school, or giving information pertaining to the different departments of study in the College. d50

Hard Times Banished!

No one has any reason to complain of hard times who visits Gough Bros., and sees the terrifically low prices of the splendid Kidd Bankrupt Stock. Buying clothing at any other place may be extra dear to you, but buying at Gough's is only extra cost. tfd54-1w

Lakefield, Lakes and Lindsay.

Capt. Reynolds, of the steamer Cruiser, will run an excursion to Lindsay on the 9th of September, returning on the 10th, connecting with the afternoon trains both at Lindsay and Lakefield, making a two-day trip, lying over night in Lindsay. Fare, round trip $1.00; one way 75 cents. d52

Mill Accidents.

Thursday evening Mr. Geo. Kincaid while using a chisel in Mr. Donell's mill received a severe cut on his left wrist.

Mr. John Alexander, who has been working in Midland, the other day had a finger badly cut in a shaper in a planing mill. He is in town for a few days.

Trains Delayed.

The C.P.R. trains last night and to-day were late in consequence of an accident to a freight train on the Credit Valley division, which blocked traffic for several hours. The passenger train which reaches here before midnight waited connection at Toronto and did not pass through Peterborough till seven o'clock, when the early morning express and the local crossed it here. The noon train to-day was also late, and had not arrived when the EXAMINER went to press.

The Price of Fuel.

It will be interesting and pleasant information to the public to learn that that the price of coal will be lower this winter than for a few years past. In Toronto there is to be a rise in the price of coal, as indeed there is in the entire coal trade; but the local dealers have laid in their supplies in advance and will not be affected by the market fluctuations. Coal will be $6 per ton this winter—about the same as Toronto.

The Baby Show Prizes.

It would be easy to name the winner of the prize at the Central Exhibition show, if one could see the mother. The baby with the healthiest and best nourished mother, will be the finest; and the healthiest mother will be found among those who use hawley bros. unrivalled teas. Do not forget that at their store, george street, the finest teas and coffees at low prices will be be found. dw

Dry Goods Opening.

Messrs. Dolan & Hackett will open out on Saturday in M. Sullivan's old stand, 336 George street a new dry goods shop. This will be found superbly stocked with a fine assortment of staple and fancy dry goods. The stock is entirely new and selected with the great at care in the best markets at very favourable prices, and will be sold at a very close margin on cost. The public will find at this store always the finest goods, the best selections and the most moderate prices. Remember the opening next Saturday. d53w36

Left off the List.

In the report of the Horticultural Society's Exhibition in Friday's issue a couple of omissions were made, viz., of the first prizes for collection of greenhouse plants and for decorative plants awarded to Mr. F. Mason; and of the prize for crayon drawing (figures) awarded to Mrs. K. G. Loch. Mention should also have been made of the fine display of flowers and plants made by Mr. F. Mason, which was really superb. Mr. Mason and Mr. Cobb were the principal exhibitors in that class.

Kidnapped!

There are not many cases in this law-loving town of men being captured and kidnapped in broad daylight. A glaring case has come to our notice. Every day we see cases of men being captured by the whirlwind bargains at which the Kidd stock is being worked off by Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. Nothing like it in the vast realm of trade. Clothing practically given away—only a nominal charge made to cover wear and tear of coverers. The biggest bargains in the universe is clothing at Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. 6d54-1w

The New Mission School.

Tenders are asked for the erection of a new mission hall on Sherbrooke street, in connection with St. John's church, Peterborough. Plans and specifications have been prepared by Mr. Belcher, and it is expected that the new building will cost between $1 500 and $1 800. The mission is to be in charge of Mr. W. M. Loucks, M.A., a graduate of Trinity University, and a young man of promising ability. The building at the corner of Bethune and Dalhousie streets recently placed at the disposal of the mission has served its purpose, and the Misses Chamberlen have generously given in exchange therefor a site on the corner of Sherbrooke street, opposite the South Ward school, upon which the new building will be erected.

Exhibition Notes.

A meeting of the directors of the Central Exhibition was held to-day for the purpose of making arrangements for the erection of platforms for the Caledonian games and dances, the letting of booths, and the getting of grounds into condition for the show Sept. 24 to 26.

The first entry for the agricultural exhibition has been made, and from this time out Secretary Collins will be kept busy receiving the entries which are expected to pour in.

One lady applied on Friday to make entry for the baby show.

The fame of the Central Exhibition has reached Chicago. Pinkerton's detective agency write that they understand the Provincial Exhibition is to be held here, and want to make an engagement for some of their detectives to come here and watch the crooks. Of course ours is not the Provincial Exhibition, but it's next thing to it.

Dr. Davies Organ Recital.

By inadvertance a notice of the delightful evening with English organ composers which Dr. Davies gave at St. John's church, on Thursday night, was omitted from yesterday's issue. The occasion was amply worthy of particular emphasis. The attendance was not as large as usual owing to the demands made upon the public by the flower show, but those present comprised our most appreciative amateurs of music, and they were amply repaid, all the numbers being of sterling merit and receiving a corresponding interpretation by Dr. Davies, whose capacity as a performer seem to be like his repertoir infinite. Without attempting a critical notice, attention should be called to the grandeur of the marches especially. Sir John Steiner's "Marche Jubilante" with its stately rythm and majestic theme well wrought out was a genuine delight. The running pedal passages of extreme difficulty were taken with the greatest facility. Frederic Archer's "Fantasia in F" though long and bristling with difficulties, being apparently written up to that great organists capacity, was rendered with great, good effect by Dr. Davies. Wesley's "Fugue in D Major" with its brilliant pedalling, was a very meritorious number, being majestic and majestically interpreted. The other numbers received that interpretation and exution which their several styles demanded, and the recital was altogether one the most delightful of the series. Below is the programme:—

Marche Jubilante	Sir John Stainer
Fantasia in F	Frederic Archer
Wedding March	Sir Arthur Sullivan
(Composed for the marriage of the Prince of Wales).
Fugue in D Major	Dr. Wesley
Andante Pastorale Op.	Chas. E. Stephens
Allegro Moderato	Robert Hainworth
Barcarrolle 4th Concerto	Sir Sternddle Bennett
Andante Piacevole	Edward Adrian
Grand March "Israel."	Sir Edward Duarle

The Edison General Electric Company.

Scope and Operations of one of the Three Edison Works to be Consolidated in Peterborough.

Now that there is a prospect, by the favour of the sovereign people of Peterborough, of the Edison General Electric Company being established in this town a little detail of the nature and extent of the works will be interesting. An article in the Dominion Illustrated for Aug. 30th states that all the machinery and appliances for the equipment of electrical plants was formerly manufactured by companies organized for this purpose. These companies have been recently consolidated into one large corporation, the Edison General Electric Company—with a capital of $12,000,000, giving employment to upwards of five thousand hands. The company through its various district offices, which, between them, manage the sales of the whole North American Continent. These receive their supplies from the various works which are situated in New York city, Schenectady, N.Y.; Harrison, N.J.; Hamilton, Ont., and Sherbrooke, P.Q. The Canadian district offices are in the Bank of Commerce Building, King street, Toronto. Through these offices plants are supplied all over the Dominion. There is here retained, as at each other district centre, an efficient engineering staff. The Canadian works at Sherbrooke though smaller than the American establishments present more points of interest than any one of these, for here are combined the industries embraced by the New York and Schenectady works. Indeed we find here the necessary for the equipment of all kinds of plants for the supply of light and power, except lamps. In the dynamo department there is always in course of construction machines of all sizes, from the small 250 Watt, which supplies currents for five sixteen candle-power lamps, to the number thirty-two designed to run 1,150 lamps of the same lighting power. The motor department turns out machines for all kinds of work and for a large range of capacity from 1 to 75 horse power. These are both for stationary and street car work. The foundry is occupied with the production of castings in brass of every size and shape, ready to be where, by means of drills, lathes, punch-presses and other machinery, they are fitted for the purposes they are eventually to serve. In the carpenters' and pattern-maker's shops, wooden shapes are made of parts of machines afterwards to form the basis of castings for parts of machines. The cable department supplies all varieties of stranded conductors for carrying currents for different classes of work, among which are telegraph, telephone, lighting and power. Here, among others, are made large lead-covered telephone cables, some of which contain upwards of two hundred separately insulated wires, and concentric conductors designed for every kind of overhead, underground or underwater purposes.

SUPPLIES ITS CUSTOMERS

* * * * *

Another product of this department consists of insulated wire of all descriptions. * * * Insulation is effected by means of silk, cotton, worsted and other materials. This department and has been run day and night for nearly the whole period of its existence. The growth of the whole works has been steady and rapid. Starting in the spring of 1889, only a small force was employed, but this has increased until to-day there are over two hundred and twenty hands on the rolls, and this number will be considerably added to. The necessities of the industry compel constant addition to the list of departments, the latest among which is the result of a contract with the Thompson International Electric Welding Company, whereby the Edison Company have agreed to build the necessary outfit for all Welding plants started in Canada under the Thompson Company's patents. Besides the articles already enumerated, these works produce, ready for the market, all kinds of general electric appliances, such as meters for the measuring of the exact amount of current used in buildings, pockets and receptacles for lamps, switches, cut-outs, regulators, resistance boxes, Ampere-meters, volt meters, and other necessary adjuncts to a complete system * * * The Edison General Electric Company has now fairly planted itself in Canada and come to stay.

STARTED ABOUT A YEAR AGO

A Good Game of Lacrosse.

The Peterboroughs Play a Tie Game With the Beaverton Checkers.

A crowd of about five hundred people witnessed the lacrosse match on the P.A.A. A. grounds Friday afternoon, and they were well repaid. The result was fairly satisfactory, though it would have been better if the home team could have secured another goal. However, they showed that they could play good lacrosse. The Checkers were a strong team, and this year defeated the Peterboroughs by five goals to one.

The Peterboroughs are nearly all young players, but they display the qualities which go to make first class lacrosse men. All played well, but Pakenham, Welsh and Joe Phelan deserve special mention.

Mr. J. J. Sheehy refereed the game satisfactory, and Dr. Brennan acted as field captain. The teams lined up as follows, though their positions were somewhat altered afterwards:—

RECORD OF THE GAMES.

The first game was a very pretty exhibition of lacrosse. Both teams were fresh and the rubber flew from goal to goal with a rapidity which was the result of good play on both sides. Pakenham, Joe. Phelan and Brennan made some pretty play. After fifteen minutes' hard work the home team seemed to weaken somewhat, and the Checkers' home field kept the ball well in their own hands. After repeated shots on goal, which Larone and his assistants skilfully parried, Porter finally scored.

The second game lasted less than a minute. Dan. Simons secured the rubber on the face-off, and it passed into Hickey's hands. He threw to Walter Phelan, who passed to his brother Joe., and the latter, avoiding his check, closed in on the the Checkers' flags and shot the rubber through.

In the third game some pretty play was again shown. Several times both goals were in danger. Pakenham and Meagher several times prevented their opponents from scoring, and once Big Larone took the ball half way down field. Pakenham made a fine long throw from his position straight on the Checkers' flags, but the goal keeper intercepted it. The Peterborough home did some pretty passing, Welsh showing up well several times. Finally one of the blue shirted visitors ran the rubber up field, and tossed it in front of goal. Meagher checked one man, but the ball passed to Wescott, who scored without interference.

At the face-off of the fourth game Beaverton got the ball and ran it down field, but Cronin checked its career. Pakenham got it and threw up field and the danger was past. Several times after the Peterborough's defence were called on to do good work, and they did it, Pakenham especially distinguishing himself. The Beaverton defence was not often hard pressed, Gordon's throwing usually relieving the siege. Finally Westcott, who was the prettiest player on the field, got the ball and passed Meagher, running up close to goal, shot it through.

The fifth game was one almost entirely of defence on the part of Peterborough. Disaster was averted, however, and the game was finished by Jos. Phelan getting the ball, passing to McCabe, and the latter made a fine shot on goal. Walter Phelan was standing in close and guided the ball between the flags past two or three Checker men.

The next and last game was a lively one. The ball went down on the Peterborough flags first thing. After some scrimmaging the ball shot past goal and the Beaverton's claimed a game. Peterborough's field captain shouted "play." Larone threw the ball up field. McCabe got it and passed to Joe. Phelan, who scored. The whole thing was so quickly done that the Checkers hadn't time to prevent it. They tried to show that their umpire had put up his hand and they had quit play—but it wouldn't work.

There remained about ten minutes to play, but neither side gained any advantage.

A Belleville Elopement.

The Latest Sensation in the Bay City—A Giddy Old Pair.

The Belleville papers on Friday published the particulars of an alleged elopement without giving the names of the parties. A gentleman who arrived in town from Belleville this morning was seen by the EXAMINER and that most important piece of information learned from him. The name of the dry goods clerk is Metcalfe. He has, it is said, relatives living near Keene, and was in business some time ago at Roseneath. He came originally from Cobourg. The woman's name is Miss Barrett. Metcalfe is said to be a fine looking man for his years.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—Considerable excitement existed in the city to-day over an elopement which is said to have taken place, the parties being a married man who is well known in the city and a woman of 40 who is also known to a large number of citizens. The man in question is about fifty years of age and has a wife and family who are held in high esteem by those who have formed their acquaintance. He has for a number of years been employed as a clerk in one of the leading dry goods stores of the city, which position he was still holding. The lady in the case is a dressmaker who has of late years conducted a business on Front street. She is neither young nor prepossessing, but it is said that for some time the man in question, who was at one time employed by the same firm as she was, has been paying undue attention to her. Some time ago he took a vacation, telling his employer that he wanted to visit friends in Peterborough, but he has not returned, and no trace of him or of the woman can be found; and from the conduct of the pair in the past, the conclusion reached was that they had left for parts unknown. The man's wife and family are prostrated with grief over the affair, and much sympathy is felt for them. It is said that the man melted his life insurance, for which he received ninety dollars, and that his partner in folly drew all her savings, amounting to between two and three hundred hundred dollars, with which to aid them in their flight.

News Nuggets.

—There was a large market to-day and business was brisk.

—Mr. Harry Drake had the misfortune to lose one of his fine roan team of hack horses last night.

—An Orange picnic will be held on the ninth line of Dummer, on the shore of Stony Lake, on Thursday, Sept. 11th.

Personal.

The many friends of Mr. John Walton will be pleased to learn that he is convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, Mr. and Mrs A. L. Davis and Mr. Geo. Morrow arrived in New York last evening on their return journey from the old country.

Mr. C. B. Beck, B.A., late of the Engineer's Department, G.T.R., has been appointed assistant teacher in Markham High School. He left for his new home this week. He will be much missed among his many friends, and especially by the St. John's South Ward Mission School, of which he was the capable superintendent. Mr. Beck's friends will wish him success.

Misses Louise Yokome and Annie Simons started on the C.P.R. train to-day for Ottawa, to attend the convent school of the Congregation de Notre Dame. Miss Yokome, while taking the principal school studies, will devote her attention chiefly to the study of the violin under the well-known Mons. Francois Boucher, of the Canadian College of Music, a gentleman of the highest repute as a teacher and an artist of leading rank.

Ennismore's Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic in connection with St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, will be held in Fara grove near the church, on Tuesday, 11th September. An exciting programme of sports and games will be presented and liberal prizes will be awarded successful contestants. A commodious dancing platform will be erected and an excellent string band to provide music. Dinner will be served during the day, from 12 to 2 o'clock, by the ladies, and the menu will show that their culinary right hands have lost none of their cunning. In the evening the well-known Ennismore minstrel troupe will give their best musical, comic and sentimental entertainment in the Town Hall. Picnic tickets, including dinner, 50 cents; children half price. 4d48 2w35

DARING DIXON'S DEED.

HE CROSSES THE NIAGARA CHASM ON A 7-8 INCH WIRE.

Thousands of Spectators Line the Banks to Witness the Feat—The Trip Accomplished in 12 Minutes—The New Blondin Interviewed.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 6.—S. J. Dixon, the Toronto photographer, successfully walked a small cable across the Niagara gorge this afternoon. About 3 o'clock large crowds began to gather on the banks of the Niagara River, near the two railway bridges. Shortly after that hour Dixon made his appearance. He was dressed in terra-cotta tights and a black silk trunk; wore moccasins and a black silk cap. The cable was ⅞ inch in diameter and was stretched between the cantilever and old suspension bridges.

Promptly at 3¼ Dixon stepped on the cable and proceeded about 20 feet, when he returned and spoke to one of his friends. He then made a fresh start and walked steadily to the centre of the chasm. He then stopped and held one leg out horizontally. The cable swayed violently and he was obliged to use his balancing pole freely. As soon as the wire became steady Dixon laid himself flat on his back on the wire to the great astonishment of the crowd. He then resumed his perilous journey, reaching the American side at 3:42 o'clock. In a few moments he appeared on the wire again, having a hoop on each foot. After walking about 100 feet he kicked off the hoops and returned to the bank.

Immediately upon landing a large number of friends congratulated the daring man, and at the earnest request of a large assemblage he desisted from returning by the cable, and was prevailed upon to return in a carriage to the railway suspension bridge. Large crowds surrounded Dixon, and it was with difficulty that he succeeded in extricating himself. No sooner had he reached the Canadian shore than he made straight way for the cable. He at once took his balance pole and started out upon the wire, walking to a distance of about 75 feet. Here he halted and performed a few gymnastic feats, eliciting loud applause from the spectators. After winding the Canadian colors about himself, he returned from his dangerous feat and was escorted to his rooms in the Elgin House, where he was interviewed by a reporter.

Dixon said that he was not in the least nervous, and was entirely satisfied with the trip. He felt very happy over the affair, and exclaimed, "I am no fakir, am I?" He stated that, while he had gone to a great expense in fixing up the dilapidated cable, he was quite well repaid. Dixon is an expert rope walker, having been in the business some time. However, until a few days ago, he has had no practice, his last walk having been three years ago. He says he may repeat the performance next June or July, provided there is no net in it.

The "Professor" Talks.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—Professor S. J. Dixon, the Toronto photographer, gave the most daring exhibition at Niagara River on Saturday that has ever taken place in the way of high-wire walking. The performance of Blondin is not to be compared with it in any sense whatever. That worthy who won a world wide notoriety by his performance, did nothing more nor less than cross the Niagara River on a rope three inches thick stretched across the river over calm water and at an elevation not exceeding 70 feet. Professor Dixon, however, crossed the river on a wire ⅞ of an inch in diameter, 1200 feet in length and 180 feet above the water where it runs its widest and swiftest, namely, just above the whirlpool and between the two bridges, the suspension and the cantilever.

It is true that Steve Peer walked this same rope on June 22, 1887, but it is also true that this rope was the cause of his death, as he disappeared from it one night when more or less intoxicated. Peer did not display the daring nor the celerity of the agile photographer.

On Friday Mr. Dixon kissed his wife, whom he left in tears in Toronto and set forth, in company with his friend Eddie Bond, for his deed of daring at Niagara. Arriving at the river he got upon the wire without its being guyed and walked on it for a considerable distance. He took off his coat and sat on the rope for from 20 to 30 minutes, looking at the madly flowing river below. His intrepidity did not give way and he felt satisfied that he had the ability to do the feat announced for the following day. He came away fully satisfied with his preliminary canter. The Professor then sought repose and passed a fairly good night. In the morning he took two seidlitz powders, ate a light breakfast, and made arrangements to have the rope properly guyed. This, the Professor claims, was not satisfactorily done, as the cable swayed considerably in the centre whilst he was on it.

During the forenoon Mr. Dixon went over to the American side and ate a dozen raw oysters and fortified himself with a small nip of brandy. He crossed to the Canadian side, put on his tights, and exactly at 3¾ mounted the wire. He addressed a few words to the concourse there assembled. He told them that he had promised to walk that rope and that he was ready for the attempt. He had confidence he would successfully achieve the feat. He was cheered loudly. He then tossed off his coat, picked up his balancing pole and set out upon his perilous journey. When he had proceeded 200 feet he knelt down; 200 feet further on he sat down, and then collected all his nerve and energy for his walk immediately above the middle of the roaring flood.

The Professor's own graphic words to The World last night were:

Now I had reached the testing point. I nerved myself as well as I could. I kept saying to myself: steady now, Jack; steady now. You're going to do it all right but steady." And here I noticed that the guys which were to steady the central part of the rope were not working and that the cable was swaying in the wind. This of course somewhat unnerved me, but I soon steeled myself, being determined to succeed. The balance of the part of the journey, the great height above the water, the swaying of the rope and the full knowledge of my personal risk kept my wits at the highest tension. I had to change my point of vision every moment or two. If I looked steadily at the rope for more than three seconds I would imagine that the rope, like the rushing water, was moving in the same direction, and my senses would begin to reel; but the moment I changed my point of vision and would look one time at the bridge, another at my hand and another at the balancing pole, thus varying the centre of observation, I was enabled to resist the illusion.

So impressed was I with the gravity of the situation that I occupied fully five minutes in crossing the 200 feet of the centre of the river. The wire was swaying at such a rate that I had to negotiate the greatest curve but when I was over the centre and felt that the greatest danger was passed my spirits rose steadily and I had no difficulty in sitting on the rope and kneeling on it.

When I was fairly over the bank the hardest part of the walking occurred, as the guy ropes at this part were utterly useless and the cable shook in the wind more than the aspen. I got safely through and was heartily congratulated by those on the American side. The first thing I did was to take a small infusion of eau de vie, with a little soda mixed therein.

The Professor then announced that it was his intention to return by the wire rope, but any number of ladies crowded round him, complimented him on his gallant feat, said he had done well and could not have done better, that no one now doubted his pluck and ability, and finally pleaded with him not to repeat the feat that afternoon. The high-wire champion thereupon acquiesced in the request of the ladies and said he would not further tempt fate by crossing the river. He however again mounted the wire, wound the Stars and Stripes around his neck, walked out 200 feet, did the hoop act and gave the "fizz step," which is one of the Professor's unique tricks. Having waved aloft the star-spangled banner he returned to the American side, entered a hack and was driven to the other side. Here further congratulations awaited the Professor, and he went through the same evolutions with the British flag. Along with his friends Mr. Dixon returned to Toronto on Saturday night.

So far Professor Dixon has reaped very little pecuniary advantage from his high-rope exhibitions, but now that he has demonstrated his wonderful capacity there is no doubt that there is a barrel of money in it for him. Already those men who are always on the lookout for a good "spec" are ready to open negotiations with him. There have been so many fakirs in connection with feats of daring at the Falls that Mr. Dixon had to undergo the humiliation of being ranked amongst them till he showed his quality and mettle on Saturday afternoon. Now he is undeniably at the head of the procession of high-wire walkers and must prove a great drawing card at any exhibition.

Mr. Dixon was born in New York State, but was raised around Georgian Bay. This is the 40th performance he has made of his wire-walking abilities. His first exhibition was at Clarksburg 18 years ago. He had no special training before his Island and Niagara exploits.

Dixon weighs 138 pounds. He is five feet six inches in height. The pole he carried on the daring trip is 22½ feet in length and weighs thirty pounds.

KNOWS WHO SHOT BENWELL.

A Woodstock Man Says He Was Offered $50 to Do the Deed.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 6.—Considerable interest was excited in town last night by the report that a man named T. H. Woolf, employed by Butcher Sid Bickle, had made an affidavit to the effect that a man had said that he knew who had shot Benwell. The man said that he had been offered $50 by a certain individual to shoot Benwell, that he had refused it and knew that the man who had made the offer had done the shooting himself. The affidavit is affirmed by the statement of others who heard the story. The man who told the story was arrested last night for stealing a bottle of whisky from the C. P. R. hotel. His name is Lawrence Phelps. No credence is given to his statement. It is believed to be nothing more than a drunken blow.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

The Aged Registrar of the County of Hastings Passes Away.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 6.—Mr. William H. Ponton, registrar of the County of Hastings, died this morning after an illness of six weeks' duration. Deceased, who was about 80 years of age, was appointed to the office in 1853. His widow and a family of four survive him. The funeral, which will take place Tuesday, will be conducted by the Masonic body.

Mr. Alexander McGinnis, who had been ill for several months, died during the night. His age was 72 years.

William Pratt, an engineer on the Grand Trunk, died this morning. He was a member of Belleville Lodge No. 81, I.O.O.F., by whom he will be interred to-morrow.

Obituary Notes.

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—The wife of Alder Bliss of the Customs Department here dropped dead at Thurso yesterday. Heart disease is supposed to be the cause of death.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—Lillian Grubb, the well known actress and opera singer, died here to-day, aged 23.

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Michael Sullivan, aged 69, father of John L. Sullivan, died here this morning of typhoid pneumonia.

SMOTHERED IN A SEWER.

"Yorkey" Bradley Meets a Terrible Death at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Sept. 7.—John Bradley, better known as "Yorkey" Bradley, a man about 45 years of age, who was not unknown in police circles, came to his death in a terrible manner while digging in a sewer in Locomotive-street about noon yesterday. Bradley and another man named George Beavis were employed making a connection with the main sewer in Locomotive-street. They had dug down about eleven or twelve feet, and at noon Bradley was busy connecting the pipes. Just as he was bending over his work the earth above him caved in and the poor fellow was buried beneath an avalanche of earth. Beavis was more fortunate, he being caught up to his waist only. When Bradley was reached he was found dead, his face being quite purple.

SWEENEY'S DAY OFF.

A New York Cop Runs Amuck in a Crowded Street.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Bleecker-street was crowded with pedestrians at 1 p.m. to-day when Policeman Edward J. Sweeney, crazy drunk, ran out of the barroom of the Madeira House and sent five bullets in succession into the throng of people. People fled in all directions. D. J. Raughn rushed out of his house at the first shot and was stretched on the sidewalk with a bullet in his side. He was taken to the hospital. A policeman ran up and Sweeney turning hastily to flee collided with the officer. The latter fell and broke his leg and was taken to the hospital. It was Sweeney's day off.

Trades and Labor Officials.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—At a meeting of the Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress Saturday, P. J. Jobin was elected president of the Quebec section and George Warren, secretary, and R. Glockling of Toronto president of the Ontario section, with Alexander Macdonald secretary. J. T. Currie was appointed delegate of the Congress to watch legislation during the session of the Dominion Parliament.

"RETALIATION" TALKED.

CANADA DENOUNCED AS A MARPLOT AT WASHINGTON.

Senator Evarts' Amendment to the Tariff Bill, Striking at the Canadian Pacific Railway, Adopted—One More Day for Debate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—In the Senate today it was agreed to extend the time for consideration of the Tariff Bill to and including Monday, when discussion is to be limited to 30 minutes and when the sugar schedule is to be taken up. On Tuesday the voting will begin and continue until the stage of the third reading is reached.

Mr. Vest (Dem., Mo.) moved to place salt on the free list, but it was negatived by a party vote, one Republican only voting with the Democrats.

Mr. Evarts (Rep., N.Y.) offered his amendment imposing a duty of 10 per cent. ad valorem on all teas the growth or produce of the countries east of the Cape of Good Hope when imported from places west of the Cape of Good Hope. He made a statement in explanation and advocacy of the amendment, which is intended to put a stop to the importation of tea by the way of Canada and the Cape of Good Hope instead of directly from China.

Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) disapproved of the amendment as being a retaliatory measure, the only effect of which would be to add to the cost of tea. He had no excuse to offer for the course of Canada in imposing additional duties on tea and coffee imported from the United States, which course he regarded as perfectly ridiculous.

Mr. Spooner (Rep., Wis.) moved to amend Mr. Evarts' amendment by adding the following:

"There shall be levied and collected upon all coffee green from the Dominion of Canada 10 per cent. ad valorem and upon all coffee roasted or ground from the Dominion of Canada 3 cents per pound and 10 per cent. ad valorem."

The discussion on Messrs. Evarts' and Spooner's amendments was continued by Messrs. Spooner, Stewart, Cullom, Hoar, Pugh and Morgan.

Mr. Spooner confessed there was more of feeling than there was of substance in his amendment. But there was no good neighborship characterizing the intercourse of Canada with the United States. In American relations with Great Britain Canada was a marplot, and if the United States ever had trouble with Great Britain it would be because of the selfishness and unfriendliness of Canada. He would from this time on extend to Canadian ships no hospitality which Canada did not extend to American ships.

Mr. Cullen (Rep., Ill.) condemned the policy which had resulted in having importations from China and Japan brought into the United States through Vancouver and over the line of the Canadian Pacific.

Mr. Gorman (Dem., Md.) moved to add to Mr. Evarts' amendment a proviso that teas imported directly into the United States on through bills of lading from countries east of the Cape of Good Hope and transhipped at any foreign port or place shall not be subject to the duty therein provided. Mr. Evarts accepted the modification.

Mr. Spooner's amendment was then rejected and Mr. Evarts' amendment agreed to.

Several Finance Committee amendments were agreed to and this closed the consideration of the bill except as to the sugar section and reciprocity and some few reserved paragraphs which will come up on Monday.

Among the amendments passed to-day was one providing that fresh fish caught by American citizens in the great lakes forming the northern boundary shall be free, and smoked, dried, salted, pickled, fresh, frozen, packed in ice or otherwise prepared for preservation half a cent a pound.

As long as the bill is before the Senate it will be open to amendment. But when no more amendments remain to be offered and the vote is on the passage of the bill, six hours will be given to general debate. For the Republicans Senators Ingalls and Aldrich will probably occupy the time, and for the Democrats Messrs. McPherson and Carlisle, and possibly Vest. The final vote on the bill will not be taken, it is believed, until near the close of the week.

A CUSTOMS LEAGUE.

Proposed European Organization Against American and Russian Tariffs.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—A committee of American consuls, at a meeting here presided over by Consul-General Edwards, approved of the decisions of the Frankfort and Paris meetings in favor of an equal application of the provisions of the McKinley bill to all European countries.

The Agricultural Congress at Vienna adopted a resolution declaring that in view of the political tariffs of the United States and Russia it will be necessary to create a customs league in central Europe. It was proposed to form an industrial commission to prepare a scheme for a customs union. Several delegates who were asked to sit on the commission asked who would pay the expenses of the organization and declined to act. It is not probable that the league will take definite shape.

A LOUISVILLE RIOT.

Railway Track Layers Assaulted by a Mob of Factorymen.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 6.—Workmen employed by the Louisville & Jeffersonville Bridge Company in laying tracks supposed to be for the use of the Big Four Railroad over the right of way owned by the bridge company in this city, were assaulted last night by a mob of workmen employed at the Denis Long pipe works, who believed the tracks would be laid across Long's property. A desperate fight ensued and a number of the participants were injured, one of them named John Kelly being fatally hurt. A large force of police finally quelled the riot and the track laying was resumed. The Vanderbilt lines will be extended to this city upon the completion of the new bridge.

France's Invasion of Dahomey.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Advices from Accra state a French expedition against Abomey, the capital of Dahomey, will set out Sept. 18. It will be composed of three divisions, one of which will start from Grand Papo, another from Whyda and the third from Porto Novo. Dahomian troops are already marching to oppose the invaders.

Arrested for Train Wrecking.

ALBANY, Sept. 7.—A striker named Reed has been arrested charged with causing the wreck of the Montreal express. It is said he has confessed implicating several others. "Lou" Miller of Greenbush, a striker who lives about a mile from the scene of Thursday night's wreck, has just been arrested on suspicion of being one of the wreckers.

Mangled by a Cog-Wheel.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—A horrible accident occurred at Ogilvie's mills yesterday. A miller named John Keenahan, 21 years of age, by some means got his arm caught in the machinery. He was wound round a large cog-wheel, the cogs lacerating his sides terribly and mangling his right arm to a pulp. He also suffered several severe wounds on the head and other parts of his body. The Notre Dame ambulance was called and the unfortunate young man conveyed to the Hospital, where all possible was done for him. Dr. Harwood says that there are hopes of his recovery.

To Utilize Niagara's Power.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Sept. 5.—The tunnel scheme at Niagara Falls for developing unlimited water power seems to be an assured thing. The contract has been awarded by the Cataract Construction Company to Rogers & Clement, New York contractors, but the exact amount is not known. The papers, including the bond of the contractors for $300,000, are in preparation. The Niagara Falls Tunnel Company first secured the franchise in the legislature of 1885, and since then sold it and other rights to the Cataract Construction Company with the proviso that the undertaking be completed by [illegible]

FATAL RAILWAY WRECKS.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT ON THE DENVER AND RIO GRANDE.

The Fleet Section of a Train Leaves the Track and the Second Section Crashes Into It—A Collision at Cleveland—Alleged Train Wrecker Captured.

CANON CITY, Col., Sept. 6.—A terrible accident occurred on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad at 5 o'clock this morning near Adobe. The train was running in two sections. The first section had two day coaches loaded with laborers, and had become derailed four miles below Florence. The second section dashed into the first with terrific force, completely smashing the two coaches and injuring from 35 to 40 men and killing a number outright. The bodies of five men have been recovered and 12 are still missing. The dead are:

H. L. Winters, Idaho Springs.
Col. Jonathan Falks, Pueblo.
A. M. Moyer, Pueblo.
James Donovan, Pueblo.
C. B. Williams, Leadville.

A Bad Accident at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—An accident occurred at the Wilson-avenue crossing of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad in this city about 7¼ o'clock to-night by which at least a dozen persons were terribly injured, some fatally. Just as an electric street railway motor had crossed the railroad track a locomotive running 20 miles an hour dashed out from behind a freight train. The pilot of the engine struck the electric train between the motor and trail car, tearing them apart and hurling one to each side of the track. At least a score of persons were on the trail car and they were tumbled about in all directions, some being hurled a dozen feet away and others pinned under the car, which was demolished. Minnie Mock was fatally crushed and died at the hospital and one or two of the others will die.

Other Casualties on the Rail.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 6.—Yesterday John Nangle, a wealthy farmer living near Maidstone Cross, was struck by an east-bound Michigan Central freight train about 1¾ miles this side of Maidstone Cross. Both legs were cut off and he died from the effects of his injuries.

NEW HAMBURG, Sept. 6.—As a passenger train from Toronto was approaching the station to-day, Mrs. Caroline Sievers, who has resided here many years, and was known as "Deaf Caroline," was run over and instantly killed. She was walking on the track and was apparently unconscious of the train's approach.

LEXINGTON, Mo., Sept. 7.—A Missouri Pacific train yesterday ran into a passenger car which was being run on the main track. William Whitsatt, Lexington, was killed; Mrs. Law fatally injured, and her baby instantly killed.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Sept. 6.—This evening a premature blast in the Northern Pacific yards killed 8 men and possibly more. The full extent of the disaster is unknown.

TWO DAYS' FIRES.

A Big Blaze in Montreal Three Firemen Injured Incendiarism at Strathroy.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—A fire broke out early this morning in the building in St. James-street, occupied by Tees & Co., desk manufacturers, as an office and warehouse, and by Goldie & McCulloch's safe agency as a storeroom. The fire apparently started in the basement, in which was stored a large quantity of valuable lumber. During the fire the skylight in the safe warehouse gave way, carrying with it some of the safes, and three firemen. A rescue party was organized, and the men were extracted. There were Phil Gibson, captain of No. 3 Station, Joseph Richard of No. 6 and Dave Bennett of No. 3. The first was the most seriously injured, having had his left ear torn off and sustained serious injuries about the head and body. The other two were merely overcome by the effects of the dense smoke. They are both doing well. Mr. Tees' loss will be $15,000, fully insured. The building is the property of J. O. Graves and is fully covered by insurance. It is badly damaged. Goldie & McCulloch will also lose, but not heavily.

Incendiarism at Strathroy.

STRATHROY, Sept. 7.—There were three incendiary fires here last week, two last night. At 12 o'clock flames were seen issuing from the front of a large frame building next to the postoffice, known as Sandy Craig's carriage works and occupied by S. Carson, blacksmith, and owned by Mr. Seavitz. The brigade soon had the fire under control and no great damage was done. About 3 o'clock another alarm was given and the fire was found to be in the same building but breaking out in another part. The flames made rapid progress, quickly spreading to a large brick boarding house kept by Mr. Butler. Both buildings were completely destroyed along with two other frame structures. Carson was insured for $200, Seavitz for $600. Dewar supposed to be insured, Butler no insurance.

Other Losses Caused by Flames.

DESERONTO, Sept. 7.—The building occupied as a meat shop by W. W. Carter was burned at 1 o'clock this morning. Thomas Early and family who lived in the building had a narrow escape. James Warren lost all his household goods. The building was insured.

SEAFORTH, Sept. 6.—The barns of Moses Hannah, 9th concession of McKillop township, were totally destroyed by fire last night, together with their contents. Cause unknown. Insured in the McKillop Mutual for $1400.

MARMORA, Sept. 6.—The Marmora woolen factory, owned by T. P. Pearce and operated by Mitchell & Danford, was burned this morning. The loss will be heavy. No insurance.

Sir John at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—Sir John Macdonald and Lady Macdonald arrived at 1 o'clock today by special car on the Canada Atlantic from River Du Loup, where they have been spending the summer vacation. The Premier looks very much better for his summer vacation.

More Tunnels.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—The C.P.R. authorities, not to be behind the Grand Trunk, will soon have a tunnel under either the Detroit or the St. Clair rivers. It is also understood that Mr. Hickson intends to recommend the immediate construction of a second Grand Trunk tunnel under the St. Clair.

Looking For a Recreant Husband.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 7.—A prepossessing Englishwoman aged 24, who, after a short courtship, married John Heyes of the 14th Prince of Wales Rifles four years ago and was deserted by him on her wedding day, is in the city looking for her recreant husband.

MISS SMITH WILL BE THERE.

The Alleged Missing Witness in the Birchall Case is at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 5.—Miss Alice Smith of Eastwood, the witness in the Birchall case reported to be missing, is employed in a photograph studio here. She was seen by your correspondent to-day and also by Detective Murray. Miss Smith expressed surprise when your correspondent handed her a paper containing last night's despatch from Woodstock as to her alleged disappearance. She says nothing but death will prevent her from attending the trial.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Sept. 5.—The 11-year-old son of Mrs. Johnson of Sheaffe-street left his home two weeks ago last Tuesday and has not been seen since.

Henry Boardman of Toronto is a prisoner here charged with stealing some articles of clothing from Mrs. Lewis, at whose house he was lodging.

Mr. J. E. Pointer, who has been confidential correspondent here for Dun, Wiman & Co. since 1875, died at his residence last night, aged 55.

Winter Wheat.

A Bulletin from Prof. Shaw on Experiments of 1890.

Professor Shaw, of the Ontario Agricultural College, has issued a bulletin (No. 53) on winter wheat experiments of 1890:

It is the natural tendency with all cereal grains to deteriorate when grown long in one locality without change, the full reasons for which have never yet been given to the world. Because of this the necessity arises for a change of seed, and ultimately for the introduction of new varieties. In selecting the most suitable of these for his locality the farmer frequently finds difficulty. This arises in part from the unreliable nature of information not unfrequently given by those who introduce these new varieties, and in part from the absence of information that would enable the purchaser to compare the merits of these with those of standard varieties. With a view to give such information this bulletin—the first issued on growing winter wheats on this farm—has been prepared, and it is hoped that it will reach the farmers in time to reach the intended end.

From the information given in the subjoined table, the farmer who understands the nature of his soil can readily decide as to which of the kinds thus compared are most likely to give satisfactory results when grown on his land. If his soil does not naturally produce a stiff straw, he can reject all varieties that are weak in this respect. If it requires strong growing varieties, he knows which possess these qualities; and if rust is practically unknown in his locality, as is sometimes the case, he need not of necessity reject those most inclined to rust, as they may possess other qualities of much value.

Fifty-one varieties in all have been tested on the farm during the present year, of which twenty-one are Canadian and thirty foreign. Of the foreign varieties fifteen samples came from England, eight from France, five from Germany, one from Russia, and one from Scotland. Some of these varieties stood the winter well and possess much promise for the future. Full particulars will be given regarding them in the next annual report.

Of the eighteen Canadian varieties contained in the subjoined table some are old standard sorts, grown with the object of rendering more valuable the comparisons of the new varieties. The tests were made on plots of one-hundredth of an acre each, in a soil which may be termed a clay loam, but somewhat sandy in its texture. It possessed a decided slope to the southwest, and was therefore fully exposed to the sweep of cold winds while the ground was bare so much of the time last winter.

The following is a list of the Canadian varieties, with the most important particulars regarding their growth and behavior:—

Varieties.	Matured, July	Yield Per Acre. Straw, lbs.	Grain. Bush.	Weight of grain, lb.
Golden Drop	25 Ha	4 675	32 1 2	61 1 3
Surprise	19 Ha	5 075	29 3 5	58 2 3
Manchester	24 Ha	4 825	29 2 5	61
Bonnell or Landreth	25 Ha	5 025	32 1 4	2 61
Seneca or Clawson	25 Ha	5 475	25 2 5	59
Logers	27 Ha	5 475	31 3 5	60 3 4
Hybrid Mediterran	21 Ha	4 700	32 1 12	60 1 5
Martin Amber	27 Ha	4 000	34 1 4	62 1 4
Standard	21 Ha	4 250	31 1 6	60 1 3
Red Velvet Chaff	24 Ha	4 950	35 4 5	61
Lancaster	20 Ha	6 650	38 1 3	61 2 3
Early Red Clawson	22 Ha	5 025	32 1 12	58
Volunteer	19 Ha	6 350	36 1 4	58 1-2
Golden Cross	20 Ha	5 125	27 2-10	58
New Monarch	27 Ha	5 700	20	58 2 3
Red Lion	24 Ha	4 400	29 1 6	60
Democrat	24 Ha	4 350	20	56 1-2
Garfield or Natural Cross	28 Ha	3 300	15 4 5	57

NOTE.—The first twelve varieties were sown on the 10th September, Volunteer on the 12th, Golden Cross, New Monarch and Red Lion on the 19th, Democrat on the 27th and Garfield on Oct. 7th. The late sowing of the two varieties last named was owing to an oversight in snipping on the part of the seedsman from whom they were ordered. In the third column, "Ha" denotes a bald chaff and "Be" bearded chaff. In the fifth column the yield per acre is computed from the yield of the plot, and in the sixth column the weight of grain is per measured bushel.

In regard to the foregoing it will be observed:

(1) That while none of the yields are so large as on some other soils, they are all fairly good. The large yielders per acre are the Volunteer and the Red Velvet Chaff and the heaviest yielders per measured bushel are the Martin Amber and the Lancaster.

(2) That the varieties least susceptible to rust are the Bonnell or Landreth and the Seneca or Clawson, about equal, followed by the Surprise, while those most susceptible are the Manchester and Hybrid Mediterranean. These varieties both rusted badly in field plots, the former in 1889 and the latter in the present year.

(3) That in the opinion of competent judges the best varieties for milling purposes are the Lancaster, Red Lion and Velvet Chaff among the red wheats, and the Bonnel or Landreth among the white. This feature is very important, as no variety unsuitable for grinding will retain its place long, whatever good qualities it may otherwise possess.

(4) That the best varieties for this locality taking into consideration yield, weight, strength of straw, freedom from rust and value of milling purposes are perhaps the Red Velvet, Chaff, Lancaster, Martin Amber and Volunteer, in the order named, and probably the best single sort is the Red Velvet Chaff. It is a rather new variety, grows strong and tall and stands well, has a long and uniform head, yields well and weighs well, but is considered a trifle soft. It should be remembered, however, that this wheat is not the same as another variety called Canadian Velvet Chaff, a white wheat and one not yet tested by us.

(5) None of the newer varieties are so decidedly superior to the older ones as to render it certain that they will become decided favourites. The safe plan will be to test them by sowing one or two bushels, which, if they do well, will provide abundant seed for another year.

Except the Democrat, of which the test was not a fair one owing to the late period of sowing it.

The Late Cardinal Newman.

The Canada Presbyterian pays the following broad minded tribute to the virtues of the late Cardinal Newman:—"Protestants the world over have been impressed by the death of John Henry Newman. His pure character, great abilities, and perhaps more than all his "Lead, kindly Light," have for the time being led untold thousands to forget that Newman was a Catholic prelate, and not only a Catholic, but the leader of a movement Romeward from the English Church. The man was so great and good that many thought nothing of his Church. This fact proves that character is greater than ecclesiastical relations. A man may be so pure and good and useful as to win the hearts and, to a certain extent, the confidence, of Christendom, even though he belongs to an apostate church, and he may be a nobody or a nuisance even though his ecclesiastical surroundings are of the most orthodox kind. Bad as the world is, goodness is the greatest power in it. Purity, self-sacrifice, devotion allied with ability give influence in any church. This does not prove that the church is right, but it does prove that the greatest power in the world is character. John Henry Newman was a good and great man in spite of his ecclesiastical environment.

Jeux-de Mot.

A witty lady says:—

"That common DYES cannot DIE too soon."

"That some ladies really DIE in the attempt to DYE with worthless DYES which give forth poisonous and deathly exhalations."

"That worthless imitation DYES are already branded by the DIE of public opinion, and must DIE ere they DYE long."

"That the DIES used in branding crude imitation package DYES, so as to have them look outwardly like the "Diamond" DYES, should be confiscated by law, so that the unwary be not deceived."

"That profit and pleasure cannot be found before DYING, if your DYEING is not done with Diamond DYES."

"That Diadmond DYES while DYEING goes on never DIE, but always DYE so as to live in the hearts of the people."

"That Diamond DYES DYE to live; and although their consumers DIE, they DIE satisfied that what they DYED would retain color, brightness and beauty after they DIED; thus DYEING with Diamond DYES gives consolation and sweet recollections, even when DYING."

A BOY'S THRILLING ADVENTURE.

In the Embrace of a Monster Black Snake—Saved By a Faithful Dog.

DUNNVILLE, Sept. 5.—The 9-year-old son of Mr. Henry Hoover of Selkirk met with a singular adventure on Wednesday last, says The Press. Mr. Hoover has a farm situated about a mile from the village, where he lives, upon which there is a kind of slashing or brush pasture, to which the boy was sent by his parents to bring the cows, near the close of the day. It happened that a day or two before the boy had been nearly overtaken by a neighbor's vicious bull that had by some means got into the enclosure, which pursued him so closely that he only escaped injury by a hasty retreat over a high fence which enclosed some stacks of hay in an adjoining field. This very naturally frightened the little fellow so much that he was on the alert for a second attack on the evening in question—and not noticing particularly where he was stepping, his foot happened to rest on what he thought to be a dried stick about the thickness of his arm, but which proved to be a huge black snake about three or four feet long.

His snakeship, irritated no doubt by the unusual pressure, immediately coiled itself so tightly about the boy's legs that he was unable to free himself from its deadly embrace, and there is no doubt he would have been killed outright had it not been for the assistance of a large dog which accompanied him on this occasion. At this bidding of the boy, the faithful brute seized the snake in his teeth, and the little frightened fellow, bracing himself in an opposite direction so as not to be dragged, allowing the dog by a great effort of strength to tear the snake loose. So great was the shock to the little fellow's nerves that he became temporarily blind, and would in all probability not have reached home that night had it not been for his sagacious canine friend. Placing his hand on the back of the dog, he was piloted safely to the house. He had recovered his sight, but his mind is terribly shattered, and his body the subject of frequently recurring spasmodic fits, the result of his terrible experience. His recovery is said to be doubtful.

A BOODLER BAGGED.

Chief Randall of Guelph Captures a Detroit Embezzler.

GUELPH, Sept. 5.—During the past two weeks Guelph has harbored an American boodler, who was run down on Thursday. George Rosenback was employed by Baken Bros., book publishers of Detroit, and succeeded in defrauding the firm out of some $500. His mode of operation was to secure the first payment on a book, which was sold on the instalment plan, and pocket it. When he heard that his employers were "cramped on his trail," he skipped out, coming to Guelph. Mr. Baken arrived in the city on Thursday, and procured a warrant from Judge Drew for the young man's apprehension. This was handed to Chief Randall, who, from the description given him of the man wanted, soon located his game. When Rosenback was accosted he stated that his name was Laing, and that he was employed by a firm of book publishers doing business in the Arcade at Toronto, but on Mr. Baken recognizing him he was taken prisoner and arraigned before His Honor Judge Drew. The court offered him an opportunity of returning to Detroit with his former employer. This he accepted and left on the first train for the City of Straits.

Drowned in Eight Inches of Water.

PENETANG, Sept. 5.—Last Sunday Eugene Robillard took a small basket in his hand and went a short distance out the track to pick blackberries. Not returning in the evening his wife became anxious about his absence and caused a search to be instituted for him. On Monday morning he was found dead in a little creek that crosses the track about a mile out of town. There were a few berries in the basket and foot marks on the banks near the creek. It is evident that he had fallen down the incline into the water, which was not more than eight inches deep at the place where he was found. The unfortunate man was subject to fits, and several times he had come near losing his life before the fatality overtook him. He was a man of apparently fine physique, well-formed and a stalwart, but his terrible affliction has hung like a shadow over him for years. He leaves a widow and two children.

Fires at Beamsville.

BEAMSVILLE, Sept. 5.—At 11 o'clock last night flames were observed issuing from the barns of John Frost, two miles west of Beamsville, on the stone road. The barns, outbuildings and crops were all destroyed. About an hour and a half later the sky was illuminated in the east. The fire bells rang and the engine turned out. The latter fire proved to be the barns and outbuildings of Walter Tufford, a quarter of a mile out of the village. In this case also everything was destroyed, including his entire season's crop—about 2 0 bushels of wheat, threshed, twenty tons of hay, all his straw and other fodder. Fire bugs undoubtedly did the work.

The Seal Catch Light.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 5.—Two more sealing schooners, Mary Tyler and Sapphire, arrived to-day with light catches. They report several other schooners also inward bound and all grumbling at the poor season. There had been no seizures.

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

"HOW DO YOU DO?"

FORMS OF SALUTATION AND RESPONSE IN MANY LANDS.

Some Greetings Are Wholly Religious, Some Are Prayers for the Health of the Person Greeted; Others Wish Him Prosperity or Express Regard

The verbal forms of salutation may be divided into: 1. those of a purely religious character; 2 those equivalent to a prayer for the health and temporal good of the person saluted; 3, those simply wishing health and prosperity without direct invocation of a deity, and 4, those expressing personal or official affection or respect.

1. The Israelites, both in meeting and parting, used a word meaning "blessing," and the person addressed was thereby commended to God. The expressions "Blessed be thou of the Lord!" and "The Lord be with thee!" are traditional.

The Arabian often says, "God grant thee his favors!" also "Thank God! how are you?" and the Turk, "My prayers are for thee," or "Forget me not in thy prayers." In Poland a visitor to a house will cry out, "The Lord be praised!" to which the hostess will answer, "World without end. Amen!" The "sweet girl graduates" of conventional schools in this country mechanically answer a knock at their doors by the word toujours instead of "come in!" through the habit formed when the Sister at the convent dormitory door used a formula in praise of the Virgin Mary, to which the obligatory response was "forever!" Very lately a similar custom prevailed throughout Spain by which the visitor ejaculated Maria purissima! the reply being sin pecado concebida! On other occasions the Spaniards say, Vaya con Dios! "Go with God!" In the Tyrol people exchange the formula "Praised be Jesus Christ!" and the Neapolitans that of "Increase in holiness!"

2. The forms of greeting that pray for the health and well-being of the friend addressed are distributed generally. Indeed our term "salutation" is derived from the Latin salus, and similar etymologies are found in other languages. The Ottoman cries, "Be under the wrath of God!" In Arabia on the first meeting of the day, the proper phrase is, "May God strengthen your morning!" or "May your morning be good!" The Persian begins his polite address with "I make prayers for thy greatness." The return to a salution in the Orient is sometimes not only religious but non-committal. If an Arab is directly asked about his health, he responds, "Praise be to God!" leaving his condition to be inferred from the modulation of his voice. If the form of the query is "Is it well with thee?" the answer is, "God bless and preserve thee!" The Zuni exchange the prayer, "May the light of the gods rest with thee!"

Neither the English "good-by" nor the French adieu need be explained, but an example within the writer's observation may be offered to show how meaningless words of ceremony originally significant may become, and how easily they may be adopted. The Micmacs two centuries ago picked up among a few French expressions that of adieu as the proper word in friendly parting, and now commonly use it with the idea that it belongs to their own language. When questioned as to when they got it from the French, one of the chiefs haughtily exclaimed: "We did not get it from the French, they got it from us!" It may be noted that the French have in an revoir an alternative and less religious form used in parting, and other nations have similar expressions. The Cingalese bluntly say: "I will go and come."

3. The general wish for health and prosperity, of which the English "farewell," as distinguished from "good-by," is an example, is often only implied in the query showing interest as to the present possession of these blessings. The Arab reiterates the query, "How are you?" for some minutes, and when well brought up, afterward interrupts the subject of conversation by again interjecting, "How are you?" many times. Our "How d'you do?" has almost lost significance, as it is seldom noticed except by reciprocation, no one supposing it to be a bona fide request for information. Many other salutations abroad as well as at home, e. g. "Good morning," "Hot day," "Cold day," and other meteorologic comments are now mere watchwords or countersigns to indicate that the parties meeting are on good terms. Indeed, the origin of many old forms is the distinct declaration of peace, which was practically useful in the turbulent days when an enemy was more frequently met than a friend. This "passing the time of day" is now common at the occasional meeting of good-natured persons, by which the inane words form the friendly recognition of one of the same race. In Fiji the time of day regulates the terms of greeting. The inferior, before beginning his salute to the superior, always looks up at the sun and uses the phrase appropriate to its height.

The Chinese sojourners in Utah fell into a curious blunder in using some of our phrases. On meeting a resident at any time of day or night they called out, "Good morning!" and on parting, "Good night!" even if it were before breakfast. A similar error in imitation was made by the Zuni. When the officers from Fort Wingate visited the Pueblo they were naturally anxious to reach the trader's store, so they called out to the first person met, "How are you? Where's the store?" The Zuni caught up all the sounds as one greeting and in the Kindness of their hearts shouted them to all subsequent visitors. The salutation "How are-you-give-me-a-match," has a like explanation.

Moslems, while scrupulously saluting the meanest of their own communion, refuse all friendly greeting to the Jews. If inadvertently they have accosted one of that people with "Peace be unto you," of the like, they will hastily add "Death to you!" to which the Jew may respond, pretending to have heard only the beginning.

Why He Got Out.

"Speaking of dreams," said a man in a Detroit tobacco store, the other day, in the hearing of a Free Press man. "I had one last night which has left a very strong impression behind."

"What was it?" asked two or three of loungers in chorus.

"Well, I dreamed I was at a lonely railroad junction in the woods, waiting for a train. I was the only person there. All at once I discovered that I had lost my purse and ticket, and there I was, penniless and a stranger. I was wondering——"

At this point one of the loungers walked out doors speedily followed by a second. As the latter overtook the first he asked:

"Ever hear the story before?"

"No."

"Then why didn't you stay?"

"Oh, I know what was coming. He claims I owe him $10 on a transaction twenty years old. He was going to have me suddenly appear at that junction and hand over the ten with compound interest to get him out of the fix, but he can't play no such roots on me. No, sir—I'm going to leave him to walk home on the ties."

The Value of Knowledge.

A Brooklyn manufacturer paid a bill without a murmur the other day, simply on account of the way it was worded, says an exchange. His engineer found that the hot-water pump would not work and sent for a machinist.

The latter bothered with it half a day and said it must come apart. This meant a stoppage of the factory for a long time. It was suggested that a neighboring engineer be sent for, as he was a sort of genius in the matter of machinery.

"He came, and after studying the pump awhile he took a hammer and gave three sharp raps over the valve, 'I reckon she'll go now,' he quietly said, and putting on steam 'she' did go.

"The next day," says the manufacturer, "I received a bill from him for $25.50. The price amazed me, but when I had examined the items I drew a check at once.

"The bill read this way: 'Messrs Blank & Co., Dr. to John Smith. For fixing pump 50 cents.; for knowing how, $25.'

"Had he charged me $25.50 for fixing the pump I should have considered it exorbitant. But 50 cents was reasonable, and I recognize the value of knowledge, so I paid and said nothing."

A Whimsical Frenchman's Burial.

A worthy citizen of the republic of letters has been interred at Dole, in the Jura, says Paris letter. According to his written request, he was put in his coffin ready dressed for re-awakening. Under his head was placed a French edition of Horace, at his feet a copy of Milton, in his right hand a Greek testament, in his left hand an Elzevirian edition of Horace, while under his back lay an English edition of the same Latin poet. The coffin was painted green—symbolical of hope. On his tombstone he had engraved in advance:

"Be that you seek lives still."

The funeral cortege, details drawn up by himself, was limited to his six most intimate friends and co-admirers of Horace. During the lowering of the coffin into the grave they sang a stanza from an indicated ode. The funeral ceremony over, the friends repaired to the residence of the deceased's sister, who had been ordered to serve a Lucullian supper, after which other indicated stanzas from an ode were sung. It was furthermore stipulated by the injunctions that when his friends had become "slightly heady" and all the formalities had been executed, they were at once, and forever, to forget the defunct.

It Saved His Life.

GENTLEMEN,—I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it saved my life when I was about six months old. We have used it in our family when required ever since, and it never fails to cure all summer complaints. I am now fourteen years of age. FRANCIS WALSH, Dalkeith, Ont. 2w35d

A Daughter's Influence;

I had a very severe attack of bloody diarrhœa and was persuaded by my daughter to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which I did with great success, as less than two bottles cured me. It is worth its weight in gold. Mrs. MARGARET WEDN, Pembroke, Ont. 2w35d

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase (*) $1,706,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; nor that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,928	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,058,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.36
North American	8,470,620	10.68
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17.84
Citizens	2,087,966	23.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,285	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 16.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Results of the Smash.

The engine and three flat cars which were disabled in the wreck on the Credit Valley division Friday, came to Peterborough Sunday en route to the different repair shops. The engine was "dead," and the cars, which were badly damaged, were loaded on three other cars. The remains of the wreck were inspected by crowds of people.

Hard Times Banished!

No one has any reason to complain of hard times who visits Gough Bros., and sees the terrifically low prices of the splendid Kidd Bankrupt Stock. Buying clothing at any other place may be infra dig to you, but buying at Gough's is only para cost. 6d54-1w

He sustained a compound dislocation of the shoulder, his right leg and foot were severely crushed and his ankle crushed. The injured man was taken to Toronto and conveyed to the hospital in the ambulance.

Dry Goods Opening.

Messrs. Dolan & Hackett will open out on Saturday in M. Sullivan's old stand, 395 George street a new dry goods shop. This will be found superbly stocked with a fine assortment of staple and fancy dry goods. The stock is entirely new and selected with the greatest care in the best markets at very favourable prices, and will be sold at a very close margin on cost. The public will find at this store always the finest goods, the best selections and the most moderate prices.

Kidnapped!

There are not many cases in this law-loving town of men being captured and kidnapped in broad daylight. A glaring case has come to our notice. Every day we see cases of men being captured by the whirlwind bargains at which the Kidd stock is being worked off by Gough Bros., the wonderful ones, men. Nothing like it in the vast realm of trade, clothing practically given away—only a nominal charge made to cover wear and tear of counters. The biggest bargains in the universe in clothing at Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. 6 54-1w

Why They Want Thirty Acres.

Mayor Stevenson told the EXAMINER this morning that he had a conversation with a St. Catherines gentlemen concerning the Edison Company. The latter stated that the Company's reason for not locating in St. Catherines was the corporation's inability to supply them with the necessary thirty acres of ground. The Company, he stated, required this land for the accommodation of a number of small buildings on which to stretch their wire and store material. The manufactory proper will not of course cover thirty acres, but with the outbuildings requires a large area.

A Fontaine Exploit.

A story which has taken several days to reach the press, is told of a couple of young ladies who while paddling through Indian channel struck a snag and were upset. Being expert swimmers they had no difficulty in getting ashore. First divesting themselves of their garments, or as many as they could conveniently spare, and hanging them up on the aforesaid snag to dry, they boldly struck out and landed on terra firma none the worse for their adventure.

En Route to Manitoba.

A party of Peterborough people left town the other day for the North West, among them Messrs. D. W. Dumble, T. W. Robinson, H. Deane and Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, of Monaghan. Mr. Robinson, writing the EXAMINER from Nepigon, on the north shore of Lake Superior, says:—"We are nearing Port Arthur. Grand scenery, beautiful day, and nice party in our car—eight Peterborough people—having an A-1 time. About 350 on train from all parts of Ontario."

Agricultural Ball.

Last Saturday a desperate struggle on the diamond took place at the 16th concession of Smith (near Hall's Bridge.) The Chemong Village nine went up and wiped the earth with the North Star Nine, the pride of North Smith. The North Stars were exceedingly sanguine of success, a prominent backer going so far as to wager his trowsers on the result. If he pays the wager he will become a Highlander, and a tart-un at that. The score was 21 to 19 in favour of the Chemong ballists. A return match—for blood—will be played at Chemong Village on next Saturday. The North Stars will charter a steamer and run an excursion to the village.

The Street Railway Company.

Some anonymous correspondents have been writing pretty strongly to the local papers respecting the application for a street railway charter. The EXAMINER has seen those most likely to have reliable knowledge of the subject, the promotors of the scheme and members of the proposed company. From them it is learned that it is the intention of the company to begin operations at the earliest possible practicable moment. The scheme of tracks of the proposed line though not yet definitely decided upon, has been pretty thoroughly discussed by the promotors, and, as contemplated, will include the circle of the town with cross connecting lines and will constitute a complete street car service for the whole of the town.

Piscatorial Politicians.

Hon. A. S. Hardy, Commissioner of Crown Lands; Hon J. M. Gibson, Provincial Secretary; Mr. W. T. R. Preston, secretary of the Ontario Reform Association; Mr. Peter Hamilton, president of the West Peterborough Reform Association; Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, Mr. A. P. Poussette, chairman of the West Peterborough Equal Rights Association; Mr. R. C. Strickland, Mr. T. Fitzgerald, Mr. W. H. Casement, Reeve of Lakefield warden of Peterboro., and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. went north this morning to spend a couple of days fishing in Stony Lake waters. The visiting gentlemen of the party have heard so much of this delightful summer resort region that they evidently wish to verify, by pleasant personal experience, the favourable reports that have reached them. Muskoka lakes have had their day with Torontonians, and, no doubt, the good report of our beautiful nest of lakes, which will be carried back to the Capital, will result in making Stony and its connecting lakes the Mecca of Toronto pleasure-seekers another season.

Miss Delaney's Fall Millinery.

Miss Delaney has returned from her annual autumnal visit to Montreal and Toronto. She visited all the millinery openings and, from the wide range of selections presented, chose the finest, most fashionable and most varied stock of millinery ever bought for the Peterborough market. Miss Delaney's fall stock of millinery and allied goods will repay inspection. Choice complete and varied, fashionable, stylish and good, are terms that only partially express its beauty, and the claims it has upon the attention of the ladies of Peterborough who are cordially invited to call and see this stock before thinking of buying a fall hat or bonnet. Miss Delaney would especially draw attention to her splendid stock of frillings which have arrived direct from Germany. In fact, however, every line in every department is worthy of special notice, and this establishment is now in a better position to serve the wants of the public and to guarantee the greatest satisfaction in every case. 3d57-1w

A False Alarm.

The fools are not all dead yet. One of them, probably of the juvenile persuasion, inflicted a big scare upon the community Sunday night. About a quarter after seven o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded from the north ward box, the town bell was rung and the fire brigade rushed up George street in search of the blaze. Hundreds of people poured out of the houses and the churches on the same quest. At the corner of Dublin street, the crowd came to a halt, no fire could be observed, and after a few minutes spent in chatting each other they returned rather crestfallen, the firemen feeling pretty sore over the sell that had been perpetrated. It was discovered that the glass of the alarm box had been taken out, leaving the interior quite unprotected for the whim of any mischievous urchin or elderly noodle that might choose to turn the crank. It is said that the glass was out during the whole day. Free expression was given on all sides to the opinion that the present fire alarm system was imperfect. In order to sound an alarm the glass has simply to be broken or removed, so that virtually the public peace is at the mercy of the foolish element which is prevalent in every community. There ought certainly to be some plan devised to prevent such tricks from being repeated, while at the same time leaving the fire alarm system as complete and efficient as possible. An effort should also be made to discover the scamp who tampered with the alarm Sunday night. If he could be caught and summarily punished, the example would doubtless deter others from trying it again. The alarm had a deleterious effect upon the engines. Hundreds left abruptly, not only interfering with the service but causing a large decrease in the collections. Besides, the clamor and uproar seriously disturbed the serenity of the Sabbath. All this trouble over the foolish freak of some mischief-maker.

Willow and Wicket.

The Colts Defeat the Bankers and Veterans.

The Colts met and defeated a team of the Bankers and Veterans team Saturday afternoon, by three wickets. The finish was very exciting. When the Colts went in for their last innings they had to make 75 runs to win, with only about an hour to play. Just as the last three bit was made time was called. For the victors Boucher did the best batting, McGill, Goldsmith, Dartnell and Dunsford also doing well. Goldsmith had the bowling record. For the Veterans Sam Ray alone made any stand, though Stocker got into double figures in the second innings.

The Colts, with Attewell and probably one or two seniors, play against East Toronto at Toronto next Thursday.

Following is the score of Saturday's game:—

The Edison Company By-law.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I do not wish to find fault with the council for the arrangement it has made with the Edison Company, but it strikes me the by law could be improved by inserting a clause prohibiting the erection of any buildings except for manufacturing purposes or offices, upon the thirty acres of ground given free of rent and exempt from taxation for ten years. There is nothing in the by-law now to prevent the company building as many private houses as they want so for their workingmen. When they get the land for nothing they can put up good houses for $400 or $500 and can afford to rent them for $5 or $6 a month, and then make big interest on their money. This would be very unjust to the property owners and mechanics of the town. There are already enough of idle houses in town to accommodate all the men they will bring. Besides the town has to supply the company's lands with sewerage, which, Mr. Belcher says, will cost about $1,000—but when Mr. Belcher says $4,000, you can reckon on $7,000, the same as in all other town matters. The corporation has also to furnish them with switch lines from the G. T. R. and C. P. R., which will also cost quite an item. In view of all these favours, I think, in justice to the property owners, the saving clause regarding the erection of private buildings should be included in the by-law. I do not wish to oppose any manufactory; far from it. But these are my private views, and I am backed up in them by a large number of ratepayers. If the clause is not inserted the town councillors need not be surprised if the by-law meets with opposition. I am told by Mr. Stevenson and others that the company do not intend to put up any but buildings to be used in connection with the industry; and that any private houses erected are to be assessed. But there is no provision in the by-law to that effect, and, to prevent trouble in the future, a clause ought to be inserted before the by-law is passed. The last bonus by-law we passed has caused some trouble; we ought to learn a lesson, and try to make this one perfect.

Yours, etc.,
JNO. M NAUGHTON.

Peterborough, Sept. 8th, 1890.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

On Saturday evening we had a delightful service at the young men's meeting. Mr. Matthews was unavoidably absent, being called to Ottawa. He sent his regrets and a letter full of the theme for our meeting. The General Secretary led the meeting, and many of the young men present spoke on the lessons to learn from the life of Joshua.

The consecration meeting was an enjoyable service to all present. The Lord was present, and we got a great blessing for service.

The open air service in Central was attended by a large number We are delighted to see so many young men present at these services. Mr. John Carlisle gave a very earnest Gospel address, showing God's love and mercy in providing a ransom for us in Christ Jesus. Mr. Hannah followed in a short, stirring and awakening address full of warning to the careless and indifferent. The addresses were listened to by all with much attention and, we trust, profit. Mr. John Miller led the singing in his usual acceptable manner, all joining heartily in singing the Gospel hymns.

At the Gospel and song service last evening short addresses were given by Messrs. Saunders, Smart and Wallbrook. The earnest words of our young men found a hearty response in the hearts of all present. The hall was crowded. We are satisfied we shall be better able to realize what God requires of His people at home and our duty to one another and to those who are in the regions beyond.

It was a day full of joyful and, we trust, fruitful service by His blessing. To Him be all the praise.

Bible class on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Mr. Russell, of Winnipeg, who leaves shortly for the mission field in India, will address a missionary meeting in St. Paul's church Wednesday night.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the George street church holds an important meeting at Miss Sanderson's, George street, Tuesday afternoon.

The General Conference of the Methodist church, which meets every four years and represents 250,000 members, meets at Montreal this week; and in view of this circumstance Rev. Mr. Locke will deliver a sermon in the George street church next Sunday evening upon, "Methodism, its success and some of the elements of its success."

Rev. S. J. Storey leaves Tuesday to attend the conference at Montreal. He will be away three weeks. The pulpit will be supplied during his absence. Rev. Mr. Bell, of Bethany, takes the service next Sunday, and Rev. Mr. Greatrix, of Cavan, the following Sunday.

News Nuggets.

Ashburnham council meets to-night. It is expected that the annexation question will be discussed.

—Contractor T. Rutherford will break ground for Robert's new hotel at Bridgenorth to-morrow.

—Ground was broken this afternoon by contractor Rehill for the excavation for the new Custom House.

—Two or three unfurnished room in some centrally situated private residence wanted. Apply at the EXAMINER office. 3d

—The Peterborough working mens' Building and Saving Society will meet in Mr. Stevenson's office, Water-street, to night.

—Members of the football club are reminded of the practice to-night on the P. A. A. A. grounds at six o'clock or as soon thereafter as possible.

—The Directors of the Horticultural society will meet to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, to wind up the business connected with the recent exhibition.

—The steamer "Dawn" took an excursion party from Peterborough to Stony Lake Saturday night, returning this morning. The first train was missed by a quarter of an hour.

Mr. Geo. B. Sproule has on exhibition a number of fine photographic views of Stony Lake. Some of them are enlarged. They make beautiful wall ornaments and besides have a strong local interest.

—Messrs. Graham & Co., of Peterborough, proprietors of the Persian steam laundry, have had an agent in Lindsay for the past week, the Post says, booming their business.

—There has been no passenger trains run over the Harwood road up to date this summer, and, from all appearances, there will be none. Owing to the settling of some piers on one or two bridges on the line it was thought advisable to make a substantial job of it before opening for business. It is rumored that the Grand Trunk propose to advertise Rice Lake next season and run excursions from Toronto and other points to this well known and popular fishing ground.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fowler are in Dakota, visiting their son Mr. Wm. Fowler at Pembina.

Mr. Geo. Munro, of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, leaves to night for British Columbia on business connected with the company's operations.

A private note received this morning from Mr. D. Spence dated Newcastle August 26, says:—"I leave Walker-on-Tyne to-morrow morning for Peterborough by S.S. Circassian, will be home by September 13th."

The numerous friends of Mr. A. J. Armstrong, son of Mr. John G. Armstrong of Cavan, will be pleased to see that he has passed his final legal examination taking the creditable position of being third on the list of successful candidates. He was at one time a student in the law office of Mr. W. H. Riddell, Cobourg.

Hours for Information.

On the Use of Water at Meals.

Opinions differ, says the British Medical Journal, as to the effect of the free ingestion of water at meal-times, but the view most generally received is probably that it dilutes the gastric juice and so retards digestion. Apart from the fact that a moderate delay in the process is by no means a disadvantage, as Sir William Roberts has shown in his explanation of the popularity of tea and coffee, it is more than doubtful whether any such effect is in reality produced. When ingested during meals, water may do good by washing out the digested food and by exposing the undigested part more thoroughly to the action of the digestive ferments. Pepsin is a catalytic body, and a given quantity will work almost indefinitely, provided that the peptones are removed as they are formed. The good effects of water, drunk freely before meals, has, however, another beneficial result; it washes away the mucus which is secreted by the mucus membrane during the intervals of repose, and favours peristalsis of the whole alimentary tract. The membrane thus cleansed is in a much better condition to receive food and convert it into soluble compounds. The accumulation of mucus is especially well marked in the morning, when the gastric walls are covered with a thick, tenacious layer. Food entering the stomach at this time will become covered with this tenacious coating, which for a time protects it from the action of the gastric ferments, and so retards digestion. The tubular contracted stomach, with its puckered mucus lining and viscid contents, a normal condition in the morning before breakfast, is not suitable to receive food. Exercise before partaking of a meal stimulates the circulation of the blood and facilitates the flow of blood through the vessels. A glass of water washes out the mucus, partially distends the stomach, wakes up peristalsis, and prepares the alimentary canal for the morning meal. Observation has shown that non-irritating liquids pass through the "tubular" stomach, and even if food be present, they only mix with it to a slight extent. According to Dr. Leuf, who has made this subject a special study, cold water should be given to persons who have sufficient vitality to react; and hot water to the others.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Cat at the Central—A Victory for the Attorney-General.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—William J. McLeod, who indecently assaulted Ellen Porter, the 7-year-old daughter of his landlady, at Hanlan's Point on Aug. 24, received the first half of his sentence of 40 lashes at the Central Prison Saturday. The prisoner, who was strapped to a triangle in the northern corridor, cried for mercy from the outset, but the stalwart guard who wielded the cat laid on with a will and McLeod's back was badly scarified. He will receive the balance of his punishment three months prior to his release. McLeod recently served six months for participating in the Baltic outrage at Owen Sound, when a young sailor was falsely accused of a terrible charge and otherwise persecuted until he jumped off the vessel and was drowned.

In the case of the Attorney-General of Canada against the Attorney-General of Ontario, judgment was delivered on Saturday at Osgoode Hall by the Chancery Divisional Court. The question in dispute was whether the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario could, under authority of 51 Vic., chap. 5, comute sentences for offences which are against provincial acts. The action was brought under a clause of the Ontario Judicature Act, providing for the settlement of such disputes. Counsel for the Attorney-General of Canada argued that no right of pardon lay in the Lieutenant-Governor, as he had no direct royal prerogative, but the court decided in favor of the Attorney-General of Ontario. This case was argued some weeks ago by eminent counsel and occupied several days.

Morality Inspector Archabold on Saturday summoned several city merchants to appear in the Police Court this morning for alleged breach of the lottery act in disposing of their wares through the medium of "clubs." The scheme is to form a body of say sixty young men, and each pays $1 a week to the merchant for a specified time. Each week they all draw and the one drawing the lucky number gets whatever has been arranged for. The merchants summoned on Saturday were Henry A. Giles, jeweler, 440 Queen-street west; Francis Werster, jeweler, 710 Queen-street west; William Myers, tailor, Berkeley and Queen-streets; Vise Bros., tailors, 338 Queen-street east; M. McVeain, Queen-street east; Porter & Brockwell, tailors, Queen-street east; Charles McMahon, tailor, 422 Queen-street west. The two first disposed of watches after the club fashion and the remainder suits of clothes. The warrants charge them with unlawfully entering into a contract for the disposal of personal property by a mode of chance.

C. J. Holman & Co., solicitors for the Town of Cobourg, on Saturday filed with the registrar of the Common Pleas Division a notice of appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice MacMahon, dissolving the injunction restraining the defendants from removing their university to Toronto. The appeal is taken to the Court of Appeal, and as all evidence has to be printed for this court the appeal will be a very expensive one. In the ordinary course of things it will likely be some months before the appeal can be heard.

A motion was made on Saturday before Mr. Justice MacMahon for the appointment of a referee to assess the damages awarded by His Lordship's judgment. The parties not being able to agree on the appointment of a referee the motion was enlarged till Thursday next, His Lordship remarking that if the parties could not then agree he would himself name a referee at Toronto.

IT WAS MANSLAUGHTER.

SO SAYS A TORONTO JURY IN A FATAL FAITH CURE CASE.

The Doctrines of the Christian Scientists Unfolded at the Inquest on the Body of John Kent—Boots and Shoes to Advance in Price.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—The inquest on the body of the late School Trustee John Kent was continued last night. Mr. Kent had been suffering from diabetes for a number of years and recently abandoned his medical attendant and placed his case in the hands of a Christian scientist, Mrs. Isabella McMillan Stewart. Mrs. Stewart told him that he could cut anything he chose, with the consequence, as it is alleged, that he abandoned the strict diet upon which sugar had been placed by his physicians, grew rapidly worse and died in a state of diabetic coma. Some interesting evidence was elicited from Mrs. Stewart. She did not believe in the efficacy of medicine but considering the height she had obtained in Christian science surgeons should be employed in setting broken bones, though for nothing else. All sickness originates from a false conception of God which becomes manifest in the body. The mind of the patient is directed through a mental argument to a right conception of God, which when gained manifests health in the body. Witness treated deceased by the mental argument, telling with her eyes closed for 15 or 20 minutes, and deceased paid her $1 for her time. Subsequently he told witness that his diabetes was better. At an early hour this morning the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter against Mrs. Stewart.

A tragedy at the tanning of the whole sole hemlock shoe dealers of the province was held yesterday afternoon at Cooper & Souter's factory. Representatives were present from Guelph, London, Hamilton and other points in Ontario, nearly every manufactory of any importance being represented. It was agreed, at the expense of the tanning leather to make an advance of from 2 to 3 per cent in boots and shoes.

Joseph Bullock, the Leamington cabinet maker who seduced his 15-year old stepdaughter, Jennie Batty, was released from custody on bail yesterday, and during the day probably combined his offence by marrying his child victim, and the prosecution will consequently drop. Bullock is old enough to be the girl's father.

The will of the late Robert Hay was filed for probate yesterday. Deceased left property valued at $ 120,000, of which $ 75,000 is real estate, $12,000 the insurance, and balance moneys secured by mortgage, bank stocks, etc. All the estate is to be converted into cash, $100 of which is to be invested and the interest paid annually to the trustees of St. Mary's Church, New Lowell, at which village deceased's stock farm is located. The balance is to be divided among the four children, John D. Hay, Mary Davidson, Isabella Turnbull and Annie Kay, share and same alike, less $10,000 already advanced to John D. Hay. The will, which is dated August 1, 1887, appoints his son and John D. Davidson and James Turnbull, his sons-in-law executors.

The following gentlemen were yesterday presented by Mr. E. B. Osler, Q.C., to the Chief Justice Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall and sworn in as barristers: A. C. Boyce, A. J. Armstrong, W. H. S. Ellis, W. A. Logan, A. Cramer, G. H. Hutcheson, H. E. Stone, P. H. Bartlett, W. J. E. E. Marsh, A. Vidler, L. B. Arnold, T. C. A. Wright, W. J. Hamilton, A. B. McCraney, A. H. O'Brien, F. Mackie, J. A. Ritchie, L. O. Sweatt, L. Greenlaw, Mr. Crooks, C. Fraser, J. J. Drew.

Mr. E. B. Eychaner was successful in carrying off the gold medal at the recent exhibition and Mr. Eyre was also passed with honors and was awarded the bronze medal.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Minister Dewdney is Off for England The Chinese Immigration Question.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—Hon E. Dewdney and Mrs. Dewdney left by afternoon train for New York, from where they will proceed on one of the German lined steamers to England. Their visit is said to be of a private character.

Sir John Macdonald was at his office today and engaged in looking over the tenders for the contracts for the Williamsburg canal. It is understood that owing to the lowness of some of the tenders a new survey of the canal will be made, and also a new tender called for. Mr. Dupuis, M.P. for Pontiac, is the lowest tenderer.

Messrs. Barre of Vancouver and Salmon of Nanaimo, delegates to the meeting of the Trades and Labor Congress in this city, had an interview with Sir John Macdonald to-day in regard to the immigration of Chinese to British Columbia. They pointed out that the imposition of the poll tax of $50 per head was impracticable and failed to curtail any number of this class of immigrants from landing in the country. Under those circumstances they asked that the Chinese be excluded altogether, the same as in the United States. Sir John promised to consider the matter.

MANY BARKISES WILLIN'.

Fred Dupree's Half-breed Daughter and Money Attract Eligible Young Men.

PIERRE, S.D., Sept. 9.—The publicity given the recent statement of Fred Dupree, the old French squaw man that he would give $10,000 to the right young man who would marry one of his favorite half blood Indian girls has caused shoals of letters from marriageable young men. But the old man says he must have good evidence as to what the man who weds the girl will prove a model husband. While the squaw is one of the handsomest on the great Sioux reservation, yet the match must be made on strictly business principles, and the old man means to be consulted in the matter. A young chief who learned of Dupree's offer conceived the idea that an offer of ponies might gain for himself the fair maiden's hand. But Dupree scornfully refused the chief's offer of 200 ponies for the young squaw.

The illness of the Duke of Clarence is more serious than his physicians are willing to admit. He will be unable to keep his autumn engagements.

The Southern district of London is being harried by burglars and it is estimated that $25,000 worth of property has been stolen in a territory covering about three square miles.

TRAIN-WRECKING FIENDS

THEIR PLOT THWARTED BY A VIGILANT EMPLOYE.

Another Trainload of Passengers on the New York Central Road Has a Narrow Escape from Injury and Death—A Collision on the B. & O.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 9.—A desperate attempt was made to night to wreck the fast St. Louis and Chicago express which leaves New York on the Central road at 6 p.m. The train was stopped for a danger signal south of Old Troy, which is 500 yards south of New Hamburg draw bridge. Two minutes previous the flagman discovered several ties standing endways in the culvert near Old Troy, and when he took hold of one of them to remove it, he was fired on from the bushes on the east side of the track. Knowing that the fast express was nearly due he ran southward and set the danger signal, which stopped the train. The flagman said the ties stuck on above the rails, and would have certainly thrown the train from the track. The fast train was composed of seven or eight sleeping cars, all full, two ordinary passenger coaches and a baggage car. There were eight ties on the up main track. There were also two ties placed alongside of the rail towards the south, so as to ditch the train. The train passed here an hour ago.

Railroad detectives with Chief Byrnes and officers of the city police are in sharp pursuit of the wreckers, who it is reported have been seen between New Hamburg and Fishkill. An engine left the station shortly after midnight with officers on board.

ALBANY, Sept. 8.—The mystery attending the apprehension of John Reed, who was detained in Superintendent Bissell's office all day yesterday on suspicion of being one of the Central train wreckers, was partially explained this morning by the arrest of John Kiernan, a West Albany freight brakesman living at 588 Second-street in Albany, and John Cordial, a freight conductor, living at 586 Livingston-avenue. Both men are married, and are striking knights belonging to Local Assembly 1046. These two men were arrested at their homes this morning at 3 o'clock, after a thorough search of the city for them by a dozen detectives.

A Collision on the B. & O

WHEELING, W.Va., Sept. 8.—About 1 o'clock this morning east and westbound freight trains met in collision on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Bread Tree tunnel, 30 miles east of here. A wrecking train has been sent out, but the company refuses to give information of the disaster. It is known both engines and a dozen cars were entirely destroyed and the wreck took fire. Engineers Kelly and Tricktray and an unknown tramp were instantly killed. The fate of the firemen is not known.

Disregarded Instructions.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Sept. 8.—At 4.05 this morning two North Shore limited trains one going east and the other west, collided with terrific force near the Central track near the station in this city. Baggageman W. A. Fairbrother of New York city was instantly killed, Engineer Edson Bradley of Syracuse sustained a compound fracture of both legs and Fireman William Houlihan of Syracuse was badly hurt. The accident is attributed to failure to obey instructions.

Terribly Crushed

PITTSBURG, Sept. 8.—Express Messenger William Dyer, while attempting to board his train at Old City this evening, missed his footing, and both his legs were crushed so badly and had to be amputated. His recovery is improbable.

MR EVARTS' LONG HEAD.

The New York Senator Objects to Making the President a Tariff Autocrat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The sugar schedule was considered in the Senate to-day. The Finance Committee amendment imposing a tax on all sugar above No. 16 Dutch standard was agreed to. The committee amendment making all Dutch standard sugar above No. 13 duty paid instead of free was also agreed to. The House countervailing amendment, to the effect that the bounty on sugar exported should be deducted from the duties on sugar imported, was agreed to.

After some remarks by Mr. Evarts, Republican, of New York, the conference report on the Sherman anti-trust bill was agreed to. Mr. Evarts said he did not like the bill, but he would vote for it. He objected to the provision which made it the duty of the President, when satisfied a combination existed in any State, Territory or District of the United States which was injurious to the commerce of any other State, Territory or District of the United States, to direct the Attorney-General to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such combination. He objected to the provision because it was not proposed, equal and reciprocal to communicate the fact to Congress, so that duties may be imposed upon such articles. He argued in support of his proposition and against empowering the President to act of his own accord without the direct authority of Congress.

Mr. Gray, Dem., Del., agreed with Mr Evarts.

Tobacco Men's Protest.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Tobacco Leaf Board of Trade here to-day passed a resolution protesting against the McKinley Bill which they claim will have the effect of ruining their business. The board decides to petition Congress to so change the bill that in case of its passage the leaf importer will not have to pay duty on the goods until they are taken from the bonding stores.

The Lucky Numbers in Carslake's Sweep

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—The Carslake drawing for the St. Leger took place here to-day. The lucky numbers and their destination are as follows:

Walker House, Toronto, draws Surefoot in Brant's sweep and Orwell by Mr. McCleary, Toronto.

MET WITH A WARM RECEPTION.

Mr. Hilton Goes to Montreal to Collect the Central Bank Judgment Against Baxter.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—Mr. Hilton of Toronto arrived here yesterday to execute the judgment obtained there by the Central Bank against Brocker James Baxter. Mr. Baxter at once took steps to have Mr. Hilton arrested for criminal libel, but that gentleman could not be found when the warrant was ready.

INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

SYDNEY STRIKERS HOLD A MONSTER DEMONSTRATION.

The Employers Decide to Confer With the Men—A Big Strike at Southampton—Montreal Longshoremen Out—The Firemen's Convention.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 9.—The strikers held a monster demonstration here yesterday. Several speakers advocated a compromise with the employers. They complained that the employers were delaying the proposed conference with the strikers. Resolutions were adopted declaring the men would remain firm. Four steamers sailed yesterday, all manned by blacklegs.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 9.—The employers have declined to confer with the strikers. The Croker Hill miners struck to forestall an announced stoppage, affecting 9000 men and $750,000 capital. Other stoppages are imminent.

Big Strike at Southampton.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The dock laborers, coal porters, sailors and firemen at Southampton have struck against the employment of non-union men. The strikers have placed pickets at the railway station, who menace non-unionists who are going from this city to take their places.

Montreal Longshoremen on Strike.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—The longshoremen to the number of about 100, working for the Allans and engaged loading and discharging the Sarmatian and Parisian, struck this afternoon on account of the dismissal of one of their number and the refusal of the stevedore to take him on again.

The Locomotive Firemen's Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The second biennial convention of the National Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was opened here at 9 o'clock this morning, Grand Master Frank P. Sargent presiding. Every one of the 420 lodges was represented. In his address Mr. Sargent touched upon the recent meeting of the Federation of Railroad Trainmen and justified its action in declining to call out the members of that order to assist the Knights of Labor in their fight against the New York Central Railway. It was evident from the tenor of his remarks that the firemen had been for peace during that conference. The address alluded to the remarkable growth of the order, which now has upwards of 20,000 members.

ENTERTAINING ROYALTY.

Cardiff Ratepayers Say it Should Not be at Public Expense

CARDIFF, Sept. 8.—The ratepayers of the city at a meeting Saturday adopted resolutions protesting against providing for the entertainment of the Duke of Clarence during his visit here out of the public funds. Objection was also made against the half holiday on the occasion of the reception of the Prince on the ground that the workingmen could not afford to lose half a day's pay. One thousand Liberals have adopted a resolution declaring they will support no candidate for Parliament who is not pledged against voting public money to entertain royalty.

The Chess Champions.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 8.—The international chess tourney ended to-night. Tarrasch takes first prize with a total of 13 games won, 3 drawn and none lost. Blackburn takes second prize, McKenzie and Bird shared third and fourth prizes and Gunsberg and Mason shared fifth and sixth.

The Dominion's Finances

OTTAWA, Sept. 8. The accounts for the fiscal year 1889-90 have been closed in the Finance Department and the result of the year's receipts and expenditures shows a surplus of $4,004,237. Compared with the last fiscal year the result is as follows:

	1889-90.	1888-89.
Customs	$23,736,584	$ 23,071,451
Excise	6,886,749	7,001,427
Postoffice	2,220,504	2,057,389
Public Works, including Railways	3,042,255	3,890,110
Miscellaneous	2,706,286	2,131,401
Total	$ 38,792,870	$ 38,091,378
Expenditure	34,917,385	33,887,141
	$ 3,875,485	$ 4,004,237

It will thus be seen that the revenue increased $1,085,497 and the expenditure decreased $1,029,764. The net debt of the Dominion on June 30, 1890, was $238,048,628, as compared with $227,357,041 on June 30, 1889, being an increase of $511,566, while the expenditure on capital account was $5,337,587, divided as follows:

Railways and Canals	$ 3,292,059
Railway subsidies	1,678,196
Dominion lands	1,740,082
Total	$ 6,710,337

Closed By the Sheriff.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Emil Schultz & Co., importers of wines and liquors, assigned to-day. Liabilities $50,000, mostly due to European houses.

The sheriff to-day closed the store of E. Karolzmen's Sons, stocking manufacturers, the factory of the Shapiro Seamless Stocking Company, and the store of Karolzmen, importers of precious stones. All three concerns being run by Jacques E. Karolzmen, Adolph Karolzmen and E. Karolzmen. Liabilities $300,000. It is expected the assets will make a good showing.

Illinois Junior Senator Mortally Ill.

WAUKESHA, Wis., Sept. 8.—Senator Farwell of Illinois is dangerously ill at the Fountain House. The physicians in charge as well as the family and most intimate friends despair of his recovery. It is attributed to overwork and the unhealthy condition of the Capitol.

AACHEN, Sept. 8.—Robert Garrett is very ill at this place. Dr. Jacobi has been in attendance and expects to pull him through this relapse in a short time.

An Ingenious Suicide.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Henry Mersman, a life prisoner from Cincinnati confined for murder in the Ohio State Penitentiary, committed suicide last evening in his cell. Taking the pages of a newspaper he rolled them into tubes, and telescoping these together made a long pipe, one end of which he slipped over a gas jet, and taking the other end into his mouth lay on his cot and breathed the gas into his lungs.

Ball in Three Leagues

PLAYERS' LEAGUE—Boston 18, New York 8; Brooklyn 7, Philadelphia 5; Buffalo 5, Chicago 9; Pittsburg 6, Cleveland 4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE—New York 6, Boston 5, 11 innings, darkness; Brooklyn 3, Philadelphia 4; Chicago 7, Pittsburg 3.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION—Syracuse 2, Columbus 1; St. Louis 3, Rochester 1; Toledo 5, Athletics 8; Louisville 7, Baltimore 3.

Absence Taken for Death.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 8.—Administration was applied for on Aug. 27 on the estate of Jacob Moore, formerly of Brantford township. In the spring of 1883 Mr. Moore left his home in this township and went to the United States. On Aug. 27 in the same year he wrote to the family from Detriot. Since that time no tidings have been heard of him and the presumption is that Moore is dead. Mrs. Moore now resides in Toronto. She placed the matters of administration in the hands of Mr. Muir, who had been successful. Should Moore appear upon the scene now he could not recover anything, as the money has been paid to his supposed widow.

A Trenton Lad Accidentally Shot.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 8.—Horace, the 15-year-old son of Rev. Mr. Armstrong of Trenton, was accidentally shot in the groin by a shotgun on Saturday afternoon while stepping out of a row boat. He will probably recover.

A Bad Failure at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Sept 8.—The failure of William Donohue & Co., wholesale grocers, which was announced on Saturday, is much worse than reported, the Molsons Bank alone being involved for $70,000. The whole amount will come close to $90,000.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—Trade in country produce is fair at the old prices, and the market is firm. Eggs are 17c and butter 18c to 17c.

There is a fair inquiry for wheat, prices nominal and unchanged. Bran is scarce and quoted at $14 to $14.50. Oats are quoted at 37c to 38c outside, held here at 41c to 42c, old 43c. There is no change in flour and prices are nominal.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat very inactive and cheaper. Corn—Nil. Cargoes on passage—Wheat rather easier; corn slow. Mark Lane—Wheat turn easier; corn quiet; flour turn easier; spot good No. 2 Calcutta wheat, 35s 6d, was 35s 9d; past and following month 35s 9d, was 36s. Good cargoes No. 1 wheat off coast, 38s, was 38s 3d; Australian off coast, 38s, was 38s. London—Good shipping No. 1 California wheat prompt sale, 38s, was 38s 3d; ditto nearly due, 38s, was 38s. French country markets quieter. Liverpool—Spot wheat very dull; corn rather easier: Walla, 7s.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat weak; demand poor, holders offer freely. Corn quiet; demand poor. Spring wheat, 7s 4d; red winter, 7s 5½d. No. 1 Cal., 7s 4½d to 7s 5d. Corn, 4s 4d. Peas, 5s 6d. Pork, 66s 6d. Lard, 31s 6d. Bacon, longclear, heavy, 31s 6d; light, 31s 6d. Cheese, 44s.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: The cheese offerings yesterday were only 1700 boxes, holders were very stiff in their views and asking ¼c to ½c above buyers' orders; 8½c was offered as first for 1000 boxes Marshfield and later 8¾c and 9c respectively for Marshfield offerings and 9c for 700 Springfield, but the factories would not sell at this price, asking 9¼c to 9½c.

Utica reports: There was a slight decline in prices on the local cheese market. There was quite a lot of cheese held over. Transactions: 147 lots, 7378 boxes, ruling price 8¾c. Transactions last year: 16,506 boxes, ruling price 8c.

Little Falls reports: Sales of cheese were: 157 boxes at 9¼c; 2573 boxes at 8¾c; 3522 boxes at 9c; 3092 boxes at 9⅞c; 76 boxes at 9⅝c; 235 boxes at 9¼c; 475 boxes commission. Total 8988 boxes, also 940 dairy at 8¼c to 10c.

Butter—10 packages creamery butter at 24c and 24 packages dairy butter at 21c to 22c.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

A Young Hamiltonian Killed at Syracuse Held on a Serious Charge.

HAMILTON, Sept. 8.—The Presbyterian Church of Nelson and Dundas-street has extended a unanimous call to J. P. McQuarrie, a licentiate of Knox College. It will be presented to the next meeting of the presbytery.

Chief McKinnon received a letter yesterday afternoon stating that a young man supposed to be Thomas Marshall, jr., of this city, had been killed by a train at Syracuse on Wednesday last. From the description contained in the latter Tailor Thomas Marshall identified the body as that of his son. He left yesterday to bring the remains home. Young Marshall was 20 years of age and left here a week ago on a trip east.

The Ministerial Association this morning decided it was desirable that a home for incurables should be established, but that it should not be under the auspices of any particular denomination.

At the Police Court this morning Michael Wynn, a middle-aged man who owns considerable property, was committed for trial on a charge of criminal assault on Mrs Margaret Grafton Saturday evening.

A burglar entered the house of S. J. Whitehead, 172 Hess-street north, on Saturday night and stole $120 in money from a desk in the parlor. Access was obtained through an open window.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of Samuel Taylor, who until lately kept the hotel at Stuart and Macnab-streets, was accidentally shot this afternoon. They had almost finished moving from the premises and Mrs. Taylor picked up a revolver and put it in her pocket when it went off, the bullet lodging in the woman's right breast. The wound is not considered dangerous.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND PROBLEM.

Will Sir Charles Tupper Succeed Governor O'Brien?

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The rumor is renewed here that the British Government has offered Sir Charles Tupper the governorship of Newfoundland. It is claimed that Sir Charles who helped to bring Nova Scotia into the confederation, would be a valuable hand in drawing Newfoundland into the Dominion. It is an open secret that it is the desire of Lord Salisbury that Newfoundland should join the other British North American provinces as one of the most likely means of adjusting the internal differences which now exist in that colony.

The modus vivendi between Great Britain and France with respect to the Newfoundland fisheries will expire with the present fishing season, and the Imperial authorities have intimated that in view of the feeling in Newfoundland it cannot be renewed. The newspapers supporting the Salisbury Government are urging that France should be given territory in Africa or the South Sea in exchange for the surrender of all her rights on the Newfoundland coast, and Great Britain's liberality towards France in the recent subdivision of Africa may pave the way for some such method of settling the Newfoundland difficulty.

COUGHED UP A NAIL.

Miss Mary Ryan Discovers the Cause of Her Peculiar Malady.

HUDSON, Wis., Sept. 8.—Miss Mary Ryan, a young lady who has been sick with a peculiar case of consumption, solved the mystery of her ailment, this morning, by coughing up a large shingle nail. It is supposed that the nail was forced into her lung by sneezing while holding several nails in her mouth about four years since. Dr. S. F. Johnson has made the case a special study for some time, and had about given it up. He now has hopes of her recovery.

Dragged to Death.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 8.—Thomas Halligan of lot 2, con. 7, Hamilton, with his wife and child stopped at Roseneath on Friday evening to water their horse. Halligan removed the bit from the horse's mouth before waiting, leaving his wife and child in the rig. The horse became frightened and ran away, but did not go far before Mrs. Halligan was partly thrown out and was caught in the gearing. The horse was finally stopped and the body of Mrs. Halligan removed, but she was dead.

Died at the Breakfast Table.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 8.—John Dunlop, aged 63, fell dead from heart disease while at breakfast in the Queen's Hotel Sunday morning.

A FOUL CRIME SUSPECTED.

Two Boys Blown to Atoms Under Suspicious Circumstances.

SILVER CITY, Nev., Sept. 8.—Two boys were blown to atoms at Pinos Altos Saturday night under suspicious circumstances. They were sons of John Murray, who separated from his wife several years ago. The eldest of Murray's three sons was crippled by the cars at Deming six years ago and recovered damages from the railway company. The money was held in trust for the crippled boy. Yesterday afternoon word was received that the eldest and youngest of the boys had been blown up in a room adjoining that in which the father and other brother slept. Murray has been arrested on suspicion of having killed the children to get possession of the trust fund.

Funeral of Col. Moore.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—The remains of the late Col. W. J. McLeod Moore, Supreme Grand Master of the Order of Knights Templar in Canada, whose death took place at Prescott, arrived here last night and were buried in Mount Royal Cemetery to-day. There was no Masonic ceremony, that having taken place at Prescott.

MOWAT ON TOP AGAIN.

The Globe has the following in reference to the decision on Saturday of the Court of Chancery, respecting the powers of the Ontario Legislature, which is another vindication of the, so, far infallible correctness of Hon. Mr. Mowat's opinions upon points of constitutional law:—It will be seen by the Osgoode Hall reports that the Court of Chancery has decided what is popularly known as the pardoning power case in favor of the Province. In 1888 the Ontario Legislature passed an act conferring upon the Lieutenant-Governor "the power of commuting and remitting sentences for offences against the laws of this Province or offences over which the legislative authority of the Province extends." The Minister of Justice, in behalf of the Federal Government, contended that this was ultra vires of the Assembly—in effect, that the prerogative was vested exclusively in the Governor-General, and could not therefore be exercised by the representatives of the Crown in the Provinces. Accordingly a case was submitted to the Court of Chancery under the act providing for the reference of such disputes to that tribunal. The arguments were made last June by a strong array of counsel on each side. Mr. Edward Blake and Mr. Lumilius Irving appearing for the Province of Ontario. The court has now unanimously decided that the act of 1888 is intra vires and that the Lieutenant-Governor possesses the pardoning power within the measure and limit therein set forth. This judgment will be received with great satisfaction. The question of the power of the Province to make laws has been pretty well threshed out, all the decisions without a single exception having gone against the advocates and upholders of centralization at Ottawa. The present decision, affecting the executive power of the Provincial authorities, is still another blow at the centralisers, and a step in the direction of large Provincial autonomy in the administration of the law. The case is appealable and Sir John Thompson may carry it to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England though his leader's experience of that tribunal of last resort has not been such as to encourage them to try another fall with Mr. Mowat before it.

BRITISH MINERAL WEALTH.

The Glasgow Herald says that some idea of the mineral wealth of the United Kingdom is conveyed in a volume of statistics just issued by the Home Office. This document may be regarded as an appendix to the annual reports presented by Her Majesty's inspectors of mines, and is to a large extent based on the information supplied by those officials. It brings out the fact that mineral produce of last year, as valued at the mines, amounted to £73,176,000, an increase of more than £14,000,000 over the value of 1885. The advance is most apparent in coal and in iron ore, but, as will be seen from the following figures, it extends to other classes of minerals:—

	Value in 1885.	Value in 1889.
Coal	£42,974,276	£56,175,126
Iron ore	3,501,317	3,818,268
Fireclay	6 3,119	3,8 174
Arsenic	35,497	38,260
Baryte	24,147	28,258
Ochre, umber, etc.	12,587	15,758
Rock salt	5,163	7,001
Alum clay	4,833	5,190

A falling off is visible in the value of salt production, as well as in that of tin ore, copper ore, gypsum and stone, but these decreases are not remarkable enough to call for special notice. In regard to the returns obtainable from ores produced in the kingdom, the total values indicate an improvement of some £14,000,000, but when the details are analyzed it turns out that the whole of this is due to the advance in iron.

The United States Senate has abolished the duty upon binding twine, so largely used by farmers in their harvesting operations, at the request of senators from the agricultural states. A proposal made in the Dominion House of Commons last session to give our farmers untaxed and cheap binding twine was voted down by the Tory majority.

The Montreal Herald remarks:—And now the Moncton cotton mill is following in the wake of the Halifax mill. The directors have been authorized to sell the plant and franchise, or to amalgamate with some other company on the best terms obtainable. This is another startling commentary on the kind of boom the N.P. has given the east a industry.

Dealers in the month of July that the value of exports from Canada was $12,022,941, of this amount almost one half or $5,564,900 was the product of the farm. The value of manufactures exported only reached $612,661, while the balance of the exports was made up of the products of the forest, mines and fisheries. During the same month the imports amounted to $12,922,685, upon which a duty of $2,013,239 was collected. In other words goods which were worth the foreign market $10,922,685 cost the Canadian importer $12,935,89 and to this must be added, freight, insurance, and wholesalers and retailers profits before they reach the consumer. Isn't it about time that this ruinous policy was abandoned?

The Ottawa Free Press pertinently asks: Has it never occurred to the Hamilton Spectator, which is discussing the question of governmental action so ruinously, that legislatures are subbies, in which particular considerations are all powerful, are not the proper bodies to be entrusted with the work of subdividing or re-arranging constituencies, and that it would be a good thing if the duty of re-adjusting Dominion and provincial constituencies in accordance with the principle of representation by population, after each census, was entrusted to a commission of high court judges? Such a system has been found to work well in England, and is thought to be adopted in Canada. The only objection the Spectator can have to such a proposition is that it would deprive Sir John Macdonald of the power of "having the Grits."

The St. Clair Tunnel.

Speaking of the completion of the St. Clair tunnel, the Chicago Tribune says:—As the great work was of Canadian inception, its stock being mainly subscribed for by Grand Trunk people and its plans laid out by Mr. Hobson, chief engineer of the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk road, our Canadian friends have the right to congratulate themselves upon the success of the two years' work. At a banquet the employees had on Tuesday night to celebrate the completion of the tunnel, Mr. C. Mackenzie, M.P.P., responded to the toast of the Legislature and referred to it as a work of international, national and local importance, and an engineering feat which entitled Mr. Hobson to take the first place among the ablest engineers on this continent.

Chicago Dry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE WABASH AND THE C.P.R.

Mr. Joy Says the Former Will Not Control the Latter Road.

DETROIT, Sept. 6.—Referring to an Associated Press despatch dated London, Eng., stating that at the October meeting of the directors of the Wabash, the system east and west of the Mississippi River will pass into the control of the Canadian Pacific, Hon. James F. Joy of this city, who has for years past been prominent in in Wabash affairs, when interviewed to-day, treated the report with contempt and said that there was not a word of truth in it.

By a publication in a Chicago paper it would seem that the Wabash is in danger of losing its entry to Chicago from the East, and should the Wabash be shut out the Canadian Pacific will for a time at least lose the heavy through business from Chicago to the seaboard, which it has acquired by its connection with the Wabash at Detroit.

"The report that the Erie has since its purchase of the tracks of the Chicago & Atlantic from Laketon, Ind., into Chicago, by which both the Wabash, and with it the Canadian Pacific, reach Chicago from the east, given the Wabash notice to vacate its tracks is not believed by Wabash officials in this city. Mr. Joy discredits the report. All officials here profess ignorance of such action having been taken. A Canadian Pacific official says the Wabash can and will go back to the use of Baltimore & Ohio tracks, which would give them a shorter route between Detroit and Chicago than the present one.

MANY FATAL FLOODS.

The Yellow River Again Out of Bounds—Terrible Loss of Life.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Advices from China report the Yellow River again out of bounds. The river has burst its dikes in the Shantung district and flooded a vast area. Thousands of persons have been drowned and widespread famine has resulted in consequence of the disaster.

VIENNA, Sept. 6.—The Danube is again rising. The steamers of the Danube Company have ceased running and all freight traffic on the river at Vienna has been stopped. The landing stages here are flooded, and on sections of the Northeast Railway the running of trains has been suspended on account of the track being submerged.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—A despatch from Port St. Louis, west coast of Africa, reports that the River Senegal has overflown its banks and caused great damage in the colony. The settlement of Kayes was entirely swept away. Many lives have been lost.

NEWARK, Ohio, Sept. 6.—The heaviest rain storm in many years visited this section yesterday, causing great damage. All streams are raging torrents. The Baltimore & Ohio track is washed out for two miles and no trains can pass. Many houses on the flats were submerged and families had to seek shelter elsewhere.

Put Down Strawberry Plants.

Spring is the best time to put out a good layer of strawberries, however, according to Orchard and Garden, cheaper in the end than the ordinary layer plants, for the reason that if there is or should be any loss in transplanting, as is the case with layers, they may be easily set out at any time even when hot and dry. If they will bear a good crop the following season. If planted sufficiently early in the season on July or August they will make other plants by running, and will also bear fruit next year. Layer plants will not bear fruit the following season to the same extent as transplanted plants, the chief of transplanting layers in summer being considerable unless great pains are taken to water and shade plants.

The Proper Care of a Colt.

We will start with the suckling at the day of its birth, and presume that it is of good parentage, both sire and dam, that it is sound and able to stand and walk within fifteen minutes after it breathes. At the age of a week most farmers come to work the dam, the suckling following around as best it can, and at the age of four months, the colt, a fine thing of sufficient age to wean, the dam has performed a good summer's work, worked just as hard as her gelding mate with whom she has been working. The method is entirely wrong. The food of blood, the same labor of both parent and colt is really killing both.

The mare and colt during the first four, five or six months should be kept in good pasture where there is a plenty of water and shade. While it may be practicable to wean the colt at four months, we certainly prefer six and now consider the most important period of the entire existence of the colt's growth, and if carried or stinted the first winter it is of little use to him. Not only the size, but the constitution of the animal is injured, never to be regained.

The young stock has had on plenty of clean hay, plenty of water at all times, and we would give him half and half of ground oats and wheat bran twice a day, about two quarts at a mess. We give it dry, but if scalded and then cooled it will be better. A well-to-do farmer told me once this would be too much for him. He was right for the first week or two, but certainly not for the cold winter days, nor the spring either. I asked him what I thought it would do for the sow, was too rich a ration for her. He had just recently told me that he would treat a colt as he would a boy. I asked him if he ever knew too big a growth of boy, but to this he was no answer. The colt should have a warm place to protect himself from cold weather and storms, a bed of dry straw or cut to sleep upon, or to lie down at pleasure, he must not be confined to the stable, but have a yard, or, an open field to run in; in no case should he be allowed to stand on a hard floor.

Pure Cod Liver Oil and Emulsions properly made from it are undoubtedly the best remedies for pulmonary complaints. Many small ones have been put on the market but none seem to have met with the good success accorded to Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil. Their laboratory at 132 West Adelaide St., Toronto, Ont., is kept constantly going and every druggist in the country is supplied with the famous remedy. w37-ws

BY-LAW No.——

A By-law to aid the Edison General Electric Company by Acquiring and Conveying to the said Company certain lands in the Town of Peterborough, and in other ways.

Passed ....., 1890.

WHEREAS, by an Act of the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, passed in the 53rd year of Her Majesty's reign, Cap. 79, it is enacted that the corporation of the Town of Peterborough may by By-law to be passed under the Act passed in the 35th year of Her Majesty's reign, Chaptered 71, to aid the promotion of manufactures in the said Town by assuming and paying the rent of any building or buildings to be used for such purpose, or by erecting any building or buildings, or acquiring any lands or buildings, and granting the same or the use thereof, to any person or persons or body corporate for manufacturing purposes.

And, whereas, by the Act of the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, passed in the 55th year of Her Majesty's reign, Chapter 71, it is enacted that:

"It shall and may be lawful for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, to aid by way of bonus, the promotion of manufactures in or about the said Town of Peterborough, by granting such sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole, the sum of forty thousand dollars, to such person or persons, or body or bodies corporate as to such municipality may seem meet, and in aid of such branch or branches of industry as the said municipality may determine upon and to pay such sum or sums either in one sum or in annual or other periodical payments, with or without interest, and subject to such terms, conditions and restrictions as the said municipality may deem expedient."

And, whereas, it is by the said Acts provided that the by-law or By-laws therein referred to shall have been submitted to and approved by the majority of the qualified electors of the Town of Peterborough voting thereon, in the same manner as with money By-laws requiring the assent of the electors:

And, whereas, the Edison General Electric Company have agreed to erect brick or stone buildings of the value of at least thirty thousand dollars on the lands to be conveyed to them as hereinafter mentioned, for the purpose of carrying on the manufactures of the said Company in the said Town on condition that the said Company receive the aid hereinafter mentioned;

And, whereas, the corporation of the Town of Peterborough desires to aid the said Company in the establishment and promotion of its manufactures in the said Town, by acquiring and conveying to the said Company Lots Numbers Fourteen, Fifteen and Sixteen, in Lot Number Thirteen in the Twelfth Concession, formerly in the Township of North Monaghan, now in the Town of Peterborough, excepting thereout the northerly fifty feet of said Lot Number Sixteen to be purchased and used as a street, and by conveying to the said Company that portion of Townsend street lying between said Lots Numbers Fifteen and Sixteen and by providing the necessary money as a bonus to the said Company for enabling it to construct a ten-inch water pipe and a sixteen-inch sewer pipe, from the lands so to be conveyed, to the River Otonabee;

And, whereas, the entire cost of the said lands will amount to the sum of eleven thousand dollars or thereabouts, and the cost of constructing the said water and sewer pipes will amount to the sum of four thousand dollars or thereabouts;

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars respectively, and for that purpose to issue debentures of the said Corporation for the said sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars respectively to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum and to be payable in thirty years from the date of issue thereof;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the Town of Peterborough according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year One thousand eight hundred and ninety, is the sum of four millions sixty-five thousand three hundred and fifteen dollars.

And when and the amount of the existing debentures debt of the said municipality is the sum of two hundred and five thousand, five hundred and fifty dollars, and there is no part of the principal or interest in arrear.

And whereas the amount required to be raised annually in respect of the said sum of eleven thousand dollars is the sum of four hundred and forty dollars for interest and the sum of one hundred and two dollars to provide a sinking fund in respect thereof, and whereas the said sum required to be raised annually in respect of the said sum of four thousand dollars is the sum of one hundred and sixty dollars for interest and the sum of forty dollars to provide a sinking fund in respect thereof as by the said Act 53 Vict. Cap. 79 required.

The Corporation of the Town of Peterborough by the Council thereof therefore enacts as follows:

1. This By-law shall take effect on the thirtieth day of September, One thousand eight hundred and ninety.

2. The Mayor and Treasurer of the said Corporation are hereby authorized to borrow the said respective sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars and for that purpose to issue debentures of the said Corporation to be sealed with the Corporate Seal and to be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the said respective sums of eleven thousand dollars and four thousand dollars. Such Debentures shall be made payable at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation in Thirty years from the date of issue thereof, and shall bear interest at the rate of Four per centum per annum, payable half yearly on the Thirtieth day of June and the Thirty first day of December in each year, and shall have coupons attached thereto respectively for the payment of such interest.

3. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of said Debentures the respective sums of four hundred and forty dollars and one hundred and sixty dollars for payment of said interest sums, and the sums of one hundred and ten dollars and forty dollars respectively for the sinking funds for the payment of the said debts by special rates sufficient therefor upon all rateable property in the said municipality, in addition to all other rates levied in and for the said year.

4. Upon the sale of the said Debentures the moneys received therefor shall be applied to the said purposes respectively in the preambles to the next set forth in the said town, and to no other purposes, and in case the whole of the said sums shall not be required for said respective purposes no greater amount of Debentures shall be issued than shall be required therefor respectively, but the purchasers of such Debentures actually issued shall not be obliged to inquire or see as to the necessity of such issue or as to the application of the proceeds of such Debentures.

5. The votes of the duly qualified electors of the said municipality shall be taken upon the said By-law on the

Twenty-fifth Day of September, 1890,

commencing at the hour of Nine o'clock in the forenoon and closing at Five o'clock in the afternoon of the same day at the following places and before the following Deputy Returning Officers:

NUMBER ONE WARD.—At the Mission School House, Dalhousie street, Joseph Lundy to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER TWO WARD.—At the New Market Building, Charles Cameron to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER THREE WARD.—At McDougall Brothers' store on St. John Ivan to be Deputy Returning Officer.

NUMBER FOUR WARD.—At William Lees Shop, south street, William Lee to be Deputy Returning Officer.

6. That the Twenty-sixth day of September, eighteen hundred and ninety at the hour of Twelve o'clock noon, and the office of the Clerk of the said Town, are hereby fixed as the time when and the place where the Clerk of the said Town Council shall sum up the number of votes given for and against the By-law, and the Eighteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, at the hour of Twelve o'clock noon, and the office of the Clerk of the said Town, are hereby fixed as the time and place for the appointment of persons to attend at the various polling places, and at the final summing up of the votes by the Clerk, respectively, on behalf of the persons interested in and promoting or opposing the passage of the By-law.

NOTICE.

Take notice that the foregoing is a true copy of a proposed By-Law which has been taken into consideration and which will be finally passed by the Council in the event of the assent of the Electors being obtained thereto, after one month from the first publication in the Daily Evening Review and Daily Examiner newspapers, the date of which first publication is the second day of September, 1890, and at the hour, day and places therein fixed for taking the votes of the Electors, the polls will be held.

JAS. G. MACDONALD,
Town Clerk, Returning Officer.

Peterborough, September 2nd, 1890.

NOTE.—The sum of $2500, referred to in the recital of the above By-Law as having been granted by way of bonus under the Act 53, Vic., cap. 71, does not include the sum of $5000 referred to in By-Law No. 603 of this Corporation, entitled a By-Law to aid, by way of bonus, the Brooks Manufacturing Company, confirmed by the Act 53, Vic., Cap. 99, and which sum of $5000 has not yet been paid to the said Company, and for which sum no debentures have been issued.

THIS AMOUNT OF GOOD DOLLARS PAYED OUT EVERY TRIP

The Cost of Running a Twin-Screw Racer Across the Atlantic—The Receipts are Considerably Greater, and the Great Ships Undoubtedly Pay.

What does it cost to run a palatial twin-screw racer across the Atlantic? That is the question which the N. Y. Sun, for the enlightenment of many inquiring readers, recently put to the agents of several big steamship companies. The questioner was about to file the query away with a lot of other unsolved riddles of the sea, when he strolled into the office of the Hamburg-American line. There he obtained the information which had been withheld at every other office. Agent E. L. Boas disputed, as well as he was able, the mystery which had enshrouded the little problem. A mid-summer trip of the magnificent Normannia, was the theme of his calculation. The Normannia is 549 spitters big as the twin-screw boats of the White Star and Inman lines, but her expense account owing to the greater length of her voyage, is just as considerable. The cost of running her first class, clerk in the Tenderloin term of Hades, is another clerk in the town of Hamburg, more fortune perhaps, is about the same as the cost of running the City of Paris from New York to Liverpool.

When the Normannia starts on an eastward voyage she carries nearly 2,000 tons of coal in her protected bunkers. Some of this is American and some foreign soft coal, and it costs about $5.50 a ton. The sooty stokers daily shovel into the roaring red furnaces between 350 and 360 tons. The expenditure for coal runs just short of $2,000 a day, or nearly $12,000 for the voyage. The cost of oil by the gallons and gallons of oil used to keep her pondrous triple-expansion engines, her dynamos, her numerous smaller engines, her pumps and so on, running smoothly, continued with the coal bill is quite as large.

The salaries of the big ship company are not an unimportant factor in the expense account. Among the 360 persons who look after the working of the racer and the comfort of her passengers are, to sales-book-load Capt. Heinrich, 5 officers, 7 engineers, 6 engineers, 12 pursers, 6 stewards, 28 seamen, 14 firemen, 6 quartermasters, 4 boatswains, 22 cooks, bakers and assistants, 3 carpenters, 1 butcher, and 14 skilled musicians. The total wage of these for a trip of eight days is about $2,000, not counting perquisites.

Capt. Heinrich receives the highest salary. It varies between $6,000 and $12,000 a year, and depends somewhat on the earnings of the ship, of which he receives a small percentage. This is the way the skippers of all the ocean racing craft are paid, and it is not likely that any of them are going to cease racing, or to cease if for it, so long as a fast trip means money in their pockets and in the coffers of their employers. Every hour the Captain of the City of New York saves means a saving in coal alone of $50.

Next in importance to the Captain of an ocean racer is the chief engineer. He is not as frequently visible to the cabin passengers as the gold-laced superior, and nobody notices much fuss over him, but he is, in the opinion of his employers, a very big man indeed. He is the man who makes the great steamer go round and round. He submits daily reports of how things are going on down below to the Captain. He tells how many tons of coal he is using, how much indicated horse-power he obtains, and the number of revolutions the ship's propellers make a minute. If it doesn't get as much speed out of the cleaning twin giants as the Captain thinks it ought to, the Captain puts him on the block and tells him to lump her up like a good fellow. It is essential to the Captain's peace of mind that he should be friendly with the keeper of the mighty machines. For his great work the chief engineer receives $100 a month, which is more than the Captain of many steamships of the second class get.

The total drink consumed by passengers and crew during a record trip of the Normannia cost about $1,000. This is the complete list of the things that were necessary to make life aboard the luxurious floating hotel something like a dream: Two thousand five hundred bottles of red wine, 2,000 bottles of Rhine Wine, 2,000 bottles of champagne, 1,200 bottles of ordinals, 15,000 bottles of beer, 80 kegs of beer, 400 bottles of ale and porter, 2,500 bottles of mineral water, 40,000 gallons of drinking water, 30,000 pounds of potatoes, 10,000 pounds of beans, peas, and so on, 2,500 cans of fruit, 1,500 pounds of jams, tarts and biscuits, 40 bassets of vegetables, 1,000 pounds of butter, 1,200 pounds of cheese, 20,000 eggs, 1,500 pounds of sugar, 1,500 pounds of chocolate, 60 gallons of milk, 10 bushels of apples, 1,200 oranges, 1,000 lemons, 80 glasses of preserved fruits, 120 barrels of flour, 60 gallons of ice cream, 15,000 pounds of nutritious soup-meats of ham, smoked beef, and bologonas, 1,000 pounds of veal, 500 pounds of bacon, 800 pounds of pork, 600 pounds of game, 400 pounds of canned meat, 2,000 pounds of lamb, 50 barrels of preserved meat, 30 barrels of salt pork, 10,000 pounds of fish, 100 chickens, 150 ducks, 50 turkeys, 50 partridges, and 50 geese.

From the foregoing facts and figures it may be said that one trip of the Normannia costs the Hamburg-American line not less than $30,000. To offset this expenditure, which does not include the cost of insurance, the Normannia must carry many passengers and some freight. The number of her passengers varies, of course, according to the season. She carries in midsummer sometimes nearly 300 first and second cabin and about 300 steerage voyagers. The average price of a first cabin passage is about $110, and that of a second cabin about $60. The average price of steerage accommodations is $30. The receipts from all classes of passengers on a good mid-summer trip are over $50,000. Usually the Normannia carries 800 tons of freight, which, at the transportation rate of about $20 a ton, amounts to $16,000. The cost of loading and unloading this freight is borne by the company. In the dull season the big ocean racers do not make much, but their receipts throughout the year are large enough to warrant the declaration that they are great success financially, and that they are the passengers of the future.

Imitating Foreigners.

The introduction of Western customs and dress among the imitative Japanese is productive of some amusing incidents.

The substitution of European dress for the kimono by Japanese court ladies is indeed unpressing, and their desire to follow closely the manner of its wearers is most emphatic.

A gentleman while waiting for a train at Yokohama station observed a gilded Japanese swell in full European dress approach a pretty little Jap lady also in the same dress, and lift his hat jauntily in salutation; whereupon the little lady endeavored to lift her bonnet in answer to his greeting, tugging vigorously at its fastening, which refused to yield to her desire. Finding her exertions entirely unavailing Madame Chrysanthemum slid her hands down the front of her furbelowed gown and made the conventional Japanese greeting in confusion.

FARM AND GARDEN.

SUBJECTS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS AND OTHERS.

Horticultural Hints—Good Advice From Practical Men—About Horses and Cattle—How to Raise Chickens—Something About Straw—General Farm Notes.

The final round up of cattle in the Indian territory is about complete, and the number of cattle now in the territory is estimated at only about 200,000 head.

The export trade in "chopped apples"—a dried product from inferior fruit left over from the best quality of evaporated fruit—according to a recent estimate, had increased from small orders in 1880 to 11,000,000 pounds in 1889, and 20,000,000 pounds could have been sold in 1890. These chopped apples are largely used in France for conversion into cider.

A noticeable feature of recent bee keepers' conventions is the increased number of ladies who take part in the exercises.

Mixed grasses are better for stock than a single variety. No matter how valuable any particular grass crop may be, or how large the yield, the stock will thrive better when fed on a variety.

The following is also said to be a good application to prevent metals rusting: Melt one ounce of resin in a gill of linseed oil, and while hot mix it with two quarts of kerosene oil. This can be kept ready to apply at any time with a brush or rag to any tools or implements required to lay by for a time, preventing any rust and saving much vexation when the tools are to be used again.

A Quick Way to Kill Caterpillars.

Take a suitable pole, say ten feet long, and attach to the end a coarse woollen cloth by winding it with strong twine, so that it will not slip either way. Take from one to three quarts of wood ashes, pour on hot water, and thus get a strong lye. Take an old pail, turn in the lye, adding one pint or more of soft soap, and stir well. It is then ready for use, and I will warrant this lye and soap to deal the deathblow instantly to all caterpillars by thrusting the saturated swab straight into the nests. Put the pole and swab in a secure place for future use.—Country Gentleman.

Clover with Straw.

National Stockman recommends that in rainy, catching weather clover be placed in the stack or mow with alternate layers of straw. It affirms that the clover comes out green in color as when put in. Even the blossoms do not change color. The straw is also imbued with the flavor of the clover and is eagerly eaten by the cattle. Dairymen do not generally realize the value of maintaining the bright green color of the hay. This will be particularly shown in promoting the yellow color of the butter made in winter.

Green Food for Fowls.

Fowls want green food, especially in the season for it, and where they have their liberty they consume large quantities of grass, also vegetables if they can get at them. When confined in little runs they should have a small supply with their other food daily. Clover is always welcome. There is nothing they like better than cabbage, both head and leaves. By sowing a bed in the garden with cabbage seed, early and thick, a plentiful supply of leaves can be furnished them before the transplanted plants head.

Summer Pruning of Trees.

Some cultivators prefer pruning trees of the forest varieties during the season of their most active growth in summer rather than in the fall or early spring. The little bleeding will not hurt them, and the cuts heal and grow over more readily and perfectly than when the pruning is done during the dormant period. Of course the mass of leaves is an objection in some cases, and makes the disposal of the brush more troublesome. For orchard pruning, after the trees are old enough to be in fruit, it can hardly be recommended, as it would naturally cause some sap. In pruning evergreens there is not much to choose as to the time. The season of sap-run suits the culprit well, so that the pruning of this class of trees can be done when most convenient.

A Moseide Story.

I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters and pills and find them everything to me. I had dyspepsia with bad breath and bad appetite, but after a few days' use of B.B.B. I felt stronger, could eat a good meal and felt myself a different man. W.H. STORY, Moseide, Ont. 2w37d

Unbearable Agony.

For three days I suffered severely from summer complaint. Nothing gave me relief and I kept getting worse until the pain was almost unbearable, but after I had taken the first dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, I found great relief, and it did not fail to cure me. WM. T. GLYNN, Wilfrid, Ont. 2w37d

A Rash Knight.

Mr. Reuben Knight, of Morris, Man., states that he was troubled with a rash all over his body, which was cured with less than one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. He highly recommends it as a blood purifier of the greatest efficacy. 2w37d

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

Life Insurance Policy Holders SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase—$1,709,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $318,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,328	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29

Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,286	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

A Progressive Choir.

The choir of the George street church Sunday evening distinguished itself by its rendition of the "Jubilate." The choir comprised about thirty voices. Their singing was characterized by fulness and volume, the basses particularly, as well as the altos, showing up strong. Mr. Seward may justly pride himself upon having one of the best choirs that has ever been heard in town.

Dry Goods Opening.

Messrs. Dolan & Hackett will open out on Saturday in M. Sullivan's old stand, 395 George street a new dry goods shop. This will be found superbly stocked with a fine assortment of staple and fancy dry goods. The stock is entirely new and selected with the greatest care in the best markets at very favourable prices, and will be sold at a very close margin on cost. The public will find at this store always the finest goods, the best selections and the most moderate prices.

Kidnapped!

There are not many cases in this law-loving town of men being captured and kidnapped in broad daylight. A glaring case has come to our notice. Every day we see cases of men being captured by the whirlwind bargains at which the Kidd stock is being worked off by Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. Nothing like it in the vast realm of trade. Clothing practically given away—only a nominal charge made to cover wear and tear of counters. The biggest bargains in the universe in clothing at Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. 6154-1w

After the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of friends of the young couple, the party repaired to the residence of the bride's mother, London street, where the wedding breakfast was partaken of. Mr. Grady and his new-wed wife will be heartily congratulated upon the happy event.

Death at the Convent.

An Ottawa despatch says that a gloom was cast over the Gloucester street convent Monday when Sister Mary of Loretto passed away. The deceased sister only arrived in the Capital two weeks ago to act as assistant superioress of the convent, and on Wednesday last was suddenly seized with an attack of apoplexy. Deceased was born in St. John's near Montreal, and during her lifetime she held the important positions of superioress of the Peterborough, Kingston, Montreal and Bathurst, N. B., convents. She came from Bathurst to Ottawa.

Two Horses Killed.

Two promising young colts belonging to Mr. Ned Conroy, Ashburnham, were killed last night by the Lakefield train—or, rather, so seriously injured that they had to be shot. The animals were on the track near Elizabeth street crossing, when the engine struck them. One was tossed over the fence into a garden, where it lay with one leg snapped completely off. The other was almost disembowelled; but it ran after the train as far as the Ontario canoe factory before it fell. Both beasts were dispatched by Mr. Agnew with a revolver. Mr. Conroy will sustain a serious loss by the death of the horses.

Sovereign Grand Lodge.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F., will hold its 68th annual session at Topeka Kansas, during the week commencing Sept. 14th, 1890. On Sunday, the 14th, a sermon will be preached by the Chaplain of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Rev. J. S. Venable, in the First Presbyterian church. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to receptions and parades, the balance of the week to business. From the Grand Lodge of Ontario, P.G. M.A.T. Campbell, M.D., London, and P. G. M. H. Robertson, Gilwood, are the representatives. The Grand Encampment of Ontario sends P.G.P. Jno. T. Hornbrook of Toronto. Bro. Campbell is a candidate for the office of Deputy Grand Sire and so far as can be learned is quite likely to be elected.

Reasons Room is Needed.

In further explanation of the reason why the Canadian Edison Manufacturing Company requires so large an area of land for the purpose of their operations, the following is extracted from the advertisement of the company indicating the several articles of manufacture:—"Insulated Electrical Conductors, Flexible Cords, Tassel Cords, Telephone Cords, Arc Lamp Cords, Aerial Cables, Subaqueous Cables, Underground Cables, Telephone Cables, Telegraph Cables, Weatherproof Wire, Rubber-Covered House Wire, Insulated Iron Wire, Silk-Covered Magnet Wire, Armature Wire, Annunciator Wire, Office Wire, German Silver Resistance Wire, Cables of any degree of flexibility, insulated in any style to suit any purpose." It is only reasonable to assume that the treatment of cables and wires of great length will require large space in addition to the storage room required for raw material and completed work.

Annexation Advanced a Step

Ashburnham Meets the Town by Appointing a Committee to Confer on the Matter.

There were about 50 villagers present at the meeting of Ashburnham council Monday night. They expected to hear the annexation question discussed; but the town council committee did not appear, for reasons mentioned below, and they were somewhat disappointed in consequence.

All the councillors were present.

Moved by Mr. Ward, seconded by Mr. Calcutt, and carried, that the following accounts be paid.

P. & E. Clancy	$ 5 75
J. R. Stratton	33 06
G. Mitchell	1 50
G. Lipsett	75
	$41.05

PLACING THE POLES.

Mr. C. O. Fry, superintendent of construction of the Ontario Telephone Company, applied for permission to erect twenty-five or thirty poles in the village for the purpose of stringing wires for their subscribers in the village. Mr. Anderson said they were willing to put the poles wherever the council designated so long as they reached their subscribers.

It was moved by Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Adams, that the Ontario Telephone Company be granted permission to erect their poles on Elizabeth street to Lake street, on Lake to Robinson street, on Robinson street to Stewart street, on Stewart street to Dunlop street; and such other streets as may be approved of by the Street and Bridge Committee, provided the poles put up are straight and of sufficient height to clear shade trees, the same to be placed where approved of by the council.—Carried.

ONE SIGHT ONLY.

Mr. Noyes appeared as a delegate from the Mark street Methodist church, asking for the use of the old town hall for a tea meeting and the new hall for a lecture on the 6th of October. On motion of Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Ward, the request was granted.

FOR CHARITY'S SAKE.

The case of Mr. Tice, the indigent dependent upon corporation charity who applied for assistance at the last meeting, was referred to by Reeve Burnham, who said that he had undertaken to support Mr. Tice in the interim, but it rested with the council to say whether they should continue that support or not.

Moved by Mr. Adams, seconded by Mr. Throop, that with reference to the matter of Mr. Tice, the Reeve, Messrs. Ward and Throop be a committee to investigate the matter and do what they deem best.—Carried.

THE ANNEXATION QUESTION.

Reeve BURNHAM said that no doubt the large number of auditors present expected to see the deputation of the town council present which was appointed to wait upon the village council and propose terms of annexation; but Mr. Burnham said he had spoken to Mayor Stevenson, and told him he could see no use of the deputation waiting upon the village council, as the latter was in no position to make any proposition. The question had not been considered, and the ratepayers had not yet expressed any opinion on the subject. Mr. Burnham asked whether it would be best to appoint a committee to confer with the town committee, or call a public meeting of ratepayers?

Mr. ADAMS saw no use of calling a public meeting until some basis of union had been proposed, which they could discuss. He proposed that a committee be appointed first to meet the town committee and arrange terms.

A general discussion followed, in which the councillors and several ratepayers took a hand, one of the speakers thinking the council was forcing the matter on the people. He did not believe in Ashburnham joining the town and having to pay its bonuses, and said he believed that if the village joined the town they would get no sidewalks, roads nor anything.

It was moved by Mr. Adams, seconded by Mr. Calcutt, that the members of this council be a committee to confer with the committee appointed by the town council to consider the matter of union of the two municipalities, and ascertain if a satisfactory basis of union can be agreed upon, and report to this council at the next meeting.—Carried.

The council then adjourned.

MR. McCLURE 'STRUCK ILE'

Coal Oil Found Near the Town of Peterborough.

Mr. John McClure, of Monaghan, Makes a Discovery—Which He Thinks Will be a Big Bonanza—A Coal Oil Well in Prospect.

Mr. John McClure owns seventeen acres of ground alongside the C.P.R. track about two miles from town. The day before yesterday he was contemplating disposing of it upon low terms; to-day he values it at a thousand dollars an acre.

The cause of this sudden rise in price is the fact that yesterday he discovered signs of a coal oil vein upon his property. A small patch containing about a quarter of an acre is cut off from the farm by the C.P.R. track. Through this bit of ground a straggling creek flows languidly. It drains the ground, which is low and marshy. The creek became choked up, and yesterday Mr. McClure undertook to clear the channel. He was poking about with a stick, when he happened to sink it in the soft soil at the water's edge. He was astonished to see

COAL OIL BUBBLE UP.

He repeated the experiment, and every time fresh flows of the oil resulted. Mr. McClure's heart bounded with joy. He is an old oil man, having lived in the Pittsburgh district, and he knows full well the value of oil wells.

Having satisfied himself, Mr. McClure came to town and related the story of his find to a medical man, who is credited with having a general fund of knowledge upon all subjects. He too was shown the "well" and he unhesitatingly pronounced it to be genuine coal oil. He was not too sanguine, however, as to its extent, and suggested that perhaps the railroad men had thrown a large quantity of oily waste from the train, which had sunk in the ground and when mixed with the stick the oil arose to the surface. But Mr. McClure is confident that nothing of the kind has ever occurred. He says the site of his find is an ideal one for an oil well; and when the oil bubbles up in such quantities that a handful can be lifted, he thinks there is

NO GROUND FOR DOUBT.

Citizens of Peterborough and residents of the county will rejoice with Mr. McClure if his expectations are realized. An oil well near the town would bring a considerable boom. Besides, where there's one oil well it is almost certain there are others in the vicinity. Mr. McClure's faith in his find is strengthened by a remark passed by a member of the G.T.R. engineering staff at the time the line was being surveyed. In a certain field his surveying instruments refused to work properly, and the engineer stated that it was due to the presence of some strange mineral substance in the ground. This field is barren and unproductive to-day; nothing can be grown upon it. If the engineer's observation be true, Mr. McClure has indeed struck a bonanza.

The oil well has to-day been visited by quite a number of townspeople. Mr. McClure has no definite plans as to working it and ascertaining its value; but doubtless steps will be at once taken in that direction. The oil now produced is of course largely mixed with water, but the medical man who examined it yesterday pronounced it to be

THE GENUINE ARTICLE.

It runs away on the water in variegated colors, and smells exactly like strong coal oil.

The present instance recalls a previous effort to sink an oil well. In 1867 a syndicate composed of prominent citizens, including Messrs Dumble, Bradburn, Calcutt, Romaine and others, bored for oil alongside Hilliard's grist mill; but the drill broke in the shaft after a depth of 500 feet had been reached, and there being no indications of "ile" the project was abandoned.

Nine and Three-Quarter Cents.

A Good Price for the Cheese To-Day—Every Box Sold.

There has been an advance in the cheese market since the last meeting of the Board. Liverpool quotations to-day were 44s. Prices here were consequently improved.

The following cheese, last half of August make, was boarded.

PETERBOROUGH.

Keene	103	Norwood	150
Warminster	201	Melrose Abbey	60
Shearer	243	S Dummer	209
N Smith	230	Pine Grove	160
S Smith	118	Otonabee Union	55
Cherry Grove	190	Maple Leaf	120
Missing Link	113	Peterborough	79
Westwood	175	Myrtle	56

Myrtle also boarded 91 boxes and South Dummer 150 boxes, first half of August make.

VICTORIA.

Lorneville	35	Downeyville	116
Camb ay	85	F Falls	108
Star	126

Mr. Wrighton started the bidding with an offer of 9½c. on the board. Mr. Fitzgerald kept advancing to 9¾c. for the same, and Mr. Cook to 9¾c. for selections. Mr. Wrighton then bid one quarter for the board, Mr. Cook raising to 9¾c. for selections, and Mr. Fitzgerald to 9¾c. Mr. Cuxton next offered 9¾c. for the board, and Mr. Cook again raised an eighth for selections, Mr. Wrighton offering the same for the Peterborough board. Mr. Fitzgerald's bid of 9¾c. for all cities was further advanced on by Mr. Cuxton, who offered the same for the Peterborough board. All the factories accepted.

Mr. Cook then bid 9¾c. for selections of Victoria board, Mr. Wrighton advancing to 9¾c. for selections, and Mr. Flavelle offering the same for the board. Mr. Cook's offer of 9 13-16c. for selections was declined by Comers the only factory named, and Mr. Flavelle's bid of 9¾c. for the board accepted by all.

Mr. Cluxton offered 9c. for the first half of August make of South Dummer and Myrtle, which was accepted, all the cheese being thus cleared off.

WAGON COVERS NEEDED.

Before the board adjourned there was some discussion concerning the use of oil-cloth covers on rainy days when cheese is being brought to town for shipment. The buyers associated the buying of the oil cloths, but the factorymen were at a loss to settle the question as to who was responsible for damage caused to cheese by rain, or who ought to furnish the covers. Mr. J. J. Turner, the boat maker, was present and offered the oil cloths for sale, which was the primary cause of the discussion.

Yesterday Mr. Cluxton shipped for the London (Eng.) market 1700 boxes of cheese, purchased at the last market and representing a money value of about $10 000. Mr. Cluxton also bought the offerings of the board to-day, 2500 boxes, the two purchases amounting to $25,000. From these two transactions an idea may be formed of the magnitude of the cheese industry in this county for the season.

Personal.

Mr. D. Spence arrived home from his English visit last night—four days earlier than expected.

Mr. J. T. McDonald of the Hudson Bay Company, Winnipeg, is in town the guest of Mr. J. R. Stratton.

Mrs. J. J. Turner and daughter have returned home from their visit to London, England, greatly improved in health by their three months visit to the old country.

The numerous friends of Mr. John Walton will rejoice to learn that he is recovering from his recent severe attack of illness. He is able to take carriage exercise, has a good appetite and his condition indicates a speedy return to his normal health.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WEATHER NOTES.—According to an old traditional story, which was related to me in Peterborough forty years ago, we never had August without frost—a saying I have carefully watched and always found it fulfilled, this year being no exception to the general rule, for on the 23rd a white frost covered most things, and on the 24th the thermometer fell from 40°, on the 23rd, to 35° at sunrise, with a sharp frost and the ground crusted at the edge of the swamps. We had five thunder storms during the month, the severest being on the 21st, falling 1 inch and 30 100 of an inch of water. Rain fell on 17 days to the depth of 4 inches and 22-100 of an inch, being high for August. The hottest day was on the 4th, the thermometer being 93° in the shade at 2 p.m.; the coldest being the 24th, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 79 14-31°. Fog on three days, and twice auroral lights, but only ranging IV. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely:—South-west, 8 days; north-east, 3 days; south-east, 2 days; north-west, 10 days; north, 5 days; and south, 3 days.

North Monaghan.

From a Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Forster, of Gananoque, are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler left on Tuesday morning for Manitoba.

It is rumoured that we are to have a wedding in this neighbourhood ere long. Push ahead, boys, as delays are dangerous.

Look out for the opening meeting of the R.T. of T.

Our brass band is doing remarkably well, considering the short time it has been organized. We must say it is a credit to North Monaghan, and we wish the boys every success.

And now, Mr. Editor, I must say a word or two to your Springville correspondent, who seems to be in so much trouble over our council granting a little bonus to our band. He had brass enough to mention it the time the grant was given, and I, of course, thought that was the last of it, as he had started to Sunday school and joined the Springville choir.

Plain Talk by a Farmer's Wife.

I am a farmer's wife and proud to say so. My husband is the possessor of one of the best farms to be found near the beautiful "Island City," better known as Brockville. I have quite a family of boys and girls, and although we are known by our neighbors and friends to be "well fixed" from a financial point of view and have every convenience at hand to make farm life happy and agreeable, still we are all economical and thrifty.

My husband and myself believe in true economy, and we have so inculcated these principles into our children that they are now growing up animated with like desires to our own, and fitted in every way for the great battle of life.

In this short article, my great aim is to engage the attention of farmers' wives and daughters, in the hope that I may be able to benefit them in some way; and here, I will merely give my own experience in one line of family economy, I refer to Diamond Dyeing. My daughters and myself always dress well, but at a very small yearly cost; and this we have been doing with great success for the last eight years all through the introduction of Diamond Dyes into our happy home.

I find that at the end of the summer season many of my summer dresses can be re-colored some beautiful dark shade, and fitted for Autumn wear. I do the same with my daughters' dresses, and at a very small cost we are provided with what outsiders all believe to be new goods and new dresses.

Our shawls, wraps, clouds, hose, ribbons, sashes and even gloves are renewed in the same way, and in so doing I effect a saving that season, sufficient to purchase it may be new curtains and carpet for my parlor, or a handsome set of bedroom furniture.

It seems to me that there are hundreds of farmers' wives who might follow my example this season, and test the truth of my statements. Let me ask them to do it, and benefit thereby husband and children.

With Diamond Dyes, the wife's favorite, great things can be accomplished, money saved and girls trained up to know what true economy is; and as a consequence they will make noble wives and mothers.

Miss Delaney's Fall Millinery.

Miss Delaney has returned from her annual autumnal visit to Montreal and Toronto. She visited all the millinery openings and, from the wide range of selections pre-sented, chose the finest, most fashionable and most varied stock of millinery ever bought for the Peterborough market. Miss Delaney's fall stock of millinery and allied goods will repay inspection. Choice complete and varied, fashionable, stylish and good, are terms that only partially express its beauty, and she claims it has upon the attention of the ladies of Peterborough who are cordially invited to call and see this stock before thinking of buying a fall hat or bonnet. Miss Delaney would especially draw attention to her splendid stock of frillings which have arrived direct from Germany. In fact, however, every line in every department is worthy of special notice, and this establishment is now in a better position to serve the wants of the public and to guarantee the greatest satisfaction in every case. 3357-1w

Ennismore's Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic in connection with St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, will be held in Tara grove near the church, on Thursday, 11th September. An exciting programme of sports and games will be presented and liberal prizes will be awarded successful contestants. A commodious dancing platform will be erected and an excellent string band to provide music. Dinner will be served during the day, from 12 to 2 o'clock, by the ladies, and the menu will show that their culinary right hands have lost none of their cunning. In the evening the well-known Ennismore minstrel troups will give their best musical, comic and sentimental entertainment in the Town Hall. Picnic tickets, including dinner, 50 cents; children half price. 4d48 2w35

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps are as high as the highest, we are noted for having it at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

BY A PARTY VOTE.

THE M'KINLEY BILL PASSES TO ITS FINAL STAGE.

Two Republicans Join the Democrats Against the Aldrich Amendment—Powers Given to the President—The Sherman Proposition Falls Through.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—At 3 o'clock the tariff bill was ordered engrossed and to a third reading. Senator Aldrich received many congratulations this afternoon on the safe conduct of the bill, which has now virtually passed the Senate.

The vote on the third reading and engrossment on the tariff bill by amendment. The program of the Senate for to-morrow is a debate of six hours, in which Vance, Vest and Turpie will appear for the Democrats and Hiscock and Jones of Nevada for the Republicans, and a final vote on the bill is to be taken between one and two o'clock.

Mr. Aldrich's amendment to the Tariff Bill as adopted read:

Section 2. That with a view to secure reciprocal trade with countries producing the following articles and for the purpose of and after July 1, 1891, whenever and so often as the President shall be satisfied that the Government of any country producing and exporting sugars, molasses, coffee, tea, and hides raw and uncured, or any of such articles, imposes duties or other exactions upon the agricultural or other products of the United States which, in view of the free introduction of such sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, into the United States, he may deem to be reciprocally and unreasonable, he shall have the power and it shall be his duty to suspend by proclamation to that effect the provisions of the act relating to the free introduction of such sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, the production of such country, for such time as he shall deem just, and in such case and during such suspension duties shall be levied, collected and paid upon sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, the product of or exported from such designated country, as follows, namely: All sugars not above No. 13 Dutch standard in color shall pay duty on their polariscopic test as follows, namely:

All sugars not above No. 13 Dutch standard in color, all tank bottoms, syrups of cane juice or of beet juice, Melada concentrated Melada concrete and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscope not above 75 degrees, 3-10 of one cent per pound and for every additional degree or fraction of a degree shown by the polariscope test 2-10 of one cent per pound additional. All sugars above No. 13 Dutch standard of color shall be classified by the Dutch standard of color and pay duty as follows, namely: All sugar above No. 13 and not above 16 Dutch standard of color 1 cent per pound; all sugars above No. 16 and not above No. 20 Dutch standard of color 1½ cents per pound; all sugars above No. 20 Dutch standard of color 2 cents per pound; molasses testing above 56 degrees 4 cents per gallon; sugar drainings and sugar sweepings shall be subject to duty either as molasses or sugar, as the case may be, according to polariscope test, on coffee 2 cents per pound, on tea, 10 cents per pound, hides raw or uncured, whether dry, salted or pickled, Angora goatskins, raw, without the wool, unmanufactured, asses' skins, raw or unmanufactured, and skins, except sheep skins, with the wool on, 10 cents per pound.

All the Democrats voted against Mr. Aldrich's amendment, and only two Republicans—Edmunds and Ecarts.

Mr. Aldrich offered an additional section which was adopted, providing that the sugar bounty and the bounty paragraphs shall be in effect March 1, 1891, and that prior to Feb. 1, 1895, sugars may be refined in bond without payment of duty. Various other amendments were offered by Mr. Aldrich and agreed to, including the following:

Declaring that all special taxes shall become due July 1, 1890, and on every 1st of July thereafter.

Filling the blank for dates on which duties shall be levied on articles exempted from duty as Oct. 1, 1890.

Inserting a paragraph placing a duty of 2½ cents per gallon on maple syrup.

The committee amendment placing upon the free list all sugars not above 16 Dutch standard was taken up. The amendment was to substitute No. 13 for No. 16. It was agreed to.

Mr. Plumb (Rep. Kan.) offered an amendment for the appointment of a commission of three disinterested persons, to be known as the Customs Commission, with a permanent office in the city of Washington. Agreed to. On this vote there were no party lines observed.

The bill was then reported to the Senate and all the amendments adopted in Committee of the Whole were agreed to. To-day and the pending other announced that the bill was now before the Senate for amendment. Several unimportant amendments having been rejected, Mr. Plumb called for a separate vote on the committee amendment striking out the provision for a bounty of 2c a pound on silk reeled from cocoons produced in the United States. The amendment to strike out was agreed to. No other amendment having been offered the question was

On the bill be engrossed and ordered to a third reading. On that question the yeas and nays were taken and resulted,

Yeas 35, nays 28—a party vote.

The bill was read a third time and the question was stated to be:

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. Aldrich moved an adjournment but withdrew that motion to allow an executive session to be held. On motion of Mr. Sherman it was ordered that the daily session shall begin at 11 a.m. After an executive session the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Increased Chinese Immigration—The Duties on Mess Pork.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—Returns received to-day at the Department of Customs show that the increase on the Chinese poll tax for August last was $1,125, compared with $300 for the same month last year, showing an increase of $825. It is said that this is the result of the establishment of firms on the Pacific Slope of Chinese on the [illegible] coast.

EDMUND YATES' BUDGET OF ROYAL GOSSIP.

Irish American Contributions to the Parnell Fund Falling Off—New Zealand Legislators Opposed to Australian Federation—Strangers at Work.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Prince of Wales paid his annual visit to Darmstadt last Tuesday, the object of which is to place a wreath on the grave of Princess Alice in the mausoleum on the Rosenhohe.

The meeting of the Prince of Wales and Prince Bismarck at Hamburg yesterday lasted over an hour, and was entirely tete-a-tete. His Royal Highness did his utmost to render the relations which exist between his nephew and the ex-Chancellor more cordial. The Prince of Wales is very anxious to see a mutually satisfactory modus vivendi arranged.

There was to have been a meeting last month at the Duke of Cumberland's beautiful chateau between the Empress of Russia and the Princess of Wales. This warm gathering, however, had to be abandoned, as the Emperor cannot now bear to let the Empress out of his sight; but the three sisters will meet in Denmark at Fredensborg towards the end of the month. The Empress of Russia has become her husband's constant companion. She assists him in receiving ministers and other state functionaries and acts generally as his adviser and confidential secretary.

There is not the slightest foundation for the report that the Emperor of Russia contemplates visiting the Sultan at Constantinople.

The Queen has granted a pension of £200 a year from her private purse to Lady Seymour, widow of Sir Francis Seymour.

Les Etranglieurs at Work.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—The inhabitants of the eastern districts of Paris, north and south of the Seine, are being subjected to a most disagreeable terrorism just now. A band of stranglers, under the leadership of a man called "The Biscuit," have within the last ten days committed several most atrocious crimes. The plan of campaign is for a party of three to await likely foot passengers in lonely streets; two of the stranglers run behind and throw a noose of leather over the head of their victim, and while choking him into silence the third unscrupulous man of all he has worth robbing. Several prams have narrowly escaped death, and the police have hitherto failed to make any arrests. The public is consequently in a state of anxiety and there is an outcry against the inefficiency of the guardians of the peace. Partly in consequence of this outcry and because of the large number of mysterious murders recently committed the prefect of the Seine has received instructions to augment his force by 500 men. But an ingenious gunsmith has already taken an even more practical step towards avoiding the unpleasant results of the stranger's noose. He has invented a really becoming scarf the same time useful—cravat composed of fine and delicately woven plates of copper, covered with silk of any color or combination. It is about an inch and a half in width and is worn outside the ordinary collar. No matter how tight the loop may be drawn by the things the pressure can never be sufficiently tight to choke the wearer of such a collar. The voice and breathing apparatus have free play, and while struggling with the stranglers their victim can, therefore, cry for help.

New Zealand Against Federation.

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Sept. 9.—The house of representatives has rejected by a majority of 12 votes the Government's proposal to nominate delegates to the convention to be held to consider the question of the federation of the Australian colonies.

Hard on the Poor Agitator.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Edmund Yates cables as follows: The publication of the list of contributions to the Parnell defence fund shows clearly that the Irish-Americans are almost tired of the separatists, and that they are no longer to be drawn on at discretion. The whole amount collected is about $250,000, of which $100,000 was given by American sympathizers. The most energetic canvassing for subscriptions [illegible]

Smokeless Powder Helped the Defence.

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—The maneuvres at Glucksburg yesterday presented a brilliant spectacle. Divisions of invaders, covered by the fire from their eight mortal clubs, effected landings from the island of Alsen at four different points in 20 minutes and stormed the heights of Duppel. Emperor William and Count von Moltke were highly pleased with the evolutions. The Empress also witnessed them. The use of smokeless powder proved of more advantage to the defending than the attacking force.

RAN INTO A STREET CAR

Two Toronto Ladies Thrown Out of a Carriage at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Sept. 9.—Last evening as the G.T.R. N. & N.W. train was coming in from the north some lads were seen to place large stones on the track at the Robert street and Ferguson avenue crossing. A citizen who witnessed the act removed the obstructions before the train reached the spot. The offenders ran away.

Last evening about 8:[illegible], while street car No. 13 was standing at the corner of King and Ray streets, a rig containing two young ladies and two gentlemen collided with it, doing considerable damage to the rig. The ladies were thrown out, but beyond being shaken up were unhurt. They were driven to the American Hotel, and after a short rest resumed their journey. They were said to have been the Misses Beck of Toronto, and they were on a visit to friends in Ancaster having arrived by the 8 o'clock boat.

Prince George of Wales at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—At 1 o'clock to-day H.M.S. Canada came to a mooring at the Victoria pier, followed by the Thrush 20 minutes later with Prince George of Wales standing on the bridge. They were received by a large crowd, which enthusiastically cheered the Prince. To-night a general reception, largely attended by leading citizens, was held in the City Hall.

Cobourg's Souvenir Stamper.

COBOURG, Sept. 8.—David Smith, aged 11, charged with stabbing Peter Hansen, aged 13, on Sunday, Aug. 31, was brought before Police Magistrate Dumble for trial this morning. As Hansen was not yet able to appear a remand was granted until Sept. 18.

SOLDIERS V. STRIKERS.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO SUPPRESS A SOUTHAMPTON RIOT.

The Mob Charges Savagely, but Is Repeatedly Driven Back—Many of the Rioters Bayonetted—Officers Wounded by Volleys of Stones.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 9.—The strikers made a riotous demonstration to-night and were only dispersed at the point of the bayonet. The trouble began with the dock laborers preventing the departure of several trains. The strikers also besieged the gates of the dock and prevented the entrance of officials. Two companies of infantry arrived this evening and drove the mob from the rails.

The dockmen made desperate attempts to break the line formed by the troops. Some of them took the horses from the cabs standing near by and mounting them charged furiously upon the soldiers. The troops, however, stood firm and repeatedly repulsed the strikers. A number of the horses were bayonetted and some of the riders were seriously wounded.

By this time the crowd had been greatly augmented and volley after volley of stones were hurled at the troops. One lieutenant had the bridge of his nose broken by a stone, and two others were severely hurt.

At this juncture the Mayor appeared and read the Riot Act. This only added to the fury of the mob, a section of which stormed the Mayor's business premises, and smashed every window in the place.

The troops were now supplied with ball cartridge, each man receiving twenty rounds. The mob still keeping up the attack the soldiers were ordered to charge and the whole line advanced upon the crowd with fixed bayonets. For a moment the rioters made a show of resistance, but seeing many of their number fall pierced by the bayonets of the soldiers the mob broke and fled in wild disorder.

The excitement throughout the city to-night is intense and further trouble is feared.

DISGUSTED WITH POWDERLY.

Great Dissatisfaction Among the Knights—Other Labor News.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.—The window glass workers and bottle blowers have decided to leave the Knights of Labor if Powderly is re-elected general master workman. Together they number 10,000 men. Their new stand has come out through the refusal of the window glass workers at their last meeting to honor a request of Powderly's for a loan of $500. In the discussion that followed the presentation of the request it was discovered that during the strike on the Reading Railroad the window glass workers had given the general officers $100,000 to carry on the fight. This has been returned in instalments, and the window glass workers now have $200,000 in their treasury. Powderly was denounced as being responsible for the mismanagement that has reduced what was a great army of knights in 1887 to a mere skeleton in 1890.

The Ship Laborers' Strike in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—It appears that the strike of the ship laborers employed by Messrs. Neale & Son on the steamships of the Allan line is the outcome of the discharge of a delegate who attended the Trades and Labor Congress recently held in Ottawa. The man discharged left his work without notifying his employers, and after a week's absence returned, only to find his place occupied. A vain appeal was made for his reinstatement. Then the strike was ordered on. The strikers say that they will fight the matter to the bitter end.

Coal Famine in Australia.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 9.—The Government is chartering steamers to carry coal for the use of the railways, the supply having been exhausted in consequence of the strike. The gas company is getting coal from India.

Brakemen and Switchmen Strike.

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 9.—The brakemen and switchmen employed on the Toledo, Columbus & Cincinnati Railroad struck yesterday because they had been refused an advance in wages. Freight business is almost completely blocked from Toledo to Kenton. An attempt was made to run a freight train yesterday, but the strikers spiked the switches, and the cars could not be moved.

Drawing the Line at "Blacklegs."

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Southampton strikers yesterday decided to allow the mails and passengers to proceed without molestation so long as no "blacklegs" are employed.

The Central Wrecks.

TROY, N.Y., Sept. 9.—Cordial, one of the three men accused of participating in the train wrecking Friday night, and who was brought to the Troy jail to-day, said to a reporter: "I don't propose to have them saddle this thing on me." He also said: "They have the right party." Cordial asked to see a lawyer. It is believed from the statements of the prisoner and the officers that Cordial has confessed all he knows about the wrecking.

ALBANY, Sept. 9. The trackman who was fired at by the scoundrels near New Hamburg last night came to Albany this afternoon and went back again to-night. He was closeted with Supt. Bissell, Chief Pinkerton and Chief Detective Humphreys of the Central road this afternoon. He claims to be able to identify the wreckers.

DEFAULTER VAN LOAN'S RETREAT.

A Jersey City Bank Clerk's Hiding Place in Canada.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—John H. Van Loan, the bookkeeper of the Second National Bank, Jersey City, who fled more than a year ago, after swindling the bank out of a sum, said to be $70,000, has been traced to a small settlement on Lake Ontario, about 12 miles from Belleville, Ont. It is a summer resort on the bank of the lake, and Van Loan is engaged in a small business there.

His explanation to the people of the place is that he was forced to leave the States in consequence of ill health. His family shares his exile.

Van Loan, with the aid of others, defrauded the bank by doctoring the accounts of his confederates and crediting them with more money than they had deposited. His father-in-law is now in prison for having profited to the extent of over $4000 by this method. Van Loan was on his vacation when the bank examiner discovered the shortage. He was notified and fled to Canada. He was prominent in clubs and lived well and his salary, $1300 a year, was insufficient for his expenses.

A Victim of Apoplexy.

BOWMANVILLE, Sept. 9.—Mrs. John Lawrie, widow of the late John Lawrie, in the township of Darlington, dropped dead yesterday afternoon. She was in perfect health up to the time of the occurrence. Apoplexy is supposed to be the cause.

The Linotype Inventor Honored.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—The committee on science and the arts of the Franklin Institute has after an exhaustive inquiry confirmed the award of the Elliott Cresson medal to Ottmar Mergenthaler for his invention of the Linotype. An appeal had been taken by another inventor. The appeal was based on the justifying apparatus. The committee say the Ray patent antedates the invention of the appellant.

The World's Fair Site.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The directors of the world's fair to-day re-affirmed their choice of some months ago and selected the dual site of the Lake Front and Jackson Park as the place for locating the exposition.

The Creedmoor Meeting.

CREEDMOOR, L.I., Sept. 9.—At the meeting of the National Rifle Association to-day the Wimbledon Cup was won by Major C. H. Gaus with a score of 141. Major Gaus also won the cup last year.

Watertown's New Church.

UTICA, Sept. 9.—Trinity Church, Watertown, just completed by the gift of $90,000 from Hon. Roswell P. and Anson R. Flower of that city in memory of the latter's wife, was dedicated to-day by Rt. Rev. Bishop Huntington of Central New York.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Christian Science Manslaughter Case—Opening of the Exhibition.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Alice M. Stewart, the Christian scientist against whom the coroner's jury at the Kent inquest returned a verdict of manslaughter, surrendered herself yesterday and was released on $3000 bail, herself in $1500 and two sureties of $750 each, to appear to-day.

The industrial exhibition was formally opened by the Earl of Aberdeen yesterday afternoon. The attendance promises to pass highwater mark, the receipts for the first day being $300 in excess of last year.

At the annual meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association yesterday Secretary Plewes presented this comparison of the wheat fields of the Dominion for 1889 and 1890 respectively:

Canadian Cracks at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A writer who has been visiting Morris Park at Westchester writes of the condition of affairs there and the stables represented. The only Canadian stable at present located in Morris Park is Hendries' in which there are six all aspirants for future honors. At Westchester the one of whom the greatest things are expected is Minnie Palmer, who so far has appeared three times, being successful on one occasion, when she defeated Bledsoe and two others at Toronto. At present she has only been doing light work, but she is expected to be ready for the first week in October. Ouiea, a two-year-old daughter of Iroquois, is a nice racy looking filly, that when fit should prove useful for her owner. Another two-year-old in Calgary, by King Alfonso, is likely to earn much, though his upright shoulders should not be suitable for the declines at Westchester.

Ravenhill, a 2-year-old brother to Miracle, should show speed if he can stand a preparation, but Ayrshire Lass, a 2-year-old daughter of King Alfonso and Jersey Lass, struck one as being a little too coarse and loaded in the shoulders to ever be a high-class performer. She with Gladiator, a 3-year-old maiden brother to Glenmore, completed the six of the Canadian stable.

World's Fair Vice-President Resigns.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Thomas Bryan, First Vice-President of the World's Colombian Exposition, has resigned. Some of the newspapers and one or two prominent men thought Bryan was getting too much, and that $10,000 was a pretty large salary for the work done by him, and did not hesitate to say so. Mr. Bryan, notwithstanding the fact that the directors had the greatest confidence in him, concluded to resign.

Fell Under the Wheels.

KINGSTON, Sept. 9.—James Lapaney, in the employ of the contractors constructing the Grand Trunk second track, attempted to jump on a moving freight train near Rideau. He fell under the wheels and received injuries which caused death. He belonged to Thorold.

The Methodist General Conference.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—The great quadrennial conference of the Methodist Church in Canada opens here to-morrow. The delegates number 290 and the general body has jurisdiction over everything affecting the economy and discipline of the church throughout British North America.

The Wayboods's Annual Meeting.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wabash Railway Company was held here to-day. President Ashley states there is no truth in the statement that the Canadian Pacific is aiming at control of the Wabash through ownership.

Losses Caused by Flames.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Sept. 9.—The old elevator of the Ogdensburg & Lake Champlain Railroad Company at Ogdensburg was burned this morning, with 500,000 bushels of corn and oats. It was well insured.

The elevator cost $300,000 to build in 1867 and repairs to the amount of $3000 had been added this season. The building contained 450,000 bushels of grain, mostly corn. On the building there was an insurance of about $150,000. The grain was well insured. The burning of the building is a severe blow to the shipping interests of Ogdensburg. Notwithstanding the fact that a new elevator had just got into working order the Ogdensburg & Lake Champlain Company were still pressed for storage.

Herr Krupp's Son Looking for Nickel.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—Herr Krupp, son of the German gun maker, is here testing the quality and quantity of ore produced by the Sudbury nickel and copper mines west of this city. He is in search of nickel to be used in the manufacture of a new gun metal, which is expected to as far surpass in strength and durability the metal now used as steel surpasses pig iron.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Dun, Wiman & Co. report failures during the past seven days for the United States 207 and for Canada 36, or a total of 243 as compared with a total of 189 last week and 192 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 201, representing 174 in the United States and 27 in Canada.

SOUND ADVICE.

The Canadian Forester gives to its readers, the members of the Order, the following sound advice, which is also applicable to all holding policies of insurance for the benefit of their families and those otherwise dependent upon them:—"Some members think nothing of dropping their policies and thus deliberately cutting their families adrift from their only future hope. What a mistake such men make, unless the act is one of absolute, imperative necessity, which is very rarely the case. Do not, through forgetfulness, or because it is difficult to get the money, let go of your family's protection. No such emergency would cause you to deed away your house or lands, nor would you give up your property because you were tired of paying the taxes or other costs of keeping it. Dont lapse your certificate and thus deed away your wife's and children's estate; no one can tell how soon they may need it. Perhaps before another payment is due the proceeds of the certificate kept alive by the present payment will be keeping them from hunger and want. Don't lapse your membership'. By means of an insurance policy, an individual, having a fair income, can, by its means, provide for the future of his family and at the same time adequately provide for their present wants, whereas if he set to work to save up dollar by dollar, an amount equivalent to the sum for which he is insured, there would have to be very severe pinching in every department of the home to the detriment of educational and other interests. Take the advice of the Forester and, if you carry a policy, do not let it lapse, and if you have not your life insured, take the advice of the EXAMINER and take out a policy either in the Foresters, including sick benefits, or in some solvent insurance company, according to the measure of your ability to pay. The Forester order is perhaps the cheapest and safest benefit insurance organization in existence to-day.

THE Empire rather gloats over the surplus our thumb-screw financiers, the taxationist ministers, have succeeded in filching from the pockets of the patient people of Canada. It says:—"The fact that Canada had a large surplus for the last fiscal year, though apparently very distasteful to the Opposition, is viewed in a very different light by the majority of Canadians, who rejoice in this indication of the prosperity of their country and the wise management of its public affairs." Would it be considered an indication of the prosperity of an individual if he put a pistol to the heads of his neighbours and accumulated a surplus from their unwilling pocket books? It is not a very heavy financial feat to put on taxes enough to produce a surplus—only judgment enough to estimate nicely how many turns of the thumb-screw the people will stand, is required.

THE Empire remarks:—"According to a commercial authority, we have already shipped more cheese to England this year than last by 40 000 boxes. Facts like these speaks eloquently to our farmers."—It is indeed, very fortunate that they have the cheese industry to fall back upon, if the bullet-headed policy of five million people, commercially antagonizing sixty millions, results in destroying our nearest market. Where will the barley market be if the McKinley bill, which knocks thirty cents a bushel off the price, becomes law?

Progressive Labour.

What Our Toilers Demand.

During the session of the Dominion Trades and Labour Council resolutions to the following effect were adopted, as expressive of the wants of the Council in the way of legislation in the interests of the labouring classes:—

That vessels navigating inland waters should be inspected.

That Dominion and Provincial Governments give their printing contracts to offices where the typographical unions are recognized.

That the Quebec Government bonus workingmen of that Province settling on Crown lands.

That the Ontario Municipal Act be amended so as to allow the entire electorate of all municipalities to vote on all money by-laws.

That the Government should appoint female inspectors of factories and workshops where females are employed.

Protesting against Government employees being allowed to do outside work while under salary.

That Provincial printing bureaus be established to do all Government printing and to produce school books, to be supplied free of charge.

Opposing private bank charters and demanding a national currency.

That the Dominion Government grant Canadian citizens free lands and advance them a small sum of money at low int rest.

Demanding increased grants for Public and Separate schools.

To adopt free and compulsory education.

Calling for a law compelling employers to pay wages weekly and in Government money.

That the projected Ontario system of manual training in the schools is prejudicial to labour, and the Ontario Government be petitioned to abandon the proposed system.

That this Congress request the Quebec Legislature to give no subsidies to institutions making competition in the different trades.

That the Government be requested to raise the duty on imported cigars.

Approving of the establishment of boards of arbitration to settle disputes between employers and employees.

Instructing the Executive Committee to urge the Provincial Government to make the following changes to the municipal franchise: the adoption of manhood suffrage for municipal elections; the abolition of property qualifications for municipal officers; that a legal half holiday be put on the Statute-book for election day.

That the Government be requested to pass a Sunday Observance Act.

To petition the Provincial Governments to pass laws regulating the erection and construction of scaffolds, and the appointment of inspectors to see that such was carried out.

That the Provincial Electoral Act be amended so as to grant the right of franchise to persons receiving a salary of $300 per annum, as a step towards manhood suffrage.

That in the opinion of the Congress intemperance was one of the greatest drawbacks to the prosperity and social standing of the young men of this country; therefore the Dominion Trades and Labour Congress calls upon all labour organizations throughout the country to use their influence in their respective localities in the direction of promoting and encouraging temperance.

That the Ontario Government be requested to so amend the Landlord-Tenant Act as to render null and void any agreement to prevent the carrying out of the law.

To petition Parliament to have an Act passed making it unlawful for employers to give piece-work to their apprentices.

That this Congress is of the opinion that the people of Canada are capable of finding a man from amongst their number to perform the functions of Governor-General of Canada; Therefore be it resolved, that we demand on behalf of this country, to hereafter elect our own Governor. The motion was carried on division, 38 voting for and 14 against.

That the Ontario Government be requested to make the following changes:—That the present legislative grant to Public, Separate and Night Schools be doubled, and the municipal grant be equal to the legislative grant; that in all municipalities outside of cities, towns and incorporated villages, school sections be as equally divided as possible, and that a uniform rate be levied for school purposes, and said school funds be equally divided amongst said sections.

Disapproving of the practice of importing alien labour and approving of the principle of the alien labour bill introduced by Mr. Geo. Taylor, M.P., provided the bill is made applicable to all countries outside of Canada.

Calling on the Federal Government to give to the printers, bookbinders and pressmen, employed in the Government Printing Bureau, the same vacation as is given to proof-readers, translators, etc.

A motion in favor of the total prohibition of the liquor traffic was laid on the table on division.

Our Babies.

It has been computed that between 36,000,000 and 37,000,000 babies are born in the world each year. The rate of production is, therefore, about 70 per minute, or rather more than one for every beat of the clock. With the one a minute calculation every newspaper reader is familiar, but it is not every one who stops to calculate what this means when it comes to a year's supply. It will, therefore, probably startle a good many persons to find, on the authority of a well-known hospital writer, that, could the infants of a year be arranged in a line of cradles, the cradles would be overflowing, and, at the same time, extend round the globe. We have the ingenious conclusion, also, that, supposing the little ones grew up and the sexes be equally divided, we would have an army 100 times larger than that of Great Britain, and a wife for each soldier besides. The same writer looks at the matter in a still more picturesque light. He imagines the babies being carried past a given point in their mother's arms, one by one, and the procession being kept up night and day until the last comer of the 12th month had passed by. A sufficiently liberal rate is allowed, but even in going past at the rate of 20 a minute, the reviewer at his post would only have seen the sixth part of this infantile host after they had been passing him at the rate of 1,200 an hour during the entire year! In other words, the babe that had to be carried when the tramp began, would be able to walk when but a mere fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's post, and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close there would be a rear-guard, not of infants, but of romping six-year-old boys and girls.

WIT AND HUMOR.

His Congregation Never Deserted Him.

A clergyman was lamenting the fact that his congregation appeared to be restless during his sermons, and declared that many of the members of his flock would get up at a time when he fancied himself most impressive, and would leave the house.

"That's true, answered a young preacher, "but I must say that I do not experience any such annoyance. Not a single member of my congregation gets up and goes out during service."

"You don't say so?" the first speaker exclaimed. "How do you manage it?"

"I don't manage it at all—seems to manage itself."

"Don't they complain when you preach a long sermon?"

"No, I've never heard a word of complaint."

"This is indeed singular. Your people must have been exceptionally well brought up."

"No, I think not."

"Then you must be one of the most eloquent of men. What is the style of your preaching?"

"Oh, rather dry, I am compelled to admit. I do not possess the faculty of drawing an interesting illustration or of throwing out a bright idea."

"Well, well, I have never heard of anything so wonderful. And you tell me that no one ever gets up and goes out?"

"Yes, that's what I tell you."

"Well, I don't understand it at all."

"Oh, it is easy enough to explain. I am chaplain at the penitentiary."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Been Wasting Time.

"I hope, Mary," he said, gently, "the suddenness and intensity of my love will not come to you like a shock. Possibly," he continued, still more gently, and taking her hand with respectful tenderness, "you are not prepared for this avowal. The language of passion may be new to you. Am I the first man, my dear, timid little girl, to address you in this way?"

"No, Horace," she replied. "I have never spoken of my past life because there are portions of it full of pain and sickness. But I was beloved once by as good a man as the sun ever shone upon. He is dead now, but during the short year of our married life—"

"You are a widow, then, Mary?"

"Yes Horace, I—why, Horace, dear."

For the young man had strained her to his heart with a force that took her breath away. He had been wasting valuable time.—Chicago Tribune.

"Because, your honor, Oi asked him to send a confidential telegram to me wife, and the bloggyard read it."—N.Y. Herald.

Pure Cod Liver Oil and Emulsions properly made from it are undoubtedly the best remedies for pulmonary complaints. Many emulsions have been put on the market but none seem to have met with the good success accorded to SCOTT'S OXYGENIZED EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL. Their laboratory at 186 West Adelaide St., Toronto, Ont., is kept constantly going and every druggist in the country is supplied with the famous remedy. w37-52

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, summer complaint, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry,—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. 3w37d

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

ARE NOT a Purgative Medicine. They are a BLOOD BUILDER, TONIC and RECONSTRUCTOR, as they supply in a condensed form the substances actually needed to enrich the Blood, curing all diseases coming from FOUL and WATERY BLOOD, or from VITIATED HUMORS in the BLOOD, and also invigorate and BUILD UP the BLOOD and SYSTEM, when broken down by overwork, mental worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions. They have a SPECIFIC ACTION on the SEXUAL SYSTEM of both men and women, restoring LOST VIGOR and correcting all IRREGULARITIES and SUPPRESSIONS.

EVERY MAN Who finds his mental faculties dull or failing, or his physical powers flagging, should take these PILLS. They will restore his lost energies, both physical and mental.

EVERY WOMAN should take them. They cure all suppressions and irregularities, which inevitably entail sickness when neglected.

YOUNG MEN should take these PILLS. They will cure the results of youthful bad habits, and strengthen the system.

YOUNG WOMEN should take them. These PILLS will make them regular.

WAYS OF WOMEN FAIR.

SOME ITEMS OF INTEREST TO BOTH SEXES.

What Women Will Wear at This Time of the Year—Little Personal Paragraphs About Women of the World—Home and Dress Notions—Other Notes.

Lace capes, lace hats and lace collarettes continue to be worn.

After all, flannel is the only serviceable dress for the seaside and cotton for the country ribs.

The latest jaunty cloak is in beaver. Newport, made of dark silk and worn over a number of petticoats.

The gloomy appearance is made that scarlet feathers which are fashionable on the Worth dress are "poor Flora."

Some of the most exquisite panthers on record are mounted in velvet. Miniatures of this sort adorn fan sticks and form a joy to the eye of the connoisseur.

Baby clothes are as expensive as those of adults. To be asked to pay $1.50 for a small cap and $3.50 for a little 3-yard silk dress is an objection against which sensible mothers should rebel.

Instead of wasting good money on round of silk or embroidered baby clocks, put the sweet little creature in a brown cashmere, lined with white silk. This answers every purpose, looks pretty, wears well, can be bought for 35c. made at home for half the money.

An attempt is made to open a line of bread for a fine exhibition at the end of the bread. At the end of the plate is laid the main thick crust of Vienna bread on which the shiny toaster wipes her greasy fingers. It might be a good plan to use a fork and dispense with the bread.

If you have a corner that will not fix, fill it with a church pew-pattern cut pointed white pad a couple of gamed sofa pillows in one corner, stand a fair palm on the floor so as to shade the head, put your sister under the green branches, and if she has on a white dress you will declare her the sweetest picture you have ever seen.

There never was a time in the history of the dress goods trades when black was so unpopular as it has been during the last year. Except for mourning wear the matter is little demanded through the season, as it should be, for it is one color that never had a claim on art, beauty or choice in it. Whoever heard of a famous painting on a dead black ground?

Paints rapidly disappear. The "fashionables" may still be seen in the city promenades, but at the summer resorts the painted and powdered lips may be readily counted. Whether the paint recoils to the hot weather or the censure it receives is not of importance. Another innovation in the fashion of summer costumes is to decorate the natural finger nails with gold and silver.

The choice of linen for summer gowns with figured cotton dots is the latest device to avoid the use of starch. Both are of the same color and the cotton dots are stamped on with a machine which makes them look as though they were woven in the fabric. Many of the prettiest novelties are in sea-gray. Such is Eno'es Alla Italia Francese shows tobacco ably broad satin stripes. Satin merveilleux has narrower and contrasting stripes.

If you are getting a find jacket, select a rough, soft cloth of dark blue, copper or copper brown, and have it made loose in top back, double-breasted and just long enough to escape the chair when seated. Have the cuffs turn over with a slip in the lapel, have the sleeves coat-shape and not full or high, have a double row of buttons and holes, and only get one and three-quarter yards of material. In dry-goods shops there are remnants on sale for the fixing that need cost but 6. The cloth can be had at 50c a yard. Any second-rough tailor will make the garment for $3, and if he is not a botch you will have a very pretty jacket and only $20 to pay.

Egyptian embroideries are to be introduced to the women who are able and willing to pay for exclusive and artistic styles in party dresses. This metallic needle work is peculiar in character, having the appearance of heavy cord made of gold or silver wire, grouped and designed in conventional style being traced over the host until the whole surface is a mass of glittering threads. Only the best quality of fine cord is used, which is so united and to harmonize the silver, though of the finest make, is susceptible to atmospheric influences, but even tarnished, the effect against a chocolate or mouse-gray cashmere is [illegible]

ON LOVE'S WINGS.

An All Night Drive to Get Ahead of the Old Folks.

Sarnia, Sept. 8.—It looks as though there was just as much romance in real life as there used to be in the "good old days" which we often hear about. John N. Dillon is a Forest merchant and John fell in love with Miss Bertie McIntyre of the same place. She reciprocated the tender attachment, but her parents, while they thought John was a pretty decent sort of a boy, so he is and kept their eye on him, were of the opinion that their daughter was too young to marry. So they had things about arranged to send her off to a Toronto school and in the meantime had her located at her uncle's out in the township of Rosanquet so that she and John would not see too much of each other. But on Friday night of last week she took wings from the uncle's house and met Dillon in Watford. From the latter place they drove to Sarnia, arriving here Saturday morning. Didn't they hurry over the river! Well, they went across, secured a license and the Presbyterian minister and were soon man and wife. They have since been home and received forgiveness.

STRUCK BY A SQUALL.

Two Wiarton Young Men Thought to Have Been Drowned.

Wiarton, Sept. 8.—Last evening two young men of this place, M. Greenlees and M. McDougall, left Oxenden for Wiarton in a sailboat. They were last seen about the middle of the bay heading southeast. Soon after a squall came on and it is supposed the boat capsized, and being ballasted with stone she would sink immediately.

Drowned at Prescott.

Prescott, Sept. 8.—John Hill, over 80 years old, a resident of Prescott, was drowned while fishing in the St. Lawrence River a short distance above here opposite the wreck of the Bothasy Thursday evening. He threw an anchor out of his fishing boat and the weight of it tickled him overboard. The water where he was drowned was only about four or five feet deep and his body was found a short time after the accident.

A Double Tragedy in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8.—At Wauwatosa, a suburb of Milwaukee, yesterday Mrs. Edward Reinger, who had left her husband on account of his brutal treatment and dissolute habits, was sitting with her mother on the porch of their house. Reinger came along and asked his wife to return to him. She refused, and he drew a revolver and shot her three times. The mother interfered and she too was shot twice. Mrs. Reinger will probably die. Mrs. Rayner's wound may not prove fatal. Reinger was captured last night at Brookfield.

A Moseide Story.

I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters and pills and find them everything to me. I had dyspepsia with bad breath and bad appetite, but after a few days' use of B.B.B. I felt stronger, could eat a good meal and felt myself a different man. W.H. Storey, Moseide, Ont. 2w37d

Unbearable Agony.

For three days I suffered severely from summer complaint. Nothing gave me relief and I kept getting worse until the pain was almost unbearable, but after I had taken the first dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, I found great relief, and it did not fail to cure me. Wm. T. Glynn, Wilfrid, Ont. 2w37d

A Rash Knight.

Mr. Reuben Knight, of Morris, Man., states that he was troubled with a rash all over his body, which was cured with less than one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. He highly recommends it as a blood purifier of the greatest efficacy. 2w37d

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase—$1,709,812 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $816,204, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,664,376	3.07
Confederation	17,674,823	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,460	10.29
Federal	10,068,837	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.36
North American	8,670,620	10.63
Temperance and General	2,864,972	17.84
Citizens	2,097,956	28.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	29 12
London Life	1,044,285	29.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons is will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

The price received was $900. Mayflower was one of the best horses that ever raced in Peterborough, and fully worth the price paid.

Women's Work.

A meeting of the George street Methodist auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was held Tuesday afternoon. The principal business was the election of officers, the former incumbents being re-installed, as follows:—Mrs. Kendry, President; Mrs. Wm. Fitzgerald, Recording Secretary; Miss I. Sanderson, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Hawkins, Treasurer. Mrs. Kendry was also appointed delegate to the Toronto meeting next month.

The Prize Money Will be Forwarded.

The directors of the Horticultural Society met at Mayor Stevenson's office Tuesday afternoon. The prizes awarded or recommended by the judges were ordered to be paid, and the secretary was instructed to forward checks for the amounts by mail to the parties entitled thereto. Votes of thanks were also passed to the judges for their services at the exhibition, and also to the Town Trust Commissioners for the use of the market building.

Dry Goods Opening.

The public will find at this store always the finest goods, the best selections and the most moderate prices.

Kidnapped!

There are not many cases in this law-loving town of men being captured and kidnapped in broad daylight. A glaring case has come to our notice. Clothing practically given away—only a nominal charge made to cover wear and tear of counters. The biggest bargains in the universe in clothing at Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men. 6-54-1w

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Papers all Right.

Mayor Stevenson this forenoon received a telegram from the Vice-President of the Edison Electric Co., New York, to the effect that they had received the contract papers forwarded by the town, and had referred them to their Canadian solicitor at Montreal, from whom they expected to hear at once. The Vice-President expressed his opinion that the papers were all right, but of course they had to be examined by the solicitor as a matter of business.

A Trio of Cases.

At the police court this morning, H. Fournier charged E. Vinnetts with the use of abusive language towards him. The evidence was contradictory and Mayor Stevenson discharged the case. Cass. Nicholls, a dilapidated Bohemian who struck the town night before last, was arrested for drunkenness, and not having the wherewithal to pay a fine of $2, undertook a term of 20 days in gaol. A lad named C. Baldwin, lately employed with Mr. V. Theoret, baker, charged the latter with non-payment of wages. He claimed $4, but compromised for $2.15.

Lawn Social at St. Luke's.

A lawn social under the auspices of the congregation of St. Luke's church was held at the parsonage Tuesday night, and though the season was rather late for outdoor entertainments it was a gratifying success. The lawn was ornamented by a large marquee, in which refreshments were disbursed, and it is satisfactory to know that everything was sold out. An attractive musical programme was rendered in the drawing room of the parsonage. There was a large attendance at the social, and all things considered the ladies who managed it are to be congratulated upon their success.

Sporting Jots.

A team of the Colts with a sprinkling of Veterans go to Toronto to-morrow to play East Toronto. The eleven will be composed of Attewell, Brennan, Dumble, Dunsford, Goldsmith, M. Hamilton, W. F. Hamilton, McGill, Poussette, Stocker and another.

The lacrosse team contemplate going to Madoc Monday to play a return match. May success attend them.

There is a probability that the game of bowls will be established in Peterborough, Tuesday afternoon Messrs. J. D. Flavelle (Lindsay), C. McGill, W. G. Ferguson and Sam Rey play a game on Mr. Rey's fine lawn, Brock street, and other games are being arranged for the future. It is likely a club will be organized.

No Dancing Permitted.

A meeting of the Town Trust Commissioners was held Tuesday afternoon. There were present Mayor Stevenson and Messrs. W. Paterson, Richard Hall and R. S. Davidson. The store on the north side of the a cade in the new market building was let to Mr. H. C. Winch, butcher, and the east half of the stall on the south side to Mr. Laplante. The old market building was sold to Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald for $162. Mr. Fitzgerald will tear it down at once and make use of the material. It was decided to let the hall in the new building for public purposes only—that is, meetings of the Horticultural or Agricultural Society, Cheese Board, Farmers' Institute, civic meetings, meetings of general public interest, etc., free of charge; political meetings, church bazaars, etc., will be charged $10 per day or night. The hall will not be let for balls or dances on any consideration.

Hymeneal.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. R. W. Errett, Park street, this afternoon at half past three o'clock, when his second daughter, Minnie, was married to Mr. Allan Ramsay, of Queenston. Only the members of the family were present. Rev. J. C. Davidson, assisted by Rev. C. B. Kenrick, performed the ceremony, in which Miss Ramsay was bridesmaid and Mr. W. R. Errett groomsman. The bride was married in a travelling dress. After the wedding the conventional dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay leave on the 5:15 train for the west. Mr. Ramsay is a prosperous fruit-grower at Queenston. His wife has many warm friends in Peterborough who will wish her a happy wedded life.

"The Dominion Illustrated."

The Sherbrooke Number of this fine pictorial weekly is really a credit to Canada. In the copiousness and execution of its illustrations it surpasses all previous issues of the same kind and is worthy of the enterprise and progress of Sherbrooke. In the letterpress, the early settlement of the township, especially the St. Francis District is recounted with accuracy and animation, and the present prosperous condition of the city is described very fully. No phase of the progress of the community is omitted from the survey. With these descriptions the illustrations are in harmony. Scenery, architecture, portraiture—it is all as fine as any Canadian establishment has yet turned out and will compare favourably with some of the best products of the British and American periodical press. It is a double number, and as it covers the entire annals and social and economic development of the capital of the townships it will be well worth preserving. The Dominion Illustrated is published by the Sabiston Lithographic and Publishing Company, 73 St. James street, Montreal.

Fall Sports.

A Splendid Day of Sport on the P.A.A.A. Grounds.

The directors of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association have arranged for a series of fall sports on Monday, September 22nd, on their grounds in Ashburnham. The excellent programme prepared and the valuable prizes offered ensure a successful day's sport. Medals and cups are put up for competition in twelve events, which comprise the usual athletic feats. Special prominence is given to the bicycle races. It is expected a number of wheelmen from a distance will take part. The Toronto bicyclists will this year make Peterborough the terminus of their annual century run. The Toronto contingent will comprise about fifty members of the Toronto and Wanderers' clubs. Some of the Belleville Ramblers are also expected. The bicycle races will of themselves be worth going miles to witness. The local wheelmen will also take part and contest honours with the visitors.

The programme is made up as follows:—1, vaulting with pole; 2, hundred yards (three heats); 3, bicycle race, one mile (green); 4, high jump; 5, 440 yards race; 6, bicycle race, one mile, open only to members P. A. A. A.; 7, putting shot; 8, bicycle race, 2 miles; 9, half mile race; 10 bicycle race, 3 miles; 11, hurdle race, 120 yards; 12, bicycle race, 5 miles; 13, tug of war, 8 men a side.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Bible class held last evening was the largest we have ever had, the interest shown by our young men in the study of God's word is so encouraging. They seem anxious to know how to be able to use the sword of the Spirit, which is God's word, which means victory over the Satan, flesh and the world.

The Invitation Committee held their monthly meeting, Mr. F. G. Saunders, chairman, presided. Several new members were elected. After reviewing the work, an earnest desire was expressed for more aggressive work among the young men to induce them to attend our meetings. The committee will go to work in the spirit and power of the Lord, believing for much blessing.

On Friday evenings Sergt.-Major Rundle has very kindly consented to conduct a physical training class in our hall for our members. All anxious to take up this work will meet on Friday evening at 8 p.m. when class will form.

Boy's meeting Friday evening from 7 to 8 p.m. All boys over 10 years and under 16, invited.

Our thanks are tendered to C. B. Routley for offering plates.

The Edison Company By-law.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—A letter which appeared over the name of John McNaughton in Monday's DAILY EXAMINER should, I think, not be allowed to pass unnoticed, as several statements in it are, no doubt owing to Mr. McNaughton's ignorance of the facts, calculated to mislead. It would be a cause of regret if any ratepayer were influenced to vote against the By-law now before the ratepayers for want of a full knowledge of the agreement entered into between the Edison Company and the town; and I am satisfied that no one having the prosperity of Peterborough at heart will vote against the By-law, when fully aware of all the facts and the advantages to be derived by the town by the location here of the Edison Company and I will endeavour, with your permission to specify some of them. The proposition from the Edison Company secured by the deputation that went to Montreal to meet them, and which was made informally, to be carried out if they should conclude to locate here and the town would give sufficient inducements, was as follows:—

The Edison Company agreed to build, either of brick or stone, commencing operation as soon as possible—

		Sq ft
1 building, one story high, 50x200		10 000
1 "	two stories high, 50x150	15,000
1 "	one story high (with gallery), 50x100 in all	7,000
1 "	one story high, 50x100	5 000
1 "	one story high, 50x50	2,500

And would, next summer at latest, build in addition—

1 building, one story high, 100x100		10.000
1 "	two stories high, 50x100	10.000
In all		59,500

And to employ at the start 200 hands and next summer over 300 hands, their weekly pay roll being $1,200 at the start and $3.000 next summer.

This proposition was submitted to the council, which agreed to give the company the terms they required, being any of the sites that had been examined by the officers of the Edison Co. (the one now chosen being one of the number), a water main to the river with a capacity of 25,000 gallons per hour, a sewer, a siding from the C.P.R. and G.T.R. to the land and exemption from taxes for ten years on the land, buildings and plant used by the company for manufacturing purposes; and, as far as I am aware, every member of the council considered that the Edison Co. were very moderate in their demands, and that if they could be induced to locate here on such conditions, there would be no opposition from a single ratepayer.

We were aware that other places had offered, and were willing to offer, far greater inducements in the way of money bonuses, and could only rely on our more advantageous position as a manufacturing and railway centre as a counter balance, and the fact that the Edison Company have accepted our offer of land and other facilities rather than what they could have got from other places by way of a much larger money bonus than what it is going to cost us, is a proof that it is not money they are after, but a suitable place to carry on their business and land sufficient to allow for expansion of that business, which they fully are well be required. If we had tried to impose hard terms on the Company, we would never have secured them, and knowing that we were dealing with a wealthy, prosperous and enterprising concern, we did not seek to impose such terms as we would if there had been any doubt of their financial standing and business integrity. We felt confident that what they promised they would fulfil and know that they are not going to the great expense of removing their works from Sherbrooke, Montreal and Hamilton to this place, unless they are coming to stay; notwithstanding this we have from the Company, which, by the by, has a capital of $12 000,000, an agreement to secure the carrying out of their part of the arrangement.

Now for Mr. McNaughton's letter:—Mr. McNaughton complains that there is no clause in the by-law prohibiting the Company from erecting any buildings on the land to be granted to them except for manufacturing purposes or offices and thinks that if they are allowed to put up houses for their workingmen it would be unjust to the property owners and mechanics of the town. Assuming that the Company did intend to put up dwellings for their employes, how would this injure the mechanics? Would it not give them more work and employ many a man now idle? If any houses should be erected they will be taxed just as other property, and the land, which is now paying very little taxes, would bring in a good revenue to the town, as it is expressly provided by the agreement that only the property used for manufacturing purposes shall be exempt from taxation. But the company do not intend to build houses—this point was discussed with them, and they stated that at none of their factories have they done this (and they employ altogether over 5,000 hands), and that they had no intention of doing so in this case, but if they should do so, I fail to see how any one will be injured, least of all the mechanics of the town. There is no better way to fill the empty houses spoken of by Mr. McNaughton than to get such an industry here as the Edison Company. An expenditure of $150,000 per year in Peterborough more than is now spent, will, I think, increase our population to such an extent as to fill all our empty houses, even if the Edison employees did not rent one of them.

The cost of the sewer and water main is a matter I cannot speak of from personal knowledge, but I have it from good authority besides Mr. Belcher, that they will not cost $4,000, and the cost of sidings from the railways will probably cost the town very little as they will be put in by the railways.

As to the objection that the bylaw now before the people does not and should contain a clause that any private building that may be erected on the land to be given to the Company shall be liable to assessment, Mr. McNaughton as an old councillor, should know better than to take such a position. He should know that the present bylaw is simply one for raising the money for the purposes mentioned in it; it has nothing to do with exemption from taxes, that is a matter for the council to deal with, and they have, as above stated, agreed to exempt for a period of ten years only the property actually used by the Edison Company for manufacturing purposes.

I must congratulate Mr. McNaughton on the moderate tone of his letter and am glad of the opportunity of endeavouring to explain the true position of affairs, and trust he and others who may have at first, though—that the town council had not made a good bargain in their arrangements with the Edison Company and one in the interests of the ratepayers, may after further consideration change minds, and instead of finding fault with the council and showing a desire to oppose the best thing Peterborough has ever secured and that other places would give five or six times the amount to get, will, on the contrary, use all their influence, as men anxious for the prosperity and continued growth of the town, to secure the passing of the By-law.

The following extract from the St. Catherines Evening Journal of Sept 6th will show the disappointment of one place in not securing this company; and when the council there are blamed for bungling the matter in failing to secure them, we, it appears are blamed for succeeding, and as the Journal says on less favourable conditions for the company.

"WE ARE LEFT.

The hopes entertained by our people that the Edison Electric Light Company would locate their Canadian manufacturing business here are now shattered. The works go to Peterborough. It seems to us that the committee having this matter in charge must have bungled the matter; for surely our city must possess advantages far superior to the one in which the company decided to locate. The conditions seem much less favorable to the company than what we understand were held out here. Peterborough agrees to give a free site—some thirty acres on the outskirts of the town—and to provide a sewer and drainage for the works, to give connection with the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways and to exempt the works from taxation for ten years. This arrangement has been ratified by both parties, subject to the adoption of a by law to be voted on by the ratepayers on the 25th inst."

Board of Trade.

Members of the Board of Trade are requested to remember the adjourned quarterly meeting which will be held on Friday evening, Sept. 12, at the town council committee room. Important business will be brought before the meeting.

Springville.

From a Correspondent.

Harvesting is nearly a thing of the past, and farmers are busy with their fall seeding, or preparing for next year's crop.

There has been considerable threshing done, but the results are disappointing. Wheat averages 8 to 10 bushels per acre, barley about 15; oats are better than expected. The root crop is almost a failure, except those plots sown early. Potatoes are also a failure: the wet weather early in the season caused many fields to be ploughed up, and what is left is badly affected by the rot, and a potato famine is predicted. The fruit crop is far below the mark, especially apples. Altogether the prospects are, by no means, encouraging.

PERSONAL.—Our village has had its share of pleasure-seekers. The Misses Bair, of Toronto, has been renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones, the latter being facilitated by their amiable disposition and engaging manners.

Miss C. Bapte, of Norwood, has been visiting Mrs. A. Goodfellow.

Miss Carnahan and Miss Walsingham are the guests of Miss Maggie Fowler.

Mrs. A. Goodfellow, under the care of Dr. Carmichael, is recovering from her serious accident.

Mrs. J. Cathcart was attacked with serious illness while in Peterborough. Her recovery was at one time considered doubtful, but she is now convalescent.

Mr. Alf. Dundas met with a serious accident while threshing at W. Bothwell's. He got his fingers crushed in the gearing, rendering amputation necessary. Dr. Carmichael performed the operation.

Our village blacksmith had a narrow escape from a serious accident while shoeing a horse for Capt. Walsh.

The musical portion of the services in the Presbyterian church shows marked improvement. The choir is now in good shape. The bass solo by Mr. Hunter was well given.

Miss Campbell has again returned to her duties, accompanied by her sister, Miss Beatrice, who has organized a class for musical instruction. Your correspondent wishes Miss Campbell the success she merits.

Mr. Nesbitt, D.D.H.C.R., C.O.F., will organize a court of the order at this place about the first of October.

Personal.

Mr. R. H. Green leaves to-day for a few weeks at Preston Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Fortye arrived home last night, and have taken up residence on Simcoe street west.

Miss Minnie Logan, of E. Welch's confectionery store, leaves to-night for the North-West, where she will spend a couple of weeks visiting friends.

Messrs E. Peplow and H. A. Mulhern, Peterborough, are attending the meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association in Toronto, and taking a prominent part in the proceedings.

Mr. Thos Couch, of the Wm. Hamilton works, has returned from his trip to England, well pleased with his visit and with some valuable engineering ideas which he picked up.

Mr. John Outterson and his son, Mr. Geo. Outterson, of Caledonia, N.Y., are in town for a few day's visit. They left Peterborough forty years ago and have not been here since. They, of course, scarcely recognized the town after the great changes that have been wrought during the period of their absence.

News Nuggets.

—The band played in the park last night in their usual excellent style to the usual crowd of people. The special selections were much admired.

—The adjourned quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade will be held at the council chamber Friday night.

—The big bell under the town clock will be moved to its new quarters to-morrow along the roof of the market building.

—Mr. Walter Stocker's face bears the marks of an encounter with a runaway horse, which he succeeded in stopping on the market square this morning.

—Hamilton possesses an Indian relic mine. It is here probably that the hatchet was dug up which Hamilton editors are using to carve the Toronto hog.

—In 1887 the exports of Peterborough amounted to $302 651; in 1888 to $364 293; in 1889 to $316.730, an increasing decrease. For 1887 the imports were $253 643; for 1888, $260.215; for 1889, $272 516, an increasing increase.

Cannons Verses Canons.

An old writer said that when CANNONS were introduced as negotiators, the CANONS of the church were undone; that the world was governed first by MITHUM and then by NITRUM—first by ST. PETER and then by SALTPETRE. The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes are in no way indebted to CANNONS or CANONS, MITHUM or NITRUM, ST. PETER or SALTPETRE for the great popularity of their goods. True, they acknowledge the great power of the press, and the kind and truthful recommendations of thousands of ladies; still Diamond Dyes have gained their present high position in public favour solely through their great merits. Imitators and makers of crude and worthless dyes, rely for success from the fact that their dyes are put up in similar style. Do not be deceived because this is done; remember the great point is to obtain grand colours that are bright, fashionable and lasting; these qualities can only be found in Diamond Dyes.

Miss Delaney's Fall Millinery.

Miss Delaney has returned from her annual autumnal visit to Montreal and Toronto. She visited all the millinery openings and, from the wide range of selections presented, chose the finest, most fashionable and most varied stock of millinery ever bought for the Peterborough market. Miss Delaney's fall stock of millinery and allied goods will repay inspection. Choice complete and varied, fashionable, stylish and good, are terms that only partially express its beauty, and the claims it has upon the attention of the ladies of Peterborough who are cordially invited to call and see this stock before thinking of buying a fall hat or bonnet. Miss Delaney would especially draw attention to her splendid stock of frillings which have arrived direct from Germany. In fact, however, every line in every department is worthy of special notice, and this establishment is now in a better position to serve the wants of the public and to guarantee the greatest satisfaction in every case. 3357-1w

BLACK

Black is a good card to play this season. Black hose have, of course, long been standbys, but black for other articles of attire is a very recent discovery. To-day, a man can wear every single article of attire, black, and still be "in the swim"—although he will, of course, look very grief-stricken. In our show window we are displaying

Black Shirts
Black Hose
Black Bows

Black Suspenders
Black Silk Handkerchiefs
Black Four-in-hand Ties

Black Knot Scarfs
Black Broad Puff Ties
Black Kid Gloves &c.

Gentlemen does your inclination or necessity make you wear black, if so, we beg to say, that our furnishing stock is not excelled by any in variety or beauty, and while in price, we perhaps go as high as the highest, we are noted for having lines at the most popular figures and we can satisfy the most fastidious and exacting dressers.

GENERAL CONFERENCE.

OPENING OF THE METHODIST COUNCIL AT MONTREAL.

A Great Gathering of Leading Lights of the Church—Rev. Mr. Hendis Chosen Secretary on the Second Ballot—The General Superintendent's Address.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Church having jurisdiction throughout the whole of Canada, met this morning at St. James' Church. The representation numbers 290, drawn from the annual conferences throughout the Dominion.

Rev. Dr Carman presided, and in addition to the delegates, lay and ministerial, there were many spectators of the proceedings. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. Ryckman, Jolliffe, Houston and Whiting. The morning session was wholly occupied with the calling of the roll, and it was made a rule of the conference to amend the list in accordance with the report of the presidents of conferences.

Rev. Mr. Hendis was chosen secretary on the second ballot.

In the afternoon a nominating committee was appointed from each conference according to its size. Rev. Dr. Carman then gave his opening address, advocating reforms in the court of appeal, referring to the standing committee appointed at the last conference in connection with temperance and making suggestions in connection with the superannuation fund.

In the evening Dr. Carman preached, urging the importance of the institutions of the church and that they be adequately supported by tithe-giving.

The Confederation question will probably not be reached for several days.

MEMOIR'S ST. LEGER.

The Duke of Portland Again Captures the Rich Stake;

LONDON, Sept. 10.—This was the second day of the Doncaster September meeting, the event of the card being the St. Leger Stakes for three year-olds. Of the long list of entries sixteen horses faced the starter. The result was a genuine surprise, as it was generally considered that Hermine, Surefoot or Sainfoin, carrying the bulk of the money, would capture the prize. However, the Duke of Portland with his br. f. Memoir scraped in the pot. The colt was reported until a few weeks back, when afforded her owner the opportunity of getting a pile of money up at very long odds. Blue Green was heavily backed and was the only one of the favorites to not altogether disappoint her backers. The colt finished two lengths behind Memoir and about the same distance in front of Gonsalvo, who ran a plucky race for the whole distance.

The St. Leger was also won by the Duke of Portland's stable last year, when Donovan captured the purse. In '88 Lord Calthorpe with Seabreeze was the winner. In '87 Lord Rodney's Kilwarlin took the prize and in '86 the great Ormonde owned by the Duke of Westminster was first at the wire.

The St. Leger Stakes of 25 sovs each for three year olds; colts 8st, fillies 8st 11 lb; the owner of the second horse to receive 200 sovs, and the third 100 sovs out of the stakes; old St. Leger course (about 1 mile 6 furlongs and 132 yards)—221 subs. Closed Sept. 18, 1889.

MARSEILLES, Sept. 10.—The steamer Taurus has arrived here with mariners and soldiers from Dahomey. The men are in a pitiable condition, their health having been completely shattered by the hardships they have endured. The Taurus brings the details of the defeat of Egbas by the Dahomians. The victors, it appears, destroyed thirty villages and took 3000 prisoners. The Dahomians showed no mercy and were guilty of the most inhuman acts of cruelty. All the natives that were captured in the villages were killed, many of them being burned alive. Egbas and 2000 followers fled to the Catholic Mission at Abbeokuta. King Behanzin afterwards advanced into the interior and captured 3000 more prisoners. A thousand women who were made prisoners were put to death.

The Threatened Irish Famine.

DUBLIN, Sept. 10.—John Dillon, M.P., presiding at a National League meeting here last night, said he had taken great pains to inform himself of the condition of affairs in Ireland, and he regretted to say that his inquiries during the past three weeks had shown in many cases that the failure of the potato crop was more complete than in 1879. Referring to the possibility of establishing a famine fund, Mr. Dillon said the simplest method was for the charitable to send checks to the various landlords in the distressed districts to buy them off and let the tenants keep what they had. That would be better than distributing the money among the poor. With the Government rested the responsibility to provide for those people. If they do not choose to accept the responsibility, let them give the Irish leaders power to aid the people.

Armenians and Circassians Fight

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 10.—The Porte has dispatched troops to Izmindt in consequence of reports of several conflicts there between Armenians and Circassians. The Government has issued a decree appointing a commission to inquire into the causes of the discontent in Armenia and to consider the question of the privileges and immunities of the Armenian and Greek Churches.

An Expedition to the North.

QUEBEC, Sept. 10.—The government is sending out a party, composed chiefly of Indians, and under the control of Mr. Cherleson, to explore the unsold timber limits on the Upper Ottawa. The party of explorers will go north to the waters at the head of Hudson Bay, and it is expected that new and rich fields of timber will be discovered. The exploration will take about three months.

A $70,000 Blaze at New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The large fancy goods store of M. Strausky, Bros. & Co., extending through the block from 124th to 125th street, West Third-avenue, was gutted by fire early this evening. The loss is $70,000. It is believed the watchman employed in the store was burned to death.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSED

A HOT SIX HOURS' DEBATE IN THE WASHINGTON SENATE.

Mr. Hiscock Bitterly Arraigns the Democratic Party and Senators on That Side of the House Denounce the Bill—Senator Sherman Writes a Letter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—At 5½ p.m. the Senate passed the Tariff Bill, 40 to 29.

The six hours' debate preceding the final vote was opened by Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.), who said that he had voted yesterday for the Aldrich amendment with some hesitation, and should not have done so if he had thought that the scheme contained in the amendment was all that was likely to come out of entering on that policy. He thought that in the forefront of any policy on the reciprocity question the United States should determine to put an end, as far as legislation could do it, to the practices of foreign nations imposing export duties.

Mr. Hiscock (Rep., N.Y.) commenced his speech with a bitter arraignment of Democratic senators, who he said had surpassed their predecessors and themselves in charlatanism, demagogism, misrepresentation and in sincere profession of devotion to the industrial interests of the country. Every effort to provide free homes and secure free speech for the laboring classes had been resisted by the Democratic party up to 1861 by every method which statesmanship could devise and ruffianism execute, and the last great effort had culminated in civil war, and that party had since then opposed all measures that looked to the elevation and to the assurance of equal rights of the laboring classes of the old slave states. The effects of this bill would be so beneficial that it would remain a long time undisturbed, and even the Democrats would change front and proclaim their devotion to the principle of protection. * * * When the present Congress met last December the price of wheat in Chicago had been 79 cents per bushel. On Aug. 30 it had been $1.01 a bushel, making an advance of 22 cents a bushel since the opening of the Republican congress. The total increase in the value of the wheat crop of 1889 was $154,000,000, of the corn crop $127,000,000 and of the oats crop $108,000,000. Nearly all other farm products had advanced in like manner and if to them were added the increased value of the other products of industry the grand total would largely exceed $1,000,000,000.

Mr. Gibson (Dem., La.) called attention to some points in the sugar schedule under which he said the whole sugar crop of Louisiana would be forced upon the market at a sacrifice of $1,000,000 or $1,500,000, which would be added to the profit of the sugar trust.

Mr. Turpie (Dem., Ind.) spoke in opposition to the bill. He said the senator from New York (Hiscock) had declared the bill would become a law—that was very clear. But as it was the worst of tariff laws so it would be the last that would come under the guise of protection to the American laborer, tax him for the benefit of exclusive privilege and strip labor of its earnings and finally of its rights. He believed the law would not be permanent either in its administration or its principles.

Mr. Vest, Dem., Mo., was the next speaker. He said he would not emulate the example of the senator from New York and follow him into the domain of epithet and vituperation. Regarding reciprocity Mr. Vest declared the people of the west could not give up the market of Great Britain. The English were bound to have the wheat, corn and meat products of the west. The South American people did not want those products. He opposed the reciprocity amendment because it committed to the President powers which were abhorrent to the principles of the government.

Mr. Vance (Dem., N.C.) said that in closing the debate on the Democratic side he was performing a duty, but he knew it had already been decided that the bill was to pass. The bill was in conflict with all the principles of public finance. The bill had but one redeeming feature and that was its intense and naked selfishness, which would be the means of arousing the conscience of the people and of leading to its repeal.

Mr. Jones (Rep., Nev.) delivered a learned and philosophical address in commendation of the protective system and its effect in developing the mechanical arts and industrial forces of the nation.

After the vote had been taken Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R.I.) moved that the Senate insist on its amendments to the House bill and ask for a committee of conference, to consist of seven on each side. The motion was agreed to and Messrs. Aldrich, Sherman, Allison, Hiscock, McPherson, Vance and Carlisle were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

SHERMAN'S RESOLUTION.

The Ohio Senator's Explanation—No Chance for Debate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Senator Sherman has written from Washington to Erastus Wiman that the resolution in favor of reciprocity with Canada would have passed the Senate in connection with the McKinley Bill had there been any chance for debate, but the impatience over the tariff bill and the large interests at stake because of delay induced him not to press the resolution now, but later in the session or in December, upon the re-assembling of Congress; the proposal is certain to pass both Houses.

It is announced from Washington that the pressure in behalf of the resolution is already very great from all quarters of the country. Hundreds of letters have been received from prominent persons urging the passage of the resolution.

CHARGED WITH BAYONETS.

Southampton Streets Again Cleared by the Soldiers.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 10.—At 9 o'clock tonight the troops were obliged to make a succession of bayonet charges in order to clear the streets. At midnight the excitement had subsided. Two gunboats have arrived off this port. The union have issued an order withdrawing their pickets. This action causes surprise and gives color to a rumor that the London leaders will not help the strikers.

Sage Loans Dr. Talmage $125,000.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 10.—Russell Sage has agreed to loan $125,000 for one year to enable Dr. Talmage to complete his new tabernacle. Mr. Sage is secured by a guarantee company. Dr. Talmage has insured his life for $25,000, the policy to be a partial security for the loan.

MADE GOLD FROM LEAD.

AT LEAST THAT'S WHAT THEY CLAIMED TO DO.

Clever Capture at New York of Two Accomplished Swindlers—Their Intended Victim Aids Inspector Byrnes' Men—Cunning Criminals Snared.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Two of the cleverest men who have ever defrauded their fellow-men by the time-honored gold-making scheme have been bagged after a long and exciting chase. They are Charles Morrell, 36 years old, alias Baluese, and Charles Harris, 38 years old, alias Ceregnino. They are both of foreign birth. Inspector Byrnes learned of their presence within two days after their arrival here a couple of months ago and detailed Detectives McCluskey and Crowley to watch them.

About six weeks ago Morrell made the acquaintance of a wealthy miner from the west by convincing the latter that they had met before, and the two became fast friends. The Westerner was speedily enlightened as to the character of Morrill, and it was arranged that Detective Conway should be introduced to the swindler as a young man from the west who had just come into a fortune and was looking for the best way of investing. Morrell, however, was extremely cautious and it was not until last Saturday that he apparently became satisfied that his western friend was what he said he was. Previous to this Morrell, in talking of business matters with the detective, had hinted at being engaged in a big money-making scheme. To all these advances the detective had cleverly acceded, so that on Saturday night when Morrell asked the detective to come to his room and talk over the big scheme he readily consented. The room was in an uptown hotel. During all this time Harris had been kept in the background. Next door to the room occupied by Morrell Harris had engaged another.

After the swindler has produced his metals, crucibles and other paraphernalia for the alleged manufacture of gold and has thoroughly convinced the dupe that the operation of making good coin from base metal is practicable, he makes some excuse and leaves the room, carrying the materials with him. Once outside he slips the bag into the hands of his confederate, who conceals it in his own room. Should the dupe turn out to be a representative of the law, or should he attempt to turn the swindler over to the police, the latter are unable to find the slightest evidence against him beyond the plain statement of the intended victim. It was by means of these same precautions that Morrell and his partner Harris had so frequently in the past eluded the snares laid for them by the police of various cities.

But Inspector Byrnes was equal to any ruse of this kind. Near the room in the hall Detective McCluskey, dressed as a hotel porter, was engaged in cleaning the gas globes, while the other detective, Crowley, was busy fixing a curtain at the end of the corridor.

When the two men reached Morrell's room the latter proceeded by means of an elaborate collection of moulds, crucibles, cheap metal (called "spelter") and various bottles said to contain acids, to convince the supposed westerner that he could make good $10 gold pieces. By a clever ruse which would take too long to describe, the swindler succeeded in producing a genuine $10 gold piece from the mould into which only a moment before the detective believed he had seen the base metal poured. So well was the deception performed that the disguised detective, had he not been familiar with the trick, would almost certainly have been convinced of the truth of the man's assertions.

"Well, now, how much do you want to invest in this?" asked Morrell, holding out the genuine coin for inspection. "I'll make you $20,000 worth for $2500. But of course I must have the cash down."

The detective pretended to examine the coin minutely. It had been a long and wearisome chase, and now, at the moment of victory, his heart beat so that he feared it could be heard by the others. Lying on the table beside the other articles were two formidable-looking revolvers and before him stood a man with the coolness and daring to use them at a moment's notice. A false step and everything would be lost, and his life, perhaps, pay the penalty. He pretended to hesitate and coolly drew a fat roll of bills from an inside pocket.

"I guess you may give me $5000 worth."

"All right," said Morrell. "That settles it. We'll conclude the bargain by and by. In the meantime I'll just pack these things up again and deposit them with the clerk for safekeeping. I'll have to leave you alone for a minute," he added, as he slipped the revolvers in his pocket. He then opened the door and was gone. Instead of going to the office, however, he slipped into the next room and transfer the red bag to his confederates.

Now was the time for action. As Morrell came out of the room and passed Detective McCluskey in the hall, the supposed hall porter sprang upon him from behind, and pinioned his arms. Crowley ran to the room Morrell had just left, and finding Harris with the bag in his hand, covered him with his revolver. In a few minutes, with the assistance of Conway, the pair were handcuffed and on their way to Police Headquarters.

To Inspector Byrnes Morrell frankly admitted his guilt, and acknowledged that he had been engaged in the goldmaking swindle for the last five years. He is believed to have swindled a number of men in the South and West, and has once or twice been arrested, but has heretofore always escaped imprisonment. A few years ago, it is said, he swindled a United States Marshal out of $8000 in El Paso, Texas. Harris resolutely denies all knowledge of the attempted fraud or acquaintance with Morrell.

Both men were arraigned at the Tombs Police Court on Sunday, and committed for further examination on the charge of forgery in the second degree, which is believed to be the only law under which they can be convicted. Inspector Byrnes says that he has not made a more important arrest for a year or more.

A Drug Clerk's Fatal Error.

HALIFAX, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Crozier, an old and respected resident of Digby, had been ill for the past few days and yesterday a doctor was called, who prescribed for her. The prescription was taken to the drug store of Stark & Co. and by mistake the clerk sent 15 grains of strychnine. Shortly after it was administered the patient became violently ill and died in great agony.

Western Union Earnings.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Western Union directors to-day declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. The statement estimates the net revenue for the quarter at $2,000,000.

WEDDED AT HAMILTON.

Nuptials of a Toronto Barrister and an Ambitious City Belle.

HAMILTON, Sept. 10.—All Saints' Church this afternoon was thronged with fashionable people, drawn thither to witness the nuptials of Miss Mary Ethel Stewart, step-daughter of W. J. Lindsay of the Bank of Hamilton, and Fred Clarence Jarvis, barrister of Toronto. The ceremony took place at 3½ and was performed by Rev. George Forneret, assisted by Dean Geddes of Christ Church Cathedral and Rev. Mr. Brydges of Lakewood, N.J., brother-in-law of the groom.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Mabel Stewart, sister of the bride; Miss Atkinson of Chatham, Miss Mason of Toronto, Miss Kate Mills of Hamilton and Miss Annie Lindsey, sister of the bride. The best man was Arnold Morphy of Toronto. The ushers were J. Moss, Alexander Boyd and Master Colborne Meredith of Toronto, and Alexander Hardy of Brantford.

The bride wore a gown of white faille, trimmed with guipure lace; a wreath of orange blossoms and a tulle veil completed the costume. Her traveling dress was of brown tailor-made tweed with hat to match. The bridesmaids wore grey brocaded lustre trimmed with crepe du chine and silver lace: gray toques trimmed with ostrich tips, and all carried bunches of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis left at 6.40 for New York and Boston.

Scott-Guthrie at Guelph.

GUELPH, Sept. 10.—A fashionable wedding took place here this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the contracting parties being Miss Jessie, eldest daughter of Mr. Donald Guthrie, Q.C., M.L.A., and Mr. James Scott, jr., of the firm of Charles Cockshutt & Co., Toronto. The bride and groom left at 4½ for an extended tour in the States.

Jordan-McDonald at Halifax.

HALIFAX, Sept. 10.—The marriage of Rev. Louis H. Jordan of Montreal and Miss Katie McDonald, daughter of Chief Justice McDonald, was solemnized this afternoon in St. Andrew's Church in the presence of a large gathering.

THE U.S. CROPS.

September Reports Less Favorable than the Earlier Estimates.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The national crop reports for September show that the injury to the corn crop reported last month was intensified by continuance of drought in August until the rains came to its relief, but too late for full recovery. The average is 70.1, against 73.3 last month. It is the lowest average since 1881.

The returns of condition of winter wheat at the time of harvesting are less favorable than those of the first of July. So far as threshing has progressed the results are generally disappointing. The January average was 76.2, the present average 73.5. The general average of spring wheat has also been reduced from 83.2 to 79.8. The average for wheat of both kinds is 75.5. In 1888 the September average for both kinds of wheat was 87. It was 75 in 1881. The yield of spring wheat is unusually variable in the Dakotas, ranging from high yields to 5 bushels and less per acre. The progress of threshing will develop the extent of these differences.

Rye yields less than was expected, as the condition as reported is reduced to 85.4. The September condition of oats is the lowest ever reported, having fallen from 70.1 in August to 64.4. The rate of yield will be the smallest in 20 years.

The condition of barley is not very seriously lowered, from 82.8 to 78.6. Buckwheat has fully maintained its August condition, the average being 90.5 against 90.1. The figures for potatoes have fallen since Aug. 1 from 77.4 to 65.7, the lowest average ever before reported, that of 1887, being 67.3. Tobacco has improved materially during the month, the average being 82.4, much better than in the August report but lower than the July condition. The reported percentage for fattening swine is 97 per cent. and their condition 93.7.

The returns of the Department of Agriculture for September show that the general average condition of cotton has declined from 89.5 in August to 85.5.

TIED UP BY A FLOOD.

Traffic Stopped on the Erie—The Situation at Hornellsville Serious

HORNELLSVILLE, N.Y., Sept. 10.—The highest flood which has been known in this section since 1820, with one exception, visited the valley of the Canisteo this morning after a night of unusually hard rains. At 8 o'clock this morning a third of the city was inundated. Crosby Creek was sweeping down Canisteo-street and covering the Erie yards. Canacanea Creek was overflowing, as was the river. The fire department was called out and did good work in securing bridges and buildings. The Erie is completely tied up, no through trains running since midnight, when train No. 5 went up the western division, but that has been stopped at Andover all day, unable to go either way. Three through trains have been lying at this city all day. One is at Addison and a fifth at Cameron with no prospect of an opening before morning. It is now raining heavily and the streams are rapidly rising again, and unless it stops within an hour disastrous results will follow.

Advices from Canisteo report that village completely under water and at the mercy of the stream. Almond and Alfred Centre are badly flooded and much damage has been done. Advices from Wellsville say that the water is unusually high at that place and all bridges in that section are gone. At Corning many houses are surrounded and much damage done. The Northern Central has trouble at Watkins, where the tracks are flooded and washed out.

Fooling the Farmers.

HAMILTON, Sept. 10.—A young man named Robert Bessey was arrested in the market early this morning. It will be remembered that some time ago Bessey was taken into custody here on a charge of defrauding certain farmers south of the city, with whom he had butter and egg transactions. He was then sent to Cayuga, brought before a police magistrate and admitted to bail until the prosecution was ready. Before the date set for the examination Bessey jumped his bail and went to Buffalo. He came back yesterday and there lying a warrant for his arrest it was executed. The prisoner was handed over to Constable Winslow of Cayuga and taken back to that town to-day. It is said that there are quite a number of charges against Bessey and when the authorities are through with him in Cayuga he will be handed over to the Dunnville officers.

Acadian Dynamite.

HALIFAX, Sept. 10.—Acadia mines last night an attempt was made to blow up the residence of C. W. Totten with dynamite. The house was wrecked but the occupants escaped serious injury.

Growing Very Profane.

Mrs. Binks is a pleasant, mild-mannered little woman, who is almost heart-broken over the fact that her husband is addicted to the use of profanity.

"Why don't you swear back at him?" said her sister one day.

"I couldn't do anything like that," said Mrs. Binks. But her sister is a woman with much force of character, and succeeded in exacting a promise that this rigorous method would be tried.

Mr. Binks came home rather tired, and not in a very amiable mood.

"Well," he said as he glanced over the table disgustedly, "if this ain't the slimmest meal I ever saw I'll be d——"

"So—so will I, John," rejoined Mrs. Binks meekly.—Washington Post.

Charged With Train Wrecking.

TROY, N.Y., Sept. 10.—John Reed, another of the alleged train wreckers, was brought to Troy this afternoon from Albany and arraigned before Judge Griffith. The prisoner pleaded not guilty to the formal charge and said he did not care for an examination at present. He was committed to the Troy jail. The grand jury will convene Monday and it is probable that the cases of the train wreckers will be considered at once.

A TALK ABOUT MANTLES —AT— TURNBULL'S

Look out for this column during the Fall and Winter. It will keep you posted in dry goods news, and let you know about the bargains we offer from time to time. Our counters and shelves are now fairly groaning under the weight of new goods. Never before did we offer such an attractive stock as to-day. The new Mantle Cloths are just beautiful, the styles are so new both in black and colors. We show Black Astrachan Cloth so fine that it is a perfect imitation of the real thing. Any one thinking of getting an Astrachan or Polarian Mantle made to order this season should by all means see our stock before purchasing. Samples sent by mail if required.

We felt the want last season of a larger range of Ladies' and Children's ready-made Mantles, and have imported a well selected stock in both long Mantles and short Jackets, in plain and fancy cloths. Every body can be suited as we import direct and mark the goods close.

A beautiful lot of fancy pantings arrived for the Gents' Furnishing Department this week. Try our tailor.

We are selling 8 pair of Men's Merino Half Hose for $1.00. Our Dress Trimmings from London, England, have arrived. As London is the best market in the world for these goods we believe the goods we are offering will be appreciated.

Drop in and see the new shades in Dress Goods; we have the full range of shades in several makes of Cloth.

THE McKINLEY TARIFF.

The Measure as it Was Finally Adopted.

How Canada is Affected—Full Text of the Agricultural, Lumber and Fish Schedules as Revised and Engrossed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The schedules of most interest to Canada in the new Tariff Bill are the fish, agricultural and lumber schedules. They have been changed in some important particulars since the bill was originally drafted by Mr. McKinley and his associates of the Ways and Means Committee of the House. Inasmuch as the full expectation is that the House will agree to the schedules without any change, and that the bill is to become law and take effect on October 1st, it may be of interest to Canadian farmers, fishermen and business men to have before them the exact text of the main features of these schedules. They are as follows :—

THE LUMBER SCHEDULE.

The lumber schedule, known as "Schedule D; Wood and Manufactures of," run thus :—

Timber hewn and sawed, and timber used for spars and in building wharves, 10 per cent. ad val.

Timber, squared or sided, not specially provided for in this act, one-half of one cent per cubic foot.

Sawed boards, plank, deals and other lumber of hemlock, whitewood, sycamore and basswood, one dollar per thousand feet board measure; white pine, one dollar per thousand feet board measure.

Sawed lumber, not specially provided for in this act, two dollars per thousand feet board measure; but when lumber of any sort is planed or finished, in addition to the rates herein provided there shall be levied and paid for each side so planed or finished 50 cents per thousand feet board measure; and if planed on one side and tongued and grooved, one dollar per thousand feet board measure; and if planed on two sides and tongued and grooved, $1.50 per thousand feet board measure; and in estimating board measure under this schedule no deduction shall be made on board measure on account of planing, tongueing and jointing; provided, that in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon pine, spruce, elm or other logs or upon staves-bolts, shingles, wood or heading blocks exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon the sawed lumber herein provided for when imported from such country shall remain the same as fixed by the law in force prior to the passage of this act.

Cedar posts, paving posts, railroad ties and telegraph poles of cedar, 25 per cent. ad val.

Pine clapboards, $1 per thousand.

Spruce clapboards, $1.50 per thousand.

Hubs for wheels, posts, last blocks, waggon-blocks, car-blocks, gun-blocks, heading-blocks, and all like blocks or sticks, rough-hewn or sawed only, 20 per cent. ad val.

Lath, 15 cents per thousand pieces.

Pickets and palings, 10 per cent. ad val.

White pine shingles, 20 cents per thousand; all others, 30 cents.

Staves of wood of all kinds, 10 per cent. ad val.

Casks and barrels (empty), sugar-box shooks and packing-box shooks, of wood, not specially provided for in this act, 30 per cent. ad val.

House or cabinet furniture, of wood, wholly or partly finished, 35 per cent. ad val.

Manufactures of wood, or of which wood is the component material of chief value, not specially provided for in this Act, 35 per cent. ad val.

THE AGRICULTURAL SCHEDULE.

The agricultural schedule, known as "Schedule Y, Agricultural Products and Provisions," runs thus :—

Animals—Horses and mules, $30 per head; provided, that horses valued at $1 50 and over shall pay a duty of 30 per cent. ad val.

The Farmers' Delegates.

QUEBEC, Sept. 8.—Among the passengers of the Allan line steamship Circassian who arrived here yesterday were the delegates of the England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales Farming Association. They were invited by the Canadian Government to visit Canada to examine farming lands in order to bring from the English farming districts a greater flow of emigration. Their names are :—Col. Fane, of Lincolnshire; G. B. Brown, representing the north of Scotland; A. N. Daniel, of Norwich, representing Norfolk and Suffolk; W. Edward, of Ruthven, representing North Wales; D. Hutchinson, of Cumberland, representing the north of England; E. R. Murphy, chairman of the Tralee Board of Guardians, representing the southwest of Ireland. Mr. Spear arrived here on the 7th inst. More delegates are expected by the first steamer. The delegates proceeded to Ottawa from Quebec. The Government will place a special train at their disposition to go to Vancouver.

A Wreck in The Black Hills.

DEADWOOD, S.D., Sept. 9.—On Sunday evening a passenger train over the Black Hills & Fort Pierre Railroad ran into 100 tons of rock that had fallen on the track from an overhanging cliff, ten miles this side of Piedmont, derailing the engine and badly shaking up the passengers. A despatch was sent by one of the road's officials for a wrecking train, and another official telephoned for a new engine. The engine and wrecking train collided and a complete wreck was the result. Fifteen or twenty of the men on the wrecking train were badly injured. The road is a narrow gauge and had just been opened to the public.

A Septuagenarian Drowned.

KINGSTON, Sept. 9.—Duncan Ferguson of Admaston, in feeble health, went out Monday to enjoy a favorite pastime—boating on Colton Lake. In some way the boat upset and he was left to flounder in the lake. His cries were heard, but before help could be secured he went down forever. The body was soon recovered. He was 73 years of age and a member of the Presbyterian church.

The Young Idea.

Fannie's mamma is a great hand to borrow of her next door neighbor. One day Fannie went into the neighbor's for a visit, but found them all ready to go away to stay a week.

"Is 'oo all doin' at once?"

"Yes, baby and all."

"Why," she said, in an aggrieved tone, "how tan 'oo? My mamma will want to bor' 'tings."

A Well-Known Resort.

"Is your family going to Newport, Bobbit?"

"Yes."

"Where are you going?"

"I don't know yet. Into bankruptcy, very likely."—Epoch.

Tastes Differ.

Stern Father of the Girl.—I saw you kiss my daughter as I passed the parlor a while ago, and I want you to know I don't like it!

Young Man (smacking his lips)—You may not, but I do.—Epoch.

Unbearable Agony.

For three days I suffered severely from summer complaint. Nothing gave me relief and I kept getting worse until the pain was almost unbearable, but after I had taken the first dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, I found great relief, and it did not fail to cure me. WM. T. GLYNN, Wilfrid, Ont. 2w37d

Wilson's Wild Cherry.

For nearly twenty years this valuable medicine has been largely used for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Loss of Voice, and Lungs. Those who know its value always recommend it to their friends knowing that Wilson's Wild Cherry never disappoints. The genuine is sold by all druggists in white wrappers only. dw

The Sambro Lighthouse

is at Sambro, N. S., whence Mr. R. E. Hartt, writes as follows :—"Without a doubt Burdock Blood Bitters has done me a lot of good, I was sick and weak and had no appetite, but B.B.B. made me feel smart and strong. Were its virtues more widely known, many lives would be saved. 2w37d

A Solemn Vow.

Burns vowed to love his Highland Mary "while grass grows and water runs," and so long as nature continues to present these phenomena it is safe to bet that Imperial Cream Tartar Baking Powder will make the best biscuit. t,th,s-w

There are many white soaps in the market each represented to be as good as Bailley's. They are not, but like all counterfeits, lack that peculiar and remarkable quality of the genuine. Ask for Bailey's Electric or Cyclone, and insist upon getting it. tuf-w

COLD, wet weather is very hard on sufferers from Neuralgia troubles, and to those Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended. It is palatable, easily assimilated, and can be safely taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d46

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

—In TEAS—

Great attention is paid. Much injury is caused by the use of adulterated and impure Tea, especially at the present time, when so many dealers try to outdo each other in the quantity they can offer for a dollar. To escape the serious risks of injurious Tea you can rest assured you will get nothing but strictly fine Teas at MASONS.

—IN COFFEES—

The same can be said. We sell the truest product grown.

—In SUGARS—

STONY LAKE CAMPERS WILL FIND AT JUNIPER ISLAND STORE

A full assortment of Groceries, Canned Goods and Campers' Supplies generally—a first class stock, fresh and reliable, and at Peterborough prices. The popularity of this store last year and the favor with which it was received—has induced us to enlarge the building and lay in a much larger stock this season so that campers may be saved the trouble and annoyance of bringing their supplies from town and other places, as they can be equally as well served by us. Being centrally situated, it is easy of access—the Steamer passing close to the Island both entering and leaving Stony Lake.

TALK OF THE DAY.

Never in the swim—the girl with the expensive bathing suit.—[Bouton Transcript.

"Mamma, let me hold the baby, will you?" "No, dear; mother is afraid you might let him fall on Fido."—[Life.

He Knew Her—Beach beauty—"Will this bathing dress shrink?" Clerk—"Yes, ma'am but not from sand or publicity."—[Lowell Citizen.

Lift her up tenderly,
Treat her with care,
The banana peel tripped her
And then she can't swear.
—[Philadelphia Times.

"Now," said the tramp who had been laboring at the wood-pile, "I'll go around to the kitchen and see if I can't cash a few of these chips."—[Washington Post.

Bunting—"You would not think that a keyhole was in need of sympathy." Larkin—"No, why?" Bunting—"Yet there is often a fellow feeling for it."—[Munsey's Weekly.

Now let the women do our work,
And let us cook the hash,
For now they wear our laundried shirt,
And we—we wear their sash.
—[Ashland Press.

Only a mean, small, revengeful man will conspicuously go away for a month's vacation just as his friends are coming home from their vacations all tired out.—[Louisville Journal.

Horse dealer—"Count, you had certainly better buy that horse. He is perfectly sound." "I believe you. If he hadn't been sound he would never have lived to such an age."—[Fliegende Blatter.

The Blizzard is far too courteous and considerate to call any lady a chump. "We therefore make bare mention of the fact that the record is at hand of a Louisville woman of 28 marrying a man 80 years old who has twenty-nine children.—[Oil City Blizzard.

"Jinks—"Of all mean, grasping men I think Minks is the worst. I don't believe he ever gets his thoughts off of dollars and cents." Blinks—"What has he been doing?" Jinks—"He has been asking me for a paltry $10 I borrowed of him years ago."—[New York Weekly.

Looking Backward.

He opened our office door one day,
And in a voice as loud as thunder,
He called out in stentorian tones,
Nearly bursting his lungs asunder.

"Umbrellas to mend, umbrellas to mend,
Very fine jobbing I can do;
I'll fix 'em up for fifty cents,
And make 'em look as good as new."

He looked so honest, the price so small,
And seemed such a very hard working feller,
That we thought of a hole in our "Sunday best,"
And gave him to mend—our silk umbrella.

For an hour or more we waited and then
Thought 'twas time he had fixed the hole,
We looked out the door, and by Great Scott!
He had skipped with our ten-dollar "parasol."
E. D. GIBBS.

A Summer Episode.

"If you will not be mine," he said in tremulous tones, "I shall not throw a shadow on your sweet young life by any deed of desperation, but I shall simply go out in the cold, cold world and——"

"Cold, cold world!" she exclaimed, excitedly interrupting him, at the same time fanning herself with a large ten-acre refrigerator-pattern palmleaf blower; "Cold, cold world, did you say, Algy?"

"Yes," he responded bitterly. "But why do you ask, heartless girl?"

"Because, Algy, dear"—and her voice softened—"if there's any cold, cold world anywhere in this neighborhood and you can get into it, I will re-consider my original motion and join you. Is it a go Algy, old boy?"

But Algy was a clerk in the weather bureau.—[Washington Star.

The Usual Way.

Waiter—Will you gentlemen have your coffee now, or later on?

Guest—We will take it right now.

Waiter—I was going to say, if you wanted it right away, you will have to wait about half an hour.—[Texas Siftings.

A Transaction in Wine.

Boston Transcript: Customer: "How much is this wine?" Clerk: "That wine, mem, is a prime article, and I know you'll like it. Everybody does. Is that your little boy? Fine-looking little lad; anybody could see that he was your son. Here, Charley, don't you want a cookey? This wine, mem, is worth $150 a gross. Have it sent, of course?" Customer: "Oh, I only wanted a quarter of a pint." Clerk: "Quarter of a pint? You'll find the homeopathic dispensary on the next street. Will you pay for that cookey or have it charged?"

He Wouldn't Stop.

Two or three days ago an elderly man who was apparently waiting for a train at the Depot, began singing: "Home Sweet Home" in a high pitched voice, and in two or three minutes everybody in the waiting room was laughing at him. The depot officer finally approached him and said:

"My friend, that is against orders."

"What—to sing?"

"Yes."

"I sing 'Home Sweet Home?'"

"Yes."

"I don't believe it! I don't believe there's a town in this country where a feller who is clean busted and forty miles from home can't sing 'Home Sweet Home' all he wants to without breaking the law. You go away and—

A Heavy Blow.

She was one of those splendid great creatures who believe in physical training for women, and she was fanning herself on the hotel piazza.

"Won't you come and sit down, Mr. Gorton?"

Mr. Gorton—"I'de like to exceedingly, but I can't get a step nearer to save my life."

New Application of Hypnotism.

BROOKE'S SENSATION.

A Married Woman and a Gay Lothario Leave for the States.

HARNIA, Sept. 9.—The Township of Brooke has a sensation, says The Sun, and it is nothing less than an elopement—the woman in the case being married, and out of four children leaving three behind for the husband to bring up in the path of righteousness while she brings the other one up in the path which leads to perdition. Joseph Bell and his wife had not lived together happily for some time, and Bell claimed that one Robert Mills was paying Mrs. Bell too much attention—in fact he claimed that Mrs. B. and Mills were unduly intimate. A few weeks ago there was a genuine rumpus in the Bell house when he came home and found Mills cavorting about like a gay Lothario, and after throwing Mills out of the house, or at least making an attempt to do so, he and Mrs. Bell squared off and had a lively whirl of it with their tongues. Result—Mrs. Bell left the family homestead and took refuge at the home of her brother-in-law.

Following the departure of Mrs. B. from her husband she and Mills got up a job on each other—which was to elope, leave the country together. So the other day Mrs. Bell had her goods carted to Inwood, where she took the train for Courtright. Mills was on hand at Weidman, dressed in his best suit of clothes, where he boarded the train and joined Mrs. Bell and the latter's youngest child. The couple crossed the river at Courtright and are now in the home of the free, heading west, probably to grow up with the country. 'Tis said, in the troubles between Bell and his spouse, he has been partly to blame, but that the doings of Mills and Mrs. Bell have been a standing eye-sore to the community for some time. Brooke has now at any rate got rid of a couple of bad residents, and if Bell knows himself—and we think he should—he will get on his knees and return thanks.

SHOT HIS SISTER WITH SAND.

A Boy Murders the Little Girl Left in His Charge.

LOCKPORT DEPOT, N.Y., Sept. 8.—A terrible crime was committed at Ransomville, a village 16 miles northeast of here, yesterday. A boy named Charles Grambo, aged 14, son of Frederick Grambo, a farmer, murdered his adopted sister, Rose Grambo, aged 8 or 9 years. There were no eye-witnesses to the crime, as the children were left alone at home while the parents went away.

Young Grambo, it is said, had an empty shotgun, which he brought out into the yard where the little girl was playing. He loaded it with sand and gravel, and placing the muzzle close to Rose's head fired. The gun must have been close, as the girl's face is full of powder.

The young villain then carried the girl into the house, as blood was found in several rooms. He then hitched up a horse, placed the body of the dying girl in the wagon, threw a blanket over her and started to Dr. Long's house.

The doctor tried to probe for the pebbles but found that they had penetrated the brain and that there was no hope to save the child. The boy told contradictory stories but held that the shooting was purely accidental. He is known as being wild and headstrong.

The girl was his adopted sister, having been taken from the Home for the Friendless in this city a month ago. Her name was Rose Glitner, and her mother is in the Insane Asylum. The family came from Suspension Bridge. The Grambo family became very much attached to the little girl, and the theory is that the boy shot her in a jealous rage. He has not been arrested yet, but the coroner will investigate.

Drowned in Black River.

FAWKHAM, Sept. 9.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. John Alfred Barnes was drowned in Black River, a few rods above Carrick's Mills at this place. He attempted to cross on the boom from the rear of his house to an island in the channel, and the logs parting he was dropped into the water. A small boy who was with him pushed a log to him, but he did not succeed in holding on to it, and went down a second time, not to come to the surface again. An alarm was given, and soon a gang of mill men were on the scene. The body was recovered by Mr. Walter Trenouth within 15 or 20 minutes, but all efforts at resuscitation proved unavailing. Barnes was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and four small children in poor circumstances.

Mr. Reuben Knight, of Morris, Man., states that he was troubled with a rash all over his body, which was cured with less than one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. He highly recommends it as a blood purifier of the greatest efficacy. 2w37d

A Mosside Story.

I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters and pills and find them everything to me. I had dyspepsia with bad breath and bad appetite, but after a few days' use of B.B.B. I felt stronger, could eat a good meal and felt myself a different man. W.H. STORY, Mossside, Ont. 2w37d

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects, strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,709,512 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $312,204, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$43,684,376	3.07
Confederation	17,674,698	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,058,237	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,817	10.36
North American	8,470,620	10.66
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17.54
Citizens	2,097,956	29.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 13
London Life	1,644,286	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

Seats in the Grand Stand are Expensive.

Three guests occupied the grand stand at the police court this morning. Two young men, brothers, from Otonabee, were fined $1 and costs each for being drunk and disorderly last night. "Labouring John" Sullivan was up on the old familiar charge of drunkenness. He was sent to gaol for ten days.

Married at St. Paul's.

A wedding took place in St. Paul's church Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, Rev. E. F. Torrance performing the ceremony which united for life Mr. Robt. Williams, of Toronto, and Mrs. Bacon, also of Toronto, but formerly of Peterborough. Miss Hannah Harvey, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr Daniel McMillan groomsman. The newly married couple took the 11:30 train for Kingston.

A Big Bat.

Mr. Elcome, taxidermist, had brought to him to-day by Mrs. Dr. Sproule for the exercise of his professional skill, an extraordinary specimen of the bat. It is twice the size of the ordinary bat and of a beautiful silver grey color. The winged beast measures 17½ inches from tip to tip and 6 inches in length. Mrs. Sproule caught it in her house. It is a rare specimen of the bat, and Mr. Elcome will be pleased to show it to any persons who call upon him.

Another Discovery of Coal Oil.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. John Blank discovered indications of coal oil in the cellar of her house and a closer search revealed the existence of a very fine show of unmistakable coal oil. She had been searching for a packet of hawley bros' tea and came accidentally upon the coal oil can which had been by mistake carried to the cellar. She did'nt care much for the oil but she was overjoyed when she found the tea. That household and hundreds of others are out of joint until a hawley bros' speudid tea is on the table.

Attractive Feature of the Central.

Among the many attractive features of the second day of the Central Exhibition will be an exhibition by a squad of the 57th battalion, under the charge of Sergt.-Major Randle. The exhibition will consist of physical training exercises according to the new British Army regulations with and without arms and skirmishing drill with blank ammunition. There will also be manual and bayonet exercises to the music of the band. The whole exhibition will be of the highest order of excellence, the men being practically perfect in all the movements to be presented.

Cheaper to Buy than Steal.

Gough Bros. have the ready-made clothing trade of the town in their own hands now. Opposition can't touch them. They bought the Kidd bankrupt stock at 67½c. on the dollar. They're selling it at prices that make it cheaper to buy than steel. The great sale is now going on at the Kidd stand and at Gough Bro.'s stores. Go and see them. Gough Bros. can rig you out in such style that your grandmother won't know you—and all for less than it would cost you for a suit of underclothing at some of the high-priced stores. Come now, and you'll never regret it, as they say at the Salvation Army. Gough Bros. will make you happy with their fine goods and low prices. dw

Special Rates for the Exhibition.

Secretary Wm. Collins has received special privileges from the Grand Trunk Railway Company for the Central Exhibition week after next. The railway company has agreed to attach a passenger coach to the regular freight train which leaves Peterborough at five o'clock for Hastings and Campbellford, on two days, the 25th and 26th. This arrangement will give people from along the line of the Grand Junction practically the whole day in town. Further than this, all regular trains on the Grand Junction division will stop at the exhibition grounds during those two days, and a suburban train will be run at intervals during the afternoons of the 25th and 26th, from London street to the grounds. The fare will be only 10c. Special reduced rates have been procured from the C.P.R. and G.T.R. for passengers and exhibits from all points in the Midland district during exhibition week, as well as from on the steamers.

Their Action Endorsed.

At a regular meeting of the local assembly of Knights of Labor (No. 6952) the following resolutions were carried unanimously:—

Resolved—That this local assembly (No. 6952) heartily endorse the action taken by the General Executive Board in connection with the New York Central strike, and thank them for the interest they have taken in our noble order in the the past, but more especially for the careful study they have made of the present situation and the steps they have taken to settle the difficulty, and we will cheerfully render all the aid in our power both morally and financially.

It was further resolved that the local papers be requested to publish this resolution.

Rare Rabbit Hunting.

A jovial party of hunters left town yesterday afternoon for a rabbit hunt. The party comprised Messrs J. E. McIntyre, H. LeBrun, D. Bellaghem, H. W. Kent, Mr. Hopkins (of Bobcaygeon), Alex. Patterson, Jno. Marvin, M. O'Brian and two others, ten in all. They were accompanied by about as many hounds. They spent the afternoon scouring the country in the neighborhood of the first high bridge on the Missing Link line, and succeeded in bagging three bunnies. They had splendid luck, and feel so elated over the grand result of their day's sport that they are going to try it again. Some of them—a few who were seasoned enough to stand the shock of such unprecedented luck—even braved the rain to-day in their eagerness to excel yesterday's remarkable record.

Compulsory Registration.

A case of an unusual character came before Mayor Stevenson this morning. Wm. Legrandeur was charged with neglecting to register the death of a child. To enlighten public ignorance it may be stated that there is a statutory law requiring the registration of all deaths, as well as marriages and births, with the town clerk, on penalty of a heavy fine. Mr. Legrandeur pleaded ignorance of the law, as would probably half the people if they were similarly charged, and the case was enlarged for a week. It is about time this law became better known. A few police court cases and the public would learn the lesson that registration is compulsory. In Mr. Legrandeur's case there was a wholesale neglect. The child was born last May, but neither Mr. Legrandeur nor the doctor registered the birth. They also neglected to register its death, which occurred last week, and the caretaker of the cemetery is implicated in this negligence, it being one of his duties to see that all burials are legalized by certificate of the registering officer.

The Gold Fields.

A Madoc correspondent writes:—There is a boom in mining properties in this section of the "gold-bearing district," which includes Marmora, Madoc and Eldorado. In Marmora are situated the Consolidated (formerly Gatling) mine, the "Feigle" mine, the Cook & Dean or Cook & Milligan mine, the Independent mine and several others not so well known. In Madoc there are the the Richardson mine, Bannockburn mine and several others. In Eldorado there are several places that have been partially worked. In fact, all these have been "partially" worked, as taken in the sense in which mines are worked to profit in any country. Mild the boom may be in one sense, but very practical in another. This whole section of country has been quietly examined and carefully tested by English experts, and there is good reason to believe a favourable impression has been produced, and if the new process of separation should prove a success, there is not the slightest doubt that many of the gold properties will be worked successfully.

The Hindoo Mission.

A good sized audience comprising representatives from different denominations assembled in the lecture room of St. Paul's church last night to listen to a lecture by Rev. Mr. Russell, a young minister appointed to the mission work in India. Rev. Mr. Russell is being sent out to the Indore field by the Central Presbyterian church, Toronto. He goes to the work fully prepared, with a complete knowledge of the country, its inhabitants and its customs. His address last last threw new light upon many phases of Indian life. He vividly described the degraded condition of the natives. They were sunk in ignorance, the victims of a cunning priesthood, who manipulated their false religious system to suit their own vile purposes. The political system was one of robbery and wrong-doing; and what bewteen their religion and their politics, the natives were kept down to the lowest possible state of existence. Rev. Mr. Russell's address was interesting and stirred the sympathies of all his hearers. Rev. Mr Torrance, who occupied the chair, made a few remarks, in which he expressed his opinion that St. Paul's Church was able to follow the example of the Toronto church and send a missionary of their own to India.

Battalion Matches.

Very properly, arrangements have about been completed for increasing the shooting efficiency of the 57th battalion. Heretofore the "Volunteer Match" has been a comparatively insignificent appendage, of the camp-follower variety, of the Association matches. This year the volunteer match will be dropped from the Association roster and independent battalion matches shot on Sept. 22nd, beginning at 8 a.m. The prize list will be prepared with special reference to inexperienced shots. There will be a company match, ten men from each company, and a match for squads of four each for skirmishing and volley shooting. A match between the staff and company officers is being arranged, subject to the possibility of procuring a target sufficiently large to insure its being hit. Captains Hill, Miller Brennan and Mason are appointed a committee to solicit prizes for the matches from the citizens, it being understood that the Association solicit no prizes, as in former years. These matches are a move in the right direction.

"Too Far Gone."

Hints for Hunters — How to Prepare Specimens for Stuffing.

The hunting season has opened, and for the benefit of hunters who may wish to have some trophies of the chase preserved, the following article by Mr. Edwin Elcome, taxidermist, is presented. It is entitled "Too Far Gone." Mr. Elcome says:—

That is not very nice for a hunter to hear after having spent his strength to secure a specimen, such as a deer or an eagle or some other trophy; yet when such specimens are brought with the hair or feathers coming out the taxidermist can say nothing else. So now for a relief.

To take care of a deer's head do not cut it up the front, you can cut it up the back as far as the antlers and it will never show, but the other makes a ridge more or less; wipe off all blood or moisture and keep it dry, put salt wherever convenient, and then send it as quickly as possible.

With a bird, decomposition generally starts at the stomach but the feathers there are long and can be made to cover very fairly; but the worst place is the mouth. A liquid generally flows and this falling on the short feathers around the beak causes them to rot in a short time, and this cannot be well fixed; to prevent, open the mouth and wipe out all blood and moisture and place in a little salt, and hang the bird up by the beak. Keep the blood from the feathers by rolling paper or sprinkling sawdust; if it gets on it can be cleaned but it is better prevented. Persons that can skin and are away from home and cannot strip the specimens can hang them up and dry in an airy shady place.

An Otonabee River Ferry Scow.

Preliminary Steps Taken to Place One at McClelland's Shore.

The project of securing a crossing over the river, at or about McClelland's Shore, and thus giving easier access for a large portion of the people of South Monaghan to the town of Peterborough, has taken practical shape. On Wednesday a large party of the people of this township to which Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. acted as chaperon, went to Gannon's Narrows to inspect the working of the ferry scow at that point. The party consisted of Messrs. John Beckham, reeve; Robert Fisher, W. R. Morrison and D. Baxter, councillors; John Riddell, ex-reeve; A. Dawson, clerk; J. W. Hall, treasurer; W. and Mrs. W. McAllister, Wm. Beckham, Isaac L. Kerr, John Thorne, Thomas Armstrong and Robert Nurse. The party took the train to Chemong, where they embarked on board the "Maple Leaf" and steamed across the pacific Chemong to Gannon's Narrows, where, under the management of Mr. W. P. Cause, the working of the ferry scow at this point was very fully investigated. Mr. Cause's courtesy and kindness permitted of a thorough inspection, which impressed the party very favorably. After the serious business of the depatation had been attended to, the party proceeded to Bobcaygeon where they halted for dinner. After dinner they boarded the steamer "Cruiser" and took the pleasant journey down to Lakefield. All were highly delighted with the beauty of the scenery constantly changing and presenting successively new forms of beauty. Passing admiration was given the lock works at Buckhorn, Lovesick and Burleigh, and the splendid new iron bridge at the latter place. Much surprise was felt by the members of the party at the great extent and number of the lakes and the great volume of water which finally poure into the Otonabee to bear the burden of the proposed new ferry scow at McClelland's shore. Just before arriving at Lakefield the party adjourned to the cabin of the "Cruiser" and an informal discussion of the best ways and means of promoting the erecting of a scow and the establishment of a ferry at McClelland's, held. A resolution of thanks was also passed to Mr. Stratton for the interest he had shown in the enterprise, and the practical help he had afforded the deputation in securing information upon which to base action for securing a ferry scow at McClelland's.

Methodist General Conference.

The quadrennial assembly of the largest Protestant church in the Dominion, is sitting in Montreal. There will be between 200 and 300 delegates present, clerical and lay. These delegates were elected from their respective annual conferences, of which there are twelve, ten in Canada and one each in Newfoundland and Japan. Fraternal delegates will also be present from the Wesleyan conferences in England Ireland, and from the two Methodist Episcopal churches in the United States.

Previous to 1874 Methodism in Canada was greatly divided, but in September of that year the first general conference was held in Toronto, when the Wesleyan conferences of Canada and eastern British America, and the Methodist New Connexion were amalgamated, and known as the Methodist church of Canada. In 1889 further steps for unification were taken, and in the year following the Methodist Episcopal, Primitive Methodist, and the Bible Christian denominations were amalgamated with the above, the whole of which are now known as the Methodist church. The second general conference which followed the first union was held in Montreal in 1878, so that twelve years have rolled away since the Methodist legislature assembled in this ancient and important city. Such a length of time affords a suitable opportunity for review. Those who will take the trouble to look and contemplate the events which have occurred during those years will be astonished at the marvellous changes which have taken place.

Of the ministers who were delegates to the former general conference, twenty have died, among whom were Drs. Ryerson, Green, Pickard, Williams, Rice, Nelles, Rose and Wood, all of whom were princes in Methodism. Among the laity are the names of the Hon. James Ferrier and the Hon. John Macdonald, both members of the Dominion Senate; also Sheriff Patrick, J. B. Morrow, Robert Wilkes, Dr. Aylesworth and Dr. Norris, who were not only distinguished in the various walks of life, but were especially regarded as pillars in Methodism. Two of the fraternal delegates at that conference, the Rev. Samuel Coley and Dr. Sargent, are also among those who have died.

When "the Methodist church" was organized under its present name in 1883 there were ten annual conferences, now there are twelve; there were 1 663 ministers, now there are nearly 2 000; then there were 169,803 members, now there are near 200,000. The progress of Methodism in Montreal has probably not been so rapid as in some other Canadian cities, but, remembering the peculiar difficulties with which it has had to contend, its progress has been marvellous. The first Methodist minister stationed there was the Rev. Samuel Merwin in 1803. He was followed by such distinguished ministers as the Rev. Thomas Madden, Dr Bangs and others. After the war of 1812 Methodism in Montreal and a good portion of the province of Quebec was connected with the Wesleyan conference in England. In 1853 the Canada East district, as it was then termed, was united with the Canada conferences. At the date of the general conference of 1878 Methodism in the city consisted of ten churches and 1,555 members. Now there are twelve churches besides a city mission, a Scandinavian and two French missions. There are also a theological college and a French Methodist institute. The church membership exceeds 2,000 and 5 000 adherents. There are sixteen ministers besides the college professors. Some of the churches are really superb. Trinity, in which the general conference assembles, is said to be without a parallel in the Methodists world. The venerable Dr Douglas when laying the corner stoner stone of a new church recently, said: "It was now 58 years ago since, a little Scottish lad, he had come to the city. Then there was but one church with a very limited congregation. Now—and he had been at the founding of every one of them—he had seen that one church develop into twelve prosperous churches."

Great interest is felt in the proceedings of the general conference. University federation, extension of the ministerial term, the formation of the order of deaconess, amendment to the constitution of the superannuation fund, the celebration of the centenary of Methodism in Canada, which takes place in 1891, the vexed question of precedence at official receptions, etc., are among the questions that will be discussed. —Empire.

A Gold Headed Cane

Presented to Mr. John A. Weighill by His Young Friends.

A pleasant little affair took place at the City Hotel last night. The members of the "Twelve O'clock Club" assembled upon invitation of one of the members, Mr. J. A. Weighill, who invited a few of his intimate companions to celebrate with him his birthday anniversary. They were a gay party of jolly good fellows, and Mr. Weighill's health was toasted right royally. Mr. Weighill is the genial parlour car conductor on the G. T. R. passenger train which reaches here at nine o'clock at night, and he is as popular among his outside associates as among the railway employees. So the boys of the club took advantage of the occasion last night to tender Mr. Weighill some practical evidences of their esteem and friendship, in the shape of an address, expressive of their feelings, and a beautiful gold headed cane. The address was read by Mr. Wm. Morrell, as follows:—

To JOHN A. WEIGHILL:

DEAR FRIEND JOHN.—"It gives us, members of the "Twelve O'clock Club," great pleasure to assemble here to do honor to you on this your birthday. We, as a Club, feel we have a friend in you, knowing you to be true, honorable and worthy of the friendship of any person. We feel on this glorious occasion that we should present you with something to remember us by and show our esteem for you. Therefore we ask you to accept this gold-headed cane as a small token of love, not for its trifling value, but take it with the heart and good will we all wish you, and keep it in remembrance of us present, and when your next birthday comes, you will think kindly of us. We may all be scattered wide apart one year from to-night, but wherever we are, you will know you have friends in us.

Mr. Weighill was of course almost overcome by surprise, but he expressed his gratitude in a few warm words of thanks.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Dominion Medical Association Elect Officers—Exhibition Receipts.

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The Dominion Medical Association yesterday elected these officers: President, Dr. T. G. Roddick, Montreal; General Secretary, Dr. Birkett, Montreal; Treasurer, Dr. W. H. B. Aikins, Toronto; Vice-presidents—Ontario: Dr. A. H. Wright, Toronto; Quebec: Dr. S. P. Lachafelee, Montreal; New Brunswick: Dr. S. H. Coburn, Fredericton; Nova Scotia: Dr. John Stewart, Pictou; Manitoba: Dr. D. Young, Selkirk; British Columbia, Dr. E. A. Prager, Nanaimo; Prince Edward Island: Dr. Taylor, Charlottetown; Northwest Territories: Dr. E. Kennedy, Fort McLeod. The association decided to meet next year at Montreal.

The Dominion millers' convention held a session yesterday morning. The Dominion Government will be asked to change the law so that the flour standards will be selected twice a year, the board selecting them to include three representatives from the association. The officers for the ensuing year are: President, J. C. Hay, Listowel, re-elected; vice president, W. H. Meldrum; secretary, David Plewes, Brantford, re-elected; treasurer, William Galbraith, Toronto, re-elected.

The second day's receipts at the exhibition were $1174, against $1010 on the corresponding day last year. For the first two days the receipts are $465 more than they were last year.

Mr. Colin Macdougall, Q.C., of St. Thomas, one of the cleverest criminal lawyers in the province and a well-known crown prosecutor, has been retained by the Attorney-General as associate counsel with Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., in the prosecution of Rex Birchall, charged with the murder of Beowell. Mr. Macdougall was counsel for the defence in the celebrated Long Point mystery when Havelock Smith was twice placed on trial for the murder of Marshall Piggott, whose dead body tied with ropes was washed ashore at Long Point. The prosecution of this case cost the Government $9000, the total expense of the two trials, at both of which the jury disagreed, being over $25,000. A novel founded on this case will shortly be issued. Mr. Macdougall was also counsel for Albert Thomas, Ransom Forbes and Maria Stillwell, charged with the murder of the latter's husband, Louis Napoleon Stillwell, who was shot dead in the woods near Acacia on New Year's Day, 1882.

The chapel of Loretto Abbey, Wellington-place, was the scene yesterday morning of a most solemn ceremony. Eight young ladies, six of whom are Canadians, one an American and the eighth a native of Germany, passed through the ceremony which is the initiatory step towards consecrating their entire lives to the service of the church and education. The names of the novices were: Miss Long, Collingwood, in religion Sister Mary Irene.

Miss Hulm, Chicago, Sister Mary Agnes.
Miss Barry, Ottawa, Sister Dorothea.
Miss Riordan, Guelph, Sister Mary Pauline.
Miss Lacy, Evansville, Sister Benigna.
Miss Gumpfrett, Germany, Sister Mary Gertrude.
Miss Farrelly, Lindsay, Sister Mary Fulchina.
Miss Phalin, Walkerton, Sister Felicitas.

Death of Mrs. T. J. Anderson.

The Toronto Empire has the following concerning a lady who had many warm friends in Peterborough:—"The many friends of Mr. T. J. Anderson, traveller for Messrs. Brophy, Cain & Co., wholesale dry goods merchants, Montreal, will be distressed to learn by the notice in another column of the death of his wife. The deceased died at her sister's residence, North Toronto, at 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning after a lingering and painful illness. She was the daughter of the Rev. F. Ratcliff, and an active member of the Jarvis street Baptist church. The deceased was well known and leaves many sorrowing friends in Peterborough, where she spent the earlier part of her life. The funeral, which will be private, will take place to-day."

The EXAMINER is enabled to give a few additional particulars concerning the late Mrs. Anderson. She was the daughter of Rev. Frederick Ratcliffe, for many years pastor of the Baptist Church in Smith. She was well-known and universally respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance here. She was married to Mr. Anderson (formerly of Apsley), in December of last year, since which time she has resided in Toronto. Her parents and relatives (who are now residents of Ringwood, Ont.,) together with her husband, will have the sympathy of this community in their bereavement,

The Diamond Dyes awake our praise,

ICE! ICE! ICE!

Hotels, Shops, Private Families, Attention.

EVERYBODY requires ice in the summer season, and in order that their wants shall be fully supplied with that indispensable article a new and fully equipped ice house is in course of erection.

The Point St. Charles Ice Co.

have commenced building a large, commodious and thoroughly equipped ice house, with all modern improvements for the storing and handling of ice, and will be in a position next season to supply all those favoring them with their patronage.

The undersigned, in soliciting the patronage of the citizens of Peterborough and Ashburnham, beg to state that all orders for ice with which they are favored will receive prompt attention. It will be to the advantage of the public not to place their orders for next season's ice until they have compared rates, etc. There is plenty of time to think the matter over.

Trusting that by supplying the best quality of ice, and by attending to the refrigerators promptly and courteously to receive a share of public patronage.

A TELLTALE TELEGRAM.

FIENDISH ATTEMPT TO MURDER AN AGED WOMAN.

Sarah Elizabeth Larmer of Grafton (Ont.) Plots to Burn Her Mother in Her Bed The Unnatural Daughter Held for Trial—Bail Refused.

COBOURG, Sept. 11.—An unsuccessful but fiendish attempt to commit a diabolical crime is the sensation of the hour here. Sarah E. Larmer is now in jail awaiting trial, having been fully committed for setting fire to the house of her mother in the village of Grafton with the intention of burning the house and its contents for the purpose of putting an end to her mother's existence in the flames.

The investigation took place before Magistrates P. Hinman and H. J. Snelgrove. Crown Attorney J. W. Kerr conducted the prosecution and Mr. E. C. S. Huycke appeared for the prisoner. The unhappy circumstances surrounding this case make it one of the most peculiar that has appeared in our courts.

If the circumstantial evidence offered by the Crown be accepted, it would appear that Sarah E. Larmer, a young woman 25 years of age and a dressmaker by trade, went to Port Hope on Saturday, Aug. 23; that from there she sent a false telegram to her indigent and helpless mother at Grafton, for the purpose of decoying away her sister, Alice G. Larmer, who was taking care of her mother, the next evening. Sarah Larmer left the house in which she was lodging in Cobourg, and walked to Grafton, a distance of seven miles; that she was seen near her mother's house about 8½ o'clock by several credible persons who were returning from church; that the fire occurred about an hour and a half afterwards; that footprints leading from the yard to the road correspond with the size of Sarah E. Larmer's boots; that she was met on the road to Cobourg about 11 o'clock; that she entered her bedroom through a window, that for some time she had cherished feelings of intense hatred, amounting almost to malicious mania, towards her mother and sister, and had threatened to destroy them in language that was most unnatural and dreadful.

Walter Williams, telegraph operator in the G. N. W. office at Port Hope, was the first witness put in the box. He fully identified the prisoner as the young woman who came into his office between 9 and 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, Aug. 23, and asked him to write a telegram, which she worded as follows:

"To Mrs. Larmer, Grafton:

"Your son Charlie is dying in Lindsay. Wan you immediately. JANE JONES."

The prisoner told the operator that she was sending this telegram for someone else. She wanted it sent "collect," but when informed that it was against the rule to send messages "collect" from strangers, she paid for it. Mr. Williams asked her, "Do you live in town?" She replied, "No, I live in Garden Hill."

Alice G. Larmer, the prisoner's sister, said for two years her mother had been bedridden and unable to take care of herself. A year ago last May the prisoner deserted her mother and she (Alice) went home to take care of her. On the morning of Saturday Aug. 23, she received a copy of the above telegram, signed "Jane Jones." She showed the message to her mother, who decided that it would be better for her (Alice) to go to Lindsay. Accordingly she would get there the same afternoon, but not finding her brother anywhere, she concluded that the telegram was a fraud and returned home the same night. All day Sunday Alice and her invalid mother were the only persons in the Larmer house. About 9, she went to bed on the west side of the house, leaving her mother on the east side. She had been asleep for some time, when she was aroused by the noise of people knocking at the door and shouting that the house was on fire. Her mother was unable to get out of bed, but before she could be removed the fire was put out by the neighbors. If the house had been burned Mrs. Larmer could not have got out. The witness said: "I have heard the prisoner make threats against my mother and myself at different times. Once she threatened to rip the house of us both. She said she wished me and I were in hell burning in brimstone and fire. The last time I saw her in the house was in December. She wanted to take possession of my room. I told her she should not occupy my bed, as I wanted it myself. She said, 'Take care—you may not have the house over your head very long.' I came kindling wood, a piece of paper, and a bottle which contained coal oil were found where the fire broke out, in the corner outside, between the kitchen and main part of the house. To Mr. Huycke, Alice Larmer said that when she last heard from her brother, he was working in a sawmill at Kinmount.

Mrs. Mary Clark and Thomas Lawless jr., two neighbors, gave evidence tending to show the fire was incendiary.

William Webster, Reeve of Haldimand, said the prisoner had often come to him to make complaints against her mother and sister. She came on Dec. 31 last and asked the township council to put her mother and "that black thing"—meaning her sister—out of the house. Mr. Webster replied, "There is no one to take care of your mother but your sister Alice." The prisoner said, "that black thing" was not her sister. She wished to God that her mother and sister would be burned up in the house. Mr. Webster very properly advised the prisoner not to make use of such language. She said she did not care, and would give $20 to have the house burned up and knew who she could get to do it. On Sunday evening, Aug. 24, Mr. Webster was going home from church, when he met the prisoner on the road. She was walking towards her mother's. When she met Mr. Webster, she crossed the road and passed on the other side, and afterwards crossed over to the same side he was on. Her face seemed covered with something dark. He knew the prisoner from her figure and movement. When he got home he said: "I met Sarah Larmer and there will be a fire before morning." The fire took place about an hour after he met her.

Miss Kate Webster and John Webster corroborated their father's evidence.

Mrs. Harriet Wood, an old lady, said that the prisoner had been rooming in her house in Cobourg. Sunday, Aug. 24, the prisoner told Mrs. Wood that she was going away and would not be back that night. She left the house about 5½. At 7 o'clock next morning, Mrs. Wood was surprised to see the prisoner's black waterproof lying under the window in her room. She looked in and saw the prisoner lying in bed. She said to her, "You told me you were not coming home last night. How did you get in?" The prisoner replied, "In at the window." In a tone of surprise Mrs. Wood exclaimed, "Don't you know that I don't allow anyone to come in my window," to which the prisoner answered never a word. Mrs. Wood locked her house at 10 o'clock and went to bed about 11½ that Sunday night. So far as she knows she was the only person in the house.

Constable Charles Bradley testified to finding traces of incendiarism. The footprints in the yard fitted the boots worn by the prisoner when arrested. He found a seven-shooter, with every chamber loaded in her skirt. The prisoner denied being in Cobourg on Aug. 23, and said she was in Port Hope all that day.

After hearing the argument of counsel the court decided that a prima facie case had been established against the prisoner, who was accordingly committed to stand her trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction.

Mr. Huycke asked that the prisoner be admitted to bail. The Crown Attorney resisted the application, and the court refused to grant it.

Weeping bitterly, the unfortunate prisoner was removed to jail, where doubtless she will remain until her trial takes place.

SETTLED DOWN TO WORK.

The Second Day's Proceedings of the Methodist Conference.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—The second day of the Methodist Conference is over and business is well under way. In the morning Rev. Dr. Shaw submitted a cordial invitation from Sir William Dawson to visit McGill College and also an invitation from the board of governors of the Wesleyan Theological College to a reception on Saturday afternoon.

A letter was read from the Presbyterian Assembly of Ashfield, N.C., asking the conference to join them in seeking to have all disputes between countries submitted to arbitration. A committee was appointed and a communication on prison reform was sent to the same committee. Rev. William Jackson was appointed journal secretary for the conference. The nominating committee divided the work into groups and assigned them to committees as follows:

A—Missions, publishing interests, course of study, statistics, general superintendency, itinerancy, embarrassed trusts, public services, reception of fraternal delegates.

B—Superannuation fund, memorial, Sabbath observance, finance, annual conferences, transfers, sustentation, centennial of Methodism, church union.

C—Education, temperance, children's fund, church property, Sabbath-school, discipline, ritual, state of the work, returns of boards and committees.

LEDA LAMONTAGNE'S STORY.

She Loved Her Husband and Knew Nothing of His Murder.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 11.—Leda Lamontagne, who was arrested in Boston, was brought to the prison here last night by High Constable Moe. This morning your correspondent had an interview with her, in the course of which she conversed freely concerning her unfortunate position. She entered into the whole history.

She said she had married her late husband Napoleon Michel, after a courtship of two months, but she had known him before quite well, as he lived in her neighborhood. She loved him very dearly and thought her happiness was assured, when her husband's terrible fate came to mar her whole life. She protests that she, and her brother as far as she knows, are wholly innocent of the murder and she deplores their common fate languishing in prison while the real culprit goes free. She does not know who committed the crime.

In regard to the conflicting stories that she told of the occurrence immediately after she says she was so completely unnerved that she did not know what she was saying or doing. She says she did not hide from the authorities in the United States, that she was even altogether ignorant of the fact that the detectives were after her till she was arrested.

BUNCOED OUT OF $5000.

A London (Ont.) Resident Arrested on a Charge of Grand Larceny.

WINDSOR, Sept. 11.—Several years ago Walter Haynes and Daniel Scribner came to Windsor. Scribner started a wood yard but both men were generally known as crooks. At one time a warrant was issued against them for an offence committed in Indiana. About three years ago the pair left Windsor, Scribner going to Toronto and Haynes to London, where he purchased one of the finest farms in that section of the country.

Yesterday Fountain Land and Detective John T. Norris of Springfield, O., came to Windsor with an indictment against Haynes and Scribner for grand larceny, Land charging that on May 1 last Haynes and Scribner swindled him out of $5000 by a bunco game at Jessamine, Ky.

Haynes was arrested at his residence near London and brought to Windsor last night and this morning was arraigned before Magistrate Bartlet. As he refused to go to Kentucky without extradition proceedings he was remanded. Scribner has not been arrested.

THE "SOO" IN FLAMES

A Disastrous Conflagration Breaks Out—The Entire Town in Danger.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Sept. 12. 3:30 a.m.—Fire started in Olmspead & Lothian's mill and lumber yard at the east end of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., at 11 last evening.

It is spreading and the entire city is in danger of destruction.

The fire department is small, there are no water works, and the firemen are unable to handle the conflagration.

CAUGHT IN A WATERSPOUT.

Singular Wreck of a Train on the Southern Pacific Railway.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 11.—Last night at 9 o'clock passenger train No. 19, eastbound from El Paso, on the Southern Pacific Railway, was caught in a waterspout 15 miles west of Del Rio. The water, some forty feet wide, struck the forward part of the train. It took the engine, baggage car and mail car from the tracks and carried them 45 feet overturning them. The passengers knew nothing of the approach of the water until the jar occurred. The engineer and fireman escaped drowning by swimming to high ground. The track was torn up for 300 yards and a gully 10 feet wide cut through it. The train is still standing and a force of men are repairing the track.

A FAKE TRAIN WRECKER.

TIM DUNWOODY'S BRIEF DREAM OF GLORY.

It is Believed the New York Central Flagman Invented the "Plot" Which He Claimed to Have Frustrated—He is Now Out of a Job.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—"Tim" Dunwoody the flagman and drawbridge keeper who stopped the St. Louis and Chicago express on Monday night near Poughkeepsie and told a marvelous story of how he had discovered obstructions on the track and had been fired at when trying to remove them, and so on, was a popular hero for a few brief hours. Then followed an investigation which resulted in tumbling "Tim" Dunwoody from the pedestal of fame into the ditch of public contempt. Instead of being hailed as a hero he finds himself regarded as a fraud. Instead of getting a substantial reward from his employers he finds himself out of a job and may count himself lucky if he doesn't go to jail.

"We are all satisfied here," said Third Vice-President Webb when interviewed in his office yesterday, "that this affair near Poughkeepsie on Monday night which has been flashed all over the country as a dastardly attempt at train wrecking by armed miscreants is simply a 'fake,' and further more we are satisfied that the 'fakir' is Tim Dunwoody, who posed as the hero of the occasion.

"This opinion is based upon the inherent improbability of the story, or rather stories, which Dunwoody tells, their contradictory character and the utter lack of confirmatory evidence. Our roadmaster and several of our special officers and agents have gone thoroughly over the ground and their investigations entirely discredit Dunwoody's stories. He said that the obstructions were fastened to the guards. That is disproved because there are no signs of such fastening. He says that when he attempted to remove the obstructions he was fired at from the bushes. The ground around these bushes is all soft. People couldn't skulk among them without leaving traces of their footsteps. No such traces were found.

"Then consider how inherently improbable is the supposition that men who had placed obstructions on a track to wreck a train would risk detection by hanging around close to the obstructions to see how they worked and then would proclaim their presence by shooting at a man who attempted to remove them?

"I feel morally certain, and so do all of us, that Dunwoody placed some slight obstruction on the track himself, then flagged the train and told the marvelous story of how he had been shot at and so on. His object was probably to gain some notoriety and receive a reward from the company for courage, alertness and faithfulness. If his story had turned out to be true, he would of course, have been liberally rewarded. It may not be possible for us to prove legally—because in the absence of any confession from him we have only circumstantial evidence—that he placed the obstructions on the track himself, but all the same we have no doubt that he did do it."

NO BACK NUMBERS FOR HIM.

President Depew Declines a Conference with the Strikers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A committee of five of the ex-employes of the New York Central Railway who went on strike called on President Depew at the Grand Central depot today. They were headed by Thomas Ballney, an old freight conductor, and M. Gaffney, another striker, acted as spokesman. The following conversation between Mr. Depew and Mr. Gaffney followed.

Mr. Gaffney: "We have come to talk over the strike on the New York Central road."

Mr. Depew: "I'm afraid there is nothing to talk about. The strike is virtually over now."

Mr. Gaffney: "The strike is not over because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out."

Mr. Depew: "They have chosen to resign their positions. Mr. Webb, who was managing the road in my absence, took new men in their places when they quit work. His action has been sustained by the executive board of management of the road, the places of those men have now been filled and that's the end of it."

Mr. Gaffney then asked Mr. Depew to wait until the committee had discussed the matter and said that they would then return and make their proposition to him.

Mr. Depew replied: "There is no use in making false promises to you. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb has filled them and I have nothing more to say."

The committee then left the office.

The Australian Strike.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 11.—The representatives of the labor unions are holding a conference to-day for the purpose of deciding upon a basis on which to approach the employers with a view to settling the questions at issue. In consequence of the strike there are now 7000 men out of work in the Newcastle district. The employers are confident of winning the fight, but the strikers show few signs of yielding.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 11.—The strikers in the shipping trade are weakening. The military force which has been guarding the property of the employers will be reduced, as the presence of such a large number of troops is considered no longer necessary. Twenty-four seamen arrested yesterday for refusing to work with non-union men have been released and have returned to duty.

Quiet at Southampton.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 11.—Complete quiet prevails here. At a conference of the strikers this afternoon it was decided to return to work on the concession offered a fortnight ago.

NEW YORK MARKETS EXCITED

Disastrous Effect of the U.S. Government Crop Report.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The speculative markets to-day were excited and fluctuations were more violent than they have been for years. The trading in the produce exchange in the early hours was marked by great excitement, and it was almost impossible to keep track of the quotations. The brokers were all amazed at the character of the Government crop report, it being the most unfavorable—taking all the crop together—issued at any time. The report also affected the stock market to some extent.

Baby Doerfling's Death.

BADEN, Sept. 11.—Mrs. William Doerfling in dressing her other children for school laid a seven months old babe on the bed. It rolled in between the bed and wall with the clothes and when found it was suffocated.

THE M'KINLEY TARIFF BILL

Probable Action of the House on the Senate Amendments.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The Senate clerks will finish work on the tariff bill to-day, and it will then be sent to the House. When the House meets to-morrow morning the bill with Senate amendments will, under the rules of the House, be referred without special action to the Committee on Ways and Means. A meeting of the Ways and Means Committee will be called for the earliest date practicable, and unless some unexpected obstacle is encountered on the part of the Democratic members of the committee the bill will be reported back to the House with the committee's recommendations not later than Monday or Tuesday. The committee's recommendation, it is predicted, will be that the House agree to such of the Senate amendments as are merely verbal and do not change rates, and that as respects those amendments which do increase or reduce the rates in the bill as sent to the Senate the House non-concur and agree to the conference asked by the Senate.

Meanwhile, although the bill is not yet in conference, the Republican members of the committee are quietly examining the Senate amendments with a view to expediting their disposition in conference.

A SWISS REVOLUTION.

THREE CANTONAL OFFICIALS IN PRISON AND ONE KILLED.

The Remaining Members of the Government Fugitives—Federal Troops Sent to Suppress the Revolt—Serious Illness of the Duchess of Fife.

BERNE, Sept. 11.—A revolution has broken out in the Canton of Ticino owing to a difference of opinion regarding the revision of the constitution.

Three members of the Cantonal Government have been imprisoned, one has been killed with a revolver and the others have fled.

The Federal Government has sent two battalions to the scene.

Princess Louise of Wales' Illness.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The health of Princess Louise of Wales, Duchess of Fife, is giving her husband and royal relatives great uneasiness. She has never entirely recovered from the effects of her late illness and suffers from almost daily fainting fits.

The Zemmours Routed.

TANGIER, Sept. 11.—The Sultan of Morocco's forces have had a battle with the Zemmours in which the latter were defeated with a heavy loss in killed and wounded. The Zemmours were taken by surprise and completely routed. Their famous chief, Ohammon, was captured by the Sultan's troops.

The Federation Scheme Adopted at Sydney.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 11.—The Legislative Assembly, by a vote of 97 to 11, has adopted Sir Henry Parkes' scheme for an Australian federation. The Assembly appointed a committee to represent the colony at the coming federal convention. Sir Henry Parkes is a member of the committee.

Great Is the American Hog.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 11.—The Gironde council-general has sent a resolution to the Government demanding the early repeal of the law prohibiting the importation of American salted pork.

MURDERED IN COURT.

Terrible Tragedy Resulting from a Dispute Over a Will.

HOMERSVILLE, O., Sept. 11.—Proceedings in the trial of George Barngrover v. Joseph Hiler were interrupted in a most tragic manner last evening. A Mr. Hiler died three months ago, leaving a will in which he devised most of his property to two of his sons and two daughters, to the exclusion of other children. There has been talk of contesting the will and much bitterness has been manifested. This was a case for damages under an alleged breach of contract between Joseph Hiler and Barngrover, who was one of the sons-in-law of Mr. Hiler. During the trial Constable I. N. Allen, another son-in-law, stepped to the door, when a pistol shot was heard. Allen came staggering into the room and fell across a chair, exclaiming: "John Hiler did it."

Before the terrorized spectators could realize what had happened the murderer was seen standing in the middle of the crowded court room, and fired a second shot, which took effect in the right breast of George Barngrover, passing entirely through his body. The excitement was indescribable, the court room being crowded with men and women. As Hiler rushed from the room into the darkness he was heard to remark: "I have loads for two more men." It is understood that he meant by that remark John Hiler, jr., a cousin of the murderer, and an important witness in the case, and Attorney W. F. McHeth, who has charge of the case for the plaintiff.

The town is aroused, and is searching for the murderer, who is still at large.

AN ELOPEMENT'S SEQUEL.

The Bride Repents and Goes Home with Her Mother.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 11.—There is an interesting sequel to the elopement last week of Miss F. A. Adah Boggs, 20 years old, daughter of a rich oil merchant of Allegheny, Pa., with Cliff Allen, 20 years, son of Hon. Norman O. Allen. They met at Olcott, a lakeside resort near Lake Port, where Allen lives, and after a brief courtship they were clandestinely married. They came to Buffalo on Saturday, after Allen's father had disowned him, and registered at the Mansion House. Seen at the hotel the groom was a blue-eyed beardless youth and the bride a large blonde woman, handsomely attired and glittering with diamonds. Mrs. Allen telegraphed her mother to come and take her home. Mrs. Boggs arrived yesterday, and Adah declared that she had repented of her hasty marriage.

"I am a creature of impulse," she said. "I always was, and I don't know what made me do it. I have made a terrible mistake, and I would give anything in the world if I could recall this crazy piece of business." She added: "The minister was an old simpleton, whose neck I would like to wring."

She said that her young husband had dragged her into the parsonage to be married. The bride finally returned to her home and the groom is disconsolate.

A FAIR DIRECTOR.

Lord Aberdeen Has Honors Thrust Upon Him—Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Sept. 11.—The Earl of Aberdeen has accepted an honorary directorship of the great Central Fair and promised that the Countess and himself will attend the show during the week of Sept. 22.

Miss Edith Hamilton of Rebecca-street was the defendant in a fowl-stealing case at the Police Court this morning. The complainant was Robert Blair of the Arcade saloon. He charged the defendant with keeping a ferocious dog that bit his little girl, Winnie, yesterday afternoon. Miss Hamilton refused to kill the dog and was committed to a higher court for trial.

A slick young man, who will probably soon be in custody, went to 20 Gore-street yesterday and said he desired to engage board. In the afternoon he called again and said he would like to write a letter, if the mistress of the house would kindly show him to the room he was to occupy. He was taken to a room upstairs. Shortly afterward he came down stairs and went out. When A. Duffield, who occupied that bedroom, returned from work in the evening he found his silver watch missing. The timepiece was subsequently found at a pawnbroker's.

Edward Doyle, the desperado who threw a stone through the window of one of the cars of a Hamilton and Dundas railway train, proved to be a chubby little 5-year-old codger, who when brought into court by his mother and formally arraigned, became so frightened at being brought face to face with the terrors of law that he burst out crying, and upon order of the magistrate was borne off home by his mother.

Samuel McNair, jr., has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by E. A. Eccleston, who charges him with embezzling 50 cents.

Mr. William H. Mills died at his residence this morning, aged 68. He was a native of this city. Mr. Mills practised law for a number of years, but relinquished the profession for the more congenial study of fruits and flowers. He was a son of the late Mr. James Mills, and brother to the late Senator Mills, the late Mr. John W. Mills and Mr. George H. Mills, barrister, of this city.

John Milne died here this morning, aged 80. He was sick only eight days and died of old age. It was the wish of the deceased that a notice of his death should not be published until three weeks after it occurred.

J. R. Cherrier died at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday afternoon of dropsy at the age of 64. Mr. Cherrier was some years ago a prosperous grocer in Hamilton, but he met with business reverses.

A TALK ABOUT MANTLES AT TURNBULL'S

Look out for this column during the Fall and Winter. It will keep you posted in dry goods news, and let you know about the bargains we offer from time to time. Our counters and shelves are now fairly groaning under the weight of new goods. Never before did we offer such an attractive stock as to-day. The new Mantle Cloths are just beautiful, the styles are so new both in black and colors. We show Black Astrachan Cloth so fine that it is a perfect imitation of the real thing. Any one thinking of getting an Astrachan or Polarian Mantle made to order this season should by all means see our stock before purchasing. Samples sent by mail if required.

We felt the want last season of a larger range of Ladies' and Children's ready-made Mantles, and have imported a well selected stock in both long Mantles and short Jackets, in plain and fancy cloths. Every body can be suited as we import direct and mark the goods close.

A beautiful lot of fancy pantings arrived for the Gents' Furnishing Department this week. Try our tailor.

We are selling 8 pair of Men's Merino Half Hose for $1.00. Our Dress Trimmings from London, England, have arrived. As London is the best market in the world for these goods we believe the goods we are offering will be appreciated.

Drop in and see the new shades in Dress Goods; we have the full range of shades in several makes of Cloth.

See our 54 inch Wool Serge at 75 cents a yard.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1890.

THE Dominion Government organs make much of the alleged fact that the revenue, that is the tax bill of the people, shows an increase of a million and that the expenditure decreased a million. The national debt however, increased over half a million. The people could stand burdensome taxation with a little better grace if they could see that the load of debt was being diminished instead of added to.

TAXATIONIST papers say that it makes no difference if the McKinley Tariff Bill is passed, destroying our market for eggs, barley, etc., in the United States, "so long as an equally good market is found in England." It appears that some Brockville dentist met somebody in England who thought there was a good market for Canadian eggs in England and so the question is settled in the minds of the trade restrictionists. It may be a good substitute to send perishable goods 3,000 miles instead of 300. There is this point in favour of the distant market, the eggs will be growing in value in transitu—they stand excellent chances of becoming fair sized chickens by the time they reach their destination.

THE Empire gives an extract from a letter of a Canadian resident of the United States, in which the "backwardness in morality education and refinement" of the people of the United States is particularly emphasized. Why, then, is this correspondent living there, or having anything to do with the unclean thing? If he doesn't like the country, why doesn't he stay out of it? Especially, as he believes that Canada is "fifty years ahead in the above particulars, but not so much financially or commercially." Does this man go to a country so low in the moral and social scale, in order to reach his own level? Does he go to a country inferior in commercial and financial standing to improve his worldly condition? A respectable paper should not publish such rot as the correspondent quoted, and, if it had a true conception of patriotism, it would forbear to insult those more loyal than itself, because they wish for enlarged trade relations with our neighbours, as much removed as possible from restriction methods, which even the "heathen Chinee" has discarded, by calling them annexationists. If it is disloyal to get better commercial relations with the United States, what has the Empire to say of the wild-goose chase of Mr. Adam Brown, sent by the Dominion Government to Jamaica to work up a trade? The Empire's treatment of public questions would indicate that the contents of the waste baskets of respectable journals is dumped into the editorial columns of that rabid sheet.

The Sunshine Continent.

"Africa will be the continent of the twentieth century." - Victor Hugo.

The equatorial position of Africa entitles it to be styled "The Sunshine Continent." The value of this wealth of solar heat may, in some measures, be comprehended by comparing the productive capacity of an acre of soil in such sunshine with that of an acre equally rich in quality, but located in Iceland No other continent has so large a portion of its surface so favorably situated in this respect, and also in water supply. A large part of its vast expanse lies at such an elevation above sea level, that the climate, even under the equator, is perpetual spring. The explorations of Livingstone, the missionary and the greatest of geographers have swept most of the fabled desert from its map, by finding large tracts of it the richest regions on the earth.

This continent lies substantially between latitude 35 degrees north and 35 degrees south of the equator, and between longitude 15 degrees west and 55 degrees east of Greenwich observatory, London, England. Its greatest length, from Cape Blanco on the north to Cape Agulhas on the south, is about 5,000 miles. Its greatest breadth, from Cape Verde on the west to Cape Guardafui on the east, is 4,600 miles. It has an area of 11,500,000 square miles, or more than ninety-five times that of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales combined. It is one-fourth of the land surface of the earth.

The population is variously estimated to be from 150,000,000 to 250,000,000 and it has a sufficient natural productive capacity to support more than as many people as all now living on the earth. These populations and areas are divided between the following fifteen principal countries: Abyssinia, Algeria, Cape Colony, Congo Free State, Egypt, Liberia, Madagascar, Morocco, Mozambique, Natal, Nubia, Orange Free State, Transvaal, Tunis and Zanzibar. No city is conclusively settled on as the capital of the Congo Free State, but the following are the capitals of the other States in their order as above with their approximate population: Gondar, 7,000; Algiers, 70,000; Cape Town, 33,000; Cairo, the largest city in Africa, 398,000; Monrovia, 3,000; Tananarivo, 100,000; Morocco, 50,000; Mozambique, 55,000; Petermaritzburg, 14,000; Dongola, 11,000; Bloemfontein, 3,000; Pretoria, 5,000; Tunis, 120,000; Zanzibar, 90,000.

Excepting the Amazon, the Congo is the largest river in the world. It has a volume equal to fifty Mississippis before the influx of the Missouri—a volume so vast and so saw fit that it drives back the Atlantic and offers fresh water nine miles out at sea. The Nile, the Niger, the Orange and Zambesi are the other principal streams. The Nile is the only stream of any considerable size flowing north—empties into the Mediterranean, and the Zambesi is the only large river passing east to the Indian Ocean. The others have an Atlantic outlet. This great preponderance of westward waterflow is owing to the superior elevation of the eastern rim of this insular continent. All of these rivers have their fountains on a plateau nearly a mile above marine level; they fall so rapidly in the short distance between the outer rim of the middle plateau and the ocean, that an almost inconceivable amount of hydraulic power is concentrated near the sea, and yet mostly above the fevered air strata of the coast level, the Congo alone having the power of hundreds of Niagaras between Stanley Pool and the inner edge of the coast range. These stupendous rapids and cataracts have for thousands of years beaten back explorers who attempted to unlock the hidden mysteries of the "Dark Continent." Niagara is dwarfed by the Zambesi's plunge of many times its volume, 330 feet, as at Victoria Falls. The size, but more especially the elevation, of the great lakes is quite as remarkable as any other feature of African physical geography. Victoria Nyanza (the fountain of the Nile sought by Herodotus) has an area of 21,000 square miles and an elevation of 4,000 feet. Either Nyassa or Tanganyika would reach from Boston to Washington, D.C., and while the latter is not so wide as Lake Superior its depths are so profound as to make it really larger. It has an elevation of 2,755 feet above the sea, while Superior has only 600. Abyssinia, the Switzerland of Africa, has Lake Dembea, a lacustrine gem of the upper air. Excepting Titicaca in South America, it is probably the highest lake in the world.

The mountain formations are on a correspondingly grand scale. Kilimanjaro wears its snow crown about 20,000 feet skyward, in the regions of eternal ice, yet nearly under the equator. Hundreds of thousands of square miles of the central portion may fairly be considered as a mountain plateau far above the highest crest of the Alleghanies, a mountain elevation of such imperial dimensions as to equal many times the area of New England. There are a few large indentations and consequently few good harbours along the 16,000 miles of African coast line. Geological investigation seems to indicate that the formation of this continent is lacustrine rather than glacial.

Rich gold deposits are found in Senegambia, in the region around Leydenburg in the Transvaal, and elsewhere in South Africa. There are rich diamond fields in the Orange valley, mostly in Kimberly. Rubies, having stones cut with the historic "Tyrian bevel," are found in the Leydenburg region. These are among the indications that this country was the Ophir of Solomon's time.

Millions of dollars' worth of gems and precious metals and other millions' worth of ivory, rubber and ostrich feathers, annually find their way to other lands from Africa. Coal, iron and useful deposits are found there in abundance. No other land can compare with this in vastness of area adapted to raising cotton, sugar, coffee, spices, gums, dyestuffs, etc. Equally amazing is her capacity for raising grass, fruits and vegetables, horses, cattle, sheep and other domestic animals. Her forest wealths, too, are royal.

The brilliance, varied and luxuriance of African flora and bird life, are simply amazing. There is no more inviting field on the planet for the study of botany, ornithology, geology and the natural sciences. The crystaline air of upper levels of this mountain continent is exceptionally adapted likewise to astronomic observation. The combined grandeur and dreamy beauty of landscapes, make it an ideal for the artist.

With mental and moral culture, the millions of Africa's native races are capable of taking a leading hand in developing these resources, and also of furnishing a market for the surplus products of the skilled industry of Christendom. But if the bloody and blighting influence of slave traders and liquor dealers continues, it will be as ruinous of that commerce which is the life of capital and labor, as it is of the bodies and souls of mankind; financial as well as mental and moral death are in the wake of these twin demons of destruction.

The Clerk and His Pencil.

The act of putting a lead pencil to the tongue, to wet it, just before writing, which we notice in so many people, is one of the oddities of habit for which it is hard to give any reason, unless it began in the days when lead pencils were poorer than now, and was continued by example into the next generation.

A lead pencil should should never be wet. It hardens the lead and ruins the pencil. This fact is known to newspaper men and stenographers. But nearly everyone else does wet a pencil before using it. This fact was definitely settled by a newspaper clerk away down east.

Being of a mathmatical turn of mind, he ascertained by actual count that of fifty persons who came into the office to write an advertisement or church notice forty-nine wet a pencil in their mouths before using it.

Now, this clerk always uses the best pencils that can be procured—in fact, is a connoisseur in leadpencils, cherishing a good one with something of the pride a soldier feels in his gun or sword; and it hurt his feelings to have his pencil spoiled. But politeness and business considerations required him to lend his pencil scores of times every day. And often, after it had been wet till it was hard and brittle, and refused to mark, his feelings would overpower him.

Finally he got some cheap pencils, and sharpened them, and kept them to lend. The first person who took up the stock pencil was a drayman, whose breath smelt of onions and whisky. He held the point in his mouth and soaked it for several minutes, while he was torturing himself in the effort to write an advertisement for a missing bulldog.

Then a sweet-looking young lady came into the office, with kid gloves that buttoned half the length of her arm. She picked up the same old pencil and pressed it to her dainty lips preparatory to writing an advertisement for a lost bracelet. The clerk would have stayed her hand, even at the risk of a box of the best pencils ever Faber catered; but it was too late.

And thus that pencil passed from mouth to mouth for a week. It was sucked by people of all ranks and stations, and all degrees of cleanliness and uncleanliness; but we forbear. Surely no one who reads this will ever again wet a lead-pencil.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Mr. Duncan McIntyre, accompanied by Mr. Van Horne, is at present on a tour of inspection of the New York, Ontario & Western Railway, the stock of which is largely owned by English investors. It is understood that Mr. Van Horne, at the request of Mr. McIntyre, is looking over the road as to the possibility of improving and extending it, with a possible view of a large block of the stock being purchased by friends of the Canadian Pacific.

NATURAL GAS AT BELLE RIVER.

An Unexpected Strike at a Depth of Only 85 Feet.

WINDSOR, Sept. 11.—While boring for water near the Grand Trunk station at Bell River, 25 miles east of here, gas was struck to-day at a depth of 85 feet. It took fire shooting 50 feet into the air and they are at present striving to extinguish the flames. The roar of the fire can be heard for a long distance, while it shakes the ground all around and makes the windows in every house rattle. The man who owns the well is Eli Trudo, a livery stable keeper.

The Bradford, Fla., county commissioners pay $30 a month for a man to guard the county jail, and when the sheriff has a prisoner that he is afraid will get away, or one whose life may be in danger, the county pays his expenses to some safe jail instead of using the money to repair the jail at home.

A Pittsfield hardware dealer tells of a man who entered his store the other day and asked to look at some nippers or pliers. Some were shown him, whereupon he calmly affixed a pair to one of his teeth, pulled the molar from his jaw, laid it with the nippers on the counter and asked the bill.

The ways of the auctioneer in different parts of the world vary greatly. In England and America the seller bears the expense of the sale, but in France the purchaser bears the cost, five per cent being added to his purchase. In Holand it is still worse, the buyer being required to pay 10 per cent additional for the expenses of the sale.

Charles P. Berkshire, of Morgantown, is making a cane for the world's fair at Chicago in 1893 which will contain 1,572 pieces of West Virginia wood, have a gold ferule and a diamond tipped head. He has made several valuable sticks, and expects this to be one of the finest works of wood engraving to be seen at the fair.

Elias L. Bradley, of Oakfield, Mich., has worried through life as a bachelor just sixty-three years, and one would suppose that he had acquired a modicum of resignation. The sequel doesn't read that way, however, as Elias has proposed and been accepted by Mrs. Sophronia S. Bradley, his brother's widow, and will marry her soon.

While services were being held in a church in Twiggs County, Ga., there came a vivid flash of lightning, accompanied by a quick terrific peal of thunder. The lightning struck a tree thirty yards from the church, under which thirteen negroes were gathered. One was instantly killed, and ten wounded. The entire party was hurled to the ground senseless.

G. W. Giffen, of Truckee, Cal., makes the following unique political announcement: "I am a dependent candidate for the office of road overseer in and for District No. 5—dependent upon the voters of said district. I am pre-eminently sound upon all the leading questions, from the tariff all the way down to 'Who struck Billy Patterson?' and if elected will do my duty, and if defeated will submit without kicking."

Mrs. William A. Slater, of Norwich, dropped a smelling bottle in New London harbor the other day while being rowed from her husband's yacht, the Sagamore. She has so many associations with that smelling bottle, which in cold cash is said to be worth only $50, that she persuaded her husband to engaged the services of Captain Thomas Scott, the professional diver. Thus, far, however, the search has been unsuccessful.

The color of a trout's back depends on the color of the bottom of the river, according to the American Angler, but the trout which grow rapidly differ greatly in spots and color from those which grow slowly and thrive badly, and a middle-aged trout differs in color from an aged trout. Speaking generally, the young, healthy, fast-growing fish will have silvery sides, white belly and plenty of well-defined spots. The poorly fed fish will have few or no spots, a drab belly and muddy-yellow sides. The old trout will be much the same in appearance, only more so, and will be particularly lank and large headed. This accounts for those trout which have access to salt water being brighter and more beautiful than those which do not. The variety and abundance of their food make them so.

In a paper on tuberculosis in Belgium, MM. Destree and Gallimaerts came to the conclusion, as the result of their investigations, that, in comparing the morality from phthisis of bachelors, married people and widowers the last are very much more subject to this disease than either of the other classes. The same statement holds good for all ages, and it is, they say, also true that widows are more liable than single women to die of phthisis. The authors do not think this is to be explained except by direct contagion of wife to husband or husband to wife. They cannot think irregularities and excesses indulged in by widowers can be answerable for it, for advanced age does not seem to make any difference. They would ascribe it to infection occurring during married life, the disease claiming its second victim some time after death of the first.

THE HISTORY OF A BEQUEST.

Scotch Money Left for the Education of Slaves—Claimed by Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—The state school commissioner and attorney-general were in consultation yesterday in regard to securing, for purposes of negro education in this state, a sum of money that has lain in the Bank of England for many years. It is a legacy, the history of which is very singular. Archibald McLean, a Scotchman, was a prosperous planter in Chatham early in the present century. His estate was known as Gowrie, and on it he had a large number of slaves. His family in Scotland was strongly opposed to slavery. After his death and the death of his son and heir, a certain interest in the estate went to his brother, John McLean. John McLean died at Glasgow on July 9, 1836, leaving a will that directed the application of half his interest in his deceased brother's Georgia estate to the education of negro slaves thereon or of their offspring, as soon as the laws of Georgia should permit the education of the slave population. Four prominent Savannah merchants were named as trustees under the will, but declined the trust on the ground that the laws of Georgia prohibited the education of slaves and the bequest was therefore void. The sum involved was a little over $35.

The heirs, in view of the legal condition of the legacy in Georgia, attempted to secure the money, but the courts decided against them. Accordingly the money has been in charge of the Bank of England, and William Lloyd Garrison was notified of the facts to the end that when circumstances might arise under which the money could be applied according to the terms of the will steps could be taken for securing possession of it. After the emancipation of all slaves in this country, a son of Garrison, who had found among his father's papers a memorandum of the matter, called the attention of the Georgia authorities to the legacy. While the Bank of England is anxious to pay over the money to whoever is legally entitled to receive it, a letter to that effect having just been received by the school commission of Georgia, the difficulty is that the negroes of the Gowrie plantation have been scattered by the war, and there is no way of finding their heirs. Now the question is whether the bequest, which has been bearing interest since 1836, can be secured and devoted to the general education of negroes.

The lords of the admiralty have received a petition from the crews of the battleship cruisers complaining of the cruel treatment of subordinates. It is alleged that they are put in cells so near the boilers that when steam is up they are nearly roasted to death.

The lady who owes a considerable portion of her charms to art was much annoyed the other day, says the Birmingham Mail, on receiving a dozen of her carefully retouched cartes from her photographer to read on the back of each photograph the words: "The original of this portrait is carefully preserved." She has not yet recovered from this unexpected "back" thrust.

Imperfect Mechanism.

"My son," said the wise parent, "when you hear profane language always shut your ears."

"I try to," answered the hopeful, "but somehow the hinges won't work."—Binghamton Republican.

The Time Table.

He—How do you do, Miss Brownstone; they tell me you have moved out to the country—er—at what time do the trains run out to your place?

Miss Brownstone (who has not yet been broken in to catch trains, wearily)—The trains go three minutes before I can get to the station, and at other times during the day.—Racket.

Mamma—You did not permit him to do so, of course?

Daughter—No, mamma—

Mamma—I'm glad of that, my child.

Daughter (resuming)—He did it without permission.—World.

Loss of Appetite.

Principal of Girls' Boarding School (to her butcher)—From to-morrow you can send me three pounds of meat less than the usual quantity.

Butcher—Have you lost some of your boarders?

"No, but four of the girls have fallen in love."

A Rash Knight.

Mr. Reuben Knight, of Morris, Man., states that he was troubled with a rash all over his body, which was cured with less than one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. He highly recommends it as a blood purifier of the greatest efficacy. 2w37d

A Letter From Emerson.

"I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and I think it the best remedy for summer complaint. It has done a great deal of good to myself and children." Yours truly, MRS. WHITELY, Emerson, Man. 2w37d

A Mosside Story.

I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters and pills and find them everything to me. I had dyspepsia with bad breath and bad appetite, but after a few days' use of B.B.B. I felt stronger, could eat a good meal and felt myself a different man. W.H. STORY, Mosside, Ont. 2w37d

To avoid catching cold, many plans have been suggested. Probably if one never went anywhere or did anything out of the usual routine of life, they would be free from many of the ailments that flesh is heir to, but this is not a satisfactory solution of the question. People must have recreation and enjoyment, and frequently catch cold in the pursuit of them. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure a Cough or Cold in the shortest possible time, and by its tonic effects strengthen and invigorate the system at the same time. Sold by all druggists. dw

Make Things Bright For Winter Nights.

"THE ripening breath of Summer" warns us that the "melancholy days" and long dark nights of Autumn and Winter are at hand.

After the bright inspiring outdoor life of Summer, we must make our home so cheerful, that the contrast will not be so sharply noted.

After the wife's sunny temper, the husband's kindly mien, and the children's dutiful sportiveness, the material adornments of the home have the most brightening influence, and the most cheering form of adornment—that yields the largest revenue of pleasure and satisfaction for the least expenditure—is

Life Insurance Policy Holders

SHOULD READ THIS!

THE PERCENTAGE OF LAPSES.

The large increase in the amount of life insurance written by purely Canadian companies, and terminated by surrender or lapse, during the past year, has naturally attracted the attention of insurance men. So unexpected and unwelcome an increase: $1,709,612 in the amount of lapsed policies credited to Canadian companies during a period when American companies doing business in this country showed a decrease under this heading of $213,304, could not fail to excite comment; so that the figures have been eagerly scanned to discover how such a condition of affairs was brought about.

Perhaps this is most easily shown in tabular form by giving the net amount of insurance in force on the books of each of our principal Canadian companies and the percentage of lapsed and surrendered policies they are responsible for. In this case they rank as follows:—

Company.	Net amount in force.	Percentage of Surrender and Lapse.
Canada Life	$48,864,376	3.07
Confederation	17,574,823	5.31
Ontario Mutual	13,071,400	10.29
Federal	10,056,537	10.35
Sun Life	11,670,317	10.36
North American	8,470,020	10.68
Temperance and General	2,984,972	17.84
Citizens	2,097,956	22.15
Manufacturers' Life	5,723,100	30 12
London Life	1,644,295	30.61

From this table we can see that while such companies as the Canada Life and Confederation have actually decreased the amount of their lapses, some of the weaker companies have largely increased theirs, so that, although one company shows under four per cent., one under six, and four under eleven, the average percentage of lapses for the whole ten companies is 15.78 per cent.

The only moral we can draw from these figures is that the stronger and more widely known a company is, and the more of its patrons it will retain permanently on its books, while the weaker companies must, perforce, witness the defection of a certain proportion of their customers to their more powerful rivals. That so large a proportion as 30 per cent. of policy holders should entirely abandon the advantages of insurance in one year is hardly probable in these days of popular education. We can therefore only fall back on the hypothesis that the bulk of the lapses of the weaker companies must arise from their policy holders transferring their allegiance elsewhere. It is in fact a case of the wealthier and more widely known (even if not more progressive) companies absorbing the cream of the permanent business, and leaving only the transitory, and therefore less desirable risks, to their humbler competitors. By the aid of clever management and attractive methods, a weak company may be able to absorb a fair share of new business; but it is evident from these figures that the superior prestige of their older established rivals is certain to attract a proportion of their customers in the long run, and that thus their percentage of lapses will always be heavier.

In Mourning.

A beautiful "mourning window" is exhibited at Mr. J. J. Sheehy's store. An artistic memorial column is surrounded on all sides by draperies and mourning goods of every variety selected from the large stock on the shelves. Mr. Sheehy's store may justly be termed the Atradome of Peterborough.

The Cribwork About Completed.

The south shore of little Lake is now protected from the encroachments of the water by a formidable locking cribwork extending from the cemetery to Lake street. The last log is being laid, and in a couple of days more the work will be finished. Mr. M. Bolton had the contract, for building the last section, and he and Mr. John Brown have made a splendid job of it.

Their Removal Deferred.

It is not probable the Grand Trunk despatcher's offices will be removed to Lindsay until the end of next month. The station at Lindsay is slow of completion, which causes delay. The despatcher's staff here are making preparations to move as soon as their new quarters are ready.

Death of Mr. Hackett.

Mr. M. Hackett, of the firm of Dolan & Hackett, is in Montreal this week on a sad mission. His aged father died Sunday morning and was buried Wednesday. Mr. Hackett feels the blow the more keenly that he has just established himself in business and the sun of his content was otherwise unclouded. He will receive the sympathy of his friends.

Gold in Belmont.

Mr. James Wilson inform the Norwood Register that gold has been discovered on his property in Belmont—lot 21 in the 7th concession. Experts give it as their opinion that a mine on the property would be a profitable venture, and already Mr. Wilson has received several tempting offers to sell. The old "Myer's mine," on the adjoining lot, owned by Mr. Jas. Sexsmith, has also been visited by prospectors and pronounced rich in gold and pumice stone. The discovery is causing quite a flutter of excitement in the township.

Another Discovery of Coal Oil.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. John Blank discovered indications of coal oil in the cellar of her house, and a closer search revealed the existence of a very fine show of unmistakable coal oil. She had been searching for a packet of hawley bros.' tea and came accidentally upon the coal oil can which had been by mistake carried to the cellar. She didn't care much for the oil but she was overjoyed when she found the tea. That household and hundreds of others are out of joint unless hawley bros.' splendid tea is on the table.

In the Good Work.

Lindsay's religious institutions received considerable assistance this week from Peterborough workers. The Warder says:—Mrs. Patton, of Peterborough, attended the annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. here last week and created a most favorable impression. . . . . Last Sunday evening in the absence of the organist, that responsible position was filled in the Baptist church by Mr. G. S. Matthews, of Peterborough, who was home for the day. George when he comes to town is usually put to some useful purpose.

Renismere Picnic.

On Thursday the rain deluged Tara grove in Ennismore and the annual picnic was not held. A postponement till Tuesday, Sept. Sept. 16th, was made, at which date the entire programme, as originally announced, will be carried out. Don't forget this picnic.

Sudden Attack of Severe Illness.

About the middle of this forenoon William Waterman, an employee of the Carbon Works who came recently to town from Cleveland, U. S., was prostrated by an attack of illness, in the midst of his work. He was carried outside the building and subsequently removed to his home on Albert street, and four physicians summoned. At one time it was thought that he was dead but the doctors by inducing respiration by artificial means brought on the functions of life. Just before going to press the condition of Mr. Waterman was reported as improved. The attack was in the nature of a fainting fit, due to heart weakness, though their is no organic disease.

No Meeting.

Very naturally, there was no meeting of the Board of Health last night. A majority of the members preferred their own comfortable firesides to facing the storm. Those present were Dr. Fife, chairman, and Messrs. E. Pearse and B. Shortly—not enough for a quorum. Mr. Moore, of the civic health committee, was also in attendance, and Dr. Clark, Medical Health officer, and Mr. J. G. Macdonald, secretary. After an informal discussion of Mr. Moore's bylaw the meeting dispersed. Another meeting has been called for next Thursday night.

Cheaper to Buy than Steal.

Gough Bros. have the ready-made clothing trade of the town in their own hands now. Opposition can't touch them. They bought the Kidd bankrupt stock at 67½c. on the dollar. They're selling it at prices that make it cheaper to buy than steel. The great sale is now going on at the Kidd stand and at Gough Bro.'s stores. Go and see them. Gough Bros. can rig you out in such style that your grandmother won't know you—and all for less than it would cost you for a suit of underclothing at some of the high-priced stores. Come now, and you'll never regret it, as they say at the Salvation Army. Gough Bros. will make you happy with their fine goods and low prices. dw

Struck by Lightning.

During the heavy thunder storm of Monday morning, the Register says, the barn of Mr. John Ryan, of Asphodel, was struck by lightning and totally consumed. With the exception of about one hundred bushels of wheat, which had been threshed early in the season, there was stored in the barn the entire crop of a two hundred acre farm. The loss is placed at considerably over $2,000.

Mr. Thos. Humphries, of Asphodel, had a horse killed by lightning on Monday morning.

Mr. Frank Birdsall, of Asphodel, also had a colt struck by lightning on Monday morning. The bolt tore away a portion of the fleshy part of one of the front legs. The animal was not killed and will recover.

Moving the Bell.

Peterborough's "Big Ben", attached to the civic chronometer, it being moved to the new clock-tower to-day. Mr. Muncaster and Contractor Rutherford have quite a staff of men engaged on the undertaking. The bell weighs nearly a thousand pounds. It will be let down to the roof of the new building and moved along a gangway which has been constructed for the purpose. The bell will be placed below the clock in that portion of the tower fitted with shutter windows. Some people think that the bell will not sound as well as it did when situated in the very top of the dome over the other building. But formerly it was enclosed in a frame which touched the sides, which no doubt prevented as good a tone as will be secured in the new quarters. The shutter windows are large and it is thought will be open enough to allow the sound to escape in its full strength.

Mr. McClure's Oil Well.

The reported discovery of coal oil by Mr. John McClure, North Monaghan, has caused considerable talk about town, and conjecture is rife as to whether the find is genuine or not. While not at all skeptical of the fact that coal oil has really been found as described, the majority of the people are of opinion that it is not of natural formation, but that a small quantity has either accidentally or purposely been placed there. One gentleman who some years ago took an interest in salt and oil wells, and went to the trouble of getting a well-known geologists opinion, says that, according to the expert's statement, a genuine coal oil well in this district is impossible. The formation of the ground is too low—it is not an oil-bearing stratum. However, Mr. McClure's place has been visited by numbers of people, and Mr. McClure himself has lost none of his confidence. No steps have yet been taken to closely investigate the extent of the find.

Army Blasts.

A "musicale" was held at the Salvation Army barracks last night, the Green family from Stirling, comprising mother and two children (the father arrived to-day) furnishing most enjoyable vocal and instrumental music. The family compose a good brass orchestra, while their singing was equally good. They were assisted last night by Geo. Stevens. Major Spooner led the meeting. The Green family will be at the barracks again to-night.

The excursion "around the horn" to-day was fairly well patronized considering the unfavorable weather outlook. The excursionists take in the route between Lakefield and Chemong.

Capt and Mrs. Jones and Lieut. Lebar say farewell at the barracks Sunday. They have received orders that they have been transferred, though their destinations or successors here are not yet known. These were successful officers, and many in the Peterborough corps will regret their removal.

Peterborough's Advantages.

The following appeared in to-day's Empire in the St. Catharines correspondence:—

The efforts of the St. Catharines Merchants Club to locate factories in the city seem to be fruitless thus far. Now Peterborough gets the drop on us. Is isn't the last straw, but it's pretty near it:—

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., Sept. 9, 1890.

J. B. Mewburn, St Catharines:—

DEAR SIR,—Your letter of 1st instant was received here during my absence from town, and in reply would say the matter of the location of our Canadian works has been settled upon, and it is our intention to build at Peterborough. It was not a matter of inducement but purely one of railroad facilities and other business advantages; and our decision was that Peterborough was far more favorable than St. Catharines.

Yours very truly,
JOHN KRUSE,
General Manager Edison Manufacturing Co.

Demolishing the Market.

Whack, whack! Thump, thump! The market square resounds with these noises all day long. Groups of men stand on the corners and gaze at a distance upon the work of demolition of the old market building. Gradually the old structure is being reduced to skeleton form under the deft operations of the mechanics. In a couple of days it will be no more. The last vestige of the old building will have disappeared, and the spot where once it stood will be smooth and level as the remainder of the square. How times are changed. Forty years ago the market building was the pride of Peterborough's enterprising citizens. It was market hall, town hall, opera house, butchers' market combined. The old structure has, however, served its purpose. Peterborough's ideas have enlarged with the extension of its borders, and to-day nothing less than a $20 000 building would be satisfactory. Nothing could be more indicative of the progress of our town than the evidence furnished by this circumstance of the razing of the old landmark. Peterborough required better market accommodation. The removal of the old building will give a large amount of extra space for farmer's wagons. Mr. Fitzgerald, who purchased the building, has let the contract for tearing it down to Mr. Tom Rahill. He will have the work completed in a week. It will give many old citizens a melancholy pleasure to call to mind reminiscences of bygone days as they witness the destruction of a building which played a prominent part in the early history of the town. They will realize that the relentless march of time brings modern ideas and improvements in its wake; and that the inevitable doom of the old is to be replaced by the new.

Capt. Dennistoun Has the Highest Average and Wins the Medal.

The last of the regular monthly matches of the Rifle Association took place at the ranges yesterday amidst a storm of heavy rain and wind. There were not many marksmen to compete, but fair scores were made.

This concluded the series of monthly matches, in which the member having the highest aggregate of any three matches receives the Dominion Rifle Association Medal, and the second highest the O.R.A. medal. Capt. Dennistoun stood first and Mr. F. Hall second.

The McKinley Tariff.

Prominent Press Opinions as to Its Effect.

Toronto Globe.

Our Washington correspondent telegraphs this morning that the exact text of the fish, lumber and agricultural schedules of the new United States tariff as finally adopted by the Senate yesterday. It is believed that no changes will be made in these schedules by the Conference Committee, but that they will become law on Sept. 1st as they now stand. It will be observed that considerable alterations have been made in some of the paragraphs since they appeared in the original draft of the bill. Canadian lumbermen have been benefited by a reduction in the duty on sawed white pine lumber as well as in that on white pine shingles. To meet our export duty on logs, it is provided that if that duty be retained, then the duty on our sawed lumber shall remain at its present figure of $2 per thousand; in other words, we are to get the benefit of the reduction to a dollar effected by the new law. There is no comfort, however, for the Canadian farmer. The agricultural schedule practically remains as originally prepared. A duty of half a cent per pound is to be levied on fresh salt-water fish, now admitted free; and the Senate has upset the arrangement arrangement for allowing fresh fish from the inland lakes to enter free by imposing a similar duty.

Toronto Mail.

The new United States tariff has now been practically fixed by Congress. Of those portions of it which will affect importations from this country the agricultural schedule is naturally the most important, and in it the people of this province are most directly interested.

* * * * *

Taking into account all the Canadian products affected by the agricultural schedule, it will be found that they constitute about one-half of our exports to the United States and nearly one-quarter of our total exports. Of the articles mentioned in the above list we send each year across the border over $16,500 000 worth, of which $12 250,000 worth is supplied by Ontario alone. Another section of this Senate bill bears heavily upon this province. The present tariff admits free of duty fresh fish for immediate consumption, of which, other than sea fish, Canada exports to the United States about $575 000 worth a year. Of this again Ontario supplies about $375 000 worth, chiefly the product of the lakes. The Senate has now determined that upon all fresh fish except that caught by citizens of the United States in the high seas or in the open waters of the great lakes a duty of half a cent a pound shall be levied. It will be seen then that by these two portions of the new tariff exports of this province alone to the extent $12 625,000, and probably several hundred thousands of dollars more, will either be barred out of the United States altogether, or so handicapped in that market as to greatly reduce whatever profit the Ontario producer makes upon them.

Toronto Empire.

There is no reason why Canada should be despondent, through some of the changes in the tariff raise the duties on our exports to the United States. Our country cannot be crushed by such action on the part of our neighbour, upon whom we are not dependent. Even if we were deprived of their market, there are others where we may find eager purchasers and consumers. But the effect of the bill is not altogether to deprive us of a market for our exports in the United States. Some of our products, upon which they have augmented the duties, are things they must have, and this need will force them to continue to buy from us and to pay the duty. In other cases the augmentation is due to the fact that they are not in need of the Canadian product, and, therefore, they would not be profitable customers in any event. We have only to look elsewhere for consumers whose wants we can supply.

When we have such a prospect before us there would be no excuse for taking a pessimistic view of the situation. The only effect of the threatened injury should be to spur us on to fresh exertions, to greater enterprise, when the result, instead of being disastrous, will be further advancement in the path of progress which Canada is treading, to the admiration of the civilized world.

The Ladies Quietly Subdued!

It is a fact that Alexander subdued the world—Cæsar his enemies—Hercules monsters—and the last great victory, "Diamond Dyes" the ladies. Hundreds of ladies have done battle in dyeing operations with common, crude imitation dyes, only to cast them out as useless and deceptive. They have then tried the merits and powers of "Diamond Dyes", and acknowledge their supreme possibilities and wonderful powers. "Diamond Dyes" wherever used conquer and come off victorious, and in this way have won their present high position in public estimation. Beware of imitations no matter under what name.
